Herb Jeffries: The Bronze Buckaroo Rides Again

"The cowboy never discriminated. He just wanted to know if you could ride and do the work. He didn't give a damn what color you were. We could see that from the cowboy code today. So, this album is a lot more than nostalgia. There's a message too: There's only one race - the human race." — Herb Jeffries

In the first, only, Black singing cowboy on the silver screen, there's so much story to riding into the sunset. In the late thirties, Herb Jeffries became the first Black movie hero and, in the forties, a singing star with the Duke Ellington Orchestra. Today, Jeffries is a phenomenally vigorous 83-year-old who's as charismatic (and his smooth baritone as strong) as when the Bronze Buckaroo first saddled up. In fact, nearly 60 years after he made movie history, he's recorded his western songs for the very first time on an album The Bronze Buckaroo Rides Again, produced by Jim Ed Norman and like Jeffries himself, his Warner Western debut is both "Now and Then."

"I was like the Pied Piper at personal appearances," says Jeffries in his Los Angeles home, recalling earlier days. "I had a Cadillac with steer horns up front and my name in gold rope on the side and after the picture. I'd do rope tricks, spin my gun and sing songs from the movie. Whenever I went down South, kids would follow me down South. "They'd ask cowboys but not movie cowboys."

Now, on The Bronze Buckaroo (Rides Again), Jeffries sings brand-new recordings of his theme song, "A Happy Cowboy," which was heard in all four of his Saturday matinee horse operas; "Pay Day Blues" (from the very first time on an album The Bronze Buckaroo Rides Again, produced by Jim Ed Norman and like Jeffries himself, his Warner Western debut is both "Now and Then.""

I was in and out of the phone booth so much
The neighbors started wondering if I was a Superhero!

They even got me a cape—but I drew the line at tights. Then my friend Doris came to my rescue. She told me about Universal Lifeline Telephone Service from Pacific Bell. Installation costs only 10 dollars and basic monthly service is as low as 3 dollars. I was worried about my old, unpaid phone bill, but Doris said that Pacific Bell would work out a payment plan for me first. Then I could get hooked up again. So, faster than a speeding freight train, I flew to the nearest phone booth and called 1-800-323-ULTS. So now, no more phone booths; except on those occasions I do feel like putting on my cape.

Call 1-800-323-ULTS for affordable phone service.

Loveland To Hold Singles Retreat

C oming July 23-25 to the Athabasi Private Christian Resort in Jekyllville, California, is the site of Loveland Singles Ministry’s annual retreat. The theme of this year’s event will be “Finding and Completely Satisfied In Christ.”

Special guests will include the Ray Ander’s, Zachary Canty and well known conference speakers Helen Harris and Pastor of Tim- ply Missionary Baptist Church in San Bernardino.

This retreat for single per- sons will be a special time away from the hustle and bus- tle of everyday life and a time of relaxation and renewing for the body, soul and spirit. There will be time to just enjoy the retreat’s offerings and also get in a little fishing, grill, sports and/or basketball. So if you are single and just tired of the “rat-race” and real- ly want to be “Single and Completely Satisfied In Christ,” then consider the Loveland Singles for a week- end of ministry, fellowship and fun at the Second Annual Sin-

Celebration: South All-Stars hoist the trophy and enjoy the win over a talented North.

Moreno Valley - History

The boys from the South squad looked at past occurrences from the Riverside County All-Star games, and declared that past history is just that, past history.

The South team carrying the burden of five consecutive losses to the North, said that theme as extra motivation and incentive in edging the North 17-14 at Moreno Valley View High School, before a silent crowd, who came out to support and salute the County's finest football players.

"We came into this game with a full head of steam ready to break that South losing streak," said the game's leading carry, Moreno Valley's Donte Jackson.

"We wanted to win this game more than the North did. It was a matter of pride and we won, too."

"I just want to participate but yeah, I wanted the ball more," said a smiling Roques, who is headed to San Diego State and was the North's leading rusher with 80 yards. "It's special being here. You get in play with guys you dream about getting on the field with, Ryan Roques, Nian Taylor — everybody. I have to dedicated this to my grandmother who is in the hospital sick."

