Rialto Teacher Suspends Student

By Cheryl Brown
Black Voice News

Rialto - An eight-graded student at Kibb Middle School in Rialto, Calif., of the car's passenger, visibly upset, and what he told her made her so angry that she is ready to stomp on what she perceives as racism by a math teacher at the school. Mrs. Marcella Powell, wrote a letter to Black Voice after all other things she tried failed.

The date was May 6, 1996. According to Mrs. Powell, Mr. Pearson Jr. was a White math teacher who would not answers her son's questions on how to do a problem on the board. Each time she asked and refused and told him the problems on the board, according to the student, when a White student asked the same question, the teacher explained in great detail how to do the problem. Powell's son turned to another student and said, "don't you just hate racism? What was loud enough for the teacher to hear and the student received a one-day class suspension. Mrs. Higgins said on the suspension form: "The student was playing with all his toys. As a result, he would be told he would get no help as long as he continued.

The teacher then stated loudly, "don't you just hate the race?" According to Mrs. Powell, the teacher yelled and said she didn't know the things you are asking about. She then shifted the word racism and better explain it to her in a racist, and put out of the class.

Pearson Jr. was upset but willing to talk to the teacher about it, and asked her for a conference however the teacher said according to Mrs. Powell. "Then, she was a citizen's police officer stood around here and that she didn't have time to talk to him. She asked the questions her son was asking were not in time with her son, who is on the eighth grade work.

"She started yelling and going into a tantrum. He said, "I'm sick of you people, nothing is ever your son's fault. He didn't even know what he had done. He had only talked to two other times, once because his math teacher felt his son was moving too slowly and needed a push and another when I wanted to remove him from math class. The principal went on to tell me that he thought of my son. In the six months he had been there he had not encountered a Black man in a Black classroom. My son is far from a problem child. He has never been in a fight at the school and on the Honor roll. He is very serious about his grades."

The Enterprise for Economic Excellence

An Innovative Private/ Public Partnership

By Bill Bleyer

SAN BERNARDINO - Struggling to survive through one of the worst economic depressions in its history, San Bernardino County businesses, government agencies, and educational institutions had no choice: learn to use informational technology (cooperatively and independently) or fall behind in terms of profitability and viability and quality of life within the region or be left out of the next wave of communications, a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

San Bernardino County was more severe and prolonged than in the rest of the state. As a result, any force moving toward improvement was at a full 6% higher than the national average two years ago; today it is 5% higher than the national rate. Nearly 33% of the population of San Bernardino County was out of work, a percentage of the public that has received little assistance.

San Bernardino County resides within the long shadows of the Inland Empire. The county has major urban areas and an extensive rural population, including a population of 1.3 million residents, 18 large cities, 31 small towns, 21 Indian reservations, 21 school districts (329,000 students), four community colleges, two universities and 37,000 businesses (less than 1% employee). No Fortune 500 companies are headquartered in the county. When San Bernardino County entered the downturn, the county has lost more than 20,000 military and civilian jobs, primarily because of the closure of seven major air force bases. The only way to overcome the spiral of decline is to make the county viable for information technology to use to sustain economic growth.

How can business master the technological information to remain competitive and prosperous in the global economy?

How can government assist and nurture the competitive processes? What is the role of government and the business community effectively with education to graduate from a qualified workforce needed to compete in the global marketplace?

Survival requires the development of a proactive, innovative, technology-based system. Small businesses, school districts, and small government agencies throughout the county must have the resources to compete in the capital financial development to capitalize on the technological infrastructure development to access the world's newest scientific information applications. Out of necessity, but together, they have the resources that will give them the competitive edge they need in this era of the technology, business, government, and education. The redistribution of information and the encouragement and teaching of economic efficiency and the development, government, and education, community, and resource commitments. Amid severe economic and financial hardship, the county was not available or did not yet use newly developin g information system technology. A significant amount of economic and financial hardship, the county was not available or did not yet use newly developin g information system technology. A significant amount of economic

The Importance of Information Technology to This Venture

Information technology, especially World Wide Web and networking technologies, is a catalyst for economic development. Developing and operating the Linkup Regional Network and services in this large county required many leading-edge information systems. This leading-edge infrastructure is the basis of the county's economic prosperity and long-term viability. It provides a significant benefit to all sectors of society: businesses, government, and educational institutions.

Information technology has been the catalyst to bring a diverse and complex society together. Information is technology's greatest asset. It is the key to progress. Information technology and its application to the integration of several leading-edge technologies to form one integrated solution for the county.

