Dr. Atwell Selected as Outstanding Professor

Dr. Margaret (Peggy) Atwell, associate professor of education and chair of the Department of Graduate Programs in education, is the San Bernardino campus’ outstanding professor for 1986-87.

Chosen by the Outstanding Professor Selection Committee composed of faculty, students and alumni, Dr. Atwell will represent the university in the CSU-wide competition sponsored by the Board of Trustees. Two outstanding professors are named each year for the system from among the campus nominees. The primary criterion used in selection of the outstanding faculty member is teaching.

In extending his congratulations, President Anthony H. Evans said, "This is an extraordinary honor, especially to come to you so early in your career. You will represent us superbly."

A specialist in reading and psycholinguistics, Dr. Atwell joined the Cal State faculty in 1981, after completing her Ed.D. at Indiana University. One of her primary research areas, the interrelationship between reading and writing, combines her early interests in writing (including a B.A. in journalism) with her doctoral specialization in reading. Stemming from her high school teaching, she has an interest in adolescent literature. At Indiana U., she was assistant director of the Learning Skills Center and worked with college students.

On this campus, she found great satisfaction in conducting two seminars, through Student Affirmative Action, for returning women students, who needed assistance in getting themselves "organized for the complicated kind of learning which occurs in college," she noted. Dr. Atwell was directly involved in expanding the reading clinic for public school students which is conducted as a practicum for M.A. students in the reading option. She taught the class in which the clinic is conducted every year until this one, when other responsibilities became too great.

The reading option in education has a relatively small faculty, which has enabled her to get better acquainted with students and to see them progress through the program. This, for her, has been an important aspect of her teaching. Dr. Atwell, now in her second year as chair of one of the two departments in the School of Education, also has received faculty professional development grants to pursue her research.

Dr. Atwell has published numerous articles in professional journals and co-edited one book, "Mainstreaming the Special Children and the Reading Process" and authored another, "Learning in College: Integrating Information," which is being reprinted currently.

Homecoming to be Celebrated Jan. 13-17

Homecoming 1987, open to the entire campus community, will include a variety of events ranging from basketball to a food festival, lectures and a dance. Events begin Tuesday, Jan. 13 and run through Saturday, Jan. 17.

A highlight of the week will be a free basketball clinic with Cheryl Miller, three-time Player of the Year at USC and a member of the 1984 U.S. Olympics gold-medal women's basketball team. Miller, who has recently signed a contract as an ABC-TV sports commentator, will demonstrate several plays and will be seen in a 1986 film. The clinic will be from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 16 in the gymnasium.

Spurred on by the Thursday evening pep rally, the women Coyotes will meet LaVerne at 7:30 p.m., Friday and the men host the Claremont Colleges at 7:30 p.m., Saturday. The Homecoming schedule appears on Page 2 of the Bulletin.
Homecoming Schedule

The week of Homecoming activities, designed to bring alumni back to campus to enjoy a variety of activities with students, faculty and staff, includes the following:

Tuesday, Jan. 13  Lecture, "Market Potential for the Business Grad," by two alumnae, Linda Lingo from Ernst and Whinney, and Linda Mitchell, Gate City Beverage, 12 noon, Eucalyptus Room, Commons.

Thursday, Jan. 15  Pep rally, 7:30-8:30 p.m., gymnasium.

Friday, Jan. 16  Club festival, 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Student Union.
  Basketball clinic with Cheryl Miller, 4:30-6:30 p.m., Gymnasium.
  Women's basketball game, Coyotes vs. LaVerne, 7:30 p.m., Gymnasium.

Saturday, Jan. 17  Homecoming food festival, sponsored by the Cal State Associates, 5-7 p.m., Student Union.
  Men's basketball game, Coyotes vs. Claremont, 7:30 p.m., Gymnasium.
  Homecoming dance, sponsored by Greek Council, 9:30 p.m.-1 a.m., Commons.

Campus organizations which will sponsor booths in the food festival include the Black Staff and Faculty Association, Bookstore, Children's Center, Hispanic Staff and Faculty Association, International Students Association, National Security Studies and the Alumni Association.

Reservations for the food festival should be made with the Alumni Office, Ext. 7811, by Thursday, Jan. 15. Tickets will be sold at the door for the various food booths. Admission to the basketball games for alumni, faculty and staff (with identification) is $1. They are free to Cal State, San Bernardino students. General admission is $2. Further information on Homecoming is available from the Alumni Office.

