The phone line was monitored by the 215 Freeway on the west, Baseline Avenue on the east, Baseline Avenue and 89th Street on the south, and Orange Street on the north. Each has been offered as a solution to many problems plaguing the San Bernardino community: the plight of the downtown area, the need to lower the high ground water which is a potentially high risk of liquefaction in case of an earthquake, and how to transfer water to other entities for economic gain. Mayor John Vacca says this project would be the bold action needed to turn the city around.

The project is proposed in phases and would serve as a reservoir for the high ground water supply. Still in its conceptual stage, proponents cited area such as San Antonio, New Mexico, and Arizona as examples of successful water reclamation projects.

The Execution of an Innocent Man

By Earli Otis Hamilton

When U.S. Rep. Tony Hall of Ohio introduced his resolution in Congress today [September 24, 1999], it was to set up a commission, fund education programs to study why Ohio’s capital punishment system is the nation’s most flawed system of justice in terms of executionists of juvenile offenders.

Gary Graham could very well have been innocent of the capital crime he died for. There was credible evidence according to Federal Court, of Graham’s innocence. But because of the flawed system of justice, many black men are hanged in the name of justice.

As a boy, the heat inside Gary Graham could very well have been innocence. The nation which calls for justice, will make certain that the facts are known before the public makes a decision.

It's African Marketplace Time – Exhibitors and Volunteers Wanted

Dr. Levister welcomes reader mail concerning their health but regrets that he cannot answer individual letters. Your letters will be incorporated into the columns as space permits. You may direct your letters to Dr. Levister in care of Voice News, P.O. Box 1581, Riverside, CA 92502.

Dear J.C.:

I recently started an exercise program. I'm pumped up and actually lost five pounds. I can't believe it. I'm sure to kick up my energy and enthusiasm for exercise. So if exercising feels boring, chances are you won't be doing it for long. Don't force yourself to do traditional exercise routines. Walk in the park two days a week, one day on the treadmill. Instead of e-mailing that special someone, make a date for a bike ride. You'll be the spice of life, but it's also a goal can keep your motivation high. Remember to make your exercise a part of your day, not an excuse to do nothing else.

Prospective exhibitors and potential volunteers may call the African Marketplace office for applications. Exhibitors should have adequate insurance protection. Exhibitors must provide personal staffs. Each year hundreds of volunteers help to make the Annual Los Angeles African Marketplace & Cultural Fair a successful nationally and internationally recognized event.

Under the contract agreements, Riverside Public Utilities will provide power to these Ralphs and two Food 4 Less grocery markets through May 2005 as well as to the company's one million square foot distribution facility located through May of 2005. These individualized, cost-based rate contracts will result in reducing annual energy charges at these locations as well as benefit the city by retaining electric revenue. Utility customers will also benefit through the continued expansion of funds from Ralphs Grocery Company to overall system costs.

These contracts place Ralphs as RPU's second largest power customer. "This is a very important account for the Utility," said Deputy Public Utilities Director David H. Wright. "It shows their confidence in the reliability of our service and in the rate package we can offer our commercial customers." Mike Toman, Merchandising Manager for Ralphs Grocery Company supported Wright's feelings. "We saw this as a good opportunity to work with the city as an maintainer of our partnership," Toman said. "This is a very good agreement, one that is beneficial for all. Any time we can increase our business it benefits our customers."

Riverside Public Utilities is a customer-owned town and electric utility serving more than 82,000 customers in the city of Riverside.
Prayer Keeps Keneny’s Singing

Young man who preys together, stays together and speaks in tongues is the Keneny family’s church singing leader. The family’s latest album, All the Songs, is a tribute to their late business and music leader, Ron Keneny, who died in 2015.

Ron Keneny was a born-again Christian, and his family continued to pray for him even after his death. Ron and Tavita became known for their energetic and inspiring music, and their bus ministry, Ron and Tavita's Music Ministry, continues to spread their message of faith through their music and personal testimonies.

The Keneny family records regularly, and their latest album, All the Songs, is a collection of their most beloved songs and stories. The album is dedicated to Ron Keneny, and it is a moving tribute to his life, his faith, and his impact on the world.

The Keneny family has received critical acclaim for their music, and they have been featured on numerous television and radio shows. They are also regular performers at churches and events around the world, sharing their message of faith and inspiration with others.

The Keneny family is a shining example of how faith and music can be used to bring people together, to heal wounds, and to make a positive difference in the world. Their music and message continue to inspire and uplift people around the world, and their legacy lives on through their music and their family.

Dear [City Council Member]

I am writing to express my concern about the current state of the city's roads. As a resident of [neighborhood], I have noticed a significant increase in the number of potholes and broken sidewalks in recent months. These conditions pose a serious safety hazard for both pedestrians and drivers, and I am writing to urge the city to take action.

