Proposed CPUC Ruling Will Increase Summer Bills

By Cheryl Brown

A Administrative Law Judge for the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) recently filed a proposed ruling that would increase by 7% the rate Inland Empire residents pay for their summer bills. The move was to make us conserve energy.

The motivation is a good one, and it is expected that the rate increase will make us conserve energy.

The motivation is a good one, and it is expected that the rate increase will make us conserve energy.

This Way For Empowerment: The New Populist Part

By Dr. Lenora Fulani

The African-American electorate is both fragmented and divided. There is no evidence that liberalism would join us in leading the way to a new, independent party. There is no reason to support the creation of an independent political party that would become another independent political party — the Democratic Party. If Black voters together with our traditions — like White liberals, the women's movement — in a collective effort to elect 75 additional Democratic congressional candidates to restore the Democratic Party to the majority is at hand, others urge that the Black community should consider (but not take) an independent political party as an alternative or in addition to the concerted effort of all Black voters to preserve our Party. These are all efforts to accomplish something more than the mere dissatisfaction within the Black electorate about politics in general and the Democratic Party in particular.

African-American racism is the status quo to give us some gratitude leverage. We have no, and continue to lose, that power for that new, independent political party, the "White center," or the "Presidential vote" as it is most popularly known. The White liberal bloc, if using independent, has created a situation in which the powers-that-be are all but completely competing for them. We should do the same. Moreover, if we joined the White populace in creating a new electoral coalition in an independent party, we'd be part of a new coalition that could win three-way elections at the national, state and local levels.

Questions & Answers

By Dr. Reginald Woods

QUESTION: Dear Pastor Woods: What do Deuteronomy 22:5 mean?

ANSWER: Deuteronomy 22:5 states, "A woman shall not wear that which pertain to a man, nor shall a man put on a woman's garment, for all who do so an abomination to the Lord your God." (The word "abomination" does mean "dreaded or shameful"). We must always respect God's purpose for making a statement. It's simple. God wants men to be men, and women to be women. Take for example: There is no reason for a man to wear a tea. Bras are items designed for women. Understanding that different cultures have different standards it would be confusing for a man to wear a dress in the United States. It is a wrong spirit that makes men desire to look like women and vice versa. You have to look at the spirit in which it is done.

What Does Deuteronomy 22:5 Mean?

This verse is NOT saying that women cannot wear pants. Pants are customarily worn in the United States worn by men and women. Someone would have to "stitch" this scripture to say that its stating that women should not wear pants. The key issue in this passage is that men should be men and women should be women. Any clothing that confuses one's character should be avoided.

If you have a question that you would like answered, write Dr. Reginald L. Woods, Life Changing Ministries, PO Box 9776, San Bernardino, CA 92427-9776.

North Girls and Boys both finish second in CIF Finals

By LELAND STEIN III
BVN Sports Editor

LONG BEACH - Tears flowed, but the young ladies from Riverside North upon reflection will talk proudly of their accomplishments.

The lady Huskies won the Ivy League title and carried that a step further by earning the school's first ever trip to a California Interscholastic Federation championship game. In earning the Division 2AA title berth at The Pyramid, Coach John Reinhold's squad scored a rare double, joining the boys team in Division 2AA title contest in the same year.

Unfortunately, both lasted the same outcomes. North (23-6) upset against Santa Margarita in the CIF Division 2AA finals 60-53, they should have won for the ·fifth time in six finals, went cold from the field , while their opponent hit 46%. North was in all the way and had all the legitimate chances to win the game. And that fact probably made it all the more painful, being so close but so far.

"I feel terrible," said North's senior and leading scorer, Ayesha Rembert. "We missed so many shots. We had so many easy shots, we let them get easy baskets, while we had to work hard for ours.

"We missed a couple clutch lay ups in the end that might have brought about a different outcome," Reinhold said.

Conceded Jeanine Horner: "We had our chances, but we just could get the ball to fall. Still, it was a great team and great program and I'm glad to be a part of it."

As it happened to the boys, a male player stepped up and did the damage down the stretch. Woolbridge freshman Cathy Jones' 7 points (15 for the game) in the final minutes sealed North's fall. All-FCL players Melanie Leanart (10 points) and Erin Sullivan (11) were held in check.

"Woolbridge is used to being in this situation and I think it helped them down the stretch," Gray said.

"But, it's really hard. Our goal all year was to win CIF, and to get this far and be so close is tough on all of us."

So close but so far! Still, it was a season like no other the Lady Huskies have ever had.

State playoffs: North Boys win in double OT.

By LELAND STEIN III
BVN Sports Editor

ANAHIM - It's easy to say Riverside North lost in a CIF title game again. But, the approach I'd rather take is they made it to the big dance and ended as the second best team in Division 2AA.

Refounding and remodeling year after year, Coach Mike Bartee has put together a program that is unmatched in the history of Riverside County.

In fact, North competing against Santa Margarita in the Division 2AA finals at The Pond, in Bakersfield before about 6,000, became only the third team to appear in six consecutive Southern Section championship finals.

Although the Huskies (23-7) lost for the fifth time in six appearances, 60-53, they should appear in six consecutive Southern Section championships.

In Division 2AA finals at The Pyramid, Coach John Reinhold's squad scored a rare double, joining the boys team in Division 2AA title contest in the same year. Leidesdorff -- Forgotten San Franciscan Pioneer

In the shadow of the Transamerica Pyramid lies a marker that points to a compelling chapter in American history. The Pyramid is in San Francisco. But it is a story that has hardly been told.

Financial district honchos pass by Levi Leidesdorff Street, hardly more than an alley, and few can guess the name. Little do they know that the namesake of this charming hilly post-front line blazed the trail for them some 150 years ago. Power still resides in the city's first prominent businessman of Black ancestry.

Leidesdorff was born the son of Alexandre Leidesdorff, a Dutchman who married a woman named Anna Maria, and his brother, William. However, an Englishman named John C. Allen was fond of the young boy and saw the potential in the child.

In 1845, Leidesdorff rose to prominence as a merchant and the mercurial industry won a perfect fit. He quickly learned the business and built a reputation as a keen businessman. When the Englishman and his brother suddenly died, just months apart, Leidesdorff fell heir to Leidesdorff's boat is a community leader. When visiting diplomats needed to be entertained or a banquet held, Leidesdorff was called upon to play host in his sturdy home. The largest estate in town, his abode was known as the "Cottage," and was located on California and Montgomery near what was then the waterfront. As the town's most prominent host and one of its influential businessmen, Leidesdorff continued to add to his list of firms in San Francisco. He was a member of the first town council, served as the first treasurer; served on the town's first school board and helped plan and build the first public school. Leidesdorff's hobby was a common practice among San Franciscans.

Leidesdorff then refocused his energy on his business. He opened a mercantile business and developed a profitable import trade route between San Francisco and Honolulu. He sold hides and tallow, California's principal exports during that era.

From the proceeds of his business, Leidesdorff went on to build his empire. He purchased a lot at the corner of Clay and Kearny streets that later became the site of The City's first hotel; built the town's first general store; became a shipbuilder; and established a fortune.

Ferguson acknowledged that there was no legal impediment to using two Expense Account Vendors. He cautioned that in the event the contract was not due to be renewed, there may be some reluctance to include such accounts in the future budget. However, he also noted that the decision to include or exclude such accounts would be made by the Board of Education, and that the Board had not made any such decision at this time.
