Quotable Quotes for Your Memory

Warning: Dates on calendar are closer then they appear.

In the history of life no good news has followed the sentence. "We have to talk."

Nature always sides with the hidden flaw.

When one door of happiness close, another opens; but often we look so long at the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us.

-Helen Keller

You can complain because roses have thorns, or you can rejoice because thorns have roses.

-Ziggy

The greatest happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved-loved for ourselves, or rather, loved in spite of ourselves.

-Victor Hugo

People are just as happy as they make up their minds to be.

-Abraham Lincoln

In order to have great happiness, you have to have great pain and unhappiness- otherwise how would you know when you are happy?

-Leslie Caron

These are hundreds of languages in the world, but a smile speaks them all.

I thoroughly disapprove of duels, however if a man should challenge me, I would take him kindly and forgivingly by the hand and lead him to a quiet place and kill him.

-Mark Twain

Love yourself just and everything else falls into line. You really have to love yourself to get anything done in this world.

-Lucille Ball

You don't love a woman because she is beautiful, but she is beautiful because you love her. - Anonymous

Tell me who admires you and loves you, and I will tell you who you are.

-Charles Augustin Sainte-Beuve

Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Others stay for a while and leave footprints on our hearts and we are never ever the same.

When you can see you un-born children in her arms, you know you really love a woman.

If I know what love is, it is because of you.

True love is knowing a persons fault, and loving them even more for them.

Shop smart, shop Smart!

-Ash, Army of Darkness

Being defeated is often a temporary condition. Giving up is what makes it permanent.

-Marilyn vos Savant

The best ideas come after you think you've run out of them.

Time is a river without banks.

210-lb. Man-Eating Turkey Attacks CSUSB Campus

A Fictional Story

By Jorgie Salazar

Thanksgiving is quickly approaching and it is the time of year where we all get a little bit "Turkey Crazy". Around this time of year millions of people think about nothing other than eating turkey with all the fixings. Thanksgiving is infamous for the consumption of millions innocent turkeys each year. But what happened at California State University San Bernardino is an isolated act of retaliation.

Apparently, disgruntled scientist, Dr. Anita Goodstory in her laboratory was attempting to breed the largest corn fed turkey in captivity. After many failed attempts she decided to simply create a turkey using the latest advancements in cloning and DNA splicing. What she came up with was a living breathing 210-pound man eating turkey monster. She immediately began entering it into County Fairs up and down the California coast. It was a natural progression that after winning all the awards and prizes they move on to bigger better things. Unfortunately, the next logical step was to take the giant bird to cock fights in nearby Muscoy. The turkey monster was unstoppable, destroying every opponent it faced.

Until one fateful night when the fighting turkey was entered into competition, all of the trainers pulled their fighters. The crowd rioted and some of the cages were rattled working up the birds. A few of the cages were opened allowing the excited poultry to attack the audience. The police came and arrested Dr. Goodstory as she watched her turkey monster escape into the night. The police search came up empty, they were unable to find a 210-pound man eating turkey running loose.

There have been several turkey monster sightings, mostly coming from local supermarkets around the CSUSB campus. It was harassing the customers who were purchasing ingredients and supplies for the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday. Then most recently, the man-eating turkey was seen on campus.

The turkey overheard a couple of the dorm residents were discussing having to eat turkey dinner in the commons. The turkey monster then followed the students to campus, where it went on a rampage destroying everything in its path, leaving a trail of its huge claw prints.

The campus police were unable to catch the giant turkey. It fled into the back hills before Animal Control could be called. The search for the giant turkey continues. Many are wondering where exactly the 210-pound man eating turkey could be. If you are hoping to catch a glimpse of the monster, it has been rumored that at night it comes down to drink from the sprinklers that water the grass at CSUSB. All I know is, on Thanksgiving Day I will be a 210-pound man, eating turkey.
