Pierce Interim Head Of Social Sciences

Dr. Thomas J. Pierce, associate professor of economics and department chair, will become acting dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences Sept. 1, President Evans announced today.

He will fill the post vacated by the appointment of Dean Ward M. McAfee as acting vice president for academic affairs.

During the past two quarters, Dr. Pierce has served as acting associate dean of undergraduate studies. He has been chair of the Department of Economics since 1979, although was on leave from that responsibility while serving as acting dean.

An honors graduate of LaSalle College, Pierce earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in economics from the University of Notre Dame. He came to Cal State in 1976.

Construction Crews Have Busy Summer

The Cal State campus, already bulging at the seams, has undergone a variety of remodeling and reconstruction projects this summer to prepare for additional faculty and students.

Construction crews, both campus employees and off-campus contractors, have six projects in the works and will begin a seventh within two weeks.

Work on the roof of the Visual Arts Building is in its final stages and the building should be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the fall quarter, said James Urata, director of administrative affairs and plant operations. Crews are now working on the air conditioning and heating systems and a final "flood coat" of tar and gravel will be installed over the new pitched roof.

Construction of a 20-foot by 16-foot addition to the Bookstore is complete and grounds crews are finishing the surrounding landscape. The cinder block addition created an additional storage room.

To accommodate new faculty arriving this fall, 10 faculty offices are being built in a storage area in the Biology Building basement. The 110-square-foot offices are to be ready for occupancy by mid-October. Contractor for the $32,000 project is Bill Elliott Roofing/Construction of Beaumont.

Work has started on converting the kitchen/serving area in the Lower Commons into another dining area. The new construction, which includes reworking the walls, electrical fixtures and drains, should take about four weeks. The finished area will be carpeted.

The grounds department and other physical plant employees are landscaping the area between the Physical Education complex and the Pfau Library. The site has been graded and irrigation lines are being installed this week. The area will be seeded and grass is expected before winter. This is the final area to be landscaped within the academic core of the campus, Urata said.

The south end of the fifth floor of the Pfau Library is being converted to two temporary classrooms, with installation of modular partitions. The Faculty Senate, which has meet in this area for years, will relocate to the Lower Commons.

Elliott Roofing/Construction is the apparent low bidder at $16,989 on the construction of a training room in the Physical Education and Recreation Building. Bids were opened Wednesday and construction on the six-week project is expected to begin within two weeks. With the start of intercollegiate athletics this fall the department has added an athletic trainer.

Burgess, Patterson Receive Promotions

Michael Burgess and Pola Patterson, both associate librarians, will receive promotions to the rank of librarian effective Sept. 1.

Burgess, a member of the library staff since 1970, is on leave this academic year working on a book, the Analytical Congressional Directory. He has published 26 prior volumes. He earned his A.B. from Gonzaga University and his M.S. in L.S. from USC.

Mrs. Patterson came to the library as a bibliographer in 1978 and later was named head of Collection Development. She became head of Library Automation Services July 1. Her new responsibilities involve development of long-range automation programs which will include bringing the public access card catalog on computer. She also coordinates all present computer services including the on-line cataloging and reference databases and the automated circulation system.

For The Record

Dr. Ralph Petrucci, as second chair of the Division of Natural Sciences, was responsible for planning the design of the Physical Sciences Building, not Dr. Gerald Scherba. Dr.

Scherba, as dean of academic affairs, shepherded the design of the Biological Sciences Building.

Fall Extension Bulletins Here

Free bulletins with fall quarter course listings of the Office of Extended Education are available on campus. The bulletin lists more than 100 courses on topics ranging from the art of negotiating and teamwork dynamics to academic credit courses in education and other disciplines.

Courses will be offered on campus and in 12 communities in San Bernardino and Riverside counties. Bulletins are available at the Office of Extended Education, PL 500, and the Public Affairs Office, AD 117.

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

Khan, Price Reappointed As Department Chairs

Two faculty members have been reappointed chairs of their departments. Dr. Rauf Khan will head Accounting and Finance. Dr. Reg Price will oversee Physical Education and Recreation, in addition to his newest responsibilities as athletic director.

Dr. Khan, an expert in investments and financial management, came to Cal State in 1976. His previous teaching assignments include the University of New Mexico; New South Wales Institute of Technology in Sydney, Australia; University of Colorado; and Carroll College in Montana. His professional memberships include the Financial Management Assn., Midwest Finance Assn. and the Southwest Finance Assn.

He earned his B.S. in engineering from Montana State University, M.B.A. from the University of Montana and D.B. A. from the University of Colorado.

Dr. Price has been chair of the Physical Education and Recreation Department since his arrival on campus in 1978. He is the university's first athletic director and is implementing an intercollegiate sports program which begins in September. He assumed the half-time athletic director position in January.

His diverse background includes varied administrative experience, coaching duties and teaching. He earned his B.S. at MacMurray College, M.A. from The Ohio State University and Ed.D. from Oklahoma State University.

CSU Negotiations With CFA Recessed

Negotiations between The California State University and the union representing the faculty recessed Tuesday night without agreement after union negotiators turned down an offer, still outstanding, to implement faculty pay increases immediately and to continue the bargaining process on all other items.

According to Caesar J. Naples, vice chancellor, faculty and staff affairs, the CSU offer includes all the funds for faculty salary increases in the 1984-85 salary appropriation. The offer was made to allow salary increases to be implemented while bargaining over nonsalary items continued with the aid of a state-appointed mediator.

The CSU offer includes increased cost of insurance and:
Effective July 1, 1984:

8.35% across the board to all faculty; .15% for stipend for department chairs who would be placed in the bargaining unit; .5% for outstanding performance awards;

Effective Jan. 1, 1985:

1% across the board to all faculty; $1.9 million for salary supplement to faculty in the hard-to-hire disciplines.

Under this offer all department chairs would be placed in a bargaining unit and would receive a salary supplement of $1200-$1500 annually.

Outstanding performance awards, replacing exceptional merit service awards, would be reduced to $1000 annually, but the number would be increased. The process for identifying recipients would be negotiated with the union. Local faculty senates would be consulted on the standards and criteria.

The $1.9 million proposed for augmentation in hard-to-hire disciplines is an earmarked appropriation which cannot be spent in any other manner, Naples said.

Payday is Thursday, Aug. 30.

Congratulations

Congratulations are extended by the college community to Margaret and Dr. Richard Fehn (Biology) on the birth of their first child, Marcus Brenton, Aug. 6. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces.
