Cal State To Host Theatre Festival

Educators and theatre professionals from throughout the state plus more than 3000 youngsters are expected for the 11th annual Theatre Festival for Young Audiences on campus April 12-14.

More than 20 performing groups, most professional, will entertain the youngsters and adults. Several favorites from the Family Performance Series of two years ago will be here. They include Judi Garrett, the Imagination Players and the Firebird Theatre. Campus organizations are invited to sponsor booths with food, games or activities for the visitors, said Dr. Ronald Barnes, Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill and Robert Howell (Theatre Arts). A variety of strolling musicians, dancers and performers will add to the color and festivity of the event, sponsored by the Southern California Educational Theatre Assn. and the San Bernardino and Riverside County Schools Offices.

Reservations already have been received for 1400 children from third through sixth grades in the San Bernardino County Schools for the April 14 performances. Special efforts are being made to bring handicapped children to the festival that day.

Tickets for the Saturday and Sunday performances, April 13-14, will go on sale March 18. Families are invited to bring their children for the weekend events. All performances are included in the one fee which is $2 for children, $3 for adults and $7.50 for a family. Scholarships are available.

Extension Bulletins Now Available

Free copies of the Extended Education Bulletin for spring quarter are now available in the Extended Education Office, PL 500 and the Public Affairs Office, AD 117.

More than 100 extension courses and programs will be offered during weekend and evening hours on campus and in surrounding communities. Courses offered include credit, noncredit and continuing education courses, special institutes, weekend workshops, conferences and contract programs.

For the adventurous, the physical education courses feature a Beginning Downhill Skiing class that includes one day in the classroom and six hours on the slopes. A three-day trip to the lower Grand Canyon will highlight the River Canoeing course. Designed for the beginner as well as the advanced canoeist, emphasis is on basic canoeing, strokes, paddling techniques and weight distribution.

For the health-oriented, Self-Hypnosis for Change will teach students to alter problem behavior through self-hypnosis. The course teaches the techniques of auto-suggestion, and self-hypnosis which can be applied to areas such as smoking cessation, weight control, insomnia, study habits and self-confidence.

For teachers who must contend with physical and emotional job stress and burnout, "The Turning Point" will discuss handling burnout and stress, creating holistic teaching/learning environment and taking charge of your emotions. Other courses will include computers, financial planning, business, mathematics, personal development, paralegal studies, real estate, Spanish and test preparation as well as programs for younger students.

Spring Fee Waiver
Deadline March 18

The deadline to submit application forms for the fee waiver program is Monday, March 18 for all employees. For information or application forms, contact Carlos Marquez in the Personnel Office.

CPR Training Offered To Campus Community

A CPR training course, available to all campus employees, will be held Saturday, March 9 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Commons.

Taught by Quentin Moses (Campus Police), the course will utilize the "module" approach to teaching CPR. This approach emphasizes more hands-on experience than class lecture time, said Moses. A San Bernardino Red Cross CPR instructor, Moses teaches at law enforcement academies and is trained in first aid.

Sign-ups will be held in the Student Union through Friday, March 8. A $4.30 fee includes class materials and a CPR certification card awarded upon completion of the course.

UCI Professor To Discuss Acting March 6

Aspiring actors and actresses can learn to prepare themselves to work professionally in the field of acting by attending an afternoon lecture Wednesday, March 6 in the Creative Arts Theatre.

Dr. Robert Cohen, professor and chair of drama at the University of California at Irvine, will discuss "Acting Professionally" from 4 to 5 p.m. An informal reception will follow.

According to Bob Howell (Theatre), anyone with a desire to act professionally will find the lecture informative. Further information may be obtained by calling the Theatre Arts Department, Ext. 7452.

Science Lecture To Be Held Today

Dr. Anderson J. Ward, academic vice president and provost, West Chester University, PA, will speak on "New Trends in the Law and Funding Resources Affecting the Health and Biological Sciences" from 3 to 4:30 p.m. this afternoon in BI 101.

Dr. Ward received a B.S. in biology in 1963 from Old Dominion University; an M.S. in 1967 and a Ph.D. in 1970 in medical microbiology from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences; and a J.D. in 1980 from the University of Arkansas, School of Law.

Further information may be obtained by calling the School of Natural Sciences, Ext. 7344.

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.
