CONCERT CELEBRATES DANCE AND DRUMMING

West African and Caribbean dance comes to life on Saturday, Nov. 9, when the Afro-Caribbean Dancers and Drummers headline a fall concert presented by the University Dance Company. The 7:30 p.m. dance concert, in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building, also will feature faculty artists and student performers.

Under the direction of Mari Lascoe, a dance instructor at Orange Coast College, the 16-member Afro-Caribbean Dancers and Drummers fuse island movements with folk and percussion instruments and an assortment of drums. "Choreographed, yet free in spirit, this group reflects the vast cultural diversity of the West Indies and our changing demographic climate," notes Lascoe, a recipient of two National Endowment for the Arts Choreographic Fellowships.

In addition to performances by the guest artists, works by Physical Education faculty members Janys Antonio and Sarah Boeh will be presented by members of the University Dance Company, including student ballet artist Frank Haggard. "The concert will represent a wide variety of dance forms, including jazz, modern, ballet and street," says Boeh, who is the founder and co-director of the University Dance Company.

As part of their visit to campus, Lascoe and her company will conduct a master class in ethnic dance and drumming on Saturday, Nov. 9, at 11 a.m. in the small gymnasium located in Room 104 of the Physical Education Building. Both dancers and non-dancers are invited to participate in the class. A $5 fee will help fund upcoming concerts by the University Dance Company.

Tickets for the Saturday evening concert are $5 general admission; $3 for seniors and Cal State students. Tickets and additional information on the concert, master class or University Dance Company are available by contacting Boeh at Ext. 5531.

CAMPUS POWER OUTAGE SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Employees are reminded to secure all data processing and miscellaneous equipment that may be affected by the loss of power in preparation for a widespread power outage on Sunday, Nov. 10, reports James Hansen (Physical Plant). The electrical power shutdown is scheduled for 1 a.m.-1 p.m. and will affect the entire campus except for the Administration, Student Services and Visual Arts buildings, as well as the Physical Plant, Child Care Center and Bookstore. No electricity or air conditioning will be available during this time.

Hansen notes that the outage is necessary to connect electrical power to the new 500-ton chiller installation at the central plant and thanks the campus community for its "cooperation during this unavoidable disruption of power." Any questions or concerns regarding the power outage may be directed to Hansen at Ext. 5166.

WINTER SPORTS POCKET SCHEDULES STILL AVAILABLE

Don't miss the action as the Coyote basketball and swimming teams begin the winter sports season. Pocket schedule cards for men's and women's basketball, as well as men's and women's swimming, are still available at the Sports Information Office located in TO-122. Feel free to drop by or call Dave Beyer (Sports Information) at Ext. 5012. Also, fall/winter schedule posters are available while supplies last. For free posters, stop by the Athletics Department in TO-117.
GROUNDBREAKING LAUNCHES CAMPUS' LARGEST FACILITY

The roar of bulldozers and mounds of freshly turned earth set the stage as campus and community leaders joined together to mark yet another campus milestone—the official groundbreaking ceremony for the School of Business and Information Sciences Building. Almost on cue, heavy equipment operators quieted their machinery as the crowd of more than 150 spectators assembled on the crisp autumn morning of Oct. 23 to show their support for the university's major facilities expansion efforts.

"It's a special moment in the life of our university," he remarked. "We are delighted that President Anthony Evans joined the trustee in this enthusiasm for the project. "This is a very special moment in the life of our university," he remarked. "We are delighted that this program is underway. We have a magnificent new facility that our people have earned and that our region deserves."

FAMOUS POET'S LAST DAYS PORTRAYED AS THEATRE SEASON OPENS

Alumnus Doug Buckhout (left) portrays poet Dylan Thomas in the theatre season opener, "A Warning Absence." He co-stars with student Jody Duncan, who wrote the script and plays the role of Caitlin, Thomas' embattled wife.

