23 Faculty Members Receive Professional Development Grants

Twenty-three faculty members have been awarded grants to develop and/or continue research projects during the 1984-85 school year. The Faculty Professional Development

Awards are funded from the college's instructional budget.

Dr. J. C. Robinson, associate vice president for academic personnel, said the response for grants was overwhelming. "Nothing improves the morale of the faculty more than these grants," he explained. "It inspires them to do more professional work in their disciplines and students benefit in the knowledge acquired by the research." Robinson hopes to increase the amount of available funds for the program to $100,000.

Recipients of the grants include:

Dr. Frances F. Berdan (Anthropology) was awarded $1,964 in release time to research the textile traditions of Middle America from the earliest pre-hispanic archaeological depictions, through the colonial period to the present-day weaving of the more conservative Indian communities in Mexico and Guatemala.

Dr. Jim Charkins (Economics) received $1,000 for student assistant services to support development of a two-semester introductory economics textbook.

Dr. Margaret Cooney (Education) was awarded $100 to assist in the development of the curriculum for four new rehabilitation counseling courses and the bilingual rehabilitation counseling agencies in the San Bernardino/Riverside area.

Dr. Margaret Doane (English) will receive $1,964 in release time to make revisions and additions to a series of articles on Willa Cather so that she will be able to submit a completed manuscript to book publishers by the end of the 1984-85 academic year.

Dr. Richard Fehn (Biology) has been awarded $1,781 for supplies and student assistance to maintain an ongoing research program focusing on an explanation for the obesity associated with adult-onset diabetes mellitus.

Dr. Darlene Gamboa (Biology) received $3,804.40 to study neonatal and congenital syphilis through research into rabbits resistance to symptomatic infection following inoculation with Treponema pallidum, the etiological agent of syphilis. Her funds will be used for equipment, supplies and student assistants.

A $1,964 grant was awarded to Dr. Diane F. Halpern (Psychology) for release time to complete a book tentatively titled Sex Differences and Similarities in Cognitive Abilities.

Dr. Paul Heckert (Physics) received $3,864 in release time and travel to perform infrared observations on the 2.1-m telescope at Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, Arizona. From these studies, he can deduce the properties of the dust shells surrounding newly formed stars, the physical conditions near the newly formed stars, and ultimately new clues as to the process of star formation in general.

Fee Waiver Deadline For Winter Is Nov. 4

Employees interested in attending classes here under the fee waiver program for the winter quarter should submit their application forms to the Personnel Office by Nov. 4. The deadline for bargaining unit employees is Dec. 18.

Providing a partial waiver of fees for full-time and part-time permanent employees and for full-time probationary employees, the program is an excellent opportunity to enhance career goals or improve current skills, according to Carlos Marquez, personnel management specialist.

Employees can gain maximum benefits by receiving a total fee waiver for 5.9 units or less. Fully waived fees are: application fee, student service fee, identification card fee and instructionally related fee. Additional expenses include the following fees which are reduced to $1: Associated Students fee, Student Union fee and health facilities fee.

Further information and forms are available at the personnel office.

Thursday Music At Noon Features Tuning & Temperment

The Thursday Music at Noon Series Oct. 25 will focus on "Tuning and Temperment," by Howard Dexter. He will probe the history and theory of tuning through demonstrations, discussions and recordings to illustrate the differences between various types of keyboard instruments.

Dexter will be accompanied by Janet Coggins, who will play various instruments tuned in different temperments (the division of an octave depending on a period in history). Demonstrations will be performed on a computer, synthesizer, grand piano and harpsichord.

The Thursday Music At Noon series is held weekly in the Creative Arts Recital Hall.

Blood Drive Swells College Account Credit

A total of 79 pints of blood were contributed to the Blood Bank, and credited to the university's account, during the blood drive on campus Tuesday. Thirteen donations were deferred.

