FIRE VICTIM FUND GROWS LIKE TOPSY

As of Thursday noon, the fund established to aid faculty, staff and students whose homes were destroyed in last week's fire had grown to $2200. The fund was established to offset the expenses many of those fire victims are facing in re-establishing their lives. Many lost not only homes, but every other possession, including food and clothing.

The goal is to distribute an equal share of the fund to each of the fire victims, who numbered 13 at last count, sometime today or early next week.

Donations to the fund are, however, still being accepted in the Foundation Office, AD 108, by Beverly Dyer. Checks should be made payable to the "Fire Victims Relief Fund." Donations are tax-deductible and the money is tax-free to the recipients.

Two persons whose names were not on the list published earlier this week, but who have since been identified as fire victims, are:

Gordon Eckstrom, Student
Michelle Profant, Student

Dwan Ford, whose name did appear on the earlier list, has been removed. Her home was not destroyed.

FIRE DAMAGE ESTIMATES HIT HALF MILLION MARK

Estimates on the cost of rebuilding and replacing the structures and materials lost in the fire have passed the half million dollar mark. There is no way yet, however, to determine an accurate figure since estimates on the cost of replacing the shipping and receiving building and the cooling towers have not yet been received.

In addition to the loss of structures and landscaping, a substantial amount of tools, electric carts, office supplies and other equipment was lost in the area of the physical plant.

The college is receiving from the Chancellor's Office some funding for replacement. State Assemblyman Bill Leonard Monday introduced a bill to provide funding from the state budget toward the rebuilding costs. The money becomes available as soon as the bill is passed.

With the end of the fall quarter comes a change in the hours for many campus facilities. The Library, Commons, Union, Physical Education Building and Bookstore all have established special schedules for mid-December through the first part of January.

STUDENT LOAN FUND SET UP TO AID VICTIMS OF FIRE

A $5,000 emergency loan fund has been established by the Associated Students Board to assist students who lost their homes in last week's fire. Money can be obtained by students for relocation and for purchase of living essentials.

Interest-free loans of up to $1,000 will be provided students whose homes were destroyed or rendered uninhabitable by the raging fire which spread massive destruction through northern San Bernardino last Monday.

Loan applications should be made through the Financial Aid Office in SS 145. Recipients will have up to a year to pay back the money.

Students whose homes were not destroyed, but who lost some essential items, may also be considered for loans. Such an essential should relate directly to the student's ability to continue in school.

The Financial Aid Office will also consider applications from students whose insurance coverage will be slow in compensating for the loss.
STUDENTS SEEK HOUSEHOLD ITEMS FOR VICTIMS OF DISASTROUS FIRE

The Associated Students are seeking donations of basic household items to be given to those who lost their possessions in the fire last Monday.

Such items might include bedding, kitchen utensils, small appliances and clothing.

The Student Union is the collection, storage and distribution point. Claims by fire victims should be made through James Lyne, vice president of the AS, ext. 7497. Anyone in need may draw from the items collected, including community residents.

Donations may be made during business hours through Friday. For Dec. 12-19, donations to and withdrawals from the materials can be made between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the south door. The door will be locked, so knock.

Any items not distributed to fire victims will be donated to the Red Cross. More information may be obtained from Lyne or Union coordinator Richard Bennecke, ext. 7757.

SCHOLARSHIP DONATIONS STILL BEING ACCEPTED

Donations to the Cal State Associates' annual Holiday Greeting Card Fund Drive are still being accepted. Donors whose contributions are received by Dec. 17 will have their names on a Christmas card to be mailed to all donors.

The Associates hope to offer two $400 scholarships this year if the greeting card drive is as successful as it has been in past years.

Donations, which are tax deductible, should be sent to either Jo Ann Von Wald in SS 103 or to Anne Crum, 5132 Sepulveda, San Bernardino, 92404. Checks should be made out to "Faculty Wives Scholarship Fund" since the name on the bank account has not yet been changed.

NEW EXTENSION BULLETIN SHIPMENT ARRIVES ON CAMPUS

Although the entire campus supply of winter quarter Extension Bulletins was destroyed when the Shipping and Receiving Building burned last week, a new shipment has arrived. The Bulletins are available in various school offices and through the Department of Continuing Education. They are free.

The California State College, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published Fridays by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, extension 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.
