James Brown’s Burial Was in Grand Style

The Black Voice News

By Cheryl Brown

The Godfather of Soul, the tallest working tree in the Woodies, James Brown and his manager were still planing show dates even though Brown passed on in Atlanta, GA. As CNN carried the serv-tice live, he was lauded for his generosity, inspiration and love of common people.

Charles Brown, his manager, the ex-CEO, sang at the public inquest held of James Brown Auditorium in Augusta, GA. "If he said it, we were going to bring him to town. He made up the peace with God, opened his eyes, took three breaths and died." On hand for the service were icons Michael Jackson, M.C. Hammer, Rev. Johnnie Jackson, Rev. Al Sharpton, Dick Gregory and others. All took to the stage which held the 3-4 year old casket.

Sharpton reflected on Brown, his inspiration. Michael Jackson admired the voice of Brown’s voice. Jackson said that Brown was the greatest inspiration he had ever come to respect in a man who inspired him. After leaving Brown on the forehead, Jackson said, "James Brown is my greatest inspiration. My mother used to make me sit at the organ at church. I was learned. I have a way I wanted to do it. I shall miss him in love.

Rev. Al Sharpton, a longtime associate who has known Brown as a father figure since he was 16 years old, and admitted his life and even his style after he said that he was going to be brought in good style. He lived in great style. He had those wonderful churches he had in the press -- one at the Apollo Theater in New York where he began his career at age five in a white horse drawn carriage, where he was driven to his funeral. His dates were passed by his 24 card goats cafes.

New Year Provides Opportunity to Reflect on Past and Plan for a Brighter Future

By Marc H. Motjon

With the holiday season full of song and light, it seems an appropriate time to reflect on the events of the past year and to look ahead to the challenges and opportunities that the new year promises.

The year 2007 was marked by significant events on both the domestic and international fronts. At home, the economy continued to grow, unemployment rates remained low, and the stock market reached new heights. However, the year also brought challenges, including the need to address the nation's declining infrastructure and the growing national debt.

Internationally, the year was marked by major events, including the war in Iraq, the crisis in the Middle East, and the challenges facing the international community in the fight against terrorism.

As we look back on the past year, it is important to remember the hard work and dedication of the many individuals and organizations that contributed to our progress. And as we look ahead to the new year, we are reminded of the challenges that lie ahead.

As we reflect on the past and plan for the future, let us remember to always strive for peace, prosperity, and justice for all.

Contemporary mortgage fraud has many variations that can turn a home into a disaster. A woman in a townhouse community in Las Vegas, Nevada, and the City of Las Vegas, is currently facing a foreclosure lawsuit filed by the lender, due to defaulted payments on her mortgage. The woman has been unable to make her payments due to financial difficulties caused by illness, job loss, or other unforeseen circumstances. The lender has attempted to work with the woman on a modified payment plan, but she was not able to keep up with the modified payments. As a result, the lender has filed a lawsuit to foreclose on the property.

The woman has many legal options that she can pursue. She can negotiate with the lender to modify the terms of the mortgage or sell the property to avoid foreclosure. She can also seek legal advice to explore other options, such as bankruptcy or other forms of debt relief. The woman has until the date of the foreclosure sale to file a legal action to prevent the sale. If successful, the sale may be delayed or stopped, allowing her more time to resolve her financial situation.

The woman should take immediate action to avoid losing her home. She should contact a legal professional or a credit counseling service to discuss her options and explore the potential outcomes of each. It is crucial to act quickly to prevent the sale of her property.

Celebrating "Watch Night" Year Round

Many of you who live or grew up in Black communities in America probably heard of or attended "Watch Night Service," the gathering of the faithful in church on New Year's Eve.

Watch Night is a time to be excited for the past year and to plan for the New Year. It's a time of introspection, a time to reflect on how far we've come as a people. It's a time of New Year's resolutions and goal-setting.

Watch Night Services usually conclude with a celebration of the past year, a look forward to the New Year, and often feature a midnight prayer service. The service is a time to give thanks for the past year and to celebrate the promises of the New Year.

Watch Night was a time when enslaved Africans would gather to celebrate the Emancipation Proclamation, which declared slaves legally free. When the news was received, there were shouts, songs of joy, and reflections on how far we've come as a people.

