26 FACULTY MEMBERS RECEIVE GRANTS FOR RESEARCH PROJECTS

Twenty-six faculty members have received grants to pursue research projects this spring. New to the campus, the Faculty Professional Development awards program, totaling $34,816, is being funded from the college's instructional budget.

Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill (Theatre Arts) was given release time and $2,036 to develop the Workshop Company. The Company, an outgrowth of the Imagination Players, uses a touring student company of actors as an instructional tool for teachers and librarians.

Dr. Richard Fehn (Biology) will receive $2,316 for research to be used to develop courses in biology and endocrinology. He plans to evaluate the metabolic responsiveness of obese-diabetic mice following injections of thyroid hormones to determine if hormonal resistance plays a role in the etiology of maturity-onset diabetes mellitus.

Dr. Paul Heckert (Physics) will have release time and $1,260 for research at Mt. Lemmon, Ariz., observatory. His projects are infrared polarization studies of regions of active and ongoing star formation and simultaneous observations of quasars at optical, infrared and radio wavelengths.

Dr. Stuart Persell (History) has $600 for research about the social and political influence of a group of French biologists whose views dominated the major French educational institutions from 1880 to 1920.

A $1,510 grant will go to Dr. Steven Wagner (Education) for research in the area of brain functions and handicapped children. Studies will include evaluating handedness and higher mental functions.

Drs. Thomas Meisenhelder (Sociology), Mayo Toruno (Economics) and K. Michael Clarke (Public Administration) have received release time and $1,660 for a study to provide academically sound and historically useful information concerning the individual and community effects of the Kaiser Steel Plant in Fontana closure.

Dr. Catherine Gannon (English) has release time for a final revision and research for a book-length study of reader problems associated with selected Elizabethan and Jacobean plays. She plans to complete her studies at the Huntington Library in San Marino.

Dr. Richard Griffiths (Education) received release time to pursue development techniques for a demonstration/laboratory school. The school is planned to be a cooperative project between the School of Education and the San Bernardino City Unified School District.

RESEARCH PROJECTS (continued from page 1)

Dr. Naomi Caiden (Public Administration) has been granted release time to do research on planning and budgeting in poor countries in order to revise a chapter of the book Planning and Budgeting in Poor Countries she co-authored with Prof. Aaron Wildavsky of UC Berkeley.

Dr. David Lutz (Psychology) received $600 to study reactions to the emotional expression of males. His study will also include examination of males who have been severely treated and victims of incest.

Dr. Frances Berdan (Anthropology) received release time to complete the preparation of a two-volume facsimile and commentary on Codex Mendoza, a pictorial account of Aztec life.

Joseph Moran (Art) was awarded $1,370 to recruit artists, create a lecture series and present shows in the Paul Villasenor Library and YWCA reception area.

Dr. Robert Lee (English) has $300 for travel to museums in San Francisco, Oakland and San Diego to study original art works in preparation for teaching the American Art to 1900 course.

Drs. Vivien Bull and Mireille Rydell (French) each received $250 to travel to a regional conference of the California Assn. for Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages during April.

Drs. Charles Hoffman and Ed Teyber (Psychology) have been granted $920 travel funds to send a member of their research team to a workshop, "Men's Transition to Parenthood Research Issues and Methodological Strategies," in Bethesda, Md. The study is part of their fatherhood project.

Dr. Lynda Warren (Psychology) will have $400 for trips to Stanford University to continue her study of suicide in gifted women.

Dr. Alexander Sokoloff (Biology) will have $968 to reorganize a collection of specimens for entomology studies.

Gene Andrusco (Accounting and Finance) will have release time to redesign two self-paced courses, accounting and financial theory, into three courses.

Dr. Jill Buroker (Philosophy) has been given release time to research a paper, "Sensations, Signs and Objective Reference in Descartes." The paper will be part of an application for a National Endowment for the Humanities grant.

