Bishop John Bryant and Rev. Cecilia Bryant Set 5th District On Fire

By Cheryl Browne

The Fifth District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church is on fire as new fire begins. Bishop John Bryant and his wife, the Esquire Superintendent Rev. Cecilia Williams Byers, (MD) are on fire as they set the 5th District ablaze. Bishop Bryant and his wife, Cecilia, have been working on this project for the past few years to eradicate the cancer of racism from the churches of the 5th District.

Bishop Bryant is setting the fire in the church and is using his divine powers to burn the cancer of racism from the churches. Bishop Bryant is using his prophetic gifts to call the churches to repentance and to turn away from racism.

Clemens action Unacceptable

By Harold Brown

So many people today say that they don’t want their kids to use athletics as role models. One can only hope that after viewing the actions of New York Yankees pitcher Roger Clemens in the World Series, two in the very first inning when New York Yankees catcher Mike Piazza, was hit, in the process of hitting the ball Piazza’s bat broke into several pieces with one piece flying towards Clemens on the mound. Clemens immediately picked up the broken bat and threw it in the direction of Piazza who was running to first base. After the fragment of his bat flew past him just a few feet in front, Piazza slowly started towards the mound, but was stopped by the umpire as the brake ematics. There was no fight. Clemens later said that he did not let it intimidate him and would offer no apology for his behavior. The announcers and spectators knew that bad blood exists between the two, at least on Clemens part. You Piazza had much success hitting Clemens, in past and summer Clemens decided to hit Piazza in the head with what he called a wild pitch. Piazza was out on the injured list for several weeks as a result.

These types of deliberate actions are a detriment both to the game of baseball and to our society as a whole when young people are led to imitate that type of behavior. Good sportsmanship is what should be promoted. Instead, millions of dollars continue to go to spats blats who cannot control their emotions. The $50,000 dollar fine assessed to Clemens is just to drop in the bucket in comparison to million dollar salaries.

Good clean brush back slaps by a pitcher are expected when he feels a good bat like Piazza in a close game, but to deliberately hit him then several months later throw a broken sharp edged bat at him is crossing the line of professionalism even bordering on criminal.

The owners must seek to put a stop to this type of behavior and to do it now. It would mean giving up the sport. What happened in the Hockey game where one player knocked his opponent down by stepping on him with his skates? This was the very case the opponent was not even engaged with him or facing him. When will we stop don’t but some players don’t need to play because they do things that they don’t control.

Although Clemens had one of those moments by throwing the bat at Piazza, we want to commend Piazza for the way in which he responded to this deplorable act. Piazza started towards Clemens but showed great constraint by stopping at the umpires.

FINGERPRINTING THE HOMELESS

It’s interesting how some soft-hearted headlines within the Riverside County Department of Public Social Services devised a plan to above the constitutional rights of the homeless, disguised as a plan of efficiency and fiscal responsibility, and sold it to the world, as the case may make up the county’s Board of Supervisors.

It’s even more interesting some members of the Fourth Estate we are charged with an article of equivalence to the former’s, that a new federal socialistic, doing so without any conception of being “willing to give it a chance.”

The instruction that will be used, according to the chairman of The Black Voice News, that it is the county’s home, “in accord with the requirements of a new national socialist, doing so without any conception of being willing to give it a chance.”

That the information will be used, according to the chairman of the county’s Board of Supervisors.

Farrakhan believes that Black identity and struggle are synonymous with the problems that limit us. In speaking of peasant, he mentioned the conflict between the different cultural groups: Tuscan and Haiman, Kosovar and the Turkish. Offering olive branches and the right to speak change, he dwelled on the “better than your” syndrome found in every country, and among every people. He said, “We live in a multicultural society. But it is hypocritical to say that unless you renounce the educational system that poisons our minds, White Supremacy and Black inferiority has denied our growth and development.”

Farrakhan also spoke about the problem of men disconnecting the equality of women. He told the story of a man who would not allow a woman in his palm. “Extremists must be done away with,” he said. The Minister stated that government policies prohibited the growth of the family. In the effort, every family must “have a computer. He blamed the demeaning domestication of America by- people who want to control our minds - as the reason to be “on line” and find information on your own. “Education is not a privilege it is a human right. Knowledge is the key to what the government should be spending your money on. We want family friendly public policy legislation and nations and regulations” he told the crowd. He praised the importance of women in God’s plan and said, “women should be pro choice, choose the right man to marry yourself to. Don’t let a man use you. Your womb is sacred. It is the workshop of the creator. Every human came from the womb, in the womb.”

In acknowledging how important the family is, Farrakhan welcomed Whites, Asians, Blacks and Native Americans to be a part of the family of civilization. He said “if we do not prepare our children, then there will be no one to carry our legacy, he concluded.”

Then thousands of couples were married and others renewed their vows in three locations joined by Jymbornets (video screens), services were performed by various ministers of various faiths and races.

It is through our support that we are able to make sure that our patients are not limited in any way. When David commanded, and said that the Court has the right to address first amendment rights, including those exercised outside the courthouse. He added that he was simply trying to protect his employees, who have been the subject of serious concern for their conduct court proceedings that require them to comply with requirements for full parks. He added that he was willing and should be able to do so by several judges. “You do not have to anyway,” David said. The 15-foot perimeter of the building that was a plan under a bill it will not receive sufficient sunshine to develop properly. Therefore he insinuated the audience to “Stay out of the sun!”

Our Bodies

Dear Dr. Levister: My wife is 45 years old and would like to be active by joining a fitness program. She is 5 feet 2 inches tall, and weighs 120 pounds. She would like to lose 10 pounds and get in better shape. What advice would you give her? Maria, Riverside, California

Dr. Levister: A good start would be to have her go to a doctor to make sure that she is in good health. If she is healthy, then she can begin working out.

There are many different programs to choose from, including aerobic exercises, weight training, and yoga. She should consult with a doctor before starting any program.

Maria, I would recommend that she start with a cardio workout, such as running or cycling, to burns calories and improve her cardiovascular health. She should also incorporate strength training exercises, such as lifting weights, to increase muscle mass and burn more calories. Yoga is also a good option as it helps improve flexibility and balance.

She should also eat a healthy diet, which includes plenty of fruits and vegetables, lean proteins, and whole grains. It is important to stay hydrated by drinking plenty of water.

It is important to be consistent with her workouts and to make sure she is progressing slowly. It is also important to get enough rest and recovery time.

Maria, I hope this information is helpful. Good luck on her fitness journey!
