VISUAL ARTS BUILDING SET FOR REROOFING

Work is scheduled to begin June 15 to reconstruct the roof of the Visual Arts Building. The 2½-month job will include the installation of a new heating and air conditioning system.

The apparent low bidder for the job is San Val Engineering, Inc., of Burbank. Eight bids, opened March 29, ranged from $295,680 to $428,000. The Burbank company was a subcontractor in the reconstruction of the Administration Building roof.

The Visual Arts Building will be closed throughout construction, except for the ceramics area which is a separate wing at the rear, said James Urata, director of administrative affairs. The Art Gallery will be closed. Reoccupancy is scheduled for Sept. 10, he said.

The job calls for new tapered roof insulation under a pitched roof. This will provide for better insulation and for rain runoff. Also, the building's heating and air conditioning will be integrated with the central system, instead of having its own equipment, Urata said.

In addition to replacement of the leaking roof, the improvements will contribute toward energy conservation, Urata said.

Staff employed in the building will be temporarily relocated to other offices at the close of the spring quarter.

DECORATIVE ARTS SHOW OPENS FRIDAY IN GALLERY

Decorative arts from the 15th to 19th centuries will be shown in the Art Gallery beginning Friday, April 13. A reception, free and open to the public, will preview the exhibit at 7 p.m. that day. A lecture, "The Last Extravagance: Italian Decorative Art of the 18th Century," by Susan Caroselli, associate curator, Los Angeles County Museum of Art, will follow at 8 p.m. in VA 110.

Furniture, paintings, drawings and ceramics from the Edward-Dean Museum of Decorative Arts in Cherry Valley will be exhibited in the show, the major production of the year for the Art Gallery. The 50-piece show is partially funded by a $1500 grant from the California Arts Council.

A second lecture on curatorial practice will be given at noon Monday, April 30, also in VA 110 by Janice Queener-Shaw, former curator of collections at the Edward-Dean Museum.

Exhibit hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday; 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesday and Wednesday; and 1 to 4 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

MODEL CONGRESS IN SESSION TODAY

About 120 students from nine area high schools will convene today in the Lower Commons to emulate the U.S. Congress.
The day-long exercise is sponsored by the Department of Polit­i­cal Science.

Students will originate their own bills, get them on the agenda, prioritize them, take them through the committee process and finally to the floors of the House and Senate for passage. Participants will elect their own leadership.

Twenty awards will be given, including best representative and senator, best bill passed and best committee work. Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science) is coordinating the event.

BRITISH EDUCATOR TO SPEAK APRIL 9

British educator Dr. Frances M. Berenson from the University of London will speak at 3 p.m., Monday, April 9 in the Lower Commons. Dr. Berenson, who has lectured world-wide, will discuss the topic "Can We Understand the Art of Other Cultures?"

Later this year, she will address the UNESCO conference in Paris and will lecture at the University of Athens. Professor Berenson was for some years a concert pianist. She also has been an archaeologist, with much experience in digs in the Middle East, said
Dr. Paul Johnson (Philosophy), who has arranged the lecture.

Dr. Berenson was head of Stockdale College at the University of London and is now associated with Birkbeck College at the same University. She earned degrees from the Guild­

Free services include blood pressure, anemia, height and weight, audiometric, podiatric, dental, lung vital capacity, vision and sickle cell screening. For a $10 fee, participants may have a blood test which checks for 20 blood chemistries including cholesterol, diabetes, liver and kidney functions.

The purpose of the health fair is the early detection of abnormalities and the promotion of health awareness.

Bill House is the site coordinator and Joan McCandless is coordinator of medical personnel. Both are senior health sciences majors here. The fair, a one of a series throughout Southern California, is funded by Chevron, USA and is being promoted by KNBC. The School of Natural Sciences and Department of Health Sciences and Human Ecology have organized the Cal State event, which is sponsored by the Associated Students.

Ms. Pirelli has played throughout the United States and Europe and has given a series of piano recitals on PBS radio and television. An associate professor of music, she is in charge of the keyboard studies at SBVC.

Gates, principal clarinetist of the Riverside Symphony, was a member of the Mantagnano Trio, which performed in the United States and Europe, before coming to the University of Redlands.

Admission to the program is $3.50 general and $1.75 students.

Olga Carranza (SAIL) spoke to a group of Hispanic parents on "Building Self-esteem in Children" at the Peter Luque Center in Colton April 2.

Dr. Hal Hoverland (Business and Public Administration) moderated a panel of government officials on "Cooperation Between Local Government and Business Through Community Interaction" at the Business Town Hall meeting sponsored by Congressman George E. Brown March 30 at the Orange Show Restaurant.

The L.A. Moving'Van and Puppet Company will continue the Family Performance Series Friday, April 13 with "An Asian Fable: Tien Lee and the Fish of Gold and Other Stories," presented at 7:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

A combination of storytelling and puppetry will be used to tell three tales. The first is "Martians," in which a flying saucer crashes to earth and deposits its six aliens. In the second story, "Boxes," four explorers search for gold and jewels beyond their wildest dreams.

The third, "Tien Lee and the Fish of Gold," is based on the Chinese fable in which an old fisherman searches for a magic fish of gold.

Tickets, on sale in the Student Union between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, are $3 adult and $1.50 for children 14 and under. Tickets will also be available at the door.

The college has received a $1000 grant from the CSU Chancellor's Office to evaluate remedial services available for students who do not pass the entry-level mathematics test. Drs. Paul Vicknair and Dan Rinne (Mathematics) and Tom Pierce, acting associate dean for undergraduate studies, will conduct the study.

The ELM is a new requirement for students entering the CSU. Students must take the exam to demonstrate basic competence in mathematics. The college has little flexibility in waiving the exam.

Students who do not pass the exam may take a five-unit course, Mathematics 80, which is not counted toward graduation requirements, or a five-week ELM workshop offered by the Learning Center.

"By studying how students progress in remedial programs after initially failing the ELM, we will have an indication of their ability to pass the exam the second time and finish the general education math requirements," Dr. Pierce said.

More than 40 elementary, junior and senior high school bands, representing 1200 students, participated in a Southern California School Band and Orchestra Assn. festival March 28-30 in the Recital Hall.

The groups were evaluated by music specialists. Rankings were not awarded. The festival was coordinated by Bob Sperry, private music teacher and professional musician. Peter Fournier and Philip West of the Music Department coordinated the campus participation.