Also given release time, Dr. Brad Wilson (Political Science) will work on his book, tentatively titled "Enforcing the Fourth Amendment, the Founding, the Supreme Court and the Exclusionary Rule."

Drs. Stuart Ellins and Robert Cramer (Psychology) received $736 for research on prior exposure to nongustatory cues and perception of those cues as food cues in laboratory animals.

"This is the beginning of a plan to foster professional development among the faculty. We hope to expand the plan and keep it on an annual basis," said Dr. J.C. Robinson, associate vice president for academic personnel. Of the 52 proposals submitted, 22 received awards. The four units of release time awarded to selected faculty is equal to one class.

DR. NAPLES VISITS CAMPUS

Dr. Caesar J. Naples, CSU vice chancellor for faculty and staff affairs, was on campus March 14, visiting with various groups and touring facilities. His originally scheduled visit was postponed due to conflicting business in the Chancellor's Office.

Dr. Naples, who joined the CSU last year, oversees both faculty affairs and employee relations. He is responsible for the collective bargaining process for the system.

While on campus he met with President Evans, the Administrative Council, the Labor Relations committee, staff representatives, school deans the the Faculty Senate.

OPEN HOUSE TOURS UNDERWAY

Groups of high school seniors will be visiting the campus on selected Tuesdays and Thursdays through May 8. The programs, conducted by the Relations with Schools Office, are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tours, presentations by students and faculty, lunch and a packet of information items are included in the program.

The schedule for participating schools is: April 3, Notre Dame, San Geronio and Victor Valley; April 5, Cajon, Upland, Alta Loma and Chaffey; April 10, Don Lugo, San Bernardino and Barstow; April 12, North and Yucaipa; April 24, Montclair and Moreno Valley; April 26, Rubidoux and Loma Linda Academy; May 1, Apple Valley; May 8, Ramona and Norte Vista.

CONTINUING EDUCATION ADDS EXTRA HOUR

In an effort to serve its students better, the Office of Continuing Education has added an extra hour to its work day. The office is now open from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays. Additionally, doors are open on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon. The office will continue to close at 5 p.m., Fridays.

The Office of Continuing Education is located on the fifth floor of the Pfau Library.

BARGAINING PROPOSALS AVAILABLE IN LIBRARY

Copies of the re-opener collective bargaining proposals by the exclusive representatives for Units 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 are available at the Reserve Desk (first floor) of the Pfau Library.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are extended by the college community to Julie and Tom Hemphill (Business and Public Administration) on the birth of their third son, Andrew David, March 6. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 13 ounces.

ORGANIZATION CHART, CAMPUS MAPS AVAILABLE

Copies of the latest organizational chart for the college are available from the Public Affairs Office, Ext. 7558. Additional supplies of the campus map also have been received and are available for individuals or departments expecting visitors or groups.

ART SHOW ON FIGURATION OPEN

A display of works which explore the human body as an art form is open now through April 5 in the Art Gallery. The exhibit, "The Aspects of Figuration: Paintings, Constructions and Photography," will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Participating artists are Cal State student Becky Andersen of San Bernardino and Los Angeles area artists Joan Gollub, Stephen Rubin and Zarko Kalmic. Ms. Andersen, a junior art major, features a mixture of collage and painting in her works.

Gollub uses paintings, drawings, cutouts and cardboard sculpture. Rubin creates wall constructions of sculpture and painting. Kalmic paints over images on large photographs using subtle colors.

An exhibition of glass pieces, "On the Beach," is open in Gallery 2 of the Creative Arts Building through March 30. Works displayed, the collaborative efforts of graduate students Jamie Templeton and Richard Silver, include perfume bottles, vases and sea shells, all in an aquatic motif. Both students have exhibited nationally.

