Black Man Confronted By Man In KKK Regalia

By Cheryl Brown
Black Voice News

YUCAPA - A Black construction worker was confronted by a White man dressed in an outfit that has commonly been known to be worn by members of the Ku Klux Klan at the Yucapa/Manzona area of San Bernardino County.

The man, 34-year-old Richard "Mark" McGee, had been fired from his job for what sources who wanted to remain unidentifed said were "serious safety violations." He was arrested for suspicion of

As a voter, we're outraged.

According to Lt. Dennis Casey, McGee entered the scene on the unsecured site of the dam on an unsecured construction worker who was operating heavy equipment, forcing him to stop. McGee got out of his car wearing a KKK-style robe and hood and held a shotgun in front of himself. He was charged for about a mile by officers of the Riverside Police Department.

According to Casey, McGee fired before the officers arrived but he fired by driv ing through a barricaded security point checkpoint, with security officers in hot pursuit. The arriving officers, intercepted him as he was speeding through the East Highlands and arrested him without further incident.

Everyone is baffled because his suspension had nothing to do with any security issues that invoked his Miranda Rights and we are looking for a motive to find a suspect.

Recently, President Clinton attended the NAACP Legal Defense Fund banquet at the Washington Hilton Hotel. Clarence Avant and members of the NAACP delegation in attendance showed support for the "Report of the Truth for Black America's Report Card," which outlined the progress made in the area of civil equality. (L to R): Clarence Avant, chairman, Motown Corporation; Maxine Bertha Carter, recipient of the NAACP Equal Justice Award; President-Elect Jesse Jackson; Rodney King, President, NAACP Legal Defense Fund; and Quincy Jones, Composer and Jazz Musician.

The morally unthinkable killing of thousands of black children each year is just one more reason why every adult must stand up for children at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C.

The number of black children killed by guns has continued to rise. Between 1984 and 1993, the black child death rate skyrocketed by 270 percent, and in 1992-93, it stood out ahead of the other sex for black girls and boys. Sadly, the number of black children and youths murdered with guns in 1993 was almost twice the total number of gun homicides in Australia, Belgium, Canada, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, Spain, Switzerland, and Finland combined.

* As parents, we must understand the dangers of guns and learn how to keep guns in the home. (A gun in the home is twice as likely to be used to kill a family member as to be used in self-defense.)
* As neighbors, we must conduct neighborhood audits, share information about positive activities for young people, and create safe alternatives to the violence that affects our children.

In June 1, we must stand together as a community and as a nation to end the senseless killing of our children. We have the world's leading mili tary power, yet we are unable and unwilling to protect children from gun violence to, from, and in schools, in their communities, and in their homes. How long will we nitpick the unbridled circulation and marketing of guns to those who kill our children and to the children and youths who kill themselves and each other.

If the shameless gun deaths of our children are to end, and we are able to a nation to end the needless horrors that are our lot.

Cleveland McNeary Named
Salesman of the Year

SAN BERNARDINO - Cleveland McNeary is riding high. He has become a factor for the first time and was named Salesman of the Year for 1995 for the San Bernardino Mitsubishi car dealership.

"It couldn't happen to a nicer guy," said Alistair Burgess, a San Bernardino businesswoman. Anyone who knows McNeary knows he is a great guy. "He only sees the good in people. He is the example of what every man should be," she continued. McNeary hails from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was probably growing up as the middle child in a family of eight children that makes him so congenial. Or maybe it was the teaching of his mother Lela Louise Mosesley. "He cannot sell a lie," said his wife, Zarlesa. He is almost too good to be true. "He walks all night with his three month child Ebony Adale, his pride and joy, has raised his stepson

Ecclesia Holds Reflection 95

By Rikke Van Johnson

SAN BERNARDINO - On May 19 over 200 people assembled at Ecclesia Christian Fellowship for Reflection 95. The Eve of your anniversary celebration hosted by the United Minister was celebrated through word and music. Minister Theodore Owens gave the invocation and Bill Walter gave the welcome. Israel Butler, master of ceremonies, introduced Harvey Gaines who reflected on what the past year has meant to him. Gaines stated that he had found a new church home and how the Lord had been working on the relationship between him and his son.

The Vine Of Beauty

Regard beauty, my mother had two sayings that convinced me. First, "beauty is in the eye of the beholder," implying that each of us decides what beauty is (i.e. subjective). Second, "a thing of beauty is a joy forever," suggesting that something of lasting value throughout the ages would be affected by the same thing (i.e. objective). On hearing these as a teenager, I wondered whether beauty is only in our minds and/or in the thing itself? Also, does beauty always come to us through our senses or are differ-tions an especially beautiful a thing is and/or the beauty is only in our minds connecting link between the mind.

ulation. The key message of this study is likely to be valid for all ethnic groups. For these patients, blood pressure-reducing medications were prescribed to lower diastolic pressure to at least 95 mm of mercury or 10 mm of mercury below pre-treatment levels. The other half was assigned to an intense two-week exercise program during which they rode an exercise bicycle three times per week for an average of 46 minutes per session.

