Don't Be Silent! Hate Crime or Hate Speech—Report Here to Be Heard

This week's edition of The Voice/Black Voice News includes reports on two recent "hate" related incidents in the inland region. When it comes to hate crimes, history has shown us again and again: "Silence equals death."

The Voice/Black Voice News is fully committed to tackling the uneven documentation of hate crimes and hate speech by partnering with New America Media (<http://newamericamedia.org/>), a leader in promoting the work of ethnic media organizations.

New America Media's Documenting Hate Project is spearheaded by the not-for-profit news outlet ProPublica (www.propublica.org/). Despite tracking efforts by organizations like the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), according to ProPublica, "... there's no reliable data on the nature or prevalence of the violence."

There has been an alarming increase in reports of hate incidents nationwide since the 2016 election. Such reports range from vandalism and hate-fueled graffiti (as experienced in San Jacinto last week), to physical attacks and shootings.

Currently, there is heightened fear and anxiety in immigrant and minority communities, fueled in part by 2016 campaign rhetoric, in addition to some statements and policies from the current administration. Despite fear, it is vital to have a course of action when such incidents occur.

The number of hate related incidents reported in 2016 was unprecedented. SPLC noted such crimes increased by three percent over 2015, to a total of 917. The organization's annual hate map (www.splcenter.org/hate-map) lists groups and organizations that target people based on race, religion, or sexual orientation. Also, according to SPLC, in 2016, the nation experienced its second straight year over year increase in the number of hate groups.

California led the nation in hate crimes in 2016, with 79 hate-related organizations spread across the state. Sadly, nearly half of the hate groups in California are local, with 35 between Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

The Documenting Hate Project has created an online form to allow witnesses or victims to come forward and report their experiences. Reports will be verified before entering a national database that will be made available, with privacy restrictions, to newsrooms and civil rights organizations across the country. The form is not a report to law enforcement or any government agency. Access to the form will remain available online at www.theievoice.com and www.blackvoicenews.com. Free Online Tutoring Will Soon Be Available For Inland Area Students

San Bernardino- Students across Southern California stand to benefit from free online resources to help prepare them for college. Hundreds of thousands of students across the inland region will be able to participate.

The Departments of Education for San Bernardino and Riverside Counties are joining with Orange, Los Angeles, and Imperial Counties, in partnership with the Bay Area's nonprofit Kahn Academy, to participate in the free educational resource experience.

The Kahn Academy has more than 2,400 videos and materials in math, science, engineering, economics, history, computer programming, and other subjects that will be available to local students.

When the new school year begins in August, Kahn Academy lessons and materials, in alignment with the state's academic standards, will be available to K-12 students across the inland region.

Vandalism and Hate in San Jacinto

San Jacinto- Last Thursday, San Jacinto police officers responded to a report of vandalism at a local residence. The officers arrived to find that vehicles belonging to the residents had been spray-painted with anti-semitic symbols and derogatory words. The officers quickly identified the incident as a hate crime.

The incident occurred just before 4:00 a.m. Thursday on the 800 block of Horizon Court. The San Jacinto Police Department is currently investigating the hate crime and has requested that anyone with information should contact the Hemet Sheriff's Station (951) 791-3400, and ask for Officer Medina.

Bloomington Celebrates Phase 2 Opening of Affordable Housing Project

Bloomington

San Bernardino County and other officials gathered in Bloomington to celebrate the opening of Phase 2 of a five-acre affordable housing project that will include a 84 affordable housing units.

According to San Bernardino County's 5th District Supervisor Josie Gonzales, whose district includes Bloomington, the public-private partnership project is the first capital improvement effort in the county to include a public library, housing, community center and senior center.

The partnership is between San Bernardino County and developer Related California (Related). Related has offices across California and is a fully-integrated real estate firm with 25 years of experience developing mixed-income housing and mixed-use developments.

"These homes and amenities demonstrate the value of public-private partnerships and the opportunities that present themselves when we work together to solve everyday problems," Gonzales said.

Before the development, the Bloomington property had no sewer system and inadequate water. According to officials, Related worked with surrounding municipalities to install sewer and water lines. Further, the development will be environmentally friendly, including the use of drought-tolerant materials, and will contain open space with pathways that wind throughout.

"The miracle in this is the fact that everyone came together and identified a common need and worked toward that common goal," Gonzales also believes the improvements have made the area more desirable for future economic development.

The first phase of the development, the Bloomington Grove affordable housing apartments and the Lillian Court senior community, was completed in 2016. It includes 106 affordable senior and family housing units in addition to a new 6,500-square-foot public library, located at 18028 Valley Boulevard in Bloomington.

