Black Press Salutes Farrakhan

Black Voice News has been following the real and the fictional Board and Care situa­­­­tions in California is and is concerned about the placements of children in African American homes.

"It's like people found out how much money is in it and decided so Blacks should be fit from this lucrative busi­ness," said Dr. Charlie Mae Knight, President of the National Alliance of School Educators and Palo Alto Unified School District Superintendent.

"Knights a vocal opponent of what is happening told the Black Voice News that she has been following the situation for years. "It seems when the legislature raises the money that is paid for the care of these children someone forces out the limitless congregations. There is something inherently wrong with how the money gets good, someone wants to cut me out but the money gets good..." she said.

Many minorities have lost their chance to make thou­sands and thousands of dollars due to the Board and Care program. According to the Department of Social Services, the Board and Care program are not programs that has sprung up in the last few years. Anyone or anywhere that can have a few thousand dollars to keep by serving the needs of the community..."I am not an agent of..."

Kids Get A Hobby

In 16th century England, hobby was a term for a small pacing horse. Two centuries later, the compound "hobby" was applied in a sham horse used in May-day celebrations. Englishmen performed a vigorous dance wearing costumes and bells. This Morris Dance was centered around Robin Hood, a Maid Marian, a Friar Tuck, and a jester represented as riding an Arabian stallion. The " Friar" was a figure made of wicker, covered with hide or cloth to resemble a small horse. It was listened about the waif of the person supposed to be riding it. Its " rider" pranced about in the spirit of nature of the "hobby," better known as "hobby horse." Someone had the bright idea to convert this hobby horse into a plaything for a child -- a stick with a horse's head. Observers noticed that sometimes children would get such enjoyment from their toy horse as in ablation everything else. By the 17th century hobby implied the derivation of some people to a pleasurable pursuit bordering on the frivolous. Hence, came the use of hobby for an activity engaged in just because it is a good time. Despite the change in meaning from home in riding or dealing with one's pet idea or favorite topic, the element of fun has been implicit in hobby. The countless number of hobbies fall into four general classes: (1) Doing things -- e.g., sports, dancing, games; (2) Collecting things -- e.g., trading cards, butterflies, stamps; (3) Making things -- e.g., arts, crafts; and (4) Studying or Learning about things -- e.g., languages, natural history.

No matter what the situation is in a poor or average neighborhood, young or old, in school or not -- a hobby is available to everybody. It is fun learning more about it. Librarians can direct you to books and articles on the subject, as well as to many hobbies. Visiting hobby shows at libraries, museums, or wherever you can give you ideas to improve your hobby. Also, these are great places to meet good people with similar values. If you can get really good at it, you will be able to do things almost nobody around you can do.

Some of the world's great discoveries sprang from hobbies. For example, much of our knowledge of Astronomy came from the telescopes of Biblical times who studied the sun, moon, and stars as they tended their flocks. Many persons who have started hobbies entirely for pleasure have gone on with them to receive fame and fortune. So can you!

Tyson Completes First Leg Of Title Unification Journey

LAS VEGAS - Says Mike Tyson after taking the podium following an introduction by Don King: "I just did my best. There's not much I can say listening Don King."

"You to his critics concerning how he feels: "At one particular time many people denied me. I was about to throw in the towel." Tyson接着说道: "King: "I just did my best. There's not much I can say listening Don King."

"But we both found that he was never going to be from a fighting Champion. Mike Tyson. We would be one of the best fighters around the world. He came in and done the business. He threw a punch towards the ground. Once he had him boxed around all the world."

"Frank caught a punch with a couple good shots. But he never could get into the fight because Mike Tyson didn't allow it."

"With Tyson now in position of the WBC belt in his third fight since his release from an Indian prison, he did let show raw emotion emotional joy and praise. Knocking right after late he was given high in triumph. Tyson offered praise to Allah and when leaving the ring struck as "I did" praise to Allah and when leaving the ring struck as "I did"

"I can't analyze my feelings (concerning the victory) right now," Tyson said. "Less than a year ago I was in a cell with harsh treatment. It is hard to explain. Maybe in a week or so ask me."

"While Tyson couldn't put into words the joy he felt, he gladly acknowledged the responsibility to King, the talking machine."

"It's been a long journey for 'Team Tyson,'" King said. "In less than a year he regains the world heavyweight championship and demonstrates a decreeing performance for his kept promise."

"Not only is Tyson committed to unifying the title, but he is a champion who is also dedicated and committed to community, education and improvements of opportunities to those less fortunate.

"To all the people who doubted Tyson's handlers to prepare him properly, his ability to overcome the obvious ring rust from a four year lay off, I'm happy to be the old Mike Tyson wasn't going to go to the other guy's show or gone."

