Theatre Festival To Be Saturday, Sunday, April 13-14

Twenty professional and school theatre troupes will entertain children and their parents at the Theatre Festival for Young Audiences, Saturday and Sunday, April 13-14.

Strolling musicians, mimes, clowns, jugglers, magicians and dancers also will perform on a rotating basis in the Creative Arts Building and on the lawns surrounding the building from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday.

Returning to the campus will be several favorites from the former Family Performance Series, which played to packed houses. They include the Firebird Theatre, We Tell Stories and Judi Garratt, mime. Other professional groups appearing will include the Improvisational Theatre Project from the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles, the South Coast Repertory Theatre, the Orange County Opera, the 12th Night Repertory Co. from Los Angeles and Little Broadway Productions.

Groups coming from San Diego include David Novak, a storyteller, and the Patio Playhouse Youtheatre. Universities represented with theatre troupes are Cal State, Fullerton; Cal State, Los Angeles; United States International University and Cal State, San Bernardino.

Breakdancing will be performed by a Webster Junior High group from Los Angeles. The John Glenn High School touring theatre from Norwalk will do "Cinderella."

Adding variety to the activities will be Ron Murray of Redlands, bagpipes; the Trinity Dance ensemble, Clabe Hangan and Music Americana, the University of California, Riverside Folk Dance Club, the Sweet Adelines of San Bernardino, the Sunshine Generations from San Bernardino, the Butterfield Country Cloggers, Kelly Duro, clown; Joe Danhan, juggler; and two square dance groups, the Cloverleafs and the Highlanders.

In addition, hands-on participation workshops in creative dramatics, theatre games, mime and other areas also will be offered. Campus clubs and community organizations will run concessions, with foods, souvenirs, crafts and games of skill.

The 11th annual festival, hosted by the Theatre Arts Department, is sponsored by the Southern California Theatre Association, the Superintendents of Schools of San Bernardino and Riverside counties and the San Bernardino City Fine Arts Council. Dr. Ronald E. Barnes (Theatre Arts) and Joy Murphy, director of finance and support services for the Inland Empire Nursing Association, co-chair the festival planning committee. Other Theatre Arts personnel involved include Bob Howell, production manager; Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill, secretary of the committee; Joanna Koon, accounts receivable clerk. Committee members from other areas are Dr. Ernest Garcia (Education), Jo Ann Hartzog (Services to Students with Disabilities), Walter Hawkins (EOP), and Edna Steinman (Public Affairs).

Tickets, $2 for children and $3 adults, are available in advance in the Theatre Arts Department or at the festival. A special family rate of $7.50 includes two adults and all the children in the family. Admission fees admit children and adults to the campus for the entire day. All performances are included in the admission price. Further information may be obtained by calling the Theatre Arts Department, Ext. 7452.
Round Table Discussion
To Be Thursday, April 11

Dr. Renate Nummela (Education) will speak on "Current Research on the Human Brain: Implications for Teaching and Learning" at a round table discussion Thursday, April 11 from noon to 1 p.m. in Student Union Rooms A and B.

Dr. Fred Newton (Psychology) and Dr. Tennes Rosengren from the Alvord Unified School District will also participate.

Future round tables will include: "Northern Ireland: The Orange and Green Battleground," April 30 with Dr. Michael Clarke (Public Administration), Dr. Robert Blackey (History), and Angus Mackay from the British Consulate General; "Central America: The Roots of Revolution," May 9 with Dr. Mayo Toruno (Economics), Dr. Tom Meisenhelder (Sociology), and Marjorie Bray from Cal State, Los Angeles; "Education and the Seeds of Social Change: Clash Between the Black and Suffragette Movements," May 29, with Dr. Roberta Stathis-Ochoa (Academic Programs) and Linda Perkins from the Claremont University Center.

Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend this informal noontime series. Further information may be obtained by calling Joanna Roche (Special Events), Ext. 7405.

Exercise Encouraged
At P.E. Open House

The campus community is invited to attend the Physical Education Open House, Sunday, April 14, from 1 to 5 p.m. in the P.E. Building.

Organized as part of National Recreational Sports Week, April 14-20, the Open House will enable the public to use P.E. facilities at no charge. "We want to encourage everybody to start getting into the habit of doing something about exercise," explained Joe Long (Physical Education). "We're encouraging the public not to come by to look, but to come by and do something."

Four student assistants will be on hand to answer questions and provide assistance. The public is invited.

New System Newspaper Expected Next Week

A new newspaper, titled "Stateline," will be published by the Chancellor's Office for the 38,000 employees of the system. The first issue is expected on campus next week and will be distributed in somewhat the same manner as the Friday Bulletin.