Burglar Charged with Elder Abuse

On June 1, Loma Linda Deputy, J. Deen, investigated a burglary report at a senior living facility. Thomas Harrison, unidentified at the time, allegedly entered the property and stole several items from those living at the location. Leads in the case resulted in an investigation that lasted three days.

On Friday, June 9, new evidence was discovered that Harrison had attempted to cash forged checks he purportedly stole from multiple rooms at the Loma Linda senior facility. Deputy B. Ortiz located and arrested Harrison. He was booked into the Central Detention Center for check fraud.

On Saturday, June 10, Harrison was released from jail on his own recognizance. Later that day, the senior living facility reported a male subject on the grounds stealing credit cards and jewelry.

On Sunday, June 11, Harrison was located near Redlands Boulevard and Taft Street with credit cards, jewels and coins belonging to other people in his possession. Deputy B. Ortiz determined Harrison had burglarized the facility again after his release.

Subsequently, Harrison was re-arrested, sent back to the Central Detention Center, and charged with burglary, possession of stolen property, elder abuse, and committing a crime on recognizance.

Elder abuse can manifest in many ways. According to the National Council on Aging, "Elder abuse includes physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, exploitation, neglect, and abandonment. Perpetrators include children,

Irritable Bowel Syndrome with Constipation (IBSC)

How do you know whether you have occasional or chronic constipation?

Everyone wants to be regular. But the definition of regular is different for everyone. For some, it's several times a day. For others, it could be several times a week. If you are having fewer than three bowel movements a week, that's a sign you may have constipation. But is it occasional or chronic?

If the symptoms of your constipation are sudden or last for a short time, it may be occasional constipation. If the symptoms keep coming back and seem to last for a long time, it may be chronic constipation. If you describe your symptoms as abdominal pain or cramping, bloating, gas, mucus in the stool associated with your constipation, you could be suffering from Irritable Bowel Syndrome with Constipation (IBSC). You should share all your symptoms with your doctor.

IBSC is defined as belly pain (abdominal pain) associated with constipation. The symptoms of IBSC are defined as long-lasting and keep coming back. Those suffering from IBSC also have hard or lumpy stools at least 25% of the time, and loose or watery stools less than 25% of the time.

When to see a doctor? Although as many as 1 in 5 American adults have signs and symptoms of irritable bowel syndrome, less than 1 in 5 who have symptoms seek medical help. Yet it's important to see your doctor if you have a persistent change in bowel habits or if you have any other signs or symptoms of IBS because these may indicate a more serious condition, such as colon cancer.

Symptoms that may indicate a more serious condition include:

- Rectal bleeding
- Abdominal pain that progresses or occurs at night
- Weight loss

Your doctor may be able to help you find ways to relieve symptoms as well as rule out colon conditions, such as inflammatory bowel disease and colon cancer. Your doctor can also help you avoid possible complications from problems such as chronic diarrhea.

Just in time for summer reading, the California Department of Education (DOE) has added 285 award-winning titles to its Recommended Literature: Prekindergarten Through Grade Twelve list, which includes over 8,000 recommended titles for children and teens.

The list was developed with the assistance of teachers, library media teachers employed by schools and public libraries, administrators, curriculum planners, and parents. According to the California DOE, thousands of selections were reviewed before the list was finalized.

Along with fiction, nonfiction, poetry, and drama, new additions to the online list include stories about diverse people and lifestyles, as well as works by multilingual authors.

The list is an online database that helps students, teachers, and families find reading material that entertains, informs, and explores new ideas. Its selections are based on a variety of criteria that include, but are not limited to: grade level, topic, genre, and culture. For each book, there is an annotation describing the book to help viewers make selections.

Children and teens yearn for more contemporary literature that is pertinent to their lives and curiosity. Experts believe when students have access to reading material they enjoy, they can discover more about themselves.

Literature in the interactive database may be searched by author, title, annotation, illustrator, translator, subject, grade level, or language. For more information, visit <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ci/cr/rl/index/asp>.

The Reemergence of Hate

Reemergence of Nooses Unnerve The African-American Community

Gail Fry
Contributor

A recent spike in incidents involving nooses found at prominent locations around the country has unnerved the African-American Community fearing a rise in violence from White Supremacist Groups.

According to the Anti-Defamation League, the hangman's noose is "one of the most powerful visual symbols directed against African-Americans," its origins harkening back to the days of slavery and the Ku Klux Klan; it is used to "intimidate or harass."

(Top) June 1 a noose was discovered at the African American History Museum of History and Culture, (Middle) May 1, bananas were found at various locations at American University in Washington D.C., (Bottom) May 26, a noose was hanging from a tree near the Hirshholm Museum in Washington D.C.