Watch Night Services continue to be a special time in many Black communities, offering a time to come together and reflect on the past year and look forward to the New Year.

USC ERASES ALL DOUBTS

By Gary Montgomery BVN Staff Writer

Since the inception of the BCS Championship series there has always been a reasonable amount of controversy at the end of the season. No different this year as the number 3 ranked Wolverines took on the Rose Bowl believing that it deserved another shot at unbeaten Ohio State.

After losing their season finale at the Horseshoe in Columbus, Michigan fans could not believe that it lost one loss season should garner them another shot at the Buckeyes. The Lords of the college football second season just couldn’t get with that and selected Florida to go against mighty.

USC and Michigan met for the sixth time in the Rose Bowl and USC ended the day with 28-14 victory. Fast-forward three years and here they are facing Michigan again with the shoe squarely on the other foot.

Michigan had a tremendous second half. They totally outclassed us. We couldn’t get with that and select­ed Florida to go against mighty . Goliath. •

We played about as well as a team is capable of playing today and I’m really fired up about it," said a beaming Pete Carroll.

It was Michigan’s secondary where the Trojans found a weakness. After halftime to a 5-5 tie half tie on a SC 26-yard field goal by Mario Rivas and a 43-yarder from Michigan’s Garrett Rives it appeared that defense would determine the game. The Trojans however had other plans rather than rely it is the dust. USC decided to abandon good play of calling the first half; we were trying to see if we could run the ball. They were really good up front. We decided to go after them throwing the football and they came back (these Saskatchewan and

Emerald Bowl No gem for UCLA

Florida State runs away from UCLA in game of two halves 44-27

By Jon Gaede

The Bruins and coach Carl Dorell came into the bowl game on the crest of a USC victory wave. Who could blame him for walking a little taller after knocking off the powerful USC team three weeks ago. Coming in the Bruins had scored their overall record against the USC's in the Coliseum. The contest became an unexpected defensive standoff in the first half. FSU's Lorenzo Booker (only California player) scored from 25 yards out to open the scoring. UCLA's Pat Cowan forced Brandon Breesmail over the middle for a 30 yard answer. Junior Taylor caught a Cowan pass for a second quarter score and the Bruins led 20-23 at halftime.

The second half was the Lobos' Bowler Bookers. Bookers ran through the UCLA defense like a Pop Warner game as he piled up 212 total yards on the ground and by air. Florida State's coach Carl Dorrell said, "We made a lot of mistakes in the first half. We have to improve our defense in the second half."

The Bruins were actually strong at 27-20 at the end of the 3rd quarter, but not for long as Florida State blocked a punt and scored. Florida State's quarterback threw a perfect touchdown pass to Jason Tatum for the 47 yard score. The Bruins were down 44-27 in the 4th quarter.

The Bruins were on the back foot after losing the lead to Florida State. They were unable to make a comeback in the 4th quarter. The Bruins had a chance to tie the game, but a fumble on the 2 yard line in the 4th quarter sealed their fate.

Price-Value for Charter Services Increases with Added Services

Last week Charter Communications informed local government officials that effective February 1, 2007 it would be implementing price adjustments across many of the broadband products and services it currently offers to residents of the Inland Empire.

The adjustments, which will only affect a portion of Charter's local customers, reflect the overall value of its broadband service plus the availability of improved programming and choice, significant savings through Charter's multi-product bundle, advancements in customer service and increased network capacity and reliability due to on-going investment.

Customers currently in a promotional package will not see any changes until the end of their promotional period. Therefore, customers who take Charter Digital Packages that expire on or before Charter Total View or Charter Movie View tiers will see the following changes to their prices:

BUSINESS

The Black Voice News

NY NEW YORK, NY

KASHIF, legendary producer, songwriter, artist and CEO of Brooklyn Boy Entertainment announced today the official launch of his revolutionary music business software MUSIC BUSINESS 411. Focused on having written and produced some of the most memorable songs of the eighties and nineties for such notables as Whitney Houston, Janet Jackson, Oity G. George Benson, among others, Kashi has produced what might possibly be the most powerful tool yet by launching MUSIC BUSINESS 411.