Robert Lohnes
Retired Dec. 24

Robert Lohnes, assistant director of plant operations, received an unusual Christmas present on Dec. 24—retirement, after 19 years of service on the Cal State, San Bernardino campus.

It was not his 32 years of dedicated service to the state which brought Lohnes national fame—instead, it was the campus' over-abundance of rabbits which caused him to be pictured and quoted on Los Angeles television. He received telephone interviews from as far as Colorado and Alaska when the story reached the networks and the wire services. Other "outstanding" memories he has of his seven years as assistant director of plant operations include the episode with the rat which chewed through a major electrical cable and plunged the campus into darkness and the Panorama fire, when he loaded valuable papers and plans into his car to personally carry them to safety. While the Plant Operations headquarters was spared, the adjoining Shipping and Receiving Warehouse was leveled by the fire.

After his pending knee surgery, Lohnes plans to devote time to his work in the Gem and Mineral Society (he is a past president), to construction of his mountain home in Running Springs and management of apartments in Yucaipa.
Campus Under Spending Freeze

As a result of Gov. Deukmejian's plan for reducing state expenditures by two percent, the CSU has imposed a hiring and spending freeze pending development of a systemwide expenditure reduction proposal.

Because the proposed reduction affects the last half of the year, the actual cut in CSU and campus budgets is four percent. Until budget revisions are completed, the Chancellor's Office has placed a moratorium on the appointment of personnel and the expenditures of General Fund (state) money. The only exception is if classes would have to be cancelled because of missing supplies or personnel.

The San Bernardino campus is slated for a budget cut of $580,675, from its $29 million budget for the year. Leonard Farwell, vice president for administration and finance, said the campus expects to know more about the freeze by Jan. 15.

Walter Hawkins, EOP, Is Educational Policy Fellow

Walter Hawkins, director of the Educational Opportunity Program, is participating in the 1986-87 Education Policy Fellowship Program for California. The program is designed to provide rising leaders with exposure to current public policy leaders in seminars and in action.

Hawkins attended a seminar in Washington, D.C., in November and will participate in a major leadership forum in Minneapolis April 22-25. The fellowship program is sponsored by The Institute for Educational Leadership, Inc. The California site is headquartered at Cal State, Fullerton.

Hawkins has been employed at Cal State, San Bernardino since 1974. For his first nine months, he served both as Upward Bound director and as EOP director. Then he moved into directing the Educational Opportunity Program full time.

Dr. Blackey to Give Outstanding Prof Lecture

Dr. Robert Blackey, professor of history, will discuss "Witchcraft: History and Perspective" Jan. 20 in the Outstanding Professor Lecture Series. The free lecture, open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. in the lower Commons.

Dr. Blackey was the campus' outstanding professor in 1983-84. The series of talks by the campus' past honorees is sponsored by the Intellectual Life Committee.

Andy Warhol Work In Art Gallery Show

The work of contemporary expressionist artists, including Andy Warhol, will be in the exhibit opening in the Art Gallery Thursday, Jan. 15. The campus community is invited to a reception from 5 to 7 p.m. which will open the show, titled "Point of View," said John Nova, gallery director.

Assembled from the collection of Los Angeles graphic designer Jeffrey Kerns, the show includes paintings, photographs and prints, including six silk screens by Warhol. At 3 p.m., prior to the reception, Kerns and Michael Kohn, a colleague, will discuss putting together "museum quality collections" on a limited budget. The public lecture will be in VA 110.

The show, which closes here Feb. 12, will also be seen in university galleries at Sonoma State University and Western Washington University.
Martin Luther King
Program to be Jan. 15

Because Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday will be observed as a legal holiday by the university, the campus observance will be an hour-long program at noon, Thursday, Jan. 15 in the Recital Hall.

Contemporary gospel music by the award-winning choir, "Another Peace," from Loma Linda University and a keynote speech, "I Need a Friend," will highlight the program. The speaker will be Frank Wilson of Los Angeles, organizer and president of the Black American Response to the African Community (BARAC). Formed in 1984, BARAC is a national coalition of clergy, business people, health professionals and community leaders working to raise funds for victims of African droughts and famines.

Youngsters from the university's Children's Center will close the program by singing "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing." Dr. Michael Grant (Education) will be master of ceremonies.

The program is sponsored by the Black Student Union, the Black Faculty and Staff Association and the Undergraduate Studies Office.

Chinese Students Plan
New Year's Celebration

The Chinese Student Association is planning an elaborate Chinese New Year's celebration Friday, Jan. 30. The event is open to the entire campus community and tickets will go on sale Monday, Jan. 12 at the Student Union desk.

