The scene and Chris Levister learned to appreciate life, looking at the smoldering ruins of first over door neighbors' Lake Arrowhead home, Chris rational it was too early to cry. And because this is a pleasured event, especially for the Latino members. The Latino members were among the lucky ones. Their home was damaged but miraculously withstood the wind-driven Grass Valley fire. Last week, thick black smoke and inches flames were once...

Riverside Wants Your Help in Spending Millions

Riverside officials are looking for your ideas on spending money.

The mayor and city council need your ideas and input on how to spend $3.5 million dollars of Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) money they will get from U.S.HUD.

The Public Housing and Urban Development re-allocates this money back into HUD to help people living below the poverty level. Now before you say, "They don't want my input," read this, I had bad thoughts along those lines as well, but I met with Mayor Virniecia Vanderlip and City Manager Pat Moorefield earlier this year. In those meetings, they expressed the policy of the city and their own make sure this city not only talks about inclusion but practices inclusion. I can say I have witnessed their outreach efforts to include the Black community in the participation of city government. Are they where I want them to be? No, but they are making greater effort to include everyone, which is this is another example. The city must follow a plan that involves community participation in order to receive the money from HUD. So get your thoughts and ideas to them to hear from you.

Unhealthy Air

The black smoke out and white smoke enveloped Southern California last week has lined hundreds to cool mist and waves of hot air that you feel. This is called acid rain.

The smog is toxic and can cause serious health problems such as asthma, heart disease, and respiratory infections.

A major cause of smog is the burning of fossil fuels to produce energy. This releases harmful chemicals into the air, which then mix with sunlight and other gases to form smog.

Governments and organizations are working to reduce the production of these chemicals to improve air quality and protect public health.

Teenagers and children are out in your area, so be careful and take the necessary precautions to avoid exposure to harmful air.

Help To Oust Or Improve Negative Influences And Role Models

Assuming role models is a huge problem in the Black community. Many Black graduate student studies minimize Black values, traditions, and beliefs.

As an example, many special events in Black society that celebrate the culture are sponsored by the entertainment industry. These events may lead people to imitate the behaviors they see.

Help: Be aware of these events and participate in activities that promote positive Black culture instead.

To learn more about Black history and culture, consider participating in events and organizations that celebrate Black achievements.

Cosby Comes to the IE

By Lea Michelle Cash

It is hard to believe that Bill Cosby is 70 years old. Few entertainers have achieved the legendary status that he has with five decades of success in concert appearances, recordings, television, film, writing, drawing, and philanthropy. He literally was one of the most popular personalities in America, affectionately known as "The Cos." Establishing a reputation as a hilariously warm-hearted story teller, weaving tales about childhood and parenting that sends millions of adoring fans into a full laughing uproar.

Recently on Thursday, October 18, the Cos came to the Inland Empire at San Manuel Indian Bingo & Casino in Highland, bringing our area his charm and humorous wit. He leisurely strolled out on stage, wearing his traditional sweatshirt and sweat pants, fiddled with his mic and began his conversation with the sound technicians who needed to adjust the sound system. Cos invited the audience into his conversation and used them to support his issue that the sound system needed adjusting.

When he turned his full attention to the fans, he delivered a few legendary fatherly jokes and anecdotal tales. He told tales about how to drive your wife crazy, discussed gambling, husband jokes about how they don't own anything, menopause, Viagra, the affects of some drugs, how he fell in love at the age of 14, what it's like to be a grandparent and finally he wrapped up the evening with his famous depiction of what it's like going to the dentist and being in the dentist chair. Hilarious!

Over the years, the Cos has earned a Master's Degree and Doctorate in Education from the University of Massachusetts. Among his many awards are: nine Emmy's, eight People's Choice, eight Grammys, 13BMI's, and two Golden Globes. He has been honored with the Presidential Medal of Freedom, a Kennedy Center Lifetime Achievement Award, and four NAACP Image Awards.

For many years, the Cos has been on a personal crusade to advance education, personal responsibility and parenting in low income areas around our country. He is also an advocate toward the plight of children living with autism. As a veteran stand-up performer he is a greatspunkt and finely he wrapped up the evening with his famous depiction of what it's like going to the dentist and being in the dentist chair. Hilarious!

In response to the overwhelming wildfires that have victimized hundreds of Inland Empire residents, Riverside and San Bernardino residents, along with corporate officials met last week at San Bernardino City Hall to announce the formation of a special Fire Victims Relief Fund.

According to Mayor Pat Morris of San Bernardino, launching this fund with all the partners involved sends a loud and clear message to all of our friends in the community that this is an important moment and opportunity. Mayor Morris said, "Our neighbors have lost their homes and worldly possessions. We need to step forward and distribute in some way to help them get back on their feet."

During his remarks, Mayor Pat Morris highlighted the course of action taken by the two counties in supporting those who have experienced the devastation and, afterward caused by the wildfires.

Mayor Ron Lavydger of Riverside agreed with his colleague in the importance of the two neighboring cities stepping up to make a difference in the lives of victims. He said, "I've heard some say cities ought to stay within their city limits, understanding the consequences of that. Southern California would be in ashes. The City of Riverside and residents of Riverside want to say by our commitment that we understand, as the firms have been close, the victims have had to put their lives back together and we want to do what we can to help by extending a hand."