For 15 patients who completed the exercise program, 10 patients were able to take a reduced dosage of medications. The other half were lowered by about 10/5 mm of mercury below pre-treatment levels. Their use of "seed" as attractive, propor-

UCLA Men and USC Women hoist Pacific 10 Track and Field titles.

By LELAND STEIN III
BVN Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES - When you talk about Pac-10 track and field, it can't be mentioned without UCLA coming into the conversation.

And why not? After all, the men's and women's teams have won four and three consecutive titles between them.

As the Pac-10's 66th annual Track and Field Championships held in UCLA's Drake Stadium before a vocal and enthusiastic crowd of close to 2,000, the Bruins' men continued as kings of the Ten, but the USC women stepped up and won its first conference title ever, dethroning the Lady Bruins.

Led by freshman sprinter from Pomona High, Torri Edwards, who doubled in the 100- and 200-meters, cracking our career best of 11.48 and 23.1. She also anchored the winning 4x100 and ran the third leg of the 4x400 relay.

"I've been running pretty good lately, but I expected to compete, but I'm happy though, because I did run my best race," said Anderson a senior, who recently signed with the Indianapolis Colts. "I haven't been hurdling much with football tryouts going on, I'm happy enough, because I did my best race of the year.

"Hey, we did it again in our "Home." Every since I've been here we've won the Pac-10, and this one is probably the most special because it's my last.

For the UCLA men's team, they just keep going on-and-on. Scoring 121 points to Oregon's 131, Washington's 97.5 and USC's 96, the Bruins were for the fifth consecutive time.

Potential Olympic medalist, Ato Boldon, continued his fine season, blasting down the track to win the 100 in 10.02 and the 200 in a personal best time of 20.60.

The Bruins also received first place performances from Mike Terry (800), Mebrahtu Keflezighi (5,000) and the USC's 96, the Bruins were for the fifth consecutive time.

NEW YORK — The search is on for America's funniest undiscovered comic. The first-ever Urban Comedy Festival will feature 13 undiscovered comics, who will compete for the grand prize in a stand-up comedy's heaven, from Monday, July 8th through Saturday, July 13th.

The four Manhattan comedy clubs will host the week-long festival and competition, with the final round occurring at the World Famous Apollo Theatre.

The grand prize is an appearance on the nationally syndicated television show It's Showtime at the Apollo and a $1000 cash prize. All performers will be open to the public and entertainment industry professionals are expected to attend.

O.J. Tell-All Video Is A Big Flop With Viewers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — O.J. Simpson wanted to tell all, but few apparently wanted to listen.

The acquitted murder defendant's commercial video billed as America's biggest opportunity to hear Simpson give his version of his celebrated trial — in a big flop.

Despite all the media hoopla surrounding its release, only 40,000 copies have been sold.

By comparison, during the same period, viewers tuned in nearly 100,000 copies of "The Chase . . . the Weather Channel's account of meteorological roller coasters."

The 2 1/2 hour video retails for $29.99 and was released last February. Simpson pitched it as a series of impromptu radio and television interviews, although he refused to discuss any specifics of the case and instead offered a toll-free number for listeners to call and purchase the tape.

The viewers ignored the pitch, in droves. Industry analysts said People magazine this week that "O.J. Simpson: The Interview," may be one of the biggest video duds of the year.

Prenatal Care is Important For The Future Of Our Community

Every African-American baby is born full of possibilities. She or he could become the President, a scientist who discovers the cure for cancer, or a business leader who creates jobs in the community. Yet every year, African-American babies die at extremely high rates, or are born with problems they will have for the rest of their lives. These children may never have the chance to realize their potential.

If a pregnant woman doesn’t get prenatal care, it could mean the difference between life and death for her baby. And those babies whose mothers don’t get prenatal care could be born blind, deaf, with respiratory difficulties, or other lingering problems.

If you know a woman who’s pregnant, let her know you care. Ask if she’s eating a healthy diet, and drinking water. Let her know that smoking, drinking and using drugs can harm her unborn child. Make sure she’s getting prenatal care. The State of California can help. Just have her call the Black Infant Health Program in her area. The future of her baby and our community is at stake.

Saluting A Decade Of Achievements

RIVERSIDE - The Women of Achievement Luncheon began in 1986 as a luncheon honoring women in the Inland Empire who were nominated by individuals, organizations, and businesses. There were no other requirements, a nomination was simply enough. Women from all walks of life were selected as women achievers - mothers, teachers, business women, entrepreneurs... After several years, the format was changed and only one woman was selected and a luncheon held in her honor. Among these women were Dr. Lula Mae Clemmons and Eunice Williamson. The format then received another overhaul, and three women were selected who have made significant contributions to the African-American community and the event was taken over by the newly formed Black Voice Foundation, Inc.

Pictorial Review

Since then thousands of dollars have been raised for scholarships for local college students.
