CSCSB STRIKES BACK AT PROPOSITION 9 The CSCSB campus launched a counterattack against Proposition 9 last week. Signatures totaling over 1500 were gathered to petition to put the Tax Simplicity Act on the November ballot as an alternative measure to the Jarvis Amendment.

Led by John Craig, Chemistry, and Frank Lootens, Physics, both who donated two days of their own time, a team of faculty and staff worked to collect the signatures for the income tax amendment to be submitted directly to the voters in the November election.

Another team, comprised of students headed by Kathy Fortner and Tim Hamre, volunteered to register voters who will be eligible to vote in the June and November elections. They obtained 350 registrations and handed out as many applications.

The Jarvis proposition continues to stir concern for the CSUC budgets. The Academic Senate, Chancellor Dumke and the Board of Trustees have joined in expressing concern that an impending taxation initiative could seriously cut the budget of the California State University and Colleges and alter or terminate the state's tuition-free system of higher education.

Proposition 9, sponsored by Howard Jarvis, restricts revenue available to state government through the income tax to no more than 50 percent of the rates in effect in 1978.

The Tax Simplicity Act would put more of the tax burden on the general corporations rather than the personal income of taxpayers.

CHILD CARE CENTER WORK TO BEGIN SOON The County Board of Supervisors has notified the College that it has signed the contract for construction of the Child Care Center, and that it has scheduled a job start meeting for mid-April. Construction is expected to begin shortly thereafter.

K. L. Neff Construction Co. of Ontario was the successful bidder on the project at a bid opening held March 4. The Neff bid of $170,500 was within allocation donated jointly by the City and County of San Bernardino from their community development funds.

The U-shaped building will be constructed west of the Student Services Building, which it will resemble in outside appearance. It is planned to provide accommodations for approximately 40 children and will have an outside, fenced yard.

NEW PARKING CITATION PROCEDURES ESTABLISHED

New parking citation procedures are being put into effect, beginning some time next week.

The new procedure requires that all parking fines be posted either by mail or in person with the College Police Department. If paid by mail, either checks or money orders will be required. Previously fines were paid to the Municipal Court.

In order to avoid the filing of a complaint in the Municipal Court, fines should be paid within a 10-day period. Unpaid ticket notices will be sent to the Department of Motor Vehicles and new registrations will not be issued by them until the fines are paid. Also, outstanding parking tickets will have additional fines levied on them if paid late.

The new collection procedure has the advantage of bringing additional revenue to the College. All fines collected will be returned 100% to the campus at the beginning of each fiscal year, earmarked partly for administering the new procedure and to provide new alternate means of transportation for the campus. Previously funds were divided between San Bernardino County and the Chancellor's Office.
