THE FRIDAY BULLETIN

NOVEMBER 13, 1992

FINAL 1992-93 CAMPUS BUDGET FIGURES RELEASED

The campus' 1992-93 state general fund budget has been determined after a record delay. The state Legislature did not approve the state budget until the last week of August and the CSU system did not complete the budget distribution to the campuses until Oct. 19 says Don McKenzie (Budget).

The budget was the product of many adjustments, including a 9.2 percent reduction from the governor's budget, a cut of 7.3 percent to fund systemwide priorities, and Academic Recovery Funds. The campus received $4,474,394 to accommodate a student full-time equivalent (FTE) load of 8,262 compared with 7,662 from the previous year, and to fund the additional expenses incurred with the opening of University Hall, faculty promotions, and student financial aid.

Although the increase in student fees helped to offset the cutback, the campus' total budget of $60,852,267, which includes other revenues and reimbursements, has been pared back about five percent, notes McKenzie. "We did not hurt as much as some other universities" in the CSU system because we decided to maintain enrollment current with last year's level, he adds.

In addition, the university is serving more than 1,000 FTE students beyond the state general funds allocated by the California State University system. While the campus has been funded for 8,262 FTE, 9,352 FTE students actually are enrolled for the fall quarter. The increase in student fees was used to fund additional class sections for students and other critical needs.

"We anticipate additional revenue corresponding to enrollment over and above the budgeted FTE," McKenzie concludes.

Reading Recovery is a national, early intervention program for first-graders. The California project is headquartered at CSUSB.

ENTERTAINMENT "LOVE LETTERS" TO RAISE THEATRE SCHOLARSHIPS

Special performances of the popular A.R. Gurney drama "Love Letters" will feature different pairings of community, Cal State faculty, and alumni actors Nov. 19-22 in a scholarship fundraising benefit at the university.

Featured performers include longtime Riverside community actor Michael Charles paired with Mary Barnes, wife of theatre professor Dr. Ronald Barnes. Riverside-based Cal State alumni Doug Buckhout and Jody Duncan will return to perform together again. They starred last season in the award-winning play "A Warring Absence," which Duncan wrote, earning national honors from the American College Theatre Festival.

Other guest actors include Dr. Ernie Garcia, retired dean of education at Cal State, and Dr. Beverly Hendricks, current dean of the university's School of Humanities. Cal State Theatre Arts Department chair Dr. Robert Yowell and Mary Kay Vincent round out the bill.

"Love Letters," a story that is sometimes funny, sometimes poignant, chronicles the life-long relationship of Andy and Melissa, starting in elementary school and ending with Melissa's death years later. "Love Letters" enjoyed a lengthy run in Los Angeles using different pairings of celebrity actors.

Staged as a benefit for student scholarships, each performance of "Love Letters" will be followed by a reception. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. for the Nov. 19-21 shows, and a 2 p.m. matinee will be held on Nov. 22. All performances are in the University Theatre.

Tickets are $10 for general admission, $8 for students. More information is available at Ext. 5876.

ATTORNEY BRUCE VARNER TO CHAIR UNIVERSITY ADVISORY BOARD

San Bernardino attorney Bruce Varner will chair Cal State's Advisory Board for 1992-93. A member of the panel since 1987, Varner succeeds Elise Traynum of Riverside in the leadership post.

Now in his second four-year term, which will expire in 1995, Varner will oversee the 21-member board. The board provides a community perspective on a broad range of issues affecting the operation and future development of Cal State.

"We are honored that Mr. Varner has agreed to assume this leadership role at a time when public-private partnerships are so critical to the future development of Cal State," says President Anthony Evans.

In addition to Varner's involvement on the University Advisory Board, he also has helped to build community support for the Cal State athletics program.

Varner is a partner in the law firm of Gresham, Varner, Savage, Nolan & Tilden. He serves on a number of corporate and civic boards, including Stater Bros., Santee Dairies, Security Pacific National Bank and Roger's Bindery Inc. Additionally, he serves on the board of directors for the National Orange

Attorney Bruce Varner

Show, San Bernardino Community Hospital and The Arrowhead Health Care System, and the Friends of the Arrowhead, Inc.

A graduate of U.C. Santa Barbara and the University of California Hastings College of Law, Varner and his wife, Nancy, make their home in Redlands.

ADIEU!

Here now is a list of faculty and staff, many—if not all—of whom are not so much retiring from work as they are redirecting their energies. We wish them well. Enjoy.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

SETTING S.A.I.L.

With four new crew members aboard and under the direction of its new captain, Norma Romero, the SAIL (Student Assistance In Learning) program officially launched the 1992-93 academic year with an open house on Oct. 29.

No less than 50 visitors (about 20 of them students) sauntered down the long hall and past the Learning Center to UH 386, the SAIL office. "We want students to come in and feel like they can get served immediately," says Romero. "This should be a project," she adds, that students "join" and feel a part of when they come for help.

Funded by the U.S. Department of Education, as is the campus' Upward Bound program, SAIL serves low-income, first-generation college students or students with disabilities.

"Consistency in the delivery of service" is critical, says Romero. SAIL will "fill in the gaps," she says, when other student programs, such as EOP, the Learning Center or financial aid, cannot provide service, or refer students to these same programs when SAIL cannot provide service under federal guidelines.

FEAST OF LIGHTS TICKETS AVAILABLE

"Hymn of the Earth," a new work for choir and orchestra by Dr. Larry McFatter (Music) will be performed each evening at 8:15 p.m., Dec. 4-7, as part of the 45th annual Feast of Lights concerts at the University of Redlands. Tickets are $15 and now available through the U of R Campus Events Office. Call 793-4046. The concerts often sell out well in advance, so buy now.

GUMBO ANYONE?

A well-kept secret is the top prize in a fundraiser for the newly established Equal Opportunity Program (EOP) Club on campus, hints Harriet Gibson, an EOP counselor.

Gibson will cook a Louisiana dinner for four at your home or deliver one if you're a drawing winner. Second prize is a dinner for two. The menu includes gumbo filee or okra gumbo, rice, Southern fried chicken, green salad, French bread, and a choice of bread pudding or sweet potato pie.

Drawing tickets are $4 and must be purchased by Dec. 1. The drawing will be held Dec. 16. If any questions, call Gibson at Ext. 5042.
