FRANCES BERDAN NAMED OUTSTANDING PROFESSOR

Dr. Frances F. Berdan, professor of anthropology and chair of the Anthropology Department, has been selected as the college's outstanding professor for 1983.

A world-recognized authority on Aztec society and a member of the faculty here since 1973, Dr. Berdan will represent the campus in the Board of Trustees' Outstanding Professor Awards Program. Each year, the CSU honors two distinguished faculty members. Nominations for outstanding professor were received by the selection committee from staff, faculty, students and administrators.

Dr. Berdan is one of about 50 people worldwide who have expertise in Nahuatl, the language of the Aztecs. Among her publications is a book titled The Aztecs of Central Mexico: An Imperial Society, part of a series on cultural anthropology, published in 1982 and reprinted this month. She also co-authored two books, The Matrícula de Tributos and Beyond the Codices: The Nahua View of Colonial Mexico, and has published numerous articles. She is currently working on two additional books.

A well-liked teacher who demands hard work from her students, Dr. Berdan has consistently scored high in student evaluations of teaching effectiveness. In addition to her teaching and advising duties within the Anthropology Department, she is a liberal studies and freshman advisor. Dr. Berdan has prepared a videotaped, self-paced version of the Anthropology 335 class, "Cross-cultural Perspectives on Crime and Deviance." She is a member of the Curriculum, RPT and Advisory committees for the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences and chair of the college Committee on Curriculum and Instruction.

Dr. Berdan received her B.A. in geography and her M.A. in anthropology from Michigan State University. She holds a Ph.D. in anthropology from the University of Texas at Austin.

Some new awards will be granted to a limited number of students who have not been receiving financial aid but who have applied for assistance.
