San Bernardino Extended Fire Services Face Off

By Megan Carter

Making a smooth sound, 5th Ward City Councilman Rickie Johnson said that the police and fire departments received 85% of the city's budget. "Listen can you hear the sound of the sucking that's happening 65% of our city's budget?" he explained to a city council-sponsored breakfast by the San Bernardino County of Commerce that four cities were in internal 50%.

Each of the six cities agreed to public safety was the main pressing issue facing the city. Wendy McCreary took the opportunity to present City Manager Jonnini Fontana and starred the state for the call of duty "The City Council of California." Jim Mitchell, councilman for the 5th ward, said the problem with police is that City Attorney Ferpoim did not bring forth legislation for the council to adopt an amendment two years ago. "My opponent has aligned herself with the City Attorney to create the agenda is not leadership," he said Monday. Betty D. Powderly, a Democrat, unapologetically responded to Johnson's statement that she originally ran for office because there was a lack of a local political leadership. Anderson, who was the 6th Ward Councilman, said that too much legislation, too much land use, too much take-home pay and begun to seek the support for the leadership ability which Johnson said but has no record of leadership or leadership skills."

Johnson stood on his record and was not excepted from example of what he has done since he has been in office.

San Bernardino, 4th Ward challenger and Paul Sobier, 3rd Ward candidate, were on hand Wednesday.

City Councilman Rickie Von Johnson responded exclusively to the Black Voice News that the candidates for the Board of Supervisors have made it clear that they want to see what the city's fire department is doing. Johnson was not provided with any details.

The new agreement and automatic renewal will continue for ten (10) years.

"San Manuel has been in this relation with San Bernardino for a long time," said Mayor Levister Dymally, D-Compton, focused on the importance of mutual assistance agreements that not only have their own fire departments but neighbors.

"It's a great relationship. It has been in existance for over 20 years; so it's a mutual agreement and both parties will benefit." Mayor Dymally told Black Voice News.

Riverside Election Council Endorsements

In the past some of the Riverside City Councilmembers have tried to discourage public input at meetings which run contrary to an open forum of discussion for the American public. We hope that the most needed of this public body will be more accommodating and "people friendly." We cite that because there are many important issues to address by a community that may diverge as any place on the universe. They come in all shades, sizes, incomes, religions, experiences and political persuasions and the lessons range from business, environment, local taxes, job, traffic, land, air, population, behavior, education, health, policy, economics, air quality, and learning. We believe in order to address these complex issues any government body is going to need input from its citizens. Having said that I am going to offer from the current field of candidates those I believe will help improve our quality of life in Riverside.

Dam Betros has continued to participate in the community he so loves and has been an effective and caring leader here. This is one of the qualities I also like in Donna "Dotty" Michalka who is seeking the seat in the 5th Ward. She has a passion for working in the community and has reached across cultural lines. I also like the approach to government of Rusty Bailey. Ward 3 candidates, and believe he will be able to garner the cooperation of others in helping the council fulfill its mission in tackling citywide issues. Even though I do not always agree with the decisions of Steve Adams he has helped push the council to revitalize its business districts through out the city. The mayor and city council need to assess the needs of the city and they have given many examples to support that trend. I am happy that the council members be orien- tated on that mission.

We are therefore recommending: Dam Betros, Ward 1 Rusty Bailey, Ward 2, Donna Davy Michalka, Ward 5 and Steve Adams, Ward 7.

SB: "When you turn the lights on the races will scatter"

During the height of the year long protest in Riverside where four white police officers shot and killed a Black teenager, Rusty Bailey in 1999, the Rev. Al Sharpton came to town and stated at Life COGIC Church that when "you turn the lights on the races will scatter." The inspiration was the uncovering of evidence during the investigation that led to four police officers being fired and the Miller family evento- cally recovering $3.5 million dollars. The investigation occurred on many fronts including government agencies, civil rights organizations, clergy, the media, and the rally coverage in the Black Voice News. Each week during the year-long protest the police officers' stories would change and we would shine more light on the evidence as it was uncovered.