The response of the faculty and staff was praised by the Health Center, which arranged the drive. The 34 donations from employees was far greater than in the past. The Serrano Village house with the greatest participation was Badger, which took home the plaque for support of the blood drive.

The next on-campus drive will be in April 1985. However, anyone who missed this week's drive and is willing to contribute to the Cal State account may do so at the Blood Bank in San Bernardino at any time.

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

Official Fall Enrollment Stands At 5858 Students

Although it sounds repetitious, Cal State, San Bernardino set another record with its official fall quarter enrollment. The census day count shows 5858 students enrolled, for an increase of 7.4 percent over fall quarter 1983. The full-time equivalent, the basis for budgeting, stood at 4558 on census day, an 8.2 percent increase over the same quarter a year earlier.

For a short time, the campus broke the 6000-student barrier, with 6014 persons enrolled before the drop-period ended.

The San Bernardino campus is fortunate in its growth pattern, as a number of campuses and the CSU system are showing some drops this fall. The campus was above the target set last spring by Admissions in first time students, transfers and new graduate students. The most satisfying indicator was the 24 percent gain in students new to the campus, Dean of Students Peter Wilson indicated.

Alumni Trustee To Be Named Here Friday

The alumni trustee on the California State University Board of Trustees should be selected here Friday, Oct. 26 at the meeting of the Statewide Alumni Council.

The council, composed of two representatives from each of the 19 CSU campuses, has the responsibility of naming the person to be seated for a two-year term on the Board of Trustees. All other appointments are made by the governor with the confirmation of the state Senate.

The trustee interviewing committee of the council has narrowed the 16 applicants down to six persons to be interviewed during their session on campus Thursday. That committee will submit three names to the Statewide Alumni Council. Discussion and naming of the trustee is expected during the Friday afternoon meeting, which follows a luncheon hosted by President Evans. A portion of the meeting, held in the Lower Commons from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., will be closed.

During its Saturday morning session, Oct. 27, the council is expected to take stands on Proposition 36, the Jarvis tax initiative, and Proposition 37, the state lottery.

The San Bernardino campus representatives to the Statewide Council are John Kirwan, president of the Alumni Association, and Richard Bennecke, director of Alumni Affairs.

CSU Research Seminar To Be In Sacramento

The first of a series of "research seminars," in which the CSU campuses and various state agencies can discuss ways in which to assist each other, will be held Nov. 1 in Sacramento. Samuel Kushner, director of sponsored programs, will represent the San Bernardino campus at the meeting, which is sponsored by the CSU University Services Program in Sacramento. The campuses will have opportunities to describe their capabilities in assisting other agencies to meet their needs.

Immunization Reminder From Health Center

The Health Center still has vaccine available for the combination measles-mumps-rubella immunization. Individuals immunized before 1963 will need another dose, according to Dr. James Savage, director of the Health Center. The charge to faculty and staff is $5, which is paid at the Health Center. Individuals should be under age 40, not pregnant, not allergic to eggs or sensitive to neomycin, or not having AIDS.

Professional Activities

Dr. Ronald E. Barnes (Theatre Arts) chaired a session, "To Evaluate Past Festivals and Plan for Future Festivals," at the fall conference of the Southern California Educational Theatre Assn. Oct. 6 in San Diego. He also presided at a meeting of the Coordinating Council for the Arts and Humanities held Sept. 28 at a meeting of the California Alliance for Arts Education in San Francisco.

A paper by Dr. Vivien Bull and Dr. Mireille Rydell (both French) was accepted for the international meeting of the Society for Individualized Instruction Oct. 19 in Atlanta. The presentation, "Academic and Psychological Advantages of Regular Class Meetings in a Self-Paced Course," was accompanied by a filmed class session.

Dr. Stella Clark (Spanish) will present a paper, "Language and Revolution in the Contemporary Mexican Novel," at the XXXth annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies in Los Angeles Oct. 18-21.