The businesses and government agencies that stepped forward to provide contributions are: San Manuel Band of Mission Indians with $100,000; Stater Bros. Corporation with $20,000; Altura Credit Union with $20,000; San Bernardino District Attorney Michael Ramos in partnership with American Corrective Counseling Services with $20,000; City of Riverside with $20,000; County of Riverside with $20,000; CMB Financial Group with $10,000; SC Mortgage Corporation with $5,000; and JPCM Management with $4,000.

The Community Foundation of Riverside and San Bernardino Counties will oversee all funds received, and every dollar contributed will go directly to the Fire Victims Relief Fund as reported by President and CEO of the Foundation, Dr. Jim Erickson.

According to Dr. Erickson, "One hundred percent of the funds will go to the victims with the two counties and hopefully, we will meet their needs. With the two mayors taking the lead, along with Board of Supervisors Dennis Haugerberg and John Tavaglione, it's just the right combination. That's what I'm impressed with. I'm also impressed with the variety of organizations that have come forward, and San Manuel for setting the tone with the $100,000 commitment."

The office of Mayor Pat Morris, Peggy Harrell explained, "After the 2003 fires, cash relief was one of the immediate needs for our community members who were directly impacted. The dollars raised through this effort will go directly to fire victims and more importantly, they won't have to go through a long process of filling out paperwork, they will have a simple application process and receive the necessary funds. I think the most significant part about this is that one hundred percent of the funds go to victims of the fires."

For information or how to contribute to this fund please contact Michael Mansley of The Community Foundation, Riverside by calling (951) 684-2164 or mvbcounty.org.

AIDS Walk/Los Angeles Raises 3.9 Million

By Lea Michelle Cash

According to the 2007 Tenney Higgins Trust Report, by the close of 2006, there were an estimated 430,000 people living with HIV/AIDS worldwide. According to the 2006 Charity Navigator's guide, at the end of 2004, there were 1,078,000 persons in the United States living with HIV/AIDS, with 249 to 275 deaths recorded and an increase of their HIV infection. The report further states that approximately 151,000 people died due to AIDS in 2005 alone and there have been over 10.5 million deaths worldwide since 1981. According to the 2004 California Department of Health Services, California ranks second in the country, exceeded only by New York in the total number of AIDS cases since 1981.

The above reports were written over two years ago. Now with the year 2007 about to close, the numbers are steadily climbing, and the staggering amount of people affected with HIV/AIDS is incomprehensible. This year more than any other year due to the history of AIDS WALK LOS ANGELES.

The event was truly the vision of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s dream when Jews and Gentiles, white, black, yellow and even green joined hands together in a good fight towards the betterment of civil rights. In this case the modern-day dream means applied to putting out a terrible killer to all of humanity known as AIDS.

It was a beautiful thing to see especially among the young people involved. That is why on Sunday, October 21, 2007 the Los Angeles AIDS Walk raised 3.9 million dollars. Never before in the 23-year-history of this event was truly the vision of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s dream when Jews and Gentiles, white, black, yellow and even green joined hands together to fight against AIDS. The Walk began and ended at Santa Monica Boulevard, between Melrose Avenue and Sunset Boulevard, in West Hollywood. At this year's event there were many celebrities that participated in the fund raising endeavor. They were celebrity host Michelle Obama, (ER), Audra McDonald, (Dreamgirls) performed. Jenifer sang, "I Know Where I've Been" from the movie "DreamGirls" with many of the celebrities at AIDS Walk.

Jenifer Lewis with many of the celebrities at AIDS Walk

The leading fundraisers for last year's AIDS Walk were Hilton Family of Hotels (87,737), DreamWorks (81,420) Toyota Motor Sales (72,550) and Crossroads Teen Services (47,471) just to name a few. There are 22 organizations that directly benefit from the AIDS WALK/Los Angeles which includes the Minority AIDS Project, which is the first community-based HIV/AIDS organization established and managed by people of color in the United States offering HIV/AIDS related health services and education to the African American and Latino communities, the American Place Theatre, Literacy to Life®, Black Boy, and Facing Jim Crow prejudice, social injustice, and life-threatening racism. Children read books and earn free tickets to SEUSSICAL

Either November 10th or 17th. Up to four qualifying children may attend per paid adult admissions.

Based on the books of beloved children's author Dr. Seuss, SEUSSICAL is a musical based on 12 of Dr. Seuss' most whimsical and wonderful characters, brought to life by Lynn Ahrens and Stephen Flaherty, the award-winning creators of Broadway's Ragtime. Once on this Island, and My Favorite Year. The Cat in the Hat, an outside observer, acts as the narrator who leads into the action to create fun, as herbs personifies the Elephant endorses to protect the people of Who-ville, who live on a tiny speck of dust. Characters and settings from seventeen Seuss masterpieces are woven into the action, including Green Eggs and Ham, Yertle the Turtle, The Lorax, Horton Hatches the Egg, The Sneetches, and How the Grinch Stole Christmas.

As Roy O'Day, Performance Riverside's Producing Artistic Director, observes, "Young people's love for reading and attending live theatre, Dr. Seuss has authored many favorite stories with characters and settings from seventeen Seuss masterpieces are woven into the action, including Green Eggs and Ham, Yertle the Turtle, The Lorax, Horton Hatches the Egg, The Sneetches, and How the Grinch Stole Christmas.

"What could be more fun than Dr. Seuss characters coming to life?" says Sue Stember, Youth Services Librarian for Riverside Public Library. "RPL is thrilled to help families share the magic of Dr. Seuss on paper and on stage."