Developed and released in a Beta version in November, 2005 by the six-time Grammy nomi­nated tastemaker, the software allows users to search, locate, and connect with over 35,000 music industry executives.

MUSIC BUSINESS 411 is a simple to use, affordable soft­ware designed to assist aspiring musicians in breaking into the music industry by providing instant access to a database containing thousands of A&R executives, managers, agents, producers, record companies, publishing companies, radio stations and more.

HOW IT WORKS: You have just finished recording a demo and want to send it to record companies for review. MUSIC BUSINESS 411 allows you to search for record companies, or individuals by any specific genre – R&B, Hip Hop, Rock, etc. Once a search is completed, almost instantly, a list appears. Now you can click on any name and gain access to music industry telephone numbers, address­es, e-mails, fax numbers, staff information and a whole lot more.

The software includes an auto-letter-writing feature to write to hundreds of record companies or thousands of radio sta­tions at one time and you can mail your music to managers and agents directly from the soft­ware.

Kashif, having grown up in s ridge foster homes and never knowing any family says he’s used to exploring uncharted territory. “I spent most of my childhood moving from home to home and had to be inventive in order to survive, so I’m more apt to think outside the box and to take bigger chances than most of my peers. Even with my music, I am more comfortable blazing trails than following the pack. My experience in foster care taught me that building a prom­ised and that life is in­cert­ain, therefore I had to learn to seek and own­ship and seek out the things that are important to me.”

Kashif’s success in music is during a time when you couldn’t actually get the greatest value. “I often wonder, would I have had a super-fast Internet connection and save an average of about 30 percent on your phone bill over traditional "over the top" services, and music service providers.”

Whether you are a novice music maker or an established music organization, your biggest challenge in realizing more suc­cess is connecting with people and organizations that will share your dreams and are willing to support your goals. MUSIC BUSINESS 411 solves this problem.

Ford Motor Minority Dealers Association (FMMDA) has called for Ford Motor Company to take prompt action to stop the decline of its minority dealers.

The group, composed of minority dealers from around the country, estimates that 807 African-Americans have been through Ford Motor Company’s Minority Dealers Development Program, July 12, 2002, to 2007. The reason: The FMMDA said in 1984 that Ford dealers in the states have 315 profitable dealers by 1989 and have continued to increase. In 2001, agreed to work toward 15 percent minority ownership, it is in its dealer role.

"We understand that survival is in the words of the day. However, the broken commitment and sup­­port of minority dealers is now way worse," said Ford Motor Financial Development program, CEO of FMMDA, making efforts to help the automaker’s aggregate "Fixed "We referred Ford Motor Company through implementing a study to be known dealers from around the country with dealers from around the country to Ford, and other dealers, to address the current condition of minority dealers. We have about 180 dealers from minority origins, compared to 377 for 2005, 359 for 2004, and 350 for 2003.

"It includes dealers who succeed­­ed, sold to non-minor­ity dealers, compared to 377 for 2005, 359 for 2004, and 350 for 2003. Ford dealers from around the country were on board for a press confer­­ence in Denver held by FMMDA last week to express its concerns.

"We, as Ford dealers, have over 700 dealers nationwide, need to take immediate action. If we are not good enough to buy the products, we are good enough to make the products, said Jackson. "These dealerships should not be facing elimination."

Jai Cai, a Ford spokesman, said the automaker wants to work with FMMDA to address their con­­cerns.

"Seven percent of ford and Lincoln minority dealers are minority dealers," said Cai, who also attended the press conference. "We are working to uphold public conscience in financial services as the industry continues to grow," said Kelley, 51, of Sacramento, named a Master’s degree in public adminis­­tration and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from California State University, Sacramento. This posi­­tion required managing the state’s credit union and the compensation is $133,732.

"Our sales and our market share have declined over the years and it affects everybody," he said. "Our dealers should want to work aggressively to resolve the decline in African-American dealers."

"It is in the spirit of Henry Ford," said Fleming. "The goal, said Cai, is to find a middle ground that makes sense for FMMDA and Ford."

"At the end of the day, one of the questions is where our business strategies stand and what our business stands."