Uniqueness Partnership

The uniqueness of the EEE and its Linkup Regional Network is the unification of technological expertise and financial resources between the county, its public and private sectors, and its application to the integration of several leading-edge technologies to form one integrated solution for the county. The EEE was chartered by the state of California in 1994 to establish a regional network.

The enterprise to coordinate and develop a regional information network. The EEE is chartered to operate the Linkup Regional Network;

Gerald Brown, of EEE recently addressed the African American Chamber of Commerce. He addressed the "African American Information Technology and the World Wide Web is that just a fad," he said. It is here to stay: "We can't ignore the importance of information technology."

Provide technical assistance to our businesses, government, and educational institutions.

Facilitate restructuring education by using information technology to enhance communication with local education.

Develop "real" World Wide Web internet applications to advance this new medium of communication.

The five strategic initiatives will provide a technically rich environment supported by educational activities for our economy to prosper. The EEE has the expertise to create a new public-private partnership created to ensure that information technology is a key not only in the county and to give our business a competitive edge, but to all sectors of our society."

Direct Long-Lasting

The EEE and its Linkup Regional Network and services have gone full concept to full operation in just eight months. Our partners-businesses, government, and educational institutions-have put aside their differences and pooled their financial and technological resources to create what is now a sophisticated digital network and related services. It has already provided direct benefit to all sectors of our society.

In its first year, the EEE has made great strides toward our goals. The EEE has been engineered, installed, and operated the Linkup Regional Network, which is funded locally by the county. An initial investment of $600,000 was made to establish, connect, and provide the necessary infrastructure to develop a system that can reach all 327,000 people of the county and potentially 200,000 people in the Inland Empire.

Access to a single network allows for the seamless movement of information across all sectors of the county's economy. It is estimated that the Linkup Regional Network will provide value to all sectors of the county's economy. Our Bodies

By Ernest Levator, M.D.

Dear Dr. Levister:

Have recently been suffering from headaches. Some of my friends have suggested that it is due to tension. What is a tension headache? R.A.

Dear R.A.: A tension (muscle contraction) headache is thought to be caused by muscle contractions due to emotional stress or tension. The sufferer usually describes all around type of pain, as if their head was held in a tight hat, headband or vice. It is difficult to say exactly where the pain is located, but many indicate that their neck and shoulder muscles ache and feel tight. The back of the head hurts.

The headache persists for hours or days. It may get worse after you have been up for awhile and sometimes after the pressures of the day build up.

The pain is not sharp or throbbing. It is not localized and there is no association with nausea, vomiting or visual disturbances.

Ask yourself if the headaches occur when you feel Dole in for page 6.

Types Of Feelings

Many people think that whenever they feel an emotion is an emotion. However, emotions are only one type of feeling. In imagining a feeling tree, emotions can be likened to the good and bad "leaves." Back at the "root" level, called the "soil," the most beautiful feelings we humans can ever experience. These "roots" are anchored in the soil of love where they between the soil, life and emotions.

Which Ones To Leave Alone, And Feelings To Make Blossom, Comes When We Know Which Ones To Shed Or Replace.

Check On Your Kids.

Keep in touch with Family.

Help with a Problem.

With Universal Lifeline Telephone Service, I Can Stay In Touch For Half As Much!

I’m a single parent, with two really great kids. I work hard, and I do everything I can to keep my family’s expenses in check. And, you know I’m cutting corners whenever I can, just to make ends meet. But, one of the things I can’t cut out is my telephone. When you have a family, the telephone is an important part of making everything work right. I can make sure my kids get home okay from school, I can stay available for overtime and extra assignments. And, I can even spend a little time talking to my best friend. But, telephone bills can run some. My. Children have told me to talk about GTE’s Universal Lifeline Telephone Service...ULTS.

- ULTS. With ULTS, there’s no deposit. Just an installation fee of $10 and $5.62 a month covers my basic calling options.

To Qualify: To get Lifeline service, you must first meet three qualifications established by the Federal Communications Commission.

1. You can only have one telephone, not by your household. (This is in addition to the number of telephones you currently have.)
2. Your total household income must be less than $8,500 each year or 50% of the federal poverty line, depending on your household size, or below.
3. Your telephone must be a basic telephone.

If you meet these conditions, call GTE. GTE offers other services that can help you control costs.

