Mary "Suzy" Atanasova, Second Ward Candidate

Mary "Suzy" Atanasova (Conna) is one of three candidates seeking election to the 2nd ward councilmanic seat in the municipal elections on March 2. Incumbent Councilperson Riley opted not to seek reelection. During the approximately two years since Ms. Atanasova arrived in San Bernardino from Orange County, she has been very visible in the community. "I am an active person who is concerned about the problems in our community and individual problems that people are confronted with," she said during an interview.

The family owns a mobile home in a park where they and other residents encountered myriad problems. She immediately organized the residents into a viable group and filed appropriate claims at the municipal and federal courts, which were favorably resolved. The resident group, Residents Advocacy Board, continues to be functional and actively successful with Ms. Atanasova as president.

Other activities in which she is actively involved are Neighborhood Watch, Community Organized Policing (COP), Citizens Patrol, Golden State Mobile Homeowners League, Mental Health Network, Elderly/Disabled Shut.

Governor Pete Wilson signs Norton incentive bills into law to attract 4,000 jobs to local area in San Bernardino ceremony, January 29

Gov. Wilson signs incentive bills before local elected officials.

SAN BERNARDINO - On January 29th Governor Pete Wilson signed special legislation designed to attract a major new defense installation to California and bring 4,000 jobs to the San Bernardino-Riverside area.

"By enacting this special legislation, we have demonstrated to Washington, D.C. - and to ourselves - that Californians can pull together and do what it takes to attract new jobs and new investment in our state," said Wilson during a signing ceremony at San Bernardino City Hall.

Joining Wilson for the event were the principal co-authors of the legislation, AB 1X and SB 2X, Senators Ruben Ayala (D-San Bernardino) and Bill Leonard (R-Redlands), Assembly Minority Leader Jim Brulte (R-Rancho Cucamonga) and Assembly members Fred Aguiar (R-Chino) and Joe Baca (D-Rialto), along with San Bernardino Mayor Bob Holcomb, San Bernardino County Supervisor Jerry Eaves and San Bernardino Private Industry Council Chairman Ted Dutton.

"This was a true bi-partisan effort," said Wilson, "My thanks go to the business, government and community leaders who have made this event possible."

Ayuda a las Víctimas de Violación

From The Riverside Rape Crisis Center, Update

"Sigue lo que pasa..." me respondió el dueño de un restaurante mejicano en Perris, cuando lo abordé en relación a la necesidad que tenía de contactar grupos organizados en la comunidad latina para ofrecerles charlas acerca de la prevención de la violación y del abuso de menores. "El que tenga la luz que la pase," me contestó otra señora, y a la verdad que el pueblo no se equivoca, el pueblo es sabio y está ansioso de detener la ola de sufrimiento en que viven los seres humanos que han experimentado abuso sexual o cualquier otra clase de abuso durante su vida.

El pueblo latino clama por servicios que ayuden a la sanación de la víctima y su familia y eso es parte del trabajo que realizo desde hace un año cuando se estableció este programa de "Hispanic Outreach" como parte del Riverside Rape Crisis Center proyecto auspiciado por United Way. Este programa ha brindado la oportunidad de educar a muchas familias latinas en relación a la prevención de la violación y abuso de menores. Las charlas son gratuitas y son presentadas en español en escuelas, centros de salud, iglesias, centros comunitarios, instituciones penales y centros de trabajo.

La estrategia que persigue el programa es establecer el dialogo, rompiendo así con el silencio, miedo y culpa que regularmente sienten las víctimas, con el agravante en el caso de muchas mujeres hispanas de desconocer los recursos disponibles, el idioma y venir de otra cultura. También persigue el Centro romper con los mitos y tabúes en relación al ulrtraje de las mujeres, sirviendo así de recurso concientizador para estimular a la mujer a rescatar su poder y autoestima.

Bishop Straling speaks on abortion

Bishop Phillip F. Straling, Bishop of the Diocese of San Bernardino/Riverside Counties, issued the following statement today regarding President Clinton's executive orders on abortion:

"I am distressed and saddened by President Clinton's recent executive orders concerning abortion in our country. Our Diocese will continue to affirm our conviction that each human life is sacred and called into existence by God. However, we take hope in the President's words that he desires abortions to be "rare." We look for opportunities to encourage alternatives to abortion, such as adoption, and to explore other avenues which will afford protection to the unborn."

Ramos Heads Redlands Realtors

Bob Ramos was recently installed as president of the Redlands Board of Realtors at the Redlands Country Club. Mr. Ramos’ election to this office has broken tradition by being the first Hispanic in the Inland Empire to hold this position.

