Fischer Retirees

I was surprised to hear the news that my good friend Herb was retiring from his position as Superintendent of County Schools in Colton. He has been our Superintendent for over 40 years and he has always stood out not only physically but in character. I was quite surprised when he contacted me in his retirement letter. He had high expectations of substitute teachers in his district and his high standards and his skill and knowledge will be missed. He is bringing the best out of the students and is always striving to get the best out of the students. When he was named the Superintendent of Muscoy, one of the poor areas in San Bernardino County, he had his high expectations elevated attendance, parent participation, etc.

When I was elected to the school board and we wanted to hire a Superintendent high enough, I called on Herb Fischer to the job. Many experts said it was wrong to place an educational administrator in a position where they had no control over employees, i.e., a corporation. America's Terrorism Watch List and the White House put him up as one of the most well-respected NAACP members who would get us out of who is our enemy. After 911 the atmosphere was in shock, but Herb Fischer had no hesitations.

Kaiser Permanente Leads Way As 60 Medical Clinics Prepare To Deploy New Kiosks

Kaiser Permanente has deployed the first "Kiosk Self-Service kiosks" at their Rancho Cucamonga Medical Office Building (MOB) to optimize the patient check-in experience in an innovative project that will include additional kiosks at all Kaiser Permanente medical offices in Rancho Cucamonga and charged with improving the patient experience. The kiosks are being ordered by several HMOs and are an example of Kaiser Permanente's market-leading efforts in electronic integration. During the kick-off event at the Rancho Cucamonga MOB, officials demonstrated how the easy-to-navigate touch-screen kiosks will improve service to customers.

"These kiosks will complement the services we already offer," said Larry Oliver, Assistant Medical Director and Administrator for the Fontana Medical Center. "It's an enhanced service for the patients who want to use them, but accommodations will still be available to assist those who don't.

Members will have the option of making non-dues payments with their credit and debit cards, updating their personal contact information, and using the "my-funding" feature--a critical step for patients with walking directions from the kiosk to your appointment room). The kiosks are also designed to serve a mobile health panel of Kaiser Permanente members, and service includes, English, Spanish, Chinese, and Vietnamese.

"This is great," said patient Niki Williams, who gave her new kiosk a thumbs-up.

"I was a little apprehensive at first, but it is easy to use. I think it will save me time and frustration."

Kaiser Permanente has plans of similar kiosks in Kaiser Permanente medical offices nationwide.

Breast MRI: For Cancer Risk in High Women

Annual screening with mammography is already recommended for the American Cancer Society (ACS), which provides recommendations for women 40 and older for breast screening with mammography. But for women at high risk—those with a family history of breast cancer, or those with certain genetic mutations—the ACS recommends genetic testing and the consideration of other screening options. MRI, or magnetic resonance imaging, is one such option that may be considered for women who meet specific criteria.

For many women, MRI screening is not routine. It is typically reserved for those who have a strong family history of breast cancer, or who have other risk factors such as a genetic mutation. The ACS recommends that women with a strong family history of breast cancer undergo genetic testing to determine if they have a genetic mutation that puts them at higher risk for breast cancer.

MRI can be a valuable tool for women at high risk, as it can detect tumors that may not be visible on mammograms. However, MRI is not recommended for all women, and it is not a replacement for mammograms. Instead, MRI is typically used in conjunction with mammograms, as it can provide additional information about breast tissue.

For women who are at high risk for breast cancer, MRI can provide valuable information about their breast health. It is important for women to discuss their options with their healthcare provider to determine if MRI screening is right for them.
Mr. G’s Brings “Down Home Southern Cooking” To Riverside

From Barbeque Ribs, Fried Fish, Chicken Wings & Southern Food, Mr. G’s offers all the flavors of the South.

By Joe Coree

A particular part of American tradition has been celebrated in Riverside thanks to Mr. Donald Gibson. Mr. Gibson and his wife Sandra have opened Mr. G’s BBQ Restaurant and Catering, a barbeque place serving “down home southern cooking,”严格执行 100% wholesome ingredients and innovative designs.

Southern cooking stems from the soul tradition and has close associations with the African-American community. As slaves, African Americans would ingeniously work with the ingredients at hand, incorporating a broad variety of vegetables and parts of meat to create new dishes, including full menus for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Mr. G’s BBQ Restaurant and Catering is located at 8622 Limonite Ave., Riverside, CA, hours open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Tuesday through Wednesday and 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday through Sunday. The Preble family made the graduation of Gregory Avila from Cal State San Bernardino a real family affair. For many years, the family has been surrounded by the West Side of San Bernadino, a traditionally diverse community. Gregory is the member of this family that founded the La Esparanza market and several other businesses in San Bernadino and Colton.

“The Westside of San Bernardino has been my birthplace, my family’s birthplace and a vibrant community,” said Eliseo Vicente, one of the 10 children belonging to Paco and his wife Alicia, who raised eight girls and two boys.

The children Sergio and Leonard of Mrs. Enciso family made the graduation of Gregory, for his graduation.

Paco’s on 35th Street is the birthplace to contribute to a community that gave me so much,” she said.

