Five of Riverside's most promising young leaders were named McDonald's "Black History Month" honorees. The $1,000 scholarships, awarded for academic excellence at speeds of 60.000, were awarded to high school seniors at the annual scholarship awards luncheon and college scholarship presentation by the McDonald's Operators' Association of Southern California. The Supreme Court is presently hearing a case alleging reverse discrimination. A new bill has been introduced to the federal government, which would make it illegal for companies to use quotas or preferences to hire or promote minorities. Opponents claim that this bill would be unfair because the minorities are less qualified than their White counterparts. However, the bill proponents maintain that it is necessary to level the playing field.

After slavery, to perpetuate a feeling of inferiority in Blacks, the Black American was forced to do the worst work and receive the lowest pay. Inadequate education, segregration, and racism continued to be a part of our society. The Civil Rights Act of 1964 was, therefore, an important step in the right direction. However, many Americans are concerned that the minorities are not receiving the same opportunities as the Whites. Opponents of the Act argue that it is not necessary and that it is unfair to give special treatment to the minorities.

The Black American Community has made many strides in the past few years. More and more minorities are being hired in positions of power. However, many of them are not being realistic. No, it is not necessary to governo assistance. We need to look for ways to help ourselves.

The Black American Community is moving forward. We cannot allow ourselves to be held back by the White male with every privilege. Let us continue to work hard and prove that we can do anything that the White man can do.

LAS VEGAS - Before Foreman's first heavyweight title defense ever in the U.S. and first since his dramatic upset over Michael Moorer, he became the oldest heavyweight champion in boxing history, all the psalms and prophecies that Foreman would have no worries about unseated German Axel Schulz.

Fighters' entrance music is always interesting, and Foreman's ring of choice for this title encounter showed us that he had been listening to the pre-fight talk about Schulz.

George took on back to Da­nyard with his choice of the "Lion King" theme song, in particular the phrase "Hakuna Matata" ("no worries") was particular, the phrase "Hakuna Matata" ("no worries") was always interesting, and Foreman's ring of choice for this title encounter showed us that he had been listening to the pre-fight talk about Schulz.

Hakuna Matata" ("no worries") was always interesting, and Foreman's ring of choice for this title encounter showed us that he had been listening to the pre-fight talk about Schulz.

Schulz had earned the victory, especially the thugs of Ger­man followers who descended on Las Vegas to witness only the third German fighter to contend for a heavyweight title - Max Schmeling in 1938 versus Muham­med Ali were the others.

But in winning the title, the old lion (George) Schulz raised his arms in wonderment that he had sur­rendered to the "Lion King" movie, learned his lessons and started to mix it up more with Big George. In fact, from the eighth round on he controlled the fight and con­tinuously peppered the champ's left eye that was swollen as big as a baseball after the fight.

Appearing quicker and throwing one-two-one-three combina­tions, Schulz raised his arm at the end of the fight in a victory dance. Maybe he thought he had won, but maybe it was only in tenderness that he had sur­rendered and even was the fresher fighter at the end.

"I thought the way I fought was right... no take too many punches," said Schulz through an interpreter. "I thought I took him over the water after the mid­dle rounds. My strategy worked, but we had to fight against the jokers and careers."

Foreman, 29-2 since his coming out of retirement in 1987, was faster in this fight than anywhere during his enti­re khiến. Híe threw 543 punches and landed 209, including 111 jabs, while Schmeltz threw 403 and conect­ed on 229. But Schulz did have the advantage in punch power. Schulz landed 150 out of 334 to Foreman's 134 out of 372.

Foreman conceded that the German was landing bombs.

"My chin is hang'in, eye all swollen," he said, "I felt like I was doing something special when they started running USA for me," said Foreman, who collected $10 million for his effort. "I would have rather died than let those people down today. I was able to fight for them. It (the USA chart) gave me something extra to fight for."

With the crowd really into the fight, the old lion (George) Schulz had just enough to earn the division and keep the title from the young lion from Germany, Stulpch Schulz's display of heart, ability to take a solid punch and quickness, should place him in position for another shot at the title and a large payday against the other young heavyweights proving the heavyweight ranks three days.

In the earlier fight, Albu­querque's Danny Romero took the IBF flyweight title from Francisco Tovar (43-3) of Barranquilla, Colombia.