Dr. Margaret Cooney (Education) has been appointed to the board of the National Rehabilitation Counseling Assn.

Dr. Adria Klein (Education) is the author of a handbook, "Readers Theatre: Scripts and Tips," published by the Foothill Council of the International Reading Assn. Tomorrow she will speak on the topic "Readers Theatre: Turning Texts into Scripts" at the fall conference of the Inland Empire Council of the International Reading Assn. at UC Riverside.

Jan Mrozinski (Art) was awarded "best in show" honors at the Redlands Art Assn.'s annual juried show.

Dr. Theron Pace (Services to Students with Disabilities) served as publicity chair and moderated a workshop session at the Oct. 11-13 convention of the California Assn. of Post-Secondary Educators of the Disabled (CAPED) in Ontario.

Dr. Aurora T. Payad will chair a panel on the topic, "Quality Circles in Local Government: Possibilities and Issues," at the Region X conference of the American Society for Public Administration/Western Government Regional Assn. Nov. 17 in Palm Springs.

Dr. Lee Porter (Extended Education) has an article, "Test Bias and the Adult Student," in the fall issue of The Journal of Continuing Higher Education. He also presented a paper on "Improving Advising Through Better Test Interpretation" at the National Conference on Academic Advising Oct. 16 in Philadelphia.

Dr. Jerrold Pritchard (Music, Academic Programs) appeared as guest soloist with the San Bernardino Valley College Community Band Oct. 14 in Perris Hill Park. The program, part of Parks and Receptions' Indian Summer Series, featured Dr. Pritchard's performance of Bruccialdi's Variations on "The Carnival of Venice." He will repeat the performance on campus Nov. 14 when the band presents a concert in the Recital Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. J. C. Robinson (History, Academic Personnel) will chair a session on "Popular Culture in Latin America" at the XXXth annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies Oct. 18-21 in Los Angeles.

Dr. Clifford Singh (Physical Education and Recreation) was elected president of the Inland chapter, Southern California Referee's Assn. for 1984-86.

Roberta Stathis-Ochoa (Academic Programs) will examine aspects of faculty productivity as a panelist at the annual meeting of the American Assn. of University Professors tomorrow at Loyola-Marymount University in Los Angeles.

Faculty Development Grants

Dr. Jorun B. Johns (Foreign Language) was awarded a grant totaling $2,122 to prepare a critical edition of the correspondence of Stefan Zweig and Felix Braun, two Australian writers who were forced into exile during the Hitler regime.

Dr. Brij B. Khare (Political Science) received $561 to study socialization cross-culturally, to explore the awareness youth have on societal norms, ethics and justice, and to test in other societies the research instruments developed in the United States.

Kathleen Lewicki (Theatre Arts) was awarded $1,994 for assigned time to work with teachers at the Roosevelt Elementary School to utilize the theatrical design process as a teaching tool in the elementary classroom. The culmination of the project in many cases will be a play performance where the scenes and costumes have been designed by the students.

A $2,075 grant was awarded to Dr. Larry McFatter (Music) to study music composition under William Kraft, composer in residence of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra and director of the New Music Group in Los Angeles. He then plans to produce original musical compositions for a variety of performing media.

Dr. Arthur A. Moorefield (Music) received $592.50 to enhance the musical material presented in general education classes with visual instructional aids. He will assemble equipment and create short films.

Johnnie Ann Ralph (Material Services) was awarded $300 to compile an annotated bibliography of the holdings of the Henry E. Huntington Library relating to San Bernardino city and county that will facilitate future study of San Bernardino's history by providing researchers ready access to pertinent materials.

Dr. James G. Rogers (Management) has received $773 to study the difficulty of communicating with people who think differently. His research will explore functional relationships between the four variables of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) and the independent variables of consensus-reaching time, group decision quality and affective responses of participants.

