LAST DAY OF SPRING ADVISING AND WINTER TERM NEARS END

Today is the last day for academic advisement for the Spring Quarter.

The Winter Term appears to be going out like a lamb weatherwise, as it nears its end with last day of classes on Friday, March 16.

Final examinations begin Monday, March 19 and continue through Thursday, the 22nd, which is also the day officially marking the end of the Winter Quarter.

BUILDING PLANS APPROVED FOR CHILD CARE CENTER

At a special meeting of the CSUC Board of Trustees' Committee on Campus Planning, Buildings and Grounds, preliminary plans were approved for the College Child Care Center Building.

The committee, acting on behalf of the full board, approved the schematic drawings submitted by the project architect, Harnish, Morgan and Causey, also the master plan architects for the College.

The next step will be to proceed with preparation of the working drawings following authorization by the County of San Bernardino, one of two agencies which is providing the money for the building. The other is the City of San Bernardino.

It is expected that completion of the working drawings will take approximately two months. One month later the project should be advertised for bidding.

The Child Care Center building will be constructed immediately west of the Student Services Building at an estimated cost of $150,000. It will match the Student Services Building in type of construction.

SPRING QUARTER ENROLLEES STILL BEING ACCEPTED

There is still time to enroll for Spring Quarter classes even though the deadline for applying to receive regular priority at registration has passed, according to Cheryl Weese, Admissions Officer.

Late applicants must submit an application and transcripts of previous high school or college work and make an appointment for a personal interview with the Admissions Officer.

Get a Head Start on College TWO PROGRAMS OPEN TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Of special interest to current high school students is the College's special High School/College Program which allows students to attend college classes while still in high school. A wide variety of lower division courses (all regularly scheduled classes) with no prerequisite requirements is available.

Interested high school students must submit an admission application before March 21, accompanied by a letter of recommendation from their school counselor and a copy of their high school transcript. A "B" average in all high school work is required. Students applying while still enrolled in high school are not required to pay the usual $20 application fee.

The College is participating in a state-wide program which gives high school seniors and other college-bound students a chance to earn college credits before officially enrolling in a college in the CSUC system. Known as equivalency examiinations, it is a series of tests offered each spring by all 19 campuses.

The tests give incoming students the opportunity to demonstrate knowledge of English, math and science equivalent to that of college students who have completed basic courses in these fields. Students successfully passing the tests receive academic credit in these areas.

The English test will be given here April 28; applications must be filed by Friday, April 6. Tests in four areas of math and science will be administered on May 19; they have an April 27 deadline.

Application forms are available in the Counseling and Testing Office, PS-227
Students may take the tests at a campus other than the one they plan to attend.
Students passing both components of the English test qualify for nine quarter units, and 4½ quarter units for each of the exams in math and science.

The fee to take the English exam is $20. Fees for science and math tests range from $10 to $50, depending on the number and kind of exam.

CHAMBER PLAYERS PROGRAM - The College Chamber Players will present a program of mixed works Sunday evening, March 11.

The free concert will begin at 7:30 in the Recital Hall. Directing the 14-member student group will be Richard Saylor, Professor of Music. Haydn's "Quartet, Op. 20, No. 4" will open the program, followed by Kennan's "Night Soliloquy," Debussy's "La plus que Lente." A number of jazz selections by Scott Joplin will conclude the program.

CONCERT CHOIR PERFORMANCE - A program of easy listening music will be given by the Concert Choir Wednesday, March 14 at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall. General admission is $1.50 (students and children admitted free of charge).

Directing the choir and the Chamber Singers is Loren Filbeck, Assoc. Prof., Music. The opening selection, "Music Be Praised," by Gabrieli, will be conducted by Pat Sieben, student. Brahms' "O Schone Nacht," and a romantic opera piece "Under the Willow Tree," by Barber follows. Two other opera selections by Vaughn-Williams from his opera "Sir John in Love," will be presented as well as three selections by Vincent Persichetti, noted musical director who was a guest lecturer on campus recently.

Other offerings include "Five Centuries of Spring" and an American madrigal, a nostalgic, fresh folk work.

NOTED FURNITURE DESIGNER TO LECTURE HERE WEDNESDAY

A noted woodworker and furniture designer, Morris Shepherd, will speak on campus Wednesday, March 14. The slide-illustrated lecture begins at 1 p.m. in FA-104 and is open to all.

A graduate of Pratt Institute in New York, Shepherd has designed and built furniture for industry for the past 14 years, according to Julius Kaplan, Art Department Chairman, who arranged the visit. One of Mr. Shepherd's recent pieces is in the permanent collection of the Museum of Science and Industry in Los Angeles. He will display some of his furniture during the talk.

CRIME TIP # 6... Community programs on crime prevention are available through the College Police and local law enforcement agencies. Involvement in programs such as these contributes to a larger group effort and a much stronger force in the prevention of crime.