Born in North Redlands, Mr. Ramos attended the local schools and San Bernardino Valley College. Co-owner of Figgins Realty, he has been a member of the Redlands Board of Realtors since 1969 and has held various leadership roles including secretary, treasurer, equal opportunity committee chairperson, political action committee trustee, multiple listing service chair, and member of the California board of Realtors as Director. His community involvement includes membership in the Noon Kiwanis Service club.

Mr. Ramos and wife Petra have been married for 40 years and have three children, Patricia Barker, Robert Jr. and Paul and six grandchildren.

"I have been very actively involved in the Board of Realtors for these many years and was elected to this position because of my commitment and long service to the BOR. Being a first generation Hispanic and being so honored, I feel a tremendous responsibility to serve to the best of my ability. I view this first-of-a-kind action as an encouragement for minority participation in this profession, which, while being difficult to succeed, offers an opportunity to be of better service to the Hispanic community. I continually explore ways to better serve my Spanish speaking friends and I encourage other Hispanics in the profession to become assertively involved."

U.S. Marines seeking minority officer training recruits

The United States Marine Corps Officer Selection Office is promoting the recruitment of college students to enroll in a special internship program according to Captain Harold D. Jones, Officer in Charge, United States Marine Corps Officers Selection Office. He further stated that Hispanic and Black students are highly sought for recruitment in the internship program.

The PLC provides opportunities for summer internships leading to a commission in the United States Marines. The program begins with a non-obligatory service internship offered to college freshmen, sophomores and junior students at any college year (women are eligible upon entering the junior year). During a six or ten week summer internship, the candidates will receive $1,000 per month and thereafter, will be receiving $100 a month until graduation from the college, not to exceed 27 months. The program remains non-obligatory until the candidates accept a commission after graduation with a bachelors degree. The PLC is an exceptional educational and commissioning program unique to the Marine Corps.

During the summer internship, the candidate is rigorously trained in leadership and decision-making skills in order to gain self-confidence. They are, in addition, given the opportunity to develop and implement practical plans and lead fellow candidates in field exercises. Each candidate is evaluated throughout the program. There are no formal military obligations placed on the candidates during the regular school terms. The single requirement is that a candidate continue to be full-time student and maintain a 2.0 to 4.0 grade point average.

The total Platoon Leaders Course's objective is to provide educational and officer training opportunities for college students who have the potential to serve as Marine Corps officers.

Persons wishing further information may call Sergeant Ricky Medina at (909) 383-1130 or visit the United States Marine Corps Officers Selection Office, 577 "D" Street, San Bernardino.

1976 Redlands High School Graduate is non-commissioned officer in charge of the local USMC Officer Selection Office

"The Few, The Proud, The Marines" so says the United States Marine Corps in its recruitment publications and Gunnery Sergeant Ricky Medina feels that he is part of those "few" and proud of his role as a member of the Marine Corps.

Gunnery Medina is the non-commissioned officer of the United States Marine Corps Officer Selection Office stationed in San Bernardino.

"When I first enlisted in the "Corps" in 1976, my plans were to stay in for one enlistment (four years). I liked the training and esprit de corps and enjoyed being a part of this elite military organization, and this is why I'm on my fourth enlistment."

Gunnery Medina is fortunate in being stationed in San Bernardino! The son of Augustine (Augie) and Helen Medina, he is one of seven brothers and sisters. Graduating from Redlands High School in 1976, he enlisted in the Marine Corps, receiving his basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego and later assigned to the 3rd Marine Division, stationed in Okinawa for 15 months and 1st Marine Division at Camp Pendleton for 17 months.

Trained on aircraft maintenance (an honor student) in 1979, he has been stationed at MCAS, El Toro, CA; instructor duty on aircraft maintenance, Naval Air Station, Lemoore, CA; MCAS, Beaufort, S.C.; VMFA-312, Iwakuni, Japan.

"I have moved up into a position of leadership and enjoy teaching younger marines the knowledge that I have acquired during my tenure in the Corps. My future plans are to complete at least 20 years in the Marine Corps. At that time, I will decide whether to continue my military career or go into my second career goal, that is, continue my college education with the ultimate goal of becoming a high school teacher and coach."

He is currently enrolled in a Spanish course at Crafton College and a political science course at San Bernardino Valley College.

"During my spare time, I enjoy being with my wife, Sandra, my children Christina and Bren and brothers and sisters," he said.

The family resides in Redlands.

Dr. Ernesto Reza Doctor of Organizational Psychology

It took me 10 years to complete all the Ph. D. requirements and during the period of time, I developed a "love-hate affair with the (Ph.D.) concept. As yet, I have not experienced the status of "Dr," long enough to form an opinion. I worked just as hard as others who had that title and the quality of my efforts was nothing to be ashamed of, but officially, somehow the work was not as valuable without a doctoral title. Most of us work very hard, so why not strive to be fully recognized and rewarded for one's work. Without the encouragement, faith and support of my parents I may just as easily settled for stagnating at a fraction of my human and learning potential - a major loss for me."