The celebration consists of two parts, entertainment and a buffet. The entertainment, which begins at 6 p.m. in the Student Union, will include the Lion Dance, Limbo Dance, traditional customs in celebrating new year's, bingo, puppet show and fashion show depicting various Chinese dynasties. The buffet will be served in the lower Commons at 7:45 p.m. Tickets for entertainment and the buffet are $6 for adults and $3 for children under age 10.

Members of the association who are responsible for various tasks include Kenny Yang, coordinator; K. S. Chao, entertainment; Eko Tjoek, decorations; and Daniel Wong, food.

High School-University
Spring Deadline Near

The High School-University Program enables high school juniors and seniors, with B or higher averages, to begin their college education before leaving high school, explains Marina Kyritsis, coordinator, in reminding faculty and staff with eligible children that the deadline for spring quarter applications is Jan. 21.

For reduced registration fees of $4 per quarter, the special students receive all regular services and earn credits applicable toward their college education, here or elsewhere. An orientation meeting is scheduled each quarter to provide an overview of the program for newcomers. Details on the program are available from Ms. Kyritses, Ext. 7897.

Kaplan to Discuss
Spiritualism in Art

Dr. Julius Kaplan, art historian, will present a lecture on "Spiritualism in Art," Thursday, Jan. 22, to aid viewers to understand better the current show at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. The lecture, sponsored by the Art Department and open to the public, will begin at 3 p.m. in VA 110.

Dr. Kaplan, professor of art and associate dean of graduate programs here, has been a frequent lecturer at the museum. The show, which he will discuss, is "The Spiritual in Art: Abstract Painting 1890-1985."
Marcia Albert is New Retention Coordinator

Marcia Albert, a doctoral candidate in the Claremont Graduate School, is the new retention coordinator in the Undergraduate Studies Office, announced Dr. Diane Halpern, interim dean.

Ms. Albert has three major focuses in the position, which was created this year. Her efforts will be directed toward enforcing the English Placement Examination (EPT) and Elementary Math Examination (ELM) regulations, developing a stop-out program for students who leave the university temporarily, and analyzing attrition-retention data to secure a better understanding of why students stay and why they leave.

She will be visiting classes and is eager to meet with students. Faculty advisors wishing assistance with the ELM and EPT regulations are invited to call her at the Advising Center.

Ms. Albert has a background in career counseling and has worked with reentry women students, senior citizens and immigrants during her six years with the Los Angeles Community College District and in her last position with the city of West Hollywood. She earned a B.A. in sociology from Cal State, Northridge, an M.A. in educational counseling from Cal State, Los Angeles and expects her Ph.D. in education from Claremont this spring.

Senate Fellowships Applicants Sought

Applications are now being accepted from university students interested in participating in the California State Senate and Assembly Fellowships Programs, announced Dr. Carol Goss (Political Science).

Applications for the Assembly Fellowship Program, including letters of recommendation and transcripts, must be submitted by Feb. 20. The filing deadline for the Senate Fellowships is Feb. 22. Cal State, San Bernardino has had two students participating in the Assembly fellowships, Dr. Goss said.

Fellows are assigned to the personal or staff committees of legislators and receive graduate credit (12 units) from Cal State, Sacramento. Stipends for the students are $1300 and $1500 a month. Additional information is available from Dr. Goss, AD 168, Ext. 7276.

Extended Education Names Associate, Assistant Deans

Two administrators in Extended Education have new titles which are reflective of the increased responsibilities and scope of operations in the office, Dean Lee Porter announced.

Keith Johnson is now associate dean and Jan Ropp-Jackson is assistant dean. Both formerly were designated as program administrators. Johnson has responsibility for off-campus programs and credit and noncredit extension offerings. Ms. Ropp-Jackson directs efforts in promotions, conferences and contracts.

Both came to Cal State in the summer of 1982. Johnson arrived from Cal State, Los Angeles, where he was director of summer session and extension. Ms. Ropp-Jackson had been in extension work at Syracuse University.

The changes will make their titles and responsibilities comparable to other extended programs of similar sizes in the CSU and will make a more accurate identification of their roles for off-campus contacts, explained Dean Porter.
Peggy Geane
Dies Jan. 3

Peggy J. Geane, pharmacist in the Student Health Center, died Jan. 3 after being hospitalized for three days. Services were Tuesday afternoon, with internment at Mountain View Cemetery in San Bernardino.

