TICKETS ON SALE SOON FOR AMERICAN PREMIERE

The American premiere of a delightful French comedy "She Loves Me! She Said So!" will be presented by the Players of the Pear Garden, opening May 29.

First performed in Paris in 1859, the play by Eugene Scribe has a new translation by Dr. Helene Koon, professor and chair of the English department.

The play will continue May 30-31 and June 3-7. All performances will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Theatre. Tickets, which go on sale Monday, May 19, are $3 for general admission; $1.50 for students and senior citizens. Reservations may be made by calling 887-7452 or 887-7680.

Directed by Dr. Ronald Barnes, professor and chair of the theatre arts department, the play focuses on the complications which arise when a young wife believes her sister-in-law's suitor is really in love with her.

FINE ARTS FACILITY NEARS COMPLETION

Although the general contractor has completed his work on the remodeling of the Fine Arts Building, college physical plant craftsmen are still busy with final details. A sculpture patio on the southwest corner of the building is nearing completion. A wooden fence is being constructed around the outside work area that will provide security, yet allow air to pass through. Painting of the balance of the studio areas and the art faculty offices will be completed this summer, according to James Urata, director of plant operations.

The other major construction activity on campus is the start of the long-awaited child care center located west of the Student Services Building. The contractor is currently doing site preparation. The single-story facility is expected to be ready for occupancy near the start of the fall quarter.

HISTORY OF BRIDGES EXPLORED IN SMITHSONIAN EXHIBITION The history of bridge building in North America, which parallels the growth of a developing continent, is illustrated in a Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibit to be displayed in the Library May 17-June 15.

A collection of black and white photographs taken by David Plowden, from his book "Bridges: Spans of North America," forms the nucleus of the show. The photos are supplemented by related text and other memorabilia from the Smithsonian. The beauty and majesty of a number of bridges including the Golden Gate, the Brooklyn and the Delaware Memorial are explored in the exhibit.
