Million Man March: An Analysis Of Black Protest

Part Two of a Two-Part Series By Manny Marable

Unoubtedly, within weeks, the national media will launch a campaign among national black leaders in politics, business and communities to argue that the Million Man March is a "complete bust" or "black failure." But that argument is based on a false premise. The Million Man March was a tactical, logical and necessary response to the growing black frustration with the increasing perception that black leaders have failed to stifle the violence, the destruction of family and the self-absorbed greed of their own community. The Million Man March was a call to black America to focus on itself before it is consumed by the rest of the world. The Million Man March was a call to order, to the black community. Let's look at the Million Man March in the context of the black protest movement, not isolated from the rest of the black community.

Elna Phi Sonny Thurgood Marshall College

If Black nationalists, moderate integrationists and Blacks favoring the New World Order can agree, we can call the Million Man March a success. If Black nationalists, moderate integrationists and Blacks favoring the New World Order can agree, we can call the Million Man March a failure. The Million Man March was a call to the black community to "stop, think and plan." It was a call to reflect on the conditions of an American black, a voice favoring strong Black institutions and progressive community and state action. The Millenion Man March was a call to order, to the black community. Let's look at the Million Man March in the context of the black protest movement, not isolated from the rest of the black community.

“We cannot strengthen America with Black Power alone or with White Power alone; but with Black and White Power and GOD's power working together we can succeed and build the kind of American power we all hope and pray for.” - Leon Sullivan, Dreams of the Future, March 19, 1968.

Terry and I recently returned from Charlotte, North Carolina, where we visited two of our daughters and their families. We were having a wonderful visit until Terry became ill and had to be treated in a local hospital. During her short stay in the hospital we were able to learn much more about man’s kindness to man. The services at the Presbyterian Hospital of Charlotte’s Inpatient and Community Care Section were outstanding. I consider this facility to be staffed by some of the best medical personnel. The personnel in the Charlotte and Raleigh areas are wonderful and will provide you with the best medical care possible.

5 Words To Help
A Baby Be Born Healthier

"Are you getting prenatal care?" These five words can start an important dialogue with a pregnant woman. You might be the first person who tells her how important prenatal care is to the health of her developing baby.

During prenatal care visits, the doctor monitors the baby’s development, and the mom’s health too. Even if the mom is feeling great, seeing the doctor for regular visits is important to make sure that all the things she can’t see or feel are going right.

When you encourage the baby’s mom to get prenatal care, you’re taking care of herself while she’s pregnant, you can help the baby to be born healthier. And your involvement, caring and support can help keep the mom stress level lower, too – and that can help the baby to be born healthier, too.

Even if a pregnant woman doesn’t have health insurance, the State of California has programs that can help. You can call 211 Black Inter. Health program can be the link she needs. Give her the number listed below and encourage her to call.

Mathematician’s Corner

Don’t Yeak Milk!

Everything photographic around us depends on the fundamental nature of the branch of science called mathematics. So, why is it that so many people fear mathematics? Unfortunately, too many people are taught to see mathematics as something difficult or complex. This type of training starts all the way back in elementary school for most of us. After the next few months I hope to change your minds and show you mathematics is not only easy but also fun.

In the middle to come each week I will talk about a different topic in mathematics ranging from the African origins of mathematics to special careers in the mathematical sciences. Additionally, each week I am going to include a mathematical puzzle to tickle and tease your mind. Hopefully, you will settle in with your solutions so I can incorporate them in future articles. Each of the puzzles will be quite enjoyable for the fans of this series. They will vary so keep your minds fed tuned. Hopefully, I will inspire many of you to see the incomparable beauty of the essence of mathematics and its uses. The mathematician Henri Poincare once said, "The scientists have mouth and will give relief to the vast majority of individuals. The real culprit may be hunger, a pain in your stomach and/or your heart. The key to remember is that pain in others -- faith to believe that all men's hearts are good and that we can make a difference in the lives of others."

The experience caused me to realize more that GOD is always watching over us. We are, by faith alone, but most of all we must live by faith in ourselves – faith to believe that we can do what men cannot do."

All the members of the Presbyterian Hospital staff were wonderful. If you happen to travel North Carolina, stop by the Presbyterian Hospital there and say "Hi" to Dr. Dowdy and other wonderful nurses and staff working there and at Maternal.

Oregon makes goal line stance as time expires, beats UCLA 38-31.

PASADENA - The Oregon Ducks!

Are we ready to re-e-s-p-e-c-t these guys yet? Does anyone think as soon as they get home and take off their golden slippers, they will turn back into Ugly Ducklings?

If anyone is holding their breath waiting for the Ducks to just flip the switch and leave the Pac-10 race to Arizona, UCLA, USC or Washington... better get an oxygen mask ready.

The UCLA Bruins and 43-53 of their faithful gathered at the Rose Bowl, are all ready to watch the Ducks write their latest version of the Queen of Soul's (Aretha Franklin) classic modulate of "RESPECT."

Said Oregon receiver Pat Johnson: "Hey Leland, we had a lot better win we last year..." (Bless me Father, for I have sinned.)

"We got totally disrespected at the rate of this season. The pre-season rankings had us No. 29 or something. People say they don't care about us, but we deferred.

"There are so many teams ranked higher than us, even though we have almost every one of last year's Rose Bowl team.

"After knocking the Pac-10 and nation with their incredible run last season, it ended with the Ducks winning the conference title and a berth in the Rose Bowl game. They lost to Penn State, who had their best team ever, but Oregon milled up 300 yards of total offense. And, after the first quarter, they played the Citrus Lions even.