The publication, published on alternate weeks initially, will contain stories and pictures to showcase the campus programs and persons throughout the system, explained Roger P. Kuhn, acting public affairs director in the Chancellor's Office.
Trustee Lee Grissom To Visit April 15

Lee Grissom, the recently appointed alumni trustee, will make his first official visit to the university Monday afternoon, April 15.

Grissom, who joined the CSU Board of Trustees last October, was first on campus Oct. 26 when he was being interviewed by the Statewide Alumni Council, which selects the alumni trustee. In his two-year term, which began in January after he completed the remainder of the term of the late John O'Connell, Grissom represents the more than 1.8 million alumni of the CSU system.

Grissom is the president and chief operating officer of the 3000-member Greater San Diego Chamber of Commerce, a position he has held for the past 10 years. He earned his B.A. in public administration and his master of city planning degree from San Diego State University. He has been extensively involved in the San Diego community and has received numerous honors and commendations for his service. The U.S. Jaycees named him one of the 10 outstanding men in America in 1978. He was selected as one of the five outstanding young men in California the prior year.

After meeting with President Evans, Grissom will have lunch with the Cal State Alumni Association Board of Directors and representatives of Chambers of Commerce from San Bernardino and Riverside counties. He will meet at 2 p.m. with the Administrative Council and the Council of Academic Deans. A meeting at 3 p.m. in the Lower Commons is open to all faculty, said Dr. Judith Rymer (Executive Dean).

Greg Price Named First Golf Coach

Dr. Gregory Price will launch the university's first intercollegiate golf program next year. His appointment as golf coach was announced this week by Athletic Director Reg Price.

Greg Price, professor of physical education and recreation here since 1971, is one of the top golfers in the area. He is a former club champion at El Rancho Verde Country Club and has an extensive background in teaching golf. During the past four summers he was co-director of Junior Golf clinics at El Rancho Verde. He is a member of the Academy of Golf Instructors, the United States Golf Association, the Southern California Golf Association. He is a resource consultant for the National Golf Foundation and has made numerous presentations on golf to state and national organizations.

Coach Price expressed pleasure at having the opportunity to establish the first Coyote golf program. "Launching the program will be a challenge, but one I'm looking forward to. I think we can establish a good golf program at Cal State. It will take work, but I'm not opposed to that. There are fine golfers in the area who, I hope, will come to Cal State and participate in our program.

Dr. Price received his B.S. in physical education from Fort Hays State College in Kansas, his M.S. in recreation administration from Cal State, Long Beach and his Ed.D. from Brigham Young University.

Women's Basketball Coach Resigns

Gale Fitzgerald, the first women's basketball coach here, has resigned her coaching position for personal reasons.

"I have family obligations out of state that require my attention," said the former track and field Olympian. "I enjoyed working at Cal State this past year and having the opportunity to be one of the founding coaches." Athletic Director Reg Price, who expressed regret at her leaving, said a search will begin immediately for a replacement.
Seder Reservations Are Due Today

Reservations for a Passover celebration featuring traditional holiday foods must be made by 3 p.m. today in the Activities Office, Ext. 7407.

Rabbi Hillel Cohn of Temple Emanu El in San Bernardino will conduct a Model Seder Monday, April 8 in observance of the Passover holiday. Sponsored by the Shalom Club/Hillel, the celebration will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the SUMP. The $1 fee may be paid at the door, said Dr. Elliott Barkan (History).

Cal State 'MASH' Unit Holds Blood Drive

Colonel Savage, Hot Lips Ljunggren and Major Miller invite faculty, staff and students to the first "MASH" Blood Drive Tuesday, April 9.

Come and see what a "MASH" unit might have looked like, and while you're there, help keep the Cal State Blood Reserve Fund alive by donating a pint of blood. Staff members in the Headquarters Division have announced that all potential donors are authorized up to one hour's paid release time for donating blood.

Sponsored by the Health Center and ROTC, the blood drive will be held from 1000 to 1500 hours in the Health Center. (That's from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., for civilians!)

Spring Carnival To Be Saturday

Ms. E. Bunny's egg hunt and a variety of games and activities will entertain children at the second annual Spring Carnival Saturday, April 6 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Children of students, staff, faculty, alumni and friends are welcome to participate. Participants should bring their own egg-gathering basket and be prepared for a visit from a life-size bunny, said Pam Dortch (Children's Center).

Sponsored by the Children's Center, the Intramural Department and the Children's Center Auxiliary Association, the activities will be held behind the Children's Center near the Student Services Building.