Lifestyles of Ancient Aztecs

The lifestyle of the ancient Aztecs will come to life in a February 4 talk by Cal State, San Bernardino anthropologist Dr. Fran Berdan, who has co-authored a study and translation of the most comprehensive pictorial manuscript available on the 16th century civilization.

Her four volume set of texts, published in June, has attracted international attention.

The talk, presented as the Annual Phi Kappa Phi Lecture, is free and open to the public. The presentation is sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi, the Library Associates, the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the Offices of Academic Affairs and Graduate Studies at Cal State. $550,000 Available for Low Income Gas Customers

More than $550,000 is now available to help qualifying low income gas company customers pay their winter gas bills.

Gas company customers donated over $300,000, and the utility contributed an additional $250,000 to this year's Gas Assistance Fund. The money is available until the funds run out.

In spite of a gloomy economy in southern California, the response by gas company customers has been overwhelming according to Virginia Allen, customer relations manager for The Gas Company. "This is one of the largest amounts ever donated by our customers to help people in our community who cannot pay their winter heating bills," Allen said. "We are glad to know that so many of our customers care about others."

Qualifying low income seniors and the disabled may also receive assistance with their current gas bills. All other applicants must have past due notices.

Applications will be taken at local United Way agencies. Proof of household income, proper identification such as a driver's license of California I.D. card, and your late gas bill must be presented at time of application.

"Cold weather means higher gas bills for a lot of folks, because your heater must work longer and harder to maintain the desired temperature," said Judi Battey, district manager for The Gas Company. "This causes a typical household to use four to seven times more gas in the winter than in the summer."

Battey said that winter gas bills can be reduced by following these simple tips:

- Put on an extra layer of clothing such as a sweater or a sweatshirt rather than turning the heat up during the day to stay warm.
- Put an extra blanket on the bed while you sleep at night.
- Open curtains during the day to let the sun warm your home.
- Close curtain and drapes at night to keep cold drafts out.
- Turn heater thermostat OFF when leaving home so you're not heating an empty house.
- Fix leaking hot water faucets so your gas energy won't "go down the drain."
- Seal louvered windows during winter to stop the cold air from leaking through the slats.

For further information on how to obtain payment assistance call United Way or your local gas company office.

In Program, among other projects including currently developing a graffiti cleanup project. She stated that she organized, with GTE co-sponsorship, a Thanksgiving Day Community Dinner, and is the co-founder-editor of "Around Town."

In Orange County, Ms. Atanasova was involved in several police department's volunteer groups, Battered Women's Recovery/Relocation Program, Amnesty Program and other community neighborhood programs.

"Our 2nd ward is mainly composed of middle-lower income citizens and we have many problems that confront us. Our current councilman does not respond to our problems. We have called him on numerous occasions and he always has excuses for not going to meetings or returning our calls. Many people call me instead of him because I get effective results for them," according to Ms. Atanasova when elected, her agenda includes licensed daycare at neighborhood churches; resurfacing of streets; city-sponsored mobile home park conversions; alternate low-moderate income housing purchase plan; clean industry; graffiti removal; federal aid in expanding police enforcement; adopt a block program; and encourage girl/boy scout recruitment in the schools.

The 2nd Ward population of 25,000 is composed of 41% White, 41% Hispanic, 12% Black and 6% Others. Persons wishing further information may call at (909) 885-3038 or (909) 885-6791.

Senior Health Clinics

San Bernardino County residents age 60 and over can receive preventive health services at Senior Health Clinics run by the Department of Public Health's Aging Program. At these clinics, senior citizens will receive an annual comprehensive health history which is required to determine health status. In addition, seniors will receive a nutrition evaluation, health assessments and counseling from public health nurses.

Health assessments include height and weight, pulse and blood pressure, vision, hearing, mouth, skin, and foot inspection. If needed, blood sugar, urine and hemoglobin tests are provided to detect health problems such as diabetes or anemia. Monitoring and follow-up of health problems and referral to other services are provided depending on assessment findings.

Tetanus/diphtheria and pneumococcal vaccinations are available. Everyone 65 years and older should have pneumococcal vaccine if they have not had it before.

Health counseling is provided to help senior citizens practice healthful self-care and to use health care services more effectively.

All county residents age 60 and over are eligible for these services at no cost, although a donation of one dollar per visit is accepted. To receive service at these Senior Health Clinics, appointments are encouraged and can be made by calling the clinic of your choice from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.
