RIVERSIDE

Despite threats made against the commencement ceremony, the University of California at Riverside held successful commencement ceremonies in the presence of a nearly 1,500 person crowd.

UC Riverside officials canceled the event just hours before a final decision was reached to proceed with the ceremony. The original plan was to have the ceremony held at UCR's Big A stadium.

The ceremony was rescheduled for Monday with no further incident reported.

"The campus will continue with the rest of the commencement ceremonies," said Sam Sanders, director of communications for Monday, adding a heightened security was to be expected.

"Security measures will include the hiring of a private security firm," Sanders added.

School is out. While most teens are probably planning on filling their summer break San Bernardino High School twins Lawyer Paige and Denzel Paige are putting up their second favorite sports of playing double dutch behind the old San Bernardino High School's CAPS (Central Area Parental Supports) building.

"We'd rather be hanging out with our friends, but we like kids. Basketball and Leviton said they're in.

"It's fun," Lawyer Paige said.

Appoint Jim Erickson Interim Chancellor

I would be remiss in my friendship with Jim Erickson and duty as an officer of UCR if I did not voice my support for the decision of the Board of Regents. It was announced on the campus of UC Riverside if I did not voice my appreciation to the Chancellor’s Executive Committee for this appointment as Interim Chancellor.

I am happy to see Jim in his capacity as Vice President for Academic Affairs and Development UC Riverside when he completed his term. Voice should be a part of the Chancellor’s Executive Roundtable and that I should have the privilege of setting the policymakers with the most national and world leaders. Said, I “respect the work you and Cheryl are doing with your work and publications and other needs.”

As African Americans have to say about world policies, Our first meeting in Palm Desert was with General Colin Powell (Ret.) Surgeon General of State.

Serving on the Chancellor’s Executive Roundtable later put me in the presence of President Gerald Ford, Prime Minister Tony Majors, Presidential Candidate Steve Forbes, Presidential Candidate Jack Kemp, the Ambassador of both Israel and Palestine, Bob Hope, Walter Annenberg and many other national and international leaders. And in each case I asked questions I thought important not only to black Americans but all Americans.

Not only was Jim effective for the Black community in that capacity but he is still helping us by teaching several Black organizations effective fundraising strategies. He has given his time and expertise to the Urban League and other organizations.

I have read that some UCR faculty have reservations about his academic credentials but when it comes to his dedication to the community and engaging people, the community, there is no one greater than Dr. Jim Erickson. He has a rare quality not many display when it comes to being a leader.

Last week Chris Levison wrote an article about selective snitching within the Black community. The "stop snitching" movement has law enforcement officials and community leaders concerned about the erosion of trust. I wanted to hear more about this trend. In the beginning, it was a matter of common decency and respect between this creed if you snitch something bad will happen to you. I remember teaching bible class and this subject came up several years ago. We were taught to get the truth out from a certain time but they did. So when God came back to talk to them, they lied, God gave them the opportunity to come clean or face the consequences which Cain was prepared to do.

I think back when Mount Rainier was going to come out with his proposed ban. I was explicit about his comments. I think it is important for the media to bring us the shows we all want to see. She said she gets much of my opinion, within the ranks of the public we have a right to get reelected.

The California Interscholastic Federation's State Track and Field Championships were held during weekend June 1st at Sacramento City College's Hughes Stadium. The most left the city buzzing. Many say that it was the best competition in more than thirty years based on the talent across the board and strength of the performances. That is difficult to imagine given the caliber of performances that have produced over the years.

Names like Marion Jones, Allyson Felix, Monique Henderson, Javine Carter, Nia Ali, and Allyson Felix have been mentioned staggering times over the past two years. As great as the day's competition was still all about the "go home" time. His 1600 relay team of Tyrone Curry, Tommy Curry and Nevin Gutteriez was able to make up a huge deficiency and basically win the race... Expectation for this event. Calvin and Alvin Harrison, the team of Brittany Bozeman, Track and Field champions produced two new national records, PR's and local records they are too numerous to mention.

