Constitution Conference To Be April 8-10

8-10 in the Commons. The public is invited to attend two special evening presentations.

Nationally recognized scholars will examine the concept of equality as it has been debated and defined in three critical periods of American history, at a three-day conference Monday through Wednesday, April 8-10 in the Commons. The public is invited to attend two special evening presentations.

Part of a five-year series of events funded by the Office of the Bicentennial of the Constitution of the National Endowment for the Humanities, "Equality and the Constitution" is designed for secondary school teachers who teach about the U.S. Constitution.

Dr. Leonard Levy will keynote the conference by speaking on "Making the Constitution, 1776-1789," Monday at 8 p.m. in the Lower Commons. Dr. Levy is Andrew W. Mellon professor of humanities and chairman of the graduate faculty of history at Claremont Graduate School. His Origins of the Fifth Amendment: The Right Against Self-Incrimination was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for history in 1969.

Dr. Gerald Gunther will speak on "The Role of the U.S. Supreme Court in Setting Forth Constitutional Norms," Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Dr. Gunther is the William Nelson Cromwell professor of law at Stanford Law School. His Constitutional Law, 10th edition, is the book most widely used for teaching that course in American law schools.

For the teachers, the conference will begin Monday, April 8 at 9 a.m. with registration. From 9:45 a.m. to noon, participants will discuss "The Concept of Equality in the Founding Period." Dr. Ward McAfee (Academic Affairs), Harry V. Jaffa, professor of political philosophy at Claremont Graduate School; Gordon Wood, professor and chair of history at Brown University; and Susan Leeson, professor of political science and visiting professor of law at Willamette University, will head the session. Seminars for secondary teachers will follow each days' discussion from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

"The Concept of Equality in the Civil War and Reconstruction Periods" will be the topic Tuesday, April 9 from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Speakers will include Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science), Harold Hyman, the William P. Hobby professor of history at Rice University; Glen Thurow, professor and chair of the department of politics at the University of Dallas; and Stephan Markman, chief counsel of the U.S. Senate's Judiciary Subcommittee on the Constitution.

Dr. Elliott Barkan (History), Stephan Markman, Dr. Edward Erler (Political Science) and Susan Leeson will head the Wednesday, April 10 discussion of "The Concept of Equal Protection Today," from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Cal State received a $48,820 grant to sponsor the conference for 35 teachers from public and private high schools in San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

Reservations are requested by Monday, April 1. Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling Dr. James D. Thomas, the conference coordinator, Ext. 7939.

Handicapped Exhibit Art In Library

Pieces of art work made by handicapped children throughout the country will be on display in the Library Monday, April 8 through Sunday, April 14.

The fifth annual Very Special Art Exhibit, held yearly to encourage and increase art opportunities for individuals with handicaps, is sponsored by the San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools, the National Committee, Arts with the Handicapped, the East Valley Special Education Local Plan Area, and Cal State. Children represented in the exhibit range from preschoolers to high school students.

Arthur Nelson Celebrates 25 Years In The CSU

Arthur Nelson (Library) will complete his 22nd year at this campus April 1 and last September celebrated his 25th year in the Cal State University system.

Nelson is the senior director of libraries in the CSU system and was the youngest university director ever appointed at a CSU. Nelson joined the staff at Cal State, Hayward in September, 1959.

"We have approximately 32 permanent staff in the library and 15 have been here over 10 years," said Marty Bloomberg.

CSU Board Member Dies

John F. Crowley, 61, a member of the CSU Board of Trustees since 1978, died Sunday, March 17 in Shanghai, China. Crowley was secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Labor Council, had served as a member of three Trustees' committees and as 1981-83 chair of the board's Committee on Campus Planning, Buildings and Grounds. Crowley was also active in the San Francisco Public Schools Commission, the Coastal Area Minority Committee and the Committee for Equal Opportunity and Apprenticeship and Training for Minority Groups. He is survived by his wife, Geraldine, and six children.

Summer Extension Bulletins Here

Get a taste of summer by planning now for summer classes and extension courses. Free copies of the Extended Education Bulletin for summer are now available in the Extended Education Office, PL 500 and the Public Affairs Office, AD 117.

Five sessions will be offered this summer to provide regular and non-matriculated students a chance to pursue undergraduate or graduate study in most of the university's academic majors and professional programs. They begin June 18 and end Aug. 30.

Extension courses will be offered evening and weekend hours on campus and in eight surrounding communities. Courses in fields such as education, computers, health, personal development, recreation and real estate will provide students with a wide variety of subjects to enhance a career or to simply provide enjoyment.