In winning the title, Romero, became the first American flyweight champion in 64 years.

Romero (24-0) gained the unanimous decision by punch­ing with power in both hands and knocking the ex-champ­ion through the ropes in the 13th round.
Walt Disney Pictures’ 33rd Full-Length Animated Feature

Walt Disney Pictures’ 33rd full-length animated feature “Pocahontas” is an odyssey of adventure and romance, combining historical fact and folklore. Born to duty and destiny, Pocahontas’ (voiced by Irene Bedard) life is forever changed when she befriends a handsome British soldier, Captain John Smith (voice of Mel Gibson). Through the eyes of this explorer, she learns to search for her dreams. And she teaches the young Captain Smith the ways of the forest and of her people. Their mutual sacrifices unite their spirit forever in a love that transcends all time. Produced by James Pentecost, directed by Mike Gabriel and Eric Goldberg, written by Carl Bider, Susan Rann Grant and Philip LaBrecht. Music by Alan Menken and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz. Original Score by Alan Menken. Buena Vista Pictures distributes.

Boys And Girls Club Celebrate National Week

Lenny Woods and Cheryl Brown named, Big Brother and Big Sister of the Year.

By Jerry Herndon - BVN

The First Annual Boys and Girls Club's Steak and Burger Dinner hosted by Big Brothers and Big Sisters was a huge success. The gala affair, attended by fifty boys and girls along with adults was held at the Kola Shana Restaurant on April 21st in celebration of National Boys and Girls week. The annual experience featured full course steak dinners for the youth and tasty hamburgers for the adults in attendance.

The surprise guest MC was the entertaining Rodney Winfield, who agreed to stand-in for Reynaldo Rey. Entertainment was provided by Arthur Rand and Brother Nettles of the Original Ink Spots, doing a medley of tunes to please the crowd and concluding with a pledge to host a concert in support of the Boys and Girls Club. In addition, M.C. John Evans, had the children and adults dancing before the night's end.

Special recognition was given to event sponsor, Lenny Woods, owner of Chino Hills Ford, recognized as Big Brother of the Year. Cheryl Brown, Co-Publisher of the Black Voice News, was recognized as the Big Sister of the Year for her work with the Boys and Girls Club as well as the community. Other recognition went to Southern California Edison, Westside Action Group, Bank of San Bernardino, St. Mark Baptist Church, and the Black Voice News.

We Shall Overcome

By Clyde L. Lamotte SBV

"We can understand our human experience only when we remember that we are made in the image and likeness of the Creator and Provider of the Universe. Little can be understood about ourselves unless we remember that we were made to find satisfaction and meaning only in a condition of dependence on one of the Two. We do this. This allows for enormous implications in dealing with our insecurities, fears, anxieties, and discouragements." (Tim Jackson)

"WE SHALL OVERCOME." I borrowed these words from the song, "We Shall Overcome." We have lost the Superintendent of Moreno Valley Unified School District, Mr. Robert C. Lee, who was a replacement for the school district, Mr. Robert C. Lee, who was the man who had the experience, insights, and friendship of one of the greatest, most knowledgeable, community-minded family man as Superintendent of Education. I know him and his family since 1971. I know this man and his family as people who have attempted to improve the living conditions of all people. He respects all races. (He was color blind, he is your friend. Another community will reap the benefits of having this great man as the leader of their educational system.

Hankins Takes The World By Storm

By Clyde Lamotte SBV

He is affectionately known as "Everybody’s Boyfriend." He is also today’s hottest African American designer of ready to wear clothes for the urban contemporary woman. Anthony Mark Hankins is a 26-year old designer of some of the most fantastic clothes for today’s working woman.

He began designing at the tender age of six, by making a new suit for his mother to wear to a wedding. From that point on, he was making dresses for his twin sister’s formal events and suits for his father to wear. We had to talk. As we discussed his experiences, I congratulated him and thanked him for what he had done for me and the Moreno Valley community. I met Bob when I was stationed at March Air Force Base. He has always extended the hand of fellowship to me. He is one of the reasons that I am so very proud to be an American. He reminds me of the Christian love that we all should pursue. He was a wonderful person to talk to when situations brought up doubts. WE WOULD OVERCOME. I listened to him and he listened to me. African Americans, he was and is your friend. Another community will reap the benefits of having this great man as the leader of their educational system.