North's coach Leather's made the school's history. Joe Canavan of Palm Desert won the shot put with a toss of 60 feet, 1 inches, and set a new state record. Long Beach Poly's Bryshon Nellum set a state and national record in the 400 with a time of 43.54 seconds. J.W. North's Nevie Gutierrez finished second with a mark of 47.10 seconds. Nellum also set a state and national record in the 200 running a 20.43 seconds.

California's health care system may soon be on life support.

Our community needs health care professionals at every level — from assistants and technicians to highly trained medical professionals. Currently 50 of the 58 counties in the state suffer from health care worker shortages, and the majority of these shortages are within communities of color. We are on the brink of a crisis, and if we don't get the help we need soon our health care system may experience code blue.

That's the bad news. The good news — there are plenty of well-paying jobs for our children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews. And, even for you.

What can you do?
• Endourage young people and those looking for a career change to explore jobs in health care. Recognize that ethnically diverse backgrounds are in high demand.
• Advocate for expanded health care education programs that prepare California's colleges and universities to help reduce admission waiting lists.
• Help promote financial aid programs available to California residents by Cal Grants — one of the simplest ways to get cash for college or vocational schools.

Coffee and ministry. They don’t mean love, Turner said. God, they say, had other plans for them.

The Lord gave him a vision, Al Turner said he eventually will show him cheaper ways to get the business started, Al Turner said. “God was not pleased with us,” he said. “No,” Turner said God began to show him cheaper ways to get things done. He said he knows better now and hopes to use that knowledge to open one bakery such

The decor is homey, with a flat-screen TV, couches and tables. Al Turner said he eventually will add wireless access and a computerized search area.

Having retired in 2000, Desiree Turner said about why the couple decided to come out of retirement and embark on a seemingly impossible task, opening a Black-owned business. The Lord gave her the name, “Agape,” which means love.

Anaheim Ducks Hoist Stanley Cup First In Franchise History

Henry and Susan Samueli bought the team from Disney in 2005, brought in NHL stars like Scott Niedermayer, Chris Pronger, re-signed free agent Teemu Selanne and the stage was set. The Duck rolled through a physical Detroit team and then disposed of Ottawa 6-2 and took the Stanley Cup in five games. The team had spoken freely about the significance of a Stanley Cup for perennial All-Star Teemu Selanne. After 14 seasons, the cup would be extra special for their captain. The 36 year old from Finland has made Orange County his home. He said the experience was everything he thought it would be and then graciously thanked his teammates for their play and support. The victory was also extra special for the Niedermayer brothers, Scott and Rob. Wednesday night was Scott’s third cup with one of those coming in 2003 against his brother. Now every Leaf Anaheim is in seven games that year. This one would be different, cameras were focused on Scott as he hoisted the Stanley Cup over his head, let out a few shouts of joy and then passed it to the waiting arms of his brother and teammate Rob. Another special moment for a special team. Duck fans are fanatic, most stood and cheered for the next three hours!

On Saturday, the Duck organization and the city of Anaheim put on a celebration that matched the intensity of the Angels World Series victory of 2003. Countless thousands packed the parking lot of the Honda Center to see the cup and honor their heroes. Most of the players were driven by an 'Laker like' open air bus to the arena. As the excitement built, a helicopter descended in front of the prepared red carpet. With blades turning and fans roaring, some players, to include six foot six inch Chris Pronger who proudly raised the Stanley Cup above his tall frame and slowly marched it through the crowd on to the stage.

Once the players had descended from the bus, they assembled across the stage to be greeted by a series of speeches. After hearing from owners and coaches, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger took the familiar podium to the roar of the crowd. As he thanked players and fans, the crowd began chanting “one more year” repeatedly. The chants were directed to Teemu Selanne, who hinted that he always dreamed of going out on top and thus retiring. For today, the Ducks of Anaheim are the keepers of the cup, 2007 champions of professional hockey.