Hugh Hefner represents in the great two-sided revolving and days afterwards were unde-licensed for lascivious public-the ranks of jazz super festivals from the pages of the magazine This was an opin-ion shared • trh b '.d· beb ct' . . . mams earn, y n , op an therr personal favontes. The s1g - bl d fi tu . h ,, t· . . . ues an me 1es and put them on stage, first in among aficionados who truly conventions denying the truth of conceptions about what they think is staged and presented by Playboy magazine magnate Hefner, like his magazine, has significant difference this year was • adventurous , artists in Los Angeles. and newcomers testing the portable s tage on the s tationary ·ool s 'bl f; tf all stage - ' demonstration of pure , - strange things in the audience . couldn't s tay inside th 'e box. Hefner, his magazine, always showed jazz as America's premier cultural con-tribution to the world. It was this man's singular love of the music which took jazz giants and legends from the pages of the magazine and put them on stage, first in Chicago and for the last 50 years in Los Angeles. The festival started with a bang of the best in the business, that was seen in modern music, mixing hip hop, hybrid music and not much smooth pop mediocrity. The shift from seri-ous jazz attention to flashy stage things in the audience.There is no bad notes, musically or personally. Everything the public heard and saw was high caliber. Joyfully several adventurous artists couldn't stay inside the box. They dove to the cliffs and soared in ever-escalating acts of excellence. Folks whose performance was still on everybody's lips hours and days afterwards were unde-riously memorable for patriotism of pieces, melodies of pieces magnificently together, tying up all the strings of unconventional, conventional, mainstream, hybrid, bebop and blues and fine tuning the festi-val jazz chops. Highlights included New Orleans bluesman Dr. John's rusty voiced vocals and wooed magics found in his fingers, around his neck, on his African walking stick and even his piano-Granett's best man of the year Herbie Hancock who took everybody coming down the River of Possibilities, jazz queen Dee Dee Bridgewater's energiz-ing journey to West Africa and return to show off the vocal and instrumental high points of Miles - trumpeter Roy Haynes' second metamorphosis into a big band master; satisfactorily Poncho Sanchez and still-got-lips singer and editor Eddie Floyd. blues man man Kurt Meh-er, masterful octogenarian James Moody scaling and blending notes that left people alternat-ing between roaring and shouting; drummer Sherrill Jordan and the Diva Jazz Orchestra, her Amazonian ensemble of wonder women and young pianist Hivison whose group is appropriately called Straightfrom because that's what they drop on your ears and heart; and an off-the-book awesome Cos of Good Music in an exhilarat­ing set with improvised hot waves by saxophonist Billy Harper, guitarist David T. Walker, pianist Bev Green and drummer Ngosha Chancellor. Playboy's favorite moment of the ceremonies, Bill Cosby, put him-self in the act as more than a comedic superstar this year. He sat in on drums and directed his Cos of Good Music, using his fingers and body to pull out the best from the previously men-toned musicians, as well as trumpeter Ahmad Jamal, pianists Benny Green and a nd Hiromi whose Dan Taguchi of Hamilton High School and Fernado Pallott of View Prep Antonsen performed on Saturday and Sunday these would be good days to listen to jazz. The young ones hooked the audience and the aging, mas-ter, pioneering and legendary ones kept everybody interested and fulfilled. Hivison's hand's were like balls of lightning flashing across the choral and on-fairy keys on 'Get Rhythm'. People patiently wait-ed for, then scrambled when Moody went into his signature classic piece 'Moodo's Mood Love' and closed their eyes to catch every nuance of his mel­ low backup turns with trumpeter Terence Blanchard and singer Roberto Gambarotti. Moody's self-titled 'Moody's' was a great day. and kettle drums to the side, while the kids were under bed and stuck, but there was nothing sideways about his right on the mark playing. The Divas shifted between primal screams and mellow magic, accepted with inspiring improvisational turns by scored on 'Mister Lonely' and 'Nell'. Leithan. These ladies don't lip tip on through the trails. They slum through the musical forest like a herd of stampeding ele-phants. Dr. John, on the other hand, is the blues treasure from the Crescent City whose subtle and obviously naughty blues are stired in the salt of Creole gumbos, with Cajan special sauce mixed in for an extra kick. Ward, thousands of white handker-chiefs and neckties finally in the Hollywood night sky al- low Joe Dr. John was in his right place at the right time. Smooth, Bridgewater, A. Jamses, Tower of Power, Beiley's Monk Legacy September trumpet Rick Braun and saxist Richard Elliot, Hargrove and Keb Mo were all contamination exciting. The familiar and leg-endary talents of Herbie Hancock and just discovered vocal talent Ryan Shaw symbol-ize the spirit of the jazz festival's performance, demonstrating that fine wine does get better with time, but there's still an exciting taste in it for still fermenting juice. Ryan reminded one of gone are the good old days- blues- bandleader Ous Redding, Sam Cooke, Donny Hathaway - but there are textures and emotionally evocative tunes to his voice that will still move you emotionally put Ryan Shaw's name on the list of great vocal artists. Hancock's decades-long career and achievements make him the man to play with and master bassist Dave Holland, pioneering saxophonist Thelonious Monk, super electric bassist Marcus Miller and was tal-ented Chris Potter handily handled the bass chores. Hancock is now one of the leaders for the enviable package to perform with Hancock. As the kids say, this year Playboy Jazz Festival was go!...
Dedication of Renewed Life

San Bernardino

St. Paul held its 5th Sunday service that was so powerful 14 people joined church. The joint service was moved to the Inghram Community Center. Pastor Larry Campbell spoke from the book of John and entitled it Give Me Back My Stuff. He built a story surrounding what Satan has taken from Christians. He said whenever you feel things are not going right take back control over your life. Jesus will help you to take back your stuff, if it be drugs, sexual sin, committing adultery, whatever it may be, take it back. When he was finished with the sermon and opened the doors of the church 14 new members were welcomed into the church.

Janice Inghram wife of founding family was dedicated as a Stewardess.
