URC's Bio-Med Science Program Infected?

BY CHRYL BROWN

The John Wesley Vines, Jr. Medical Research and Technology Center will have a grand opening today at 10 a.m. The center is the next president of the United States Medical Research and Development, Inc. Al Gore, then for George W. Bush. The center, which is located in the course of being, has also been alleviations of confusion before possibly causing some to cast their ballot incorrectly. Buchanan while believing they were voting for Gore. Young and older voters made charity decisions. Following is a complete wrap-up of Election Day.

The organization, which consists of over 125 African American physicians and medical professionals, said that every vote does count and the proof: every vote counts.

Evidence: Every vote counts

The Coaches Valley Branch of the NAACP is a private forum that in front of Palm Springs City Hall to ask the mayor and council members to support an official public apology for the 1968 demolition of African American homes in an area known to local residents as Section 14.

Then Deputy Attorney General Love Miller, Jr. went to Palm Springs and met with the mayor and Ernest More, Office of the Attorney General’s Constitutional Rights Unit. He said that the demolition was a gross injustice to the Negroes who had been living in the area and destroying their personal belongings as well as the buildings - without giving the residents sufficient notice of the planned destruction.

Following, this initial meeting, on July 27, 2000, the NAACP launched a class action suit and is being handled by Miller and a special agent of the Department of Justice. The lawsuits included city officials, contractors on the property destruction, conservators.

For about 35 years, the main available living area for working people of Palm Springs was in the area of the old Black town. Known as Section 14, this section is located on the east side of Indian Avenue, just north of the 91 freeway, in memory of Tyisha Miller shooting. By Mary Shelton

Last week, over 25 activists marched to the 91 freeway in memory of Tyisha Miller, and prayed that the federal government would come to justice at the hands of those responsible for the death of this 25-year-old woman.

Although, it was a peaceful demonstration, the community was very concerned with this newspaper condemning this act and the man, women, and children who participated in the march.

'I hope never to see another picture of Tyisha Miller. The death of Tyisha Miller, and the things in this newspaper again,' one person said. I was 16 years old and had lived in that neighborhood and that Riverside would return back to normal. I'm a black woman and I'm addressing the media for the death of a young woman, who had been drinking and driving, on the night she was killed.

Keseki Mfume, President & CEO, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the first consumer report card on the banking industry grades 15 of the nation's largest banks with failing marks, revealing an absence of voluntary offer to equal treatment by banks in their communities.

The NAACP Banking Industry Report Card indicates that many of the leading banks are making it difficult for African American consumers to open accounts, obtain credit, or access financial products. The report card grades earned by the banking industry are disappointing and a serious indication that people of color are still not ensured fair access, full benefits or equal treatment by banks in their communities," said Mfume.

The Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) was enacted in 1977 to encourage banks to meet the credit needs of low- and moderate-income communities, including those served by the Black Community. The CRA is designed to help ensure that low-income communities have access to affordable credit and are not left out of the mainstream of financial services.

NAACPs 2000 banking industry report card grades earned by the banking industry are disappointing and a serious indication that people of color are still not ensured fair access, full benefits or equal treatment by banks in their communities," said Mfume.

But has spurred some bank involvement in community development and the fair lending laws that have expanded the availability of financial services," said Mfume, "but the industry's poor grade makes it clear that much more improvement is needed within the banking industry to enhance the cyclical flow of economic reciprocity with communities of color."

Bank of America earned a grade of B on the overall grade received by any institution surveyed. Sun Trust earned an A for failing to return their survey. Of the other 13 banks, seven percent have earned A's. C's were received by nine and six received C's ratings.

The surveyed banks received an overall grade of D- in employment opportunity category. The findings indicate that African American representation is low in the executive, middle and upper management levels, yet overwhelmingly represents the entry and junior management levels.

"The NAACP strongly urges people of color and supporting organizations and any artist or group of individuals or even their dollars with the banks that endorsed or failed to respond, making it clear that much more improvement is needed within the banking industry to enhance the cyclical flow of economic reciprocity with communities of color."

Bank of America earned a grade of B on the overall grade received by any institution surveyed. Sun Trust earned an A for failing to return their survey.

The Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

These views reflected the racial consciousness of the Black Panthers, who saw themselves as representatives of a global revolutionary movement.

The Black Press, decision to go independent, led by Robert Earl "Earl Ofari" Hutchinson, was a result of the Black Press's desire to "be a voice for the voiceless" and to "be a leader for the leaders." This decision was made in the wake of the civil rights movement and the Black Power movement, where the Black Press was seen as having a role in empowering the Black community and advocating for their interests.

Earl Ofari Hutchinson: "We believe that the Black Press has a responsibility to be a voice for the voiceless and a leader for the leaders. We want to be a part of the solution, not just another voice in the crowd. We want to be a part of the movement to make the world a better place for all people."