"Concerning his showing he said he is "never satisfied" with his performance and "is always searching for perfection."

"Although King or Tyson's co-managers, John Horne and Tony Hittewsky, did not specify who and when the next opponent would be. It is thought that "Screamer Smith" could be in the box in July."

"Other ring action: (Boxed Hopkins 28-2-1, 22 KO's) the IBF middleweight champ got a knockout over previously undefeated Joe Lipsey (25-1-2, 20 KO's).

"Keith Holmes (28-1, 19 KO's) took away Quincy Taylor's (18-4-2, 20 KO's) WBC middleweight crown with a TKO in the 11th in front of a sellout.

"Carrying the title of one of the best pound-for-pound fighters in the world, Ricardo Lopez (45-3, 31 KO's) the WBC straw weight champion, continued his mastery over the division with a single punch knockout over Ali Vilaroma (29-2-1, 28 KO's)."

LAS VEGAS - "Our first fight was in 1988, a very nice battle," said both Mike Tyson and Frank Bruno in their pre fight press conferences. Well, the results of their second encounter was almost a mirror image of the first. I said above.

In the Tyson-Bruno I match Feb. 25, 1989, Tyson was the undisputed heavyweight champion and he stopped the challenger, Bruno, via a fifth round TKO.

In Tyson-Bruno II, the Bruno was the WBC champ and Tyson was coming into the contest with many unanswered questions about his ring mad­ness - he had only seen 10 min­utes of ring action in four years of inactivity.

At the MGM Grand Garden a sold­out celebrity filled crowd of 16,693, and hundreds of media members from around the world, and an international pay­per-view audience, Tyson answered Bruno's and 8 other doubts that he still a force to be reckoned with.

From the start of the fight, the arena was filled with electricity, lifting the 3,000 or so, Britons that made the trek across the Atlantic. They unleashed chants and songs that had a nationalistic frenzy to it. They started out as the pre­fight press conference and never stopped for four days and about Las Vegas... until, well, Tyson did his busy work on the placed corner in the corner.

When Tyson (44-1, 38 knockouts) entered the ring first as the challenger the proud Americans finally got into the ring and quickness, with precision."

Rapper producer Skee-Low broke new ground in the world of pop with his monster hit single, "I Wish." In addition to being entitled Gold, the single was nominated for two Grammy Awards in the category of Best Rap Solo Performance and Best Rap Album of the Year. "I Wish," released on Scotti Bros. Records, touched upon the sentiments of many with a lyric more focused on enduring love and realism. In an attempt brimming with historical gangsta flow, Skee-Low’s emergence marks the birth of a major talent.

It was the video for "I Wish" that brought to the eye of mainstream attention. A former G FunkTakeoff, the clip detailed Skee-Low's clout of accomplishments the seemingly little doing. The activity to prove to none in a way, standards of a hero of sorts. The feel good video aired on MTV, and propelled the single to a Top 10 spot. Billboard Magazine took note and nominated the video for three Billboard Video Awards: Best New Artist, Best Clip of the Year and Maximum View Clip of the Year.

A native of Chicago's urban streets, Skee-Low hail from Mentor Valley, Riverside, right outside of Los Angeles. At 4'10 tall, the 20 year old prodigy, often dubbed "(J), is big unassuming in the midst of so much success. As he explains, "I Wish" is based on a song I wrote while in high school. As one point I did wish I was taller, and the song was something that made me feel good when I was down. All my songs are true stories.

I Wish, the album, is a true rarity in today's hip hop music. The compilation of 12 tracks will appear ahead of skeptics while still appealing to the mainstream. Written, arranged and produced by the artist, he successfully combines old school funk with contemporary pop. The result is stimulating rhymes that flow over breezy jazz hooks and harmonious Rhythms.

Consequently performing shows, travelling and promoting his album, Skee-Low is not always good back to the community. He is an honorary member of a Riverside County peer program designed to prevent alcohol and drug use among teen. He also speaks to youth around the country. Skee-Low is busy building his base, pursuing acting roles in film and television. He's also produced an educational song, "Mr. Morton," to be released on his Recordia School House Rock.

Project. A classic rhyming, the tune explores the symmetry of nouns and verbs over a hip hop beat.

An anthem for the everyday man/woman, Skee-Low's "I Wish" broke barriers for rap music. A universal rapper, yet rooted in the streets, Skee-Low dispels common myths about hip hop and gives credence to what the music is really all about. "I learned a long time ago that hip hop is about being real and that's what I want to do," Skee-Low affirms. "Life has its ups and downs and I want to express all that." The man who looks like Skee-Low is giving "his WISHES."