MONOGRAPH SERIES BEGINS SOON

The Monograph Series of Crosscut, the newsletter published by graduate students in the English Department, will be available soon. The first series will be the master's thesis of DeShea Rushing, "Syntactical and Grammatical Structures in the Writing of the Hearing Impaired," said Dr. Helene Koon, editor of Crosscut.

The quarterly Crosscut, popular with teachers writing in disciplines other than English, costs $2 per year. Monographs are $4 for subscribers and $5 for non-subscribers. More information may be obtained from Dr. Koon, Ext. 7691.

DR. STANTON TO COORDINATE LAW-RELATED CONFERENCE

Dr. Gordon Stanton (Education) is coordinating a two-day conference on various activities within the CSU system to expand training of teaching credential candidates in the area of civic education to be held March 22-23 in Sacramento. Each campus has selected a four-member delegation to participate. Drs. Ernest Garcia, Ellen Kronowitz and Alvin Wolf (School of Education) and Dr. Bradford Wilson (Political Science) will represent this campus.

Speakers include Bill Honig, state superintendent of public instruction; Lynne Wasserman, CSU trustee; Hugh Friedman, president of the state board of education; and state Sen. Gary Hart.

Sessions include demonstrations by representatives of the Constitutional Rights Foundation, Law in a Free Society, the National Institute for Citizen Education in the Law and the American Bar Assn.

"A nationwide effort is now underway to encourage school districts to develop their civic education activities in terms of law-related education. Demonstrations, faculty in-service programs and liaison with bar associations are increasingly available through law-related education centers around the country." Dr. Stanton said.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Drs. Louise Burton and Janice Chavez (Education) presented the workshop, "Different Strokes for Little Folks: Identifying the Early Learning Problems," at the second annual Paraprofessional Conference in Riverside March 6. At that conference, Dr. Chavez presented a paper, "Ways to Involve Parents of Handicapped Bilingual Children."

Jo Ann Hartzog (Services to Students With Disabilities) and staff interpreters Sandra Heflin, Deborah Dees, Nancy El Fattal and Linda Hardy participated in a workshop, "Curtain Calls," at the California School for the Deaf in Riverside March 10.

Drs. John Heeren (Sociology) and Donald Lindsey (Criminal Justice) have an article, "The Mormon Concept of Mother in Heaven," accepted for publication in the Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion.

Dr. Ellen Kronowitz (Education) presented a session on "The Magical Metaphor--Medium for Creative Thinking" at the California Assn. for the Gifted conference in Monterey March 10.

Dr. Sudha Saletore (Education) gave a presentation on "Teaching Comprehension through Problem Solving Techniques in Mathematics" at the Thinking Across the Curriculum conference in Riverside Feb. 15.

Dr. Bradford Wilson (Political Science) has an article, "Enforcing the Fourth Amendment: The Original Understanding" in The Catholic Lawyer, a law journal published by St. John's University in New York.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Buckley Barrett (Library) has started a project at the San Bernardino County Library to create a local history index to old newspapers in the county.

Dr. Charles Christie (Public Administration) was elected president of the San Bernardino Council of Club Presidents.

Dr. Frances Coles (Criminal Justice) spoke to students at Aquinas High School on "Criminal Law in America" March 7.

Dr. Keith Dolan (Education) spoke to the Riverside Optimists Club on "Sports Oddities" at the Canyon Crest Country Club in Riverside March 14.

Dr. J.C. Robinson (Academic Affairs) spoke to a Latter Day Saints Church group on "U.S. and Latin America Relations" at the Latter Day Saints Church in San Bernardino March 11.

Dr. Richard Rowland (Geography) spoke to the Fontana Kiwanis Club on "Cities and Peoples of the USSR" at the Fontana Sizzler March 14.

Jo Ann Von Wald (Registrar) was elected to the board of directors of the Camp Fire-San Andreas Council at the annual meeting Feb. 24.

NOTEWORTHY

Dr. Ansa Ojanlatva (Health Science and Human Ecology) has been included in the premier edition of Who's Who of California Executive Women.