They play hockey here! For an under-valued major sport, in a small hockey market, the greater Southern California Duck fans could care less. Lord Stanley’s Cup has found its mystical way to Anaheim, champions of the National Hockey League. For the purists of hockey, the Ducks have always been a stepchild. Once owned by Disney, the “Mighty Ducks” reflected the image of a cartoon, especially to the Canadians and who could blame them. Just like the Angels, the Ducks eventually shook of that image with competitive play, each year getting better and better. Henry and Susan Samueli bought the team from Disney in 2005, brought in NHL stars like Scott Niedermayer, Chris Pronger, re-signed free agent Teemu Selanne and the stage was set. The Duck rolled through a physical Detroit team and then disposed of Ottawa 6-2 and took the Stanley Cup in five games. The Black Voice News has continued to train and prepare young people to be more equipped to enter the workforce. In 2007, BVN launched a pilot Internship Program, which has attracted over 25 hardworking and dedicated students who were willing to donate their assistance in order to gain more working experience or just to be part of a fun project. It has turned into a mutually beneficial experience for both the BVN and the students.

Cheldy Moran, who worked on Marketing Projects for the Black Voice News, graduated from UCR with a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology and Administrative Studies. Moran says, “Interning at the Black Voice was one of the best experiences I have ever had. I enjoyed coming in because each day there was something new to look forward to. Everyone was able to work together and get things done in a timely manner. The office was always filled with positive energy making it all the more exciting.”

“As an intern I was given the opportunity to work as Regina’s assistant in the Marketing and Advertising department. Through the various projects we worked on I was given the opportunity to have hands on experience and learn what it takes to be a good marketer. I feel I have taken a lot with me through this experience.”

“The Black Voice News is a great place to intern, because of its many aspects. It is a well rounded company that has been around for many years. They are welcoming to interns who want to come in and take part in the many projects they have going on. There is always something to do and there are many opportunities to learn something new.”

Michelle Fernandes, an aspiring journalist, graduated from UCR with a Bachelor of Arts in English. Jakarta Jefferson, a Business Administration major, graduated from UCR, as well. She has worked on Califest and the Black Voice News, Tahoe Le Sure plans to graduate from UCR next year. She has worked on the Black Voice News on several marketing projects, including the Bookers “Washington Branch and BuckWorld One.” Naomi Bronson, who is currently studying journalism at RCC San Bernardino, has written several articles for the Black Voice News and is currently interning as a reporter. “Everyone at the Black Voice News, like Paulette, Anna, and Regina, helped in directing me with my career. It was like a family experience for me. I appreciate all the work they put in to helping us interns out.”

A variety of students graduated this week from Rubidoux High School and plans on attending RCC. Regarding her experience at the Black Voice News, Hawthorne says, “It’s going to help me out with business and working in the business industry. I will be able to get a better job because I have more experience. I’m sure it would have been harder without the Black Voice. I would have been lost.”

Other interns who have worked with the Black Voice News include Kristina Nga, Rebecca Darden, Geoffrey Primavera, Hallima Diop, Pei Chi Lin, Britney Dennes, and Nga Duong.

The Black Voice News plans to incorporate more in-depth training and job placement services into the program. To inquire about the Black Voice News internship program, please contact Ann Winger at (951) 662-6070.
A graduation celebration banquet was held on May 13th (Mother's Day). The theme was On the Pathway to Success. The event was sponsored by the parents of graduating students of African descent. It is also a time for the students to celebrate their achievements with their family and friends. African Student Programs' mission is to provide a graduation celebration that is representative of African American and African tradition, heritage, culture, and legacy. Over the years, Black Graduations have become an essential expression of rites of passage. The ceremony took place at the Student Recreation Center at UC Riverside. The purpose of the Black Graduation is to recognize the accomplishments of graduating seniors of African descent. It is also a time for the students to celebrate their achievements with their family and friends. Black Graduation is a tradition that has become an essential expression of African American and African tradition, heritage, culture, and legacy. Over the years, Black Graduations have become an essential expression of rites of passage for many colleges and universities throughout the nation and for the past five years, UC-Riverside has adopted the tradition. For the 9th year in a row, St. Paul African Methodist Episcopal Church held their 9th Annual Charles Brooks Scholarship Banquet, named after the church's former pastor Rev. Charles Brooks (1989-1997). This year's recipients were: Breanisha Amaya, Eisenhower High School; Seannice Mitchell, Cajon High School; Megan Morris, Cajon High School; and Nina Morris, Cajon High School. The keynote address was delivered by Dr. Vorris Robinson, the program included multiple student speakers and various forms of entertainment. The graduating students were presented with Kente stoles that were hand woven in Ghana.