The final, turbulent weeks of poet Dylan Thomas' life will be staged at the university's theatre season opener on Friday, Nov. 15. "A Warning Absence," a play with adult themes, is written by and co-stars Cal State student Jody Duncan, who plays Caitlin, Thomas' embattled wife. Faced with her husband's adultery, alcoholism and failing health, Caitlin struggles to save the couple's dying marriage. Duncan began writing the script for the play two years ago in a playwriting course. She is editor of the special effects magazine, Filminside, and has written a book detailing the creation of the hit movie "Terminator 2." Cal State alumna Doug Buckhout, cast as Thomas, Buckhout formerly appeared in musicals at the Mission Inn in Riverside and works with the Riverside Community Players.

The renovation of the life-span program is CLOSING AT HOME

"A Warning Absence" are Nov. 15-16 and 20-23 at 8:15 p.m. Student and community performances are scheduled for Nov. 17 and 24 at 2:15 p.m. All shows will be held in the University Theatre located in the Creative Arts Building. General admission is $8; senior citizens (55 and older) and CSUSB alumni with Alumni Association membership cards, $5; and students, $3. For tickets and information, call the Theatre Arts Department at Ext. 8576.

LIBRARY INSPECTION WILL ACTIVATE FIRE ALARMS

The changes in the life-span program also will make it easier for students to complete their Ph.D. work at Claremont Graduate School. The university is working to develop a closer relationship with Claremont. One Cal State student began attending there this fall.

Currently, the life-span track prepares students for careers in both developmental and family psychology: child, youth and family service programs; psychological services to senior citizens; and parent education.

"With the life-span program, you can have knowledge of the theoretical in applied issues from conception to death," Morton says. Participating students will complete a thesis with the assistance of the psychology faculty, ranked 13th nationally in research productivity by the publication "Professional Psychology." For more information on the program, contact Morton at Ext. 5597.

MAJOR MOVIE SERIES FEATURES $1 FLICKS

Attention movie lovers. Grab a friend and enjoy a flick now showing at local theaters for just 51, as part of the Student Union Program Board's (SUPB) new Major Movie Series. Under an agreement with Filmers, Inc, major feature films will be shown in stereo in the comfort of the Recital Hall, reports Sonia Reagins (Student Union). The series got underway in October with such recently released titles as "Truth or Dare," "Soap Dish," and "Point Break" with both evening and afternoon performances.

"Terminator 2," starring Arnold Schwarzenegger, is next on the entertainment list with performances scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Although the series originated as "a service to students who cannot afford current theatre prices," Reagins notes that faculty and staff members are welcome to attend with one guest. Tickets are available at the door. "The success (of the series) has been astonishing, and we've had a great response from the developing relationship," says Reagins, who notes that attendance averages between 50-80 movie-goers per show. Proceeds from the series help fund future programs.

Based on the success of the fall series, more $1 tickets are on tap for the winter quarter, including "Dead Again" and "The Fisher King," respectively scheduled for January 16 and 30. Both features will be shown at 2 & 5 p.m. More information on the series is available from Reagins by calling Ext. 5940.
TRAFFIC SIGNALS WILL EASE CONGESTION AT 215 FREEWAY & UNIVERSITY PARKWAY

* A $500,000 cooperative project between Cal-Trans and the City of San Bernardino's Engineering Division will benefit campus drivers with the installation of traffic signals at the intersection of the 215 freeway and University Parkway, reports Maria Loebert (Physical Planning & Development). Loebert, who serves on the city's Traffic Advisory Committee, says the signals are slated for installation in January or February, 1992, and that the project represents efforts by the city to alleviate the severe traffic congestion in the area as well as enhance safety.

Existing lanes will be accommodated with a fully saturated signal system with detectors for all traffic directions, including left turn arrows into freeway on-ramps. Loebert notes that the city has been concerned with the safety of pedestrians crossing Northpark Boulevard. Sign alerting drivers that they are entering a school zone area will soon be posted by the city.

NEW CAMPUS GOLF CLUB GETS INTO THE SWING

All golfers or would-be golfers are invited to join the newly forming CSUSB Golf Club for its first tournament on Saturday, Nov. 30, at Shanid Hills Golf Club, reports Owen Owens (Computer Center). The club is open to all faculty and staff, as well as friends and families of Cal State personnel.

