NEW $1.2 MILLION COMPUTER IN PLACE

The Computer Center has been undergoing a major modernization this summer, which includes the addition of a $1.2 million computer.

Before the computer arrived Aug. 10, the campus had obtained 11 additional terminals this summer and installed a microcomputer laboratory with 10 new Apple microcomputers.

Part of a $50 million undertaking by the California State University and Colleges system, the project is expected to improve Cal State, San Bernardino's computing power 108 times. Users of the new computer, called a CYBER 170 Series 700, will be able to access data and programs from the other 18 Cal State campuses and from more than 40 other institutions nationwide.

The computer modernization is expected to help attract and retain high-quality faculty, significantly improve course offerings and provide administrators with more accurate and up-to-date information on which to base decisions.

REROOFING

Administration Building offices temporarily relocated at other campus sites while the building gets a new roof are scheduled to begin moving back into their permanent locations Sept. 8. Reroofing is about 90 percent complete, the air-conditioning and heating units have been installed, and workmen are in the process of running the pipe which will carry chilled water from the central heating and air-conditioning plant to the Administration Building.

UPCOMING HOLIDAY

The college will be closed in observance of Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7. However, Admission Day, Wednesday, Sept. 9, will not be a campus holiday.