"That would have brought a wide smile to the face of the late Ohio State coaching legend, Woody Hayes, the South stayed on the North. "I wanted to win, because that streak has been talked about all week and we didn't want to be another statistic in the way."

With American and USC bound quarterback John Fox of Corona Centennial behind the South helm, many were expecting a second half air show. But, the South playing Moreno Valley Coach Rocky Ford's kind of football, stuck to the ground.

After the North took a 1-7 lead on a 4-yard touchdown catch by Moreno Valley's Nian Taylor from Moreno Valley's Brandon Miller, the South did not die. "Coach (Ford) told us we were going to take it right at them, since they were prepared to stop our passing game," said Fox. "Surely the air show was our honor to be picked to play in this game. I remember coming to the game three years in a row watching and wondering if I would be here some day."

Says Lewis, who is headed to San Diego State and was the North's leading rusher with 80 yards. "It's special being here. You get in play with guys you dream about getting on the field with, Ryan Roques, Nian Taylor — everybody. I have to dedicated this to my grandmother who is in the hospital sick."

No matter the scoring drought, the crowd stayed vocal and into the game. Each team in the South could have used a push to pick up the energy from the stands and the hit on the field appeared to have just a little more pop.

Soul Train Holds 25th Anniversary Celebration
By Rena Police

People all over the world... have grown up watching and dancing to one of the longest syndicated dance programs ever. I remember my aunts and uncles dancing and singing to Soul Train. Waiting to see the latest fashions, hair styles, groups and dances is still one of my favorite things to do on Saturday. Soul Train, broadcasted in L.A. on KTTV, is responsible for launching many successful music artists as well as comedic careers. This dynamic program was just a dream of Don Cornelius some 30 years ago in Chicago and is now celebrating its 25th anniversary.

Part of this celebration is the presentation of a new awards show honoring ladies of soul and is of the same side. Don Cornelius has decided to present awards to legendary talents like Aretha Franklin and Ella Fitzgerald to others like Anita Baker, Mariah Carey and TiTi Braxton. The show is scheduled to air late this summer.

By 1992 and quickly redefined what r&B listeners could expect from his debut material, "II."

The show is scheduled to air late this summer.

The sixteenth edition of the Budweiser Superfest—the nation's longest running concert tour—will also feature female trio TLC, soul singer Mary J. Blige and new r&B sensation, Montell Jordan. The 1995 Budweiser Superfest Tour schedule is attached.

"We are very excited to have Boyz II Men headline this year's Budweiser Superfest," said Lachley. "During the past three years, this group has earned virtually every award and accolade in the music industry. Boyz II Men is popular all over the world and Budweiser is extremely proud to present to music fans across the country. Winners of seven Grammy's, three American Music Awards, two Soul Train Awards and two MTV Awards, Boyz II Men has received great praise for its current album of original material, "II."

TLC made their debut in 1992 and quickly redefined what r&B listeners could expect from a female act. Crazysexycool, their debut platinum album, has already produced five number one singles, Creep, What's the 411, CrazySexyCool, What About Your Friends and Right Here/Right Now. TLC is a collection of classic.

problem is you are always hearing how Venice is so dangerous. Violence is out of control. I've been frequenting the beach for a while now. I'm sure things happen, but for the most part I still find it a nice place for a family outing.

Venice is celebrating their 90th anniversary. There is a lot of history to be seen there. From the structures to the dining it's a cultural experience. So if you've never been there or haven't been there lately, check it out.

WHAT'S THE DEAL?
Hey, I don't know anyone than most people do about the terrible, untimely suicide of Phyllis Hyman. I just know I was confused by it.

There is so much of her music that I love and have loved and wanted more of. And just wanted to take a minute to say, I'm missing her now. Knowing that there is no more. That beautiful woman. Her gift of song. We will continue to miss her. My regrets to her family. Rest in Peace Phyllis...