Status Report on Hate and Extremism in California

On or about May 30, one such incident was reported to The Voice/Black Voice News. It occurred on an elementary school bus headed to the Valley of Enchantment Elementary School in Crestline in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Three anonymous sources reported that several elementary school children were found on the bus playing with and dangling a Black baby doll from a noose. The bus driver confiscated the noose and doll, and it was turned into the Rim of the World Unified School District's (ROWUSD) Transportation Office.

After the doll and noose were confiscated, it was taken by an unknown district office employee and hung on a curtain at the office where anyone entering could view the display. According to an anonymous source close to the district, the display hanging from the curtain went on for several days while verbal complaints were ignored.

Upon entering ROWUSD's Transportation Office, a Caucasian woman viewed the Black doll hanging by the noose on the curtain, became incensed by its open display, and, according to sources, plans to file a lawsuit against the school district.

ROWUSD administration has been close-lipped on the matter, describing it as an "employee disciplinary matter" and refused to comment further due to employee privacy rights while explaining the district “takes these matters very seriously.”

According to recent news, several nooses have been reported: on May 1, bananas hanging from nooses at American University in Washington, D.C.; on May 13, a noose hanging at a high school in North Carolina; in mid-May, a noose hanging in front of a middle school in Crofton, Maryland; on May 25, nooses were discovered at the Port of Oakland, California; on May 26, a noose was hanging from a tree near the Hirshholm Museum in Washington, D.C.; on June 1, a noose at the African-American History Museum of History and Culture in Washington, D.C. and one at a construction site near an elementary school in Washington, D.C. and LeBron James’ Los Angeles home was vandalized with a racial slur; on June 5, a noose hanging from a tree near Montgomery Village in Maryland; and on June 18, a noose hanging from a tree near the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.

A Special 2016 Status Report on Hate and Extremism in California released by the Center for the Study of Hate & Extremism, California State University, San Bernardino, found a “significant” 4 percent increase in hate crimes in California’s largest cities.

The report explained “these increases exceed those found nationally” with the state “poised for its first consecutive yearly increases in hate crimes in two decades.” A graph in the report shows the highest number of hate crimes occurring in the City of Los Angeles, followed by San Francisco, San Diego, San Jose, Sacramento, Fresno, Long Beach, Bakersfield, and Anaheim.

The report found “only a small number of hate crimes were prosecuted” as hate crimes with 285 cases out of 837 reported incidents referred to prosecutors, resulting in 119 convictions.

The fourth quarter of 2016, after the November 8 election, found a 29 percent increase in hate crimes, compared to the previous year, according to the Center for the Study of Hate & Extremism Report. Additionally, California experienced an increase in violent public demonstrations, as well as an increase in recruiting at colleges by racist organizations.

According to the report, the Southern Poverty Law Center, a Montgomery, Alabama civil rights group found 79 hate groups operating in California in 2016, the “most of any state in the union,” up from 68 the previous year, a 16 percent increase. To obtain a copy of the report visit: <https://assets.documentcloud.org/documents/3678892/CALIF-RPT-1.pdf>.

