'79 SUMMER SESSION GRADUATES TOTAL 114

The College awarded 114 degrees to students completing their work at the end of the 1979 Summer Session. These graduates will form the nucleus of the June, 1980 graduating class.

For the first time graduate degree recipients nearly outnumbered those earning bachelor degrees, with a total of 55, while Bachelor of Arts degrees numbered 50 and Bachelor of Science degrees totaled nine.

Of the master's degrees, education programs accounted for 49; business administration two, psychology three and one special major.

Among the bachelor degrees, liberal studies numbered 16; administration eight, sociology six. Others were divided among 14 other majors. Bachelor of Science graduates included two each in nursing, administration, biology, health science and one in math.

Of the 114 summer graduates only 34 were men. Seventeen of the master's recipients graduated under the College's External Degree Program.

lecture series during the month of October.

"There are many theories behind the causes of inflation," the economist explains. "A few include too great a government deficit, too much credit and the increasing prices of raw materials. Of all the causes, excessive credit, both in this country and internationally, is the most important."

Dr. Earley retired from his UCR position last year after teaching there for 12 years. He also served as professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin, where he earned his master's and doctoral degrees.

The election issue series is being coordinated by Sheldon Kamieniecki, Asst. Prof., Political Science.

The United Way

Two weeks into its 1979 campaign, the campus drive for the Arrowhead United Way has raised $2,500.

AUF campus chairman, Vice President J.K. Thomas, states that the drive is continuing. He hopes to have a good representation from the College to demonstrate that we continue to contribute to this worthy cause.

Dr. Thomas adds that he would like to thank those who sent in their contributions early and hopes that others, when contacted by volunteers in their departments, will weigh the services rendered to the community by the AUF.

"JUNGLE BOOKS" IS BONUS
FOR SEASON TICKET HOLDERS

One of the most technically advanced productions ever presented at the College opens Tuesday, October 30 with "The Jungle Books." Admission is $1.50 for students and $2 for faculty and staff. General admission is $3. A pre-season offering, the presentation is a bonus for season ticket holders.

Four stories from Kipling's classic have been adapted into chamber theatre format by Philip West of the Music Department. Mr. West, who is directing the show, has engineered an elaborate combination of music, slides, film and dance with a live dramatic performance.

An innovative feature is the integration of film and live action. The film is used as a central core and is as much a part of the show as the live performance.

The cast includes David Sieruga, Adrian Taffola, Anthonius Ichsan, Dawna Gregory, Julie Noble, Thomas Huxley, Cheryl Chambless, Ivan Glasco and Christopher Brandon.

Assisting with the production are Don Gruber, stage manager; Jim Teele, music; Pat Hadlock, film, set, lights and choreography; and Charlie Fields, costumes.

Other performing dates are October 31, November 1-3.
