'JOAN OF LORRAINE' BEGINS NEXT WEEK

"Joan of Lorraine," Maxwell Anderson's beautiful and thought-provoking interpretation of the story of Joan of Arc, will be presented at 8:15 p.m., Thursday through Saturday, in the Theatre. Performances also are scheduled

Tuesday through Saturday, Nov. 16 through 20.

The play, which starred Ingrid Bergman during a successful Broadway run in 1945, is set on a stage of a theatre during rehearsal. While the Cal State performers play actors as well as characters in the play, set pieces and costumes are added until, in the final act, the stage illusion is complete. The story of Joan's victories and disappointments parallels that of the actress portraying her.

Cast members are Cal State students Nancy Johnson, Ron Murray, Paul Wilkerson, Vicki Smith, Amber Talvi, Marc Dietrich, Mike Donovan, Bill Greeley, Michael Galyon, Mary Manthis, Shanon Rubin, Bruce Fosdick, Scott Edwards, Dell Yount, Marisa Wine, Randy Charnin, Tim Reilly and Larry Huffman. Also in the cast are Dominic Smith, son of Vicki Smith and a seventh grade student at Shandin Hills Junior High, and Jeff Canavan, a sophomore at Pacific High School.

Dr. William Slout is directing the play. Tickets are $4.25 general, $2 students and senior citizens.

EARTHQUAKE THREAT TOPIC OF LECTURE

Dr. Ralph Turner, head of a UCLA study on the human response to the earthquake threat, will speak on this topic at 7 p.m., Wednesday, in the Recital Hall. The lecture is free.

A professor of sociology at UCLA, Dr. Turner conducted the study through the university's Survey Research Center under a grant from the National Science Foundation. The study sought to answer questions about the economic and sociologic effects of earthquakes. Answers sought included what kind of cooperation public officials can expect from the public and, given various possible reactions, whether earthquake predictions should be announced.

Individuals surveyed responded to questions relating to their awareness of quake warnings, reactions to and interpretations of the warnings, and thoughts about what the government should do. The project also investigated the treatment of warnings in major papers and on radio and television stations.

Dr. Turner, who holds a Ph.D. in sociology from the University of Chicago, is president of the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction, past vice president of the International Sociological Assn., and past president of the American Sociological Assn. The lecture is sponsored by the Sociology Club and the Distinguished Lecturers and Artists Committee.

CONFERENCE FOR FOREIGN NATIONALS TO FOCUS ON VOLUNTARISM IN U.S.

"Voluntarism and the American Way of Life" is the theme of a conference for foreign nationals to be held from 1 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday, in the Multipurpose

Room of the Student Union. Students at various schools in southern California are expected to attend. The program is one of several conferences being sponsored nationwide by ACTION, a federal volunteer agency, and the only one planned for the West Coast. It is free and open to the public.

The program is designed to introduce students from other countries to the importance of community identity and voluntary activity in American life. Many people visiting the U.S. have the impression that life is controlled by the federal bureaucracy, and do not have the opportunity to discover other forces that exist within the individual's community, according to Dr. Bradford Wilson (Political Science), who is coordinating the conference on campus.

Speakers will be Dr. Walter Berns, a resident scholar at the American Enterprise Institute and professorial lecturer in constitutional law at Georgetown University, who will talk about the "Foundations of the American Republic"; Dr. Mark Blitz, assistant director of ACTION, "Federalism as a Support for Community"; Dr. Richard Stevens, visiting professor at George Washington University, "Ethnicity as a Form of Community"; and Dr. Gary McDowell, professor of political science at Dickinson College, "The Value of Local Control of Community Life."

Dr. Edward Eler (Political Science) and James Williams, director of ACTION Institute, will join Dr. Wilson and the four guest speakers during a panel discussion. A reception will be held in the Lower Commons following the conference. The on-campus sponsors of the conference are the Theta Iota Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha and the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences.

ARTIST TO SPEAK ABOUT HER WORK

Gillian Brown, one of 27 artists displaying their works in "New American Photographs," an exhibit now in the Art Gallery, will speak about her photography at noon, Friday, Nov. 12, in VA 110. The lecture is free.

714 AREA CODE TO BE SPLIT

Because phone companies have run out of new numbers in the 714 area code, the current code will be divided into two area codes, 714 and 619, at 6 a.m., Nov. 7. Orange County and portions of San Bernardino, Riverside and Los Angeles counties will remain in the 714 area code. The balance of the old 714 area code, including San Diego, Palm Springs, Needles and El Centro, will be in the new 619 code.

The split will not affect the seven-digit telephone numbers, only the area code. Also, current free local calling areas will remain the same. The change will not affect the seven-digit ATSS numbers.

'IN A NEW LIGHT' SHOWN ON CAMPUS

"In a New Light," a film profiling three students who have successfully dealt with their handicaps, will be shown at 7 p.m., Monday, in SU Meeting Rooms A and B; noon, Tuesday, in the Student Union Multipurpose Room; and 3 p.m., Thursday, in PS 10. Admission is free. The film is sponsored by the Services to Students with Disabilities Office. Faculty members who wish to use the film in their classes may make arrangements through that office, Ext. 7662.

NOTEWORTHY

Ted Krug (Financial Aid) has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Cal United Credit Union, which serves state employees in San Bernardino and Riverside counties.