Rev. Tyler-Guidry To Speak At Riverside's Allen Chapel

RIVERSIDE - The Rev. Carolyn E. Tyler-Guidry will be guest speaker at Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church, 4009 Locust Street, Riverside, in celebration of their Annual Women's Day Celebration on Sunday, March 19, 1995 at 9:30 a.m. It is especially significant for Allen Chapel to have Rev. Tyler-Guidry visit the church because she is a candidate for the office of Bishop in the African Methodist Episcopal Church. She calls herself "The Hip Elder," because she has the distinction of being the first woman in the Fifth District to serve in many areas of the church, namely, having been appointed the first woman presiding elder in the history of the Fifth District by Bishop Vision R. Anderson. She was also the first woman to serve a congregation of 600 members. Her call to the ministry came at a time when very few women were being encouraged to accept the challenge of entering the ordained ministry. She has accepted this challenge and has accomplished great things for herself and the church.

The Presiding Elder takes her role seriously and understands the responsibility that comes with being one of the highest ranking clergy women in the Protestant Church. She is certainly a woman of distinction and it is an honor to have her come to the Inland Empire, says Rev. Shermelia Garrett-Egston, pastor of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Riverside. The public is invited to attend this celebration. For further information, call (909) 685-9406.

How Can I Get On Fire For God?

QUESTION: Dear Pastor Woods, I have been a Christian for four years. Recently, I have experienced a lag in my zeal for God. I use to read the Bible a lot and pray a lot, and I was quite excited about the Lord. Now I have to drum myself up to get excited. How can I get fired up for God? - C.L., San Bernardino, CA

ANSWER: In order to experience the zeal and drive that you once experienced in your Christian walk, you must do the same things you use to do. If you prayed and read your Bible a lot before, what makes you think that after you have reduced those aspects of your life, that you can maintain the previous zeal? The book of Revelation describes the future status of the Church of Ephesus experiencing something similar. If you have a question that you would like answered, write: Dr. Reginald L. Woods, Life Changing Ministries, P.O. Box 9778, San Bernardino, CA 92427-9778.

You see, Saturns are so reasonably priced, and the shopping experience is so relaxed and pressure-free, that, well, the cars pretty much have the reputation for selling themselves. We don't dispute this. But please, do us a favor, humor the sales consultants just a little, will you? Call them over. Ask a question or two. They really like that. Hope to see you soon.

The Department of Orthopaedics at Stanford University, and at considerable personal cost, he and his wife, Joy, an orthopedic nurse, moved to Africa and eventually established the Christian Eye Center in Ghana, West Africa. I am sure this was not what they thought, but God had other plans for them.

The field of Dr. Winter’s dreams was a little more modern than the movie, with a slightly larger house on the outskirts of a district town more modest than in the movie; just a small house in a community, that positive experience-and that they are able in a few brief moments to dramatically impact the lives of very, very many people who more than anything else, have lost the sense of purpose in life. They are not just medical professionals.

And as the teams depart for the U.S., they go with a deep sense of satisfaction; having experienced new things about themselves and what values most in life. They are not just medical professionals.

CIF Champs: Gray, Vann, Hoxie, Brent, Angela and Wallace

North Girls behind Coach Leathers, win team title. Poly boys and North girls win relay titles.

BRENT WILLIAMS of Fontana A.B. Miller won CIF in 440, with C.J. Reed of Riverside Poly and Chancellor Young of Riverside North finishing second and third respectively.

Poly's 1600 relay showed heart and poise defeating a strong field to win the CIF title in a 3:21.76. Aaron Wallace, Jeremy Langshultz, Reed and Zimmerman gave the Bears' rooters something to howl about with the exciting victory.

"We really wanted this title," said Carter. "I felt a couple monkeys on my back, but I was hyped and wasn't going to let them pass me." Moreno Valley Canyon Springs' Erik Vann won the long jump title (23-feet, 6 inches) and finished second in the triple jump (45-8). Rubidoux's Oshenbaum Bryan finished third in the triple jump (45-1/2) behind Vann. The first place finishers weren't the only ones to fill the joy of the moment.

Canyon Springs' Carrie Walls placed second in the 400 and was happy about it, too. "I think I got the school record," she said. "I'm really ready to work even harder to get to the next level and win it next year."

Other local start:

Palm Springs' Jerome Burrell took second in the 100. Moreno Valley Valley View's Quincy Huntley got a third in the 200.

San Bernardino Cima's Tixa Frazier got second in the 100, while Blackshear took sixth. Danette Morris of Miller earned third place in the 400. Robi Leadblad of Riverside Arlington took third and fourth in the 100 and 300 hurdles and fifth in the long jump. Rialto Elsmoor's Nicole Flans got fourth in the 400 while her teammate Latasha Cole finished second.

Eisenhower Presents 42nd Street
RIOCIO - Eisenhower High School’s combined performing arts groups will stage a landmark musical beginning May 24, with the opening of 42nd Street, one of the longest running musicals in Broadway’s history. Curtain times will be 7:30 p.m. on May 24 and 25 and 2 p.m. on May 26. Tickets sell for $6 each.