The current state of the roads is not only a matter of aesthetics but also a public health concern. Potholes and broken sidewalks can lead to accidents and injuries, particularly for children playing in the area. Additionally, the disrepair of the roads can affect property values and the overall reputation of the city.

I understand that the city is facing financial challenges, but I believe that investing in road maintenance is a priority that cannot be neglected. The city should consider increasing its budget for road repairs and maintenance, and possibly exploring alternative funding sources such as grants or private partnerships.

I urge the city council to take this matter seriously and to commit to improving the condition of our roads. Thank you for your attention to this important issue.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

In one fell swoop, the truce with Met turns the East Valley’s excess state water rights into a financial asset for the taxpayers, lowers the water level in the area’s underground floodzone with Bernardino Mountains above the valley’s driest wells, making them more effective and lowering their pumping costs. In exchange, 25,000 acre feet of water will be pumped out of the underground floodzone with 15,000 going to Met and 10,000 to the Orange County Water District.

These measures will raise $4.1 million for the SB Valley Municipal Water District that will be used for infrastructure projects. But Met has decided to step up the East Valley from selling surplus state water in their system, the SB Valley Municipal Water District filed suit to gain that right. Meanwhile, Met sued the district to stop it from selling some of its surplus water to a private company intent upon marketing it in Met’s system. Today, and in the future, this amounts to 102,600 acre feet per year. However, because the area is rich in native water, it has not needed most of this quota. In the 1990s, for instance, the average delivery has only been 7,600 acre feet—leaving 95,000 acre feet a year available for sale.

However, the State of California ruled that the SB Valley Municipal Water District, which manages the East Valley’s water, could not sell this surplus on the open market. They wanted to buy the East Valley’s surplus water, Met was positioned to either deny access or charge very high fees for use of their delivery system.

At the same time, Met finds itself facing a growing demand for water just when it is losing some of its sources of supply. In the Owens Valley, lawsuits have reduced the amount of water available to the L.A. Department of Water & Power. Met must make up the difference. Arizona and Nevada are setting to use their Cal Colorado River allocations and Met is losing access to its usual water. Political and environmental constraints are limiting the growth of Northern California water available to Met. As a result, Met finds itself in need of water in areas where the SB Valley Municipal Water District is strong.

In 1997, this suit was settled in favor of the East Valley. The area can thus sell its state water at market rates.

Assemly Member Cedillo's Bill to Attract Boxing to California

PORTS

SACRAMENTO—On a vote of 6-1, the State Senate Business & Professions Committee approved AB 52 sponsored by Assembly Member Gilbert Cedillo (D-Los Angeles). The bill is designed to enable California to compete in attracting large boxing events. "This Bill will solidify Los Angeles' reputation as a sports and entertainment capital," said Cedillo.

The goal of the bill is to provide excellent high school football and funding for academic scholarships," noted Wall. At Red Runner Stadium on the campus of the University of Rodeo, the crew put together its second San Bernardino County versus Riverside County game before an estimated 4,000. Prior to last week's first practice of the San Bernardino versus Riverside all-star game, Coach Rivera's team produced that matchup for 13 consecutive years. The hype building up to this year's game centered around both team's offensive potential, however, once the horn sounded for the opening kickoff, the defense dominated the contest.

R ELANDS—My friend and fellow writer, Lyke Spencer, of The Press Enterprise, recently attended a juggling conference called "a clown the mind paper" of Island Empire sports especially youth oriented activities.

I'm not sure this juggling is a complement or just for the entertainment of young fans, but I think only the highest form of art is allowed by me. I'll have to review and discuss this juggling conference later, but a few words are required here.

Playboy Jazz Fest Stages Non-Stop Excellence

By Taylor Jordan

If you were looking for a place to revel in the pure joy of good music, performances that effortlessly leap past conventional confines, and propel bodies to sip-sing or step-sing to incredible beats, then Saturday’s Long Beach Jazz Festival was the establishments to get your foot in.

Both Saturday’s and Sunday’s stages at the Hollywood Bowl were packed with talent, offering a wide array of music from a variety of eras. One thing that stood out, however, was the quality of the performers. There was something for everyone, from nostalgic hits to cutting-edge jazz.

Diane Reeves, in a white dress, was one of the biggest draws of the festival. She kept the crowd engaged with her soulful voice and dynamic stage presence. Her set included classic hits, as well as newer songs from her latest album. The audience sang along and danced to the rhythm, creating an electric atmosphere.

Scotty Morris, co-founder of Big Bad Voodoo Daddy, showcased the band’s signature fusion of swing, ska, and rockabilly. The band’s horn section was a highlight, with each member bringing their own style to the mix. The crowd was on their feet, clapping and cheering as the band played.

Celia Cruz, the undisputed queen of Latin music, took the stage early in the morning with a potpourri of his presentation. His style was big band, mainstream, bebop, free, and jazz, and he was able to make a seamless transition between musical expressions. He covered a variety of musicians, including Horace Silver, Louis Armstrong, and Miles Davis.
