'WOMEN AT NIGHT' IS THEME FOR STUDENT PRODUCTION

Two one-act plays, "Ludlow Fair" and the classic thriller "Sorry, Wrong Number," will be presented at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday-Saturday, Feb. 3-6, in the Drama Lab of the Creative Arts Building. Admission is $1.75.

Adrian Tafolla, a senior majoring in theatre arts, will direct this production, titled "Women at Night." "Lodlow Fair," which appeared off-off-Broadway, was written by Lanford Wilson. It is the story of two women and their disappointing relationships with men. Actors will be students Gina Sherman and Shanon Rubin. Student Vicki Smith will star in "Sorry, Wrong Number," Lucille Fletcher's play about the woman who overhears in a telephone conversation a sinister murder plot.

CHAMBER SINGERS TO HOST THE RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL

The Chamber Singers' traditional evening of song, dance and a gourmet dinner, known as the Renaissance Festival, will be Feb. 18-20 in the Commons. Reservations are required in advance and may be secured

During this evening of elegance and pageantry, the Singers will serve their guests while providing musical entertainment, accompanied by an Instrumental Consort of musicians playing recorders, a type of flute popular in the Middle Ages and Renaissance. Dr. Loren Filbeck, director of the Singers and originator of the event, has selected the musical story "The Feaste of the Oath of the Pheasant," an adaptation of a 17th century pageant from the court of the Duke of Burgandy.