Director of 42nd Street’s direction is Andrew Luna, Evelyn Newman and Barry Wallace, with musical direction by David Barlow and technical direction by Barry Devise. The cast, crews and orchestra feature nearly 100 students.

The classic ingredients of a Broadway extravaganza that tips its tap shoes to the energy and ambition of the chorus dancers who light up Broadway’s stages. It builds its story around the ambition of the chorus dancers with wide-eyed newcomer with stars in her eyes and magic in her heart, who herself is confronted by the forces of evil working to undermine her. The director’s hean.

A Mother’s Heart To Be Held At Sturges Theatre In San Bernardino
SAN BERNARDINO - Brenda Stewart’s “A Mother’s Heart” will hold on May 26th, 3:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. at Sturges Theatre, 780 N. E St., San Bernardino.

In “A Mother’s Heart,” the walls go up, the beat has been good. Whether he is writing, acting or producing, the Notre Dame, University of Michigan and London Shakespeare Academy alumnus leaves his mark with a stroke of perfection on everything he touches.

Los Angeles - Veteran actor Hawthorne James has never been a prisoner, nor has he been to heaven. But on May 24th, Hawthorne James will star with actor Alex Baldwin when the eagerly awaited film Heaven’s Prisoners premiere. Produced by New Line/Santuary Films, the film also features Mary Stuart Masterson, Kelly Lynch, Teri Hatcher and Eric Roberts.

Heaven’s Prisoners is a powerful account of a life that began on location in the city of New Orleans, and surrounding bayous. Based on the James Lee Burke novel of the same name, the film features Baldwin’s portrayal of a retired New Orleans cop, who along with his wife, operates a bed and breakfast. Things change when a group crashes in the bayou and a little girl comes into their lives. But there are several other shocking surprises and strange twists which surround the crash. James plays the dangerous character, Victor Romero, who is described as the notorious bad guy that “nobody wants to mess with.”

Playing a notorious, dangerous, bad guy role is not entirely new for James, as he gained initial fame for his portrayal as “Big Red” in Roberts Townsend’s “The Five Heartbeats.” “People still recognize me all the time and call me “Big Red,” stated James, with a huge laugh. “Whatever I do, people always ask me about him. But as bad as Big Red was... my role as Victor Romero in Heaven’s Prisoners makes him look like a choir boy.”

James is also known for his role as the bus driver in the Nickelback hit film Speed. His extensive list of film and television productions include I’m Gonna Git You Sucka, The Color PURPLE, The Party Heart Story, Charlie’s, Cheers, Hill Street Blues, Fresh Prince of Bel-Air and Martin. “He has appeared in over 20 stage productions. James recently appeared in the workshop production, The Legend, which was directed by actress Debbie Allen. He also just completed shooting the film Boh, which is based on the 1992 Los Angeles murder. The film is scheduled to air on Showtime in April. “James has been in the upcoming horror film, AKA American-Campbell. Although he is always extremely busy, James is pushed hard to get his well-deserving, short film Remember Me? shot into a full-length feature. Reflecting a powerful storyline, the film is about the sibling rivalry of two sisters who grow up loving each other. They share their hopes, heart’s destinies and dreams of the future with each other. However, through life’s many challenges, the sister’s love for each other turns to mistrust and hatred. The film reflects the struggles of the sisters, and how they attempt to reconcile their differences. Negotiations to option Remember Me? are ongoing.

Actor/producer Roberts Townsend is attached at this point to serve as executive producer for the film project.

For James the heat goes on, and the heat has been good. Whether he is writing, acting or producing, the Notre Dame, University of Michigan and London Shakespeare Academy alumnus leaves his mark with a stroke of perfection on everything he touches.

Starting June 1, your phone number will be given out automatically each time you make a call — unless you block it.

Your phone number will soon be transmitted to the person or business you’re calling every time you make a telephone call. Beginning June 1, your number will automatically be displayed on any calls you make to people or businesses who use a new phone service known as “Caller ID,” even if you don’t have the service yourself. To prevent your number from being given out when you make a call, you must choose a free “Caller ID Blocking” option. Here’s the information you need to choose the right option for you, and to understand how this new service could affect your privacy:

What is Caller ID?
Caller ID is a service that displays your phone number on a Caller ID device whenever you make a call. It is already available in most of the country and will affect phone customers in California on June 1st.

How will Caller ID change the way I use my phone?
You have the right to prevent your phone number from being displayed on the Caller ID device of the person or business you call. This can be done by “blocking” your number from being transmitted. If you don’t block Caller ID, your number will be given out automatically each time you make a call to someone with Caller ID service — even if you have an unlisted phone number. This will happen whether or not you have the Caller ID service yourself.