Dr. Richard H. Rowland (Geography) received $1,964 in release time to contribute to the co-authoring of a book on national and regional population growth in Russia and the USSR from the turn of the century to the present. Topics will include fertility, mortality, age and sex composition.

Dr. Mireille Rydell and Dr. Vivien Bull (Foreign Languages) have been awarded a $1,822 grant to gain expertise in the latest methods of teaching foreign languages and to develop a course manual to teach the methodologies of foreign language to students.

A $1,964 grant was awarded to Dr. John Sarli (Mathematics) for release time to support research on the geometric construction of the $2_{f_4}(q)$ family of Lie type groups.

Dr. Kent Schofield (History) received $1,964 in release time to complete a study on U.S. foreign policy in regard to food in the early years of the Cold War, which he began under an NEH seminar last summer.

Dr. Alexander Sokoloff (Biology) was given $1,936 for a student assistant to help complete a book, Genetic Variation in Tribolium, which will update descriptions of mutants in flour beetles.

Faculty Development Grants

Dr. James D. Thomas (Political Science) has received $1,000 to pay for the use of computer data bases to facilitate research for a book on U.S. Supreme Court decisions since 1937, which he will begin while on leave this year.

Dr. Lynda W. Warren (Psychology) will use her $1,014 grant for travel expenses to work on a project entitled "Self-Efficacy, Competence, and Stress-Resilience in Gifted Women." The objective of the project is to isolate factors which indicate difference between gifted women who achieve and those who do not.

Dr. Alvin Wolf (Teacher Education) received $1,164 for assigned time and clerical support to develop a curriculum titled "The Constitution: Its Meaning," consisting of materials, questions and activities, to teach the U.S. Constitution to gifted and talented high school students. Wolf will offer to teach the program in local high schools in fall 1985.

Community Service

Dr. Martha Kazlo (Counseling and Testing Center) presented a workshop "Asserting Yourself in Relationships," at the annual Women Supporting Women conference sponsored by the Riverside Mental Health Assn. and the YWCA Oct. 13 in Riverside.

Dr. Len Little (exchange professor in Public Administration) spoke to the Crestline Lions Club Oct. 1 on "Aspects of Australia."

Four representatives of the Theatre Arts Department presented three workshop sessions Oct. 11 at Ramona High School in Riverside. Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill and Dr. William Slout discussed acting. Robert Howell spoke on stage lighting and Jill Trinquier talked about stage makeup. More than 100 theatre students from Riverside area high schools attended.

Frank Lootens (Natural Sciences) was vice chair of the Unit 9 bargaining team. Libby Quinlan (Custodial Services) served as a resource person for the Unit 6 bargaining process.

Philip West (Music) will provide stage management and recording services for the Inland Empire Symphony for the 1984-85 season. He also will be production manager and a member of the Executive Board of the Arrowhead Opera Institute.

Noteworthy

Dr. Aurora T. Payad (Public Administration) will be included in the 14th edition of Who's Who of American Women.

Edna Steinman (Public Affairs) received a certificate for outstanding achievement and contributions to the community as demonstrated through professional and community involvement at an Oct. 12 luncheon for women in government sponsored by Mayor W. R. (Bob) Holcomb and Robert Hammock, chair of the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

Soccer At Home Tomorrow

With the exception of the soccer game on campus at 10 a.m. tomorrow against Southern California College, the three Coyote teams will be away tomorrow and next week. The soccer squad faces two games next week; women's volleyball has one game tonight and three next week; and cross country teams are away tomorrow and next Saturday.

AUW Campaign Sets $13,346 Goal For Campus

their area volunteers as soon as possible, but no later than Oct. 26.

With 20 percent of the campaign completed, the Cal State community has contributed approximately $2,600 to this year's AUW campaign. Campus community members are encouraged to return their contributions to

"I am confident that this year's AUW goal of $13,346 will be reached as the campus community comes together in support of this once-a-year community fund drive," said Richard Bennecke, AUW volunteer coordinator.