We are now seeing the same illumination of the personal and political associations of San Bernardino City Councilmembers as the election draws closer. We have long suspected that there was a close working relationship between Joseph Turner, Chas Kelley, Wendy McCnamara, Neil Derry and Jim Penman and according to Roger Roberts, SB Sun newspaper journalist, there are documents that sup- port that suspicion. Wendy McCnamara (a Republican like Turner) voted in a meeting to support Turner, Neil Derry and Chas Kelley signed documents to circulate petitions to no- rent to illegal immigrants. It was Derry who said in an open city council meeting (and was supported by McCnamara and Kelley) that youth under 18 years of age don't matter because they know nothing but should pay sales tax and ship out. It was Penman who tried to block the Black and Hispanic vote by changing the voting districts from "wards" to "at large". It was also Penman who called a Hispanic family to shut up and get back to Mexico. It is time the Black community入股 the fact that they embraced them, but are trying to dismiss with a wave of your information. Joseph Turner and his civil righty allies have been on the same watch with the Ku Klux Klan. Now Turner says he is not on the same page with the racist KKK but he keeps his position un- statements as coming from the same play book, just like some of his supporters. Just like a toadhop cannot change its jumps, Joseph Turner did not have his hand on the Klan, he was a part of the Klan. Turner is the naar of a one, the coad of two, the third of three, in any number of black civil rights on the wrong side of history, and there is no way he can be allowed to lead a city council because he is luring innocent people to the wrong side of history. It is the same story in his campaign for mayor. The argument that any Republican candidate was going to be the weak link in the Democratic majority is a fallacy.

Remember to Vote... It's your civic responsibility!

Deaf to Race

For several years now, we have been hearing about the rising numbers of the deaf people. In the past the Black community has not seen the deaf people. They have been given to their own kind. Furthermore, Black Australians wherever and whenever they appear are treated with total disrespect. It is our own fault. The deaf people are not the only ones that have this problem. Blinds are treated the same way. The whole world is projecting that blindness is compared to deafness. It is not.

The good news is that in increasing numbers deaf people are coming out of the fringe. Some of those Republican were not even aware that there were tens of thousands of blacks living in California. The deaf people are now coming out of the fringe. It is true that the KKK has an influence on the deaf people. It is true that the KKK has an influence on the Black people. It is true that these blind people are being excluded from the mainstream society.

The deaf people are having a hard time making their voices heard. The deaf people are also being discriminated against in their jobs. The deaf people are also being discriminated against in their homes. They are being denied their rights to education and recreation. They are being denied their rights to vote and to be a part of the community. They are being denied their rights to live a normal life.

Joseph C. Phillips

There is a trend among us to vote or not vote on events like these. We may choose to pass the buck to others and pick for the best friends so that we can feel good and not feel that we have made any real decisions for ourselves. We have to be aware of the foreign policy and the local policy. We must be aware of what is going on in the world. We must be aware of what is going on in our own country. We must be aware of what is going on in our own city.

... students are taught to say, "Sorry," whether they actually are sorry or not, when they violate another child's toy or accidentally bump into a classmate. They are instructed to mean it, to tell the truth, and to mean it the next time, too. "Sorry" is often shouted in the single word "Sorry" without any sincerity.

Other than not being the behavioral expression of the child, they are taught that they should feel bad. Many children are taught that it is a way to show that they are sorry. Few children are ever taught why they should say it or when they should say it. Asking a child to say sorry and expecting an apology is an important step you can take to promote good behavior and the health of those around you.

- Ask: "Are they doing more than just selling products and services to you? Are they helping you build your community?"
- Ask: "Do they have a website that is easy to use?"
- Ask: "Do they offer customer support?"
- Ask: "Do they provide guarantees and warranties?"

Troy's Fall No Surprise

SAY IT'S NOT SO-A fan reacts to USC's stunning last minute defeat at the hands of the Stanford Cardinals.

LOS ANGELES
By Gary Montgomery
Staff Writer

The one certainty about being on top is that someday you have to fall back into the pack. That day came rather unexpectedly on Saturday for USC. Unable to pull away from lowly Stanford, mistakes and lost opportunities combined to knock the Trojans from the ranks of the unbeaten and into an inevitable dogfight for the Pac-10 Title.

Gone is the amazing 35-game winning streak, 24 straight Pac-10 wins, the number 2 AP ranking and likely its cloak of invincibility for a while.

Shock and Awe rained down on the coliseum. You could hear a pin drop amidst the 85,125 shocked fans. There was complete stunned silence when Stanford's Richard Sherman pulled down Tavia Pritchard's pass in the back of the end zone to tie USC at 23-23. When Stanford's Derek Belch booted the extra point through for a 24-23 Cardinal lead, the air left the building.