Currently, your number is transmitted when you call 800, 888, 900 numbers, “O” (for operator) and 9-1-1. Caller ID Blocking won’t change this.

Why would I choose to block Caller ID?
There are reasons why some callers don’t want their numbers to be given out. For example, you may be paying for an unlisted number that you don’t want everyone to have. Or you may not want salespeople saving or selling your number, or putting it on marketing lists. Law enforcement workers, abuse victims and others may want to keep their home numbers private. A Caller ID number could lead to your location (“reverse” directories list addresses by your phone numbers). Don’t transmit your personal phone number by accident. Blocking options let you decide who gets your number and who doesn’t.

What are my free blocking choices?
• One option is to order “Complete Blocking,” which transmits your number on all the calls you make except to 800, 888, 900, “O” and 9-1-1. You can still block calls by pressing *82 (on rotary phones, 1167 before you dial the number). Or you can choose “Selective Blocking,” which transmits your number on all the calls you make. You can still block your number on certain calls by pressing *67 (on rotary phones, 1167) before you dial the number.

How do I choose my blocking option?
Look for a special alert in your phone bill and check off your choice, or call the following toll free number: 1-800-884-8739 to make your choice...and to get answers to all your blocking questions.

With free Caller ID Blocking options, it’s your call: 1-800-884-8739

If you would like more information on Caller ID, please call 1-800-884-8739.

Caller ID Blocking is free. Caller ID service will be available for a charge. You’re not required to have Caller ID service in order to use the blocking options. Please reply now to ensure blocking by June 1. If you have any concerns or complaints that are not resolved by GTE, you may contact the Consumer Affairs Branch of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC), 505 Van Ness Avenue, Room 2003, San Francisco, CA 94102. The Consumer Affairs Branch public telephone hours are 10am—3pm Monday through Friday. You can reach them by calling 1-800-649-7570. This information is provided by GTE as required by the CPUC.
RIVERSIDE - On Friday, May 10, 1996 at the Riverside Convention Center, the Black Voice Foundation held its Tenth Annual Women of Achievement Luncheon honoring women in the community who are dedicated to promoting diversity in the Inland Empire.

The honorees, Ann Griffith-Morschl, Jacqueline Mimms, and Yolanda Nava, were escorted by their husbands and surrounded by friends and family who came from as far away as Utah and New Mexico. Hosted by Hardy and Cheryl Brown, co-publishers of the Black Voice News and founders of the Foundation, the luncheon focused on the contributions of these three women to the Riverside community, and honored Dr. Addie Brown with the Dr. Rosemary Schraer Memorial Award. Dr. Brown is a retired educator from Southern California who continues to mentor students of all ages. During her acceptance, Dr. Brown pledged to help even more students in need, in particular Black male graduate students who may feel isolated or alone in their campus communities.

Jacqueline Mimms, assistant vice-chancellor for campus relations at UCR, explained the added significance of the award, stating that the theme, "Pastor A. Decades of Achievements" has a dual meaning: she was recently honored with a ten year service pin from UC Riverside's Chancellor Othact, for her ten years with the university, Mimms received the added treat of hearing her daughter, Keshia, sing "Wind Beneath My Wings," at the luncheon.

Ann Griffith-Morschl, director of public affairs for Pacific Bell, discussed the importance of community service and family involvement. She explained to the crowd that she was never raised to believe that she was different or helpless because she was female, "I will never forget when my parents told me that cute doesn't cut it after six." She always knew that she could achieve anything and to not be confined by gender.

The Greater Riverside Urban League interim president and community activist, Yolanda Nava first thanked her family, including her mother who traveled from El Paso to attend the luncheon and her husband Robert, for their unwavering support. Nava explained that like other immigrant families there was always the struggle to survive, but that from those struggles she learned the importance of perseverance.

Awards were also presented to three UCR students who received scholarships for their scholastic achievements. Two students, LaFayette Hight and Jason Butler, both on staff at the Highlander (UCR's weekly paper), were presented with Dr. Rosemary Schraer Scholarships worth $1500 each. The award is presented in conjunction with UCR. The third recipient, Miahla Smith, was presented with the Future Voices Award of $1000. The honorees were presented with accolades from the Mayor's office, Citizens Board of Supervisors, State representatives Ray Haynes and Ted Wiggalland, Congressmen Ken Calvert and George Brown, and others.

Event sponsors include: Pacific Bell, Southland Corporation, Southern California Edison, Wells Fargo Bank, Inland Empire National Bank, Southern California Gas Company, Chino Hills Ford, and Toyota USA.
