Art Show Postponed
FINE ARTS REMODELING
TO START NEXT WEEK

Work on remodeling of the Fine Arts Building will begin early next week. The $318,500 job will be done by Eason Construction, Inc. of Highland.

In a job start meeting to outline the course of the project, held last Tuesday between the contractor and College officials, it was agreed that the Art Gallery will be given first priority for completion. This will permit the Faculty Art Show, scheduled to open next week but temporarily postponed due to the reconstruction work, to be held in the new, expanded and refurbished Gallery. The Gallery is expected to be ready for occupancy in approximately three weeks and will re-open with the Faculty Art Show about that time.

Throughout the renovation the Art Department will continue operations in the building with only some slight disruptions expected.

It is anticipated that the entire contract will be completed within three or four months, in time for the Spring Quarter. Building trades staff from Plant Operations are assisting with the project.

The Fine Arts conversion will provide a permanent home for the Art Department, with new equipment, facilities, faculty offices and studios.

"THE JUNGLE BOOKS" Four stories from Rudyard Kipling's "The Jungle Books" will
TO OPEN OCTOBER 30 be staged in the Theatre. Opening night is billed for October 30. Tickets go on sale Monday, October 15. (Ext. 7452)

The multimedia presentation featuring a combination of music, dance, film, slides and chamber theatre is the brain child of Phillip West, technician with the Music Department who developed the project as part of his master of arts degree requirements.

The four children's stories feature Mowgli, the Jungle boy who was raised by wolves. Costumed actors use a combination of on-stage action and narrative story telling to present the play which is flavored with the aura of India in the costumes, slides and music.

With his adaptation, Mr. West is combining innovative forms of the media, such as slides and films with music and a live dramatic performance. In addition to adapting the play, he is director and coordinator of media. It is produced by the Theatre Arts Department.

The Kipling stories tell of Mowgli, the man-cub, his entry into the wolf pack, hunting experiences and encounters with man and the battle with Khan, the lame tiger. The play should be enjoyable for all members of the family, especially children.

In addition to the October 30 opening night, other performances are set for October 31 and November 1-3. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

NEW GRAPHICS SYSTEM
AVAILABLE ON CAMPUS

Over the summer the College purchased a Hewlett-Packard 2647A Intelligent Graphics Terminal. A seminar to introduce faculty, staff and students to this multicolor graphics marvel will be held Tuesday, October 16, 3-4 p.m. in LC-13.

Conducted by Herb Nickles, Instructional Computer Coordinator, the demonstration will instruct future users on the system's capabilities, such as drawing on the screen, bar charting, pie charting and graphing.

The new system uses BASIC language or can be used as a remote terminal to local or central time sharing. Automatic plotting programs are available. The 105 keyboard offers upper and lower case characters, keyboard editing, graphics keys, cursor control keys and eight programmable function keys. The multicolor graphics plotter automatically selects up to four pen colors, producing high quality graphs up to 11" x 17" on chart paper, film, or overhead transparencies.