Mrs. Geane, 50, was the university’s first pharmacist, coming to work in the new Health Center on a part-time basis when it opened in 1979. She began to work full-time with the beginning of the 1981 school year.

Mrs. Geane was active in the community and in her professional organization and was a member of St. Prophet Elias Greek Orthodox Church.

She is survived by her husband, Nicholas; a son, Greg, and his wife, Jeanne; and a daughter, Stephanie; plus a brother and a sister.

In lieu of flowers, the family requested memorials to the Peggy J. Geane Memorial Scholarship Fund, in care of the Cal State, San Bernardino Foundation.

The university community extends its deepest sympathy to the Geane family.

Sympathy

The university community also extends deepest sympathy to Barbara Noble (Financial Aid Accounting) on the death of her mother, Mrs. Joe Schachte, age 86, who died Dec. 22 while visiting another daughter in Banning. Services were Dec. 29 in Aberdeen, S.D.

Classes Begin Monday
For Winter Term

The winter quarter is now underway, with walk-through registration occurring yesterday and today. Earlier this week, students who registered through the CAR system were given priority time for schedule changes.

Classes for the new term generally begin Monday, Jan. 12. However, Saturday classes will start meeting tomorrow, Jan. 10. Students will have the opportunity to add classes through Jan. 16. The last date for dropping classes is Feb. 2.

The early enrollments for winter term, through the computer-assisted registration process, showed an enrollment of 5726 by Dec. 9. Comparable figures for the same period last year are not available because this is the first winter quarter for the CAR registration.

The university will observe its lone winter quarter holiday on Monday, Jan. 19, the observance of Martin Luther King Jr.’s birthday. The Lincoln’s and Washington’s birthday holidays will be taken next December.

Two Women Receive
Volleyball Honors

Two members of the Coyote volleyball team, Laura Isbell and Lissa McDonald, have been named to the Collegiate Volleyball Coaches Association (CVCA) All-West Region Team. All states west of the Mississippi River are included in the region.

"Laura and Lissa are deserving of these awards because of their hard work and dedication to the program at Cal State," said Naomi Ruderman, volleyball coach.

Dr. Robert Blackey (History) and Dr. Robert Stein (Math) conducted sessions at The College Board Advanced Placement workshop Dec. 6 in San Diego.

Dr. Amer El-Ahraf (Health Science; Academic Resources) was notified his paper, "Determination of Dieldrin in Dairy Waste," will be published in the March issue of the Bulletin of Environmental Contamination and Toxicology.

Dr. Roger W. Hamm (Education) has an article, "Educational Evaluation: Theory and a Working Model," accepted for publication in Education.

Dr. Nathan Kravetz (Education, Emeritus) has a paper, "Defining the Humanities Curriculum for the Gifted," selected for inclusion in the ERIC Database and abstract journal, Resources in Education.

Dr. Edward M. White's (English) recent book, Teaching and Assessing Writing, has been favorably reviewed in three journals this fall: The Review of Education, College Composition and Communication, and Teaching Sociology. He has contracted with Jossey-Bass Publishers, San Francisco, for another book in the same area, tentatively called The Teaching of Writing in College.

Dr. Robert Detweiler (Academic Affairs; History) gave a presentation on "Black Americans and the American Revolution" Dec. 3 for the Kiwanis Club of San Bernardino.

Dr. Catherine Gannon (Coachella Valley Center) spoke to the Palm Springs Rotary Club Dec. 2 on "Why Scholarship?" and discussed "Public Higher Education in the Coachella Valley" for a Dec. 9 meeting of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Michael Grant (Education) wrote the music and recorded commercials in English and Spanish for the Provisional Accelerated Learning (PAL) Center, a community-based nonprofit educational organization directed by Dr. Mildred Henry (Education). The commercials have been airing on San Bernardino area radio stations.

Dr. Julius Kaplan (Graduate Studies; Art) lectured to the provisional docents of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art on "Baroque Art in the North" and "Rococo Art" Dec. 1.

G. Eric McAllister (Marketing, Management Science and Information Management) discussed programs available here in information management at the Dec. 16 meeting of the San Bernardino County Employees Personal Computer User Group.

Dr. Ted McDowell (Geography) lectured on "Surface Hydrology" to the Morongo Student Naturalists and the Inland Empire Chapter of the Association of Environmental Professionals at Big Morongo Preserve/Covington Park in Morongo Valley Dec. 6.

Joyce Alto, telecommunications coordinator for the campus, requests phone calls for telephone repair be directed to Ext. 7201. Calls relating to telephone installations or moving of equipment should be made to Ext. 7211.