Special Events Proposal Deadline Is April 12

The Special Events Committee is accepting proposals through Friday, April 12 for events to be held during the spring quarter. Fund request forms are available at the Associated Students Office or from Joanna Roche (Special Events) in Housing. Faculty and staff also are encouraged to provide suggestions for next year's events. Proposals for fall events should be submitted by May 24. For proposal guidelines and information, contact Ms. Roche, Ext. 7405.

Pep Club To Sell Bandanas Thursday

The Pep Club will sell bandanas Thursday, April 11 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of the Library. The cost is $4.50. Following the sale, the blue and brown "Coyote" bandanas will be sold in the Book Store. Proceeds from the Pep Club sale will be used to pay for the cheerleaders expenses, said Ellen Kowalski (Physical Education).
Faculty Members Preside six faculty members will preside at sessions of the "Equality and the Constitution" conference on the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution Monday through Wednesday.

Introducing keynote speakers at the evening public lectures will be Dr. Thomas J. Pierce (Social and Behavioral Sciences) and Dr. Frances Coles (Criminal Justice). Dr. Pierce will introduce Dr. Leonard Levy, the Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Humanities and chairmain, Graduate Faculty of History, Claremont Graduate School, Monday evening when he discusses "Making the Constitution" at 8 p.m. in the Commons. Dr. Coles will present Professor Gerald Gunther, the William Nelson Cromwell Professor of Law, Stanford Law School, for his talk on "The Role of the U.S. Supreme Court in Setting Forth Constitutional Norms," at 8 p.m. Tuesday, in the Recital Hall.

Three faculty members will chair morning sessions. Dr. Ward McAfee (Academic Affairs) will chair "The Concept of Equality in the Founding Period" Monday. "The Concept of Equality in the Civil War and Reconstruction Periods" on Tuesday will be chaired by Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science). "The Concept of Equal Protection Today" on Wednesday will be chaired by Dr. Elliott Barkan (History). Faculty, students and the public are invited to the morning sessions, all held in the Lower Commons. The Monday session begins at 9 a.m., while Tuesday and Wednesday have 9:30 a.m. starting hours. All conclude at noon.

Nominations Sought Faculty, staff and students are invited to submit nominations for four annual awards presented by the Uni Phi Club.

The Anita Hallberg Award will be given to a disabled student who, because of or in spite of a physical inconvenience, has been able to achieve educational goals and who has integrated into and contributed socially to the campus community. The Barbara Sovereign Award will be given to a disabled student whose creativity and leadership has produced unifying interaction and awareness between disabled students and the campus community.

Staff, students and faculty members will be eligible for the Frank Lootens Award which will be based on technical and/or attitudinal supportive assistance given to disabled students minimizing the educational, physical and interpersonal barriers, encouraging mainstreaming.

The Dr. Fred Kellers Award will be given to a faculty member who has appropriately adapted and modified teaching techniques and materials in the classroom situation to promote and equalize educational opportunity.

Nominations should be submitted to the Services to Students with Disabilities Office, PL 107, by Thursday, April 18, said Laura Bryant, club president.

Four Tennis Matches Coyote tennis squads face three home matches and one away date next week. The men open the week, hosting St. John's College from Minnesota at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday. Wednesday both the men's and women's teams entertain UC Riverside here at 2:30 p.m. The women travel to Pomona Saturday, April 13 for a 1 p.m. match with Pomona-Pitzer. The men have a 9-6 season record to date. The women's squad, which has been short two players the last several matches, now stands at 3-10.
Professional Activities

Michael Burgess (Library) has published his 31st book, The Work of Julian May: An Annotated Bibliography and Guide, the third volume in the series "Bibliographies of Modern Authors."

A paper by Dr. Dan Rinne (Mathematics), "Typical Bounded Functions in the Zahorski Classes II," was recently published in the Real Analysis Exchange.

Bill Warehall (Art) presented a seminar on glass and ceramics at Virginia Commonwealth University March 18.

The latest book by Dr. Edward M. White (English), Teaching and Assessing Writing, has been published by Jossey-Bass, Inc., of San Francisco and is available in the Bookstore. Designed for classroom teachers of writing, the book explores recent advances in understanding, evaluating and improving student performances. A reviewer described the work as a "wonderful joining of theory and practice..." Dr. White is the former director of the CSU English Equivalency Examination and former coordinator of the system's writing improvement program.

Four faculty members participated in the Western Academy of Management meeting in San Diego, March 29. They included Dr. Hal Hoverland (Administration) who chaired a session, "The Future of Management Education;" Dr. Tapie Rohm (Marketing and Management), Dr. Terry Manyak (Management), and Dr. Hoverland who presented papers at the session; and Dr. Walter Stewart (Marketing and Management) who presented a paper for Dr. Patrick McInturff (Management).