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

Composer To Discuss Publishing April 4

A composer regarded as an innovator in educational music will speak to faculty, staff and students Thursday, April 4 from noon to 1 p.m. in the Recital Hall.

Dr. Sandy Feldstein, an award-winning composer and executive vice president and director of education for Alfred Publishing Co., Inc. in Sherman Oaks, will discuss the publishing industry, composing and arranging, and job opportunities.

Dr. Feldstein has earned several degrees including a doctorate from Columbia University. His teaching experience encompasses six years as professor of music education at the Crane School of Music as well as guest lecturer and clinician at universities and music conventions throughout the country.

Verbally Charged Images
To Open Monday, April 8

A traveling exhibition of 53 works of art by 15 contemporary artists will open Monday, April 8 with a reception from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Art Gallery.

"Verbally Charged Images," a collection of paintings, drawings, photographs, collages and three-dimensional installations, utilizes text to reinforce the visual images. The artists use the words to surprise viewers by reversing their initial impressions of the pictures.

Nina Felshin, guest curator, is a freelance curator in New York who has published extensively on a wide variety of topics in contemporary art. Among works exhibited will be a 4 by 5 inch black and white photograph of Albert Einstein's home, a 36 by 48 inch and a 36 by 36 inch oil on canvas depicting flat rectangular planes of color, a series of six panels of black and white disaster photographs, and a variety of collages and installations using common and abstract objects. "Verbally Charged Images" was organized by Independent Curators, Incorporated, in New York, a non-profit traveling exhibition service specializing in contemporary art.

The Art Gallery is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The exhibit will close Friday, May 10.

Cheerleader Tryouts
To Begin Monday, April 15

Workshops for students interested in becoming a 1985-86 Coyote cheerleader or yell leader will be held April 1 through April 11, Mondays and Wednesdays from 3 to 5 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 8 p.m. Tryouts, open to men and women, will be held Monday, April 15 at 7:30 p.m.

According to Ellen Kowalski (Physical Education), mandatory cheers, jumps and dance routines will be taught at the workshops. A cheer or yell leader must have a GPA of 2.0, must have attended at least one quarter at Cal State, and must be a full-time undergraduate student. Applications are available in the P.E. Office.

Workshops and tryouts will be held in the large gymnasium. Spectators are welcome to watch.

Professional Activities

Dr. Louise Burton (Education) discussed the universities' role in working with community agencies to insure proper, consistent training of professionals at the Inland Counties Developmental Disabilities Services' Case Manager ICSM training program, March 7 in San Bernardino.

Dr. Hal Hoverland (Administration) was one of four panelists who debated the need for a proposed fifth year of accounting to take the CPA examination at the California Society of CPA's Board of Directors' meeting at Yosemite, March 22.

Five physical education faculty members participated in the California Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance's annual state conference, March 15-17 in Oakland. Dr. Chris Grenfell gave a presentation titled "Alpine Skiing--Teaching and Organizing the Physical Education Course." Dr. Greg Price spoke on "Teaching Golf Indoors" and Dr. Reginald Price discussed "A Brief Look at Physical Education and Sport in China." Ellen Kowalski and Dr. Clifford Singh presided over sessions.

Community Service

Dr. Brij B. Khare (Political Science) spoke to a class at Hyatt Elementary School in San Jacinto March 25 on the family life and religions of India.

Dr. Walter T. Stewart (Marketing and Management) spoke March 13 at a luncheon meeting of the Crestline-Lake Gregory Rotary Club on "Computers Invading Business."

Newsworthy

Dr. Richard T. Ackley (National Security Studies) discussed deployment of the MX missile on Lee Carreck's WROQ Chicago talk show and the new Soviet leadership on Greg Gack's KPRO talk show in San Bernardino, both on March 11.

Dr. Elliott Barkan (History) was recently reappointed as Hillel coordinator for Jewish students on this campus, the University of California at Riverside and the University of Redlands.

Philip West (Music) has been retained as an audio-system consultant for Indian Wells Country Club.

Student Wins Fellowship

A political science senior will participate in a 10-week study program in Washington, D.C. this summer. Heather Seyden, Lake Arrowhead, was awarded the Johnson Fellowship, a grant with a stipend that allows students to gain work experience in Washington, D.C. The annual grant is based on writing and scholastic ability, recommendations from professors, and an interest in public service and government.

Seyden is currently completing an internship in Congressman Jerry Lewis' San Bernardino office and will continue to work with the congressman while in Washington.

She is a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, a political science honor society, and has been on the university's Instructionally Related Programs (IRP) Board for the past two years. After receiving her B.A. degree, she plans to continue her studies in international relations.