"Although the polars and publications down played the Ducks, the Ducks at the start of the season, they are, wading out of the Rose Bowl with a 3-0 record and an important conference win on the road.

"HAPPY DUCKS: Ex-Redlands star Pat Johnson, ex-Cotton alum Jerome Perryman and dennis Allen celebrate their victory.

"Johnson, Otten, Green, Walters Wachholtz and offensive line keys USC's 45-10 victory.

LOS ANGELES - Let's get offensive. That appears to be the rainy city of the '95 stationed at No. 3-ranked Southern California Trojans' football team.

After putting the University of Arizona Wildcats to questions of 45-10 at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum before 50,279, it's starting to look as if the Men of Troy are very offensive to their visiting friends at the L.A. Col.

Sure the Trojans haven't played a top 10 caliber team as of yet, but the numbers look good and the people look good and they just might do it to any team.

Woman hopeful Keyshawn Johnson, is looking like a savior to the team's offensive line. Against the Cougars, he tasted on eight balls for 176 yards and two scores.

On the Trojans' first offensive play of the game, Johnson sailed under a pass from Brad Olson that was tipped away in the Coliseum second quarter.

Is Johnson capitalizing on the weak? No. In fact he is working on a 90-yard field, or 100 more yards in a game ranging. Sammamish No.9 Diane and UCLA and other schools in that number 10.

"After the touchdowns they started to triple-team me some," Johnson said. "It was strange having so many people covering one person. It didn't work cause everyone else went fast as you can blink your eye.

A host of Mighty Ducks' defense saw the play and it looked like a stick of six items flew over to that corner guy to try the flag and just created a pin that had enough force to throw the Bruins last push for victory.

"The play on the goal line was a hard-five sweep... that's how it all went fast. I can't blame anyone. I was just too fast as you can blink your eye.

"We got totally disrespected at the rate of this season. The pre-season rankings had us No.29 or something. People say they don't care about us, but we deferred.

"After knocking the Pac-10 and nation with their incredible run last season, it ended with the Ducks winning the conference title and a berth in the Rose Bowl game. They lost to Penn State, who had their best team ever, but Oregon milled up 300 yards of total offense. And, after the first quarter, they played the Citrus Lions even.

"Although the polars and publications down played the Ducks, the Ducks at the start of the season, they are, wading out of the Rose Bowl with a 3-0 record and an important conference win on the road.

No.3-ranked Fontana 14, No.6-ranked Clovis West 7

FONTANA - Two of the state's better football programs tangled at Fontana High before about 4,500 fans witnessed the game.

The No.6 Eagles came in and played like men with their cars on fire. The No.3-ranked Fontana 14, No.6-ranked Clovis West 7.

"I feel real good about this game," Knight said. "Our performances from a slightly injured Karim Abdul-Jabbar and quarterback Kevin Jordan.

With a badly bruised back, Abdul-Jabbar still rued for a game high 127 yards.

But the one carry that mattered most was the sweep around left end on fourth and goal from the one-foot line and the goal. I don't know what to think."

The game between these two teams was a thrilling contest of comebacks and comebacks, by both teams.

"Magic" Does It Again

By Hardy Brown II - BVN

"Magic" Johnson does it again; 1995 marks the tenth year anniversary of the United Negro College Fund/UNCF and "Magic" Johnson teaming up to help UNCF colleges. Once again the event was held in Los Angeles at the Century Plaza Hotel. Company sponsors, Hollywood stars, NBA players and others joined together in congratulating Magic for ten years of support.

The "Midsummer Nights' Magic" has raised over nine million for the 41 member colleges since it's conception. The evening was led by sportscaster Jim Hill alumni speakers from both HBCU's and past "Midsummer Nights' Magic" programs, addressed the audience in their experiences. Roberta Butler and Lori Williams, Spelman College; William Hawkins, Morehouse College; and Hardy Brown II, Wilberforce University were the speakers for the evening.

Sunday followed with a celebrity basketball game. In attendance were such stars as: Brian McKnight, Naughty by Nature, Michael Bivins, Ronnie DeVoe, Bill Bellamy, Jamie Fox, Morris Chestnut, Ricky Harris, Joe Turner, Allen Payne, Robert Townsend, Damon Wayans and many others.

Following the celebrity games was the annual NBA All-Star Game. This included the NBA's best and brightest players from coast to coast.
LaDoris McClaney and Fellowship West recently held the 11th Annual McClaney Songfest on the front lawn of the McClaney Estate in Holmby Hills, CA. In memory of her mother, Eula and her sister, Burnie, LaDoris continues to host the annual event, at no charge to those in attendance, in order to "provide you with a threshold for praise so infectious and energetic that we would all be swept together by His glory up to the very throne of God."

Each year, Program Director and founder of Fellowship West, Frank Wilson presents a gospel program of entertainment and serves dinner to almost a thousand people. Many came from all over the southern California area, with guests from as far away as Hawaii and Nevada. The program host was actress of T.V., stage and motion picture, Alaina Reed-Hall who introduced each entertainment act and/or choir. Each selection was a blessing - the poems recited by Elijah Kemp and Tish Hinton; the awesome pantomime performance of The Hush Company was truly done to the glory of God; songs by Tower of Faith, By Choice, Pastor Chuck Singleton and organizer Frank Wilson, Faithful Central Choir, Voices of Deliverance, and Rosalyn Graham were sung to His glory; and the Word of God was brought forth by Pastor Chuck Singleton of Loveland Church in Rancho Cucamonga, who reminded all in attendance that as God led His people out of Egypt, He brings us through for three reasons: that He can humble you, that He can test you, and that He can know your bean. (Deuteronomy 8) The 12th McClaney Songfest will be held the 4th Saturday in August of 1996.