Currently, the game plan is for all golfers to pay their own green fees (carts are optional) and contribute $5 toward prize monies to be awarded at the end of the tournament. A handicap is not required, since a fair and impartial method of scoring is being used to make the event competitive for all levels of golfers.

“Our goal is to make this a fun time of getting to know each other in an informal setting,” says Owens, one of the club's co-organizers. "The scoring system will make the day fun, no matter if you are a 10-handicap or a 36-handicap. The objective is to learn the game of golf while having a good time.”

Anyone interested in the tournament or seeking more information on the CSUSB Golf Club may contact Owens at Ext. 5069 or call Frank Loebert (Natural Sciences) at Ext. 5138.

ANNUAL FUND DRIVE ADDS A TOUCH OF HUMOR

"Dear Mom and Dad, Someone else will be calling you for money this time. Please support CSUSB's programs with your generous gift to the 1991-92 Parents Fund." This clever message recently greeted parents of Cal State students, ages 24 and under, as they reached into their mailboxes to find a colorfully postcard-sized, peel-off CSUSB decal. Likewise, a similar postal/decal message, targeting alumni, uses humor with quips such as "YES, I will ask the 'Vette and send the cash immediately,' and "YES, I will send you my furlough." Signaling the beginning of this year's Annual Fund Drive, these direct-mail approaches attempt to provide a gift to potential donors and at the same time, appeal to sense of humor before they are asked to pledge financial support to the university. "Our main thrust for parents and alumni is to incorporate humor into the drive," says Mary Colaciuro (Alumni Affairs), who is coordinating development efforts for the Annual Fund this year. "We feel a request for money should be short and sweet. Humor is a great icebreaker and if it's humorous, we hope it gets the reader's attention.

These two 'icebreakers' currently are being followed-up with a phonathon conducted by student workers, who make personal appeals to prospective contributors. This year, fundraisers are hoping to attract $100,000 from graduates and $35,000 from parents. Last year, alumni contributed nearly $80,000 to the annual fund, and gifts from parents netted approximately $25,000.

Gifts to Cal State's annual fund help to supplement the university's yearly operating budget, which is generated by state tax revenues. Unrestricted gifts help to meet a variety of needs not supported by state funding, such as student scholarships and faculty research and development. Restricted or designated gifts are used according to the donor's direction and often support specific schools and programs, athletics scholarships and other named scholarships.

As the drive progresses, faculty and staff will have the opportunity once again to participate. "With declining state revenues, private support for the university becomes increasingly important," says Colaciuro. "Our goal is to help sustain and enrich Cal State's academic, cultural and recreational programs." Additional information on the Annual Fund is available from Colaciuro by calling Ext. 5008.

J.C. PENNEY HONORS CSUSB STUDENT

The merchandise management skills of Sonder Anderson, a junior majoring in marketing, have earned her a combined $1,500 in scholarships in two related awards from the J.C. Penney Co. Anderson, who was honored for her reports from her summer internship at the store in the Carousel Mall in San Bernardino, Anderson was deemed the best student intern by the company in both a local and a regional competition, reports Dr. Paul Esposito (Career Center), shown at left. Richard Stager (second from left), the Los Angeles district personnel manager for J.C. ALDER ROOM REOPENS
WITH REVAMPED MENU

Patrons of the faculty and staff dining room will notice a number of improvements in the Alder Room since its Oct. 21 reopening. "We are trying to make the Alder Room a retreat for lunch," notes Keith Ernst (Food Services).
Menu selections now include a new soup and salad bar, daily specials, new vegetarian items and more sandwich choices. Ernst adds that many sandwich prices have been reduced and many "old standby" items, such as demi loaves, remain on the menu.
Other improvements focus on service and atmosphere. Lunch is served from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m., Monday-Friday. Reservations are welcome, but not required, for the Alder Room located in the Upper Commons.
"Our patrons have been pleased so says Ernst. "We've received a very positive response to the changes." We hope many people will use the new Alder Room."