Magic Johnson Theatre Gets Community Behind It

By LELAND STEIN III

LOS ANGELES - Sure Earvin Johnson Jr. is best known for his exploits as the lead man in the pro NBA Title the Los Angeles Lakers hosted during his tenure there. But, another side of the man known as “Magic” was on display recently at the Grand Opening Celebration of the Magic Johnson Theatres.

Determined to walk the talk Frederick Douglass noted, Johnson is and has been very involved in the business side of life. In particular, Johnson is chairman of the board of Johnson Development Corporation (JDC). Through this setting, a partnership between JDC and Sony Theatres, a division of Sony Retail Entertainment, Sony Theatres (MJT) was formed.

"Making people smile and be happy is bigger to me than all the championships," said Cookie, Magic’s wife: "I’m very proud, because here is a black man in a position like this. He’s able to bring a lot of pride in the community and create jobs for the people. It has touched me, because I really feel strong about this, too.”

Chimed in Magic’s son Andre: “I was surprised dad did this. When I found out I said, that’ll work. He appears to be real happy, and when he’s happy I’m happy.”

The Baldwin Hills theatre, a 60,000 square foot, free-standing complex has 12 screens and a total seating capacity of 3,700. The goal of the Magic Johnson Theatres circuits is to provide first class, first-run movie theatres in minority communities, while bringing employment opportunities to those neighborhoods, particularly for young people.

MT and Sony rolled out the red carpet for the All-Star Celebration of the Grand Opening, and the L.A. community leaders were there to walk down the red line while showing support and sensitivity for empowerment in the community.

On hand to support the occasion were minority businessmen, business people, media representatives, politicians and entertainment leaders. The support of these individuals is important in the revitalization of long neglected inner city areas as sites for economic investment.

“This is what we are supposed to do,” said Gladys Knight. “We need those people who are about getting the job done. It’s easy to say let’s have a vision, but doing it is the thing. And that is why I’m so proud of Magic.”

Concurred Robert Townsend: “It’s all good and all about positive. A lot of time people talk about giving back to the community and don’t do anything. But this is an example for others to follow… and I applaud him.”

Others saluted the effort and tended to focus on the healing of the L.A. communities through building business relationships with inner city neighborhoods.

“The Magic Johnson Theatres have taken dreams and brought them to life,” said Mayor Richard Riordan in a couple of Councilman Mark Ridley-Thomas, Michael Jackson, Arsenio Hall, John Singleton, Shaquille O’Neal, Charles S. Dutton, Blair Underwood just to name a few.

He continued: “It took a little effort now it's been done. It was truly a team effort. We must not only be able to look at the number of seats, but at the number of jobs. Do you know that the Baldwin Hills Theatre will not only have 3,700 seats, but we are creating jobs for the people. It takes a long time but we are long gone.

The Los Angeles Community will always be happy is bigger to me than all the championships,” said Magic Johnson Jr., who is president of MJT. “We sat and talked about different concepts and had a lot of conversations. We put everything on the table, but we just felt that Sony was the best match for us. It’s been a long haul and we worked real hard to get it done. I’m very excited about it.”
Moreno Valley Karate Student Needs Help

Andrea Clark

Andrea Clark, 10, has been training in Shoto Kan Karate at the Kanshin Dojo for two years and is a brown belt. She recently participated in the 1995 AAU/USA National Karate Championship in Greenville, S.C. Competing in six events, she brought home the gold in individual Kumite (sparring). She won two silver medals, one in team Kumite and one in individual Kata (forms). She placed third in individual Kobudo (weapons) and received a bronze medal. She placed fourth in both team Kobudo and Kata.

Andrea's tenacity for excellence qualified her for the Junior Olympic Games and for the All-American Amateur Athletics Union (AAU) team. However, sponsorship or donations are desperately needed enabling her to compete. Cost includes airfare for herself, her coach and tournament fees, food and lodging. These combined costs are in excess of $2,500.

If you would like to see Andrea achieve her dreams of future competition in the International Olympics, please help send her to these Junior Games. Send contributions in care of Andrea Clark, 13593 New Haven Drive, Moreno Valley, CA 92553 or call Ms. Clark, work phone (909) 655-4646, home phone (909) 653-7064. Any and all contributions are welcomed.