Saturday's Trojan debacle didn't just happen on Saturday. USC had been building toward this catastrophe all season long. It just happened that all of the major components of disaster aligned themselves while the Cardinals were in town. It could have happened to any of the past four opponents.

Let's be fair and give Coach Jim Harbaugh and his Stanford Cardinal team the credit that it honestly deserved for accomplishing something 35 other teams couldn't do. But at the same time let's be truthful.

When a 41 point underdog wins, it needs a lot of help from the other team and Stanford got enough to get the job done. Peter Carroll said as much during his press conference. "They just hung in there," said Carroll, "They just waited. We just made enough mistakes to let them."

This could have happened in either one of USC's four previous games. The Trojans have not been the prolific scoring machine of past seasons. After the season opener, Peter Carroll revealed the need for caution. Carroll talked about the turnovers and missed opportunities that prevented SC from betting the point spread on its first outing against lowly Idaho.

A similar pattern has continued through the following three games, with SC fighting through slow starts or other mistakes before gaining control of the game. USC's offense has failed to develop to its own previously high standards. They lack the deep threat receiver of past years. The running back by-committee plan has failed to produce a consistent running game putting more pressure on early season Heisman hopeful, John David Booty and a fledgling passing game.

As shocked and embarrassed as the Trojans are now, the loss to Stanford may become a season saving wake-up call. Pete Carroll will likely respond with some major changes this week. Arizona could be in big trouble on Saturday.

Stanley Macon Celebrates 97th Birthday

The children of longtime San Bernardino resident Stanley Macon, organized and hosted a party to celebrate his 97th birthday. In the old fashioned tradition of celebrating it on the front lawn of their home on 20th Street, they invited family and friends from far and near and many came. With Vivian Macon, his wife by his side, they greeted those who came to wish him well.

BLACK BOY

From the Novel by Richard Wright
Performed by Charles Holt
Adapted and Directed by Wynn Handmann
November 6, 2007
7:00 p.m.
University Theatre
U.C. Riverside

This American Place Theatre (a 501(c)(3) non-profit) presents the West Coast premiere of a new musical adaptation of Richard Wright’s classic autobiography of a Black boy growing up in the South. The story follows Wright’s life as he is forced to grow up quickly, abandoned by his father, and forced to fend for himself in a society riddled with prejudice, injustice, and life-threatening racism. This is a poignant coming-of-age story that will move you, engage you, and leave you thinking for days.

Event Planning

I am really getting excited as I embrace the feelings of Fall all around me. Going back to my youthful days of childhood, Fall represents different types of events, especially as they relate to themes around the holidays. Let's get excited about October and all it has to offer.

This event is sponsored by the Center for Ideas and Society and is free and open to the public.
Citations To Be Issued For School Fighting

The Riverside Police Department and the Riverside Unified School District are together announcing a new plan to discourage student fights at schools.

RPD School Resource Officers will begin citing "mutual combatants" with citations, or tickets, for section 415 (1) of the California Penal Code (fighting in a public place). This should serve as a deterrent to kids who choose fighting as their primary means of settling a disagreement. Serious or one-sided attacks (assault and battery) will still be filed traditionally through the District Attorney's office to the Riverside County Juvenile Court.

This new program will be implemented throughout the Riverside Unified School District. The fight citations are not related to the District Attorney's gang injunction.

Parents will be notified about the program by the school district; students are being advised by officers of the new policy through classroom visits and assemblies.

Mt. Rubidoux Hosts Successful Health Summit

Riverside, California — Mt. Rubidoux SDA Church Community Health Ministry held its annual community Health Summit last Saturday, September 15. The event, held at 9:00 am at 1355 W. 21st Street, Riverside, California 92504, featured presentations on various health topics and a health fair.

The health summit was organized by the Mt. Rubidoux SDA Church Community Health Ministry, which provides health services and information to the community.

"The event was a great success," said Dr. Patricia Richardson, the director of the community health ministry. "We had a lot of people attend and we distributed a lot of information on health and wellness.

"We had presentations on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. We also had a health fair where people could get information on different health services and programs. It was a great day for the community to come together and learn about health and wellness."

The health summit was held in conjunction with the Mt. Rubidoux SDA Church Community Health Ministry, which provides health services and information to the community.

"We want to encourage people to take care of their health," said Dr. Richardson. "We hope that people will take the information that they learned at the health summit and use it to improve their health and well-being."