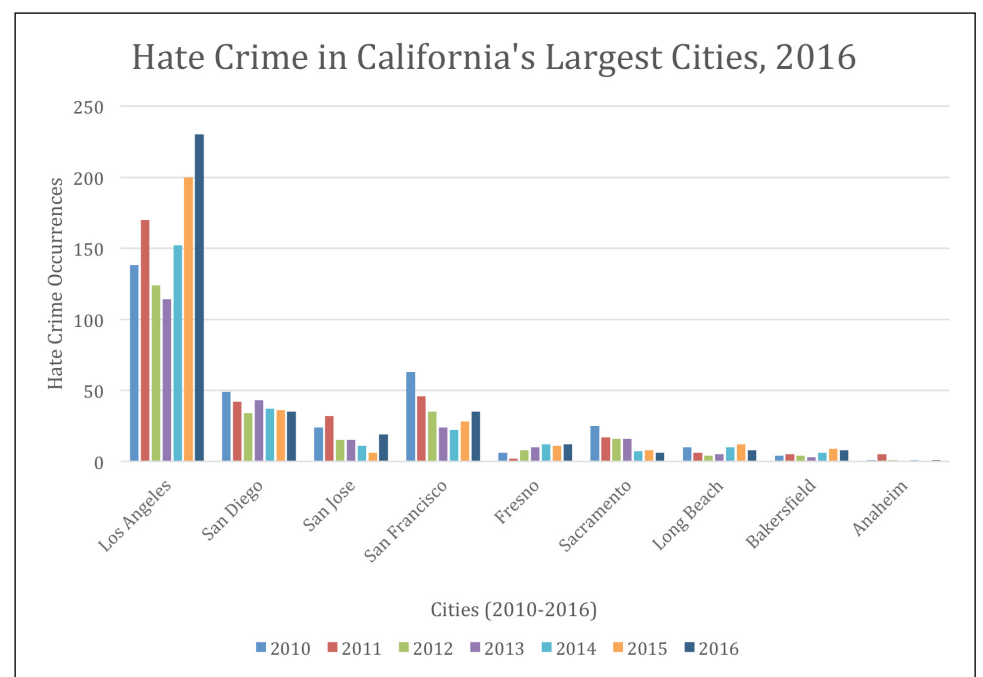

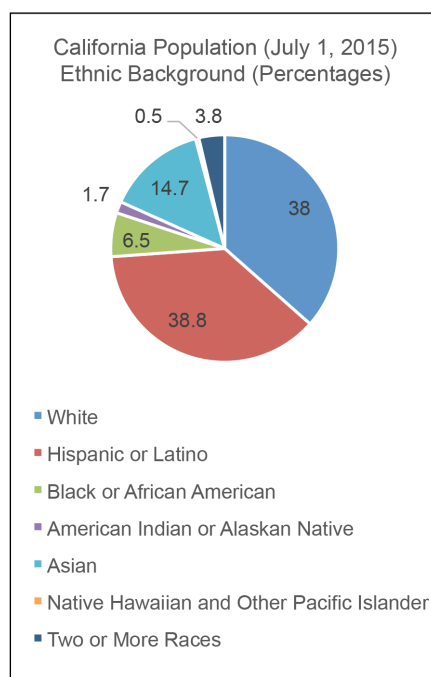

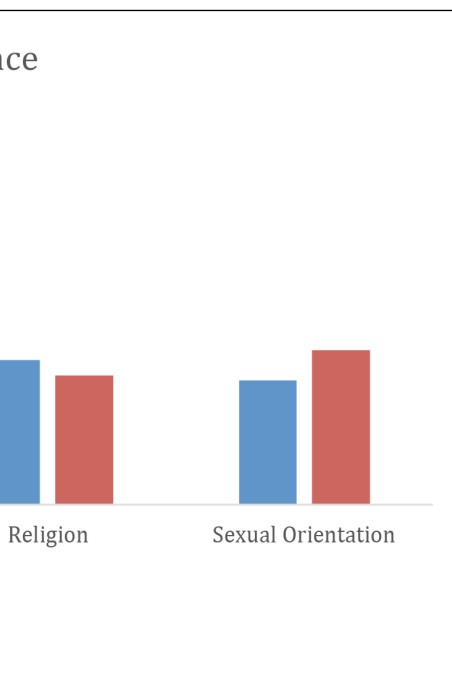

The California State Attorney General’s Office report on hate crime in California revealed race/ethnicity/national origin bias are “consistently the most common type of hate crime over the past ten years” with the most common hate crime having an “anti-Black bias motivation.” The report can be obtained at: <https://oag.ca.gov/sites/all/files/agweb/pdfs/cjsc/publications/hatecrimes/hc15/hc15.pdf>.

Hate crimes in California are defined under Penal Code section 422.55 as a “criminal act committed” because of actual or perceived characteristics of the victim, including race or ethnicity, disability, gender, nationality, religion, sexual orientation, or association with a person of those characteristics.

Penal Code section 422.6 makes it a crime to, by force or threat of force, willfully injure, intimidate, interfere with, oppress, or threaten any other person or deface, damage, or destroy real or personal property for the purpose of intimidating or interfering with the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege guaranteed under the laws of this state or by the United States Constitution.

A request for comment to the San Bernardino County Sheriff’s Department by The Black Voice News/The Voice went unreturned as of press time.

Jurupa Valley Police Department Sweeps for Outstanding Warrants

Jurupa Valley

Shiane Daima Jacocks

Contributor

Some who neglect their court hearings falsely believe police departments lack the resources or will to seek out and find them. Last week, residents of Jurupa Valley, with warrants for Driving Under the Influence (DUI) and/or traffic related failures to appear, learned differently.

On June 11, the Jurupa Valley Traffic Team swept through neighborhoods and arrested offenders who either failed to appear for a court date or violated their probation in an outstanding traffic-related case.

“The best bet for anyone with a missed court date is to go to court on their own now,” said Jurupa Valley Police Sergeant Bill Davis. “If you don’t, that warrant isn’t going away. We’re going to come find you and take you to jail.”

Those that are caught often face additional jail time for not attending themselves. It can be wasteful and embarrassing to be arrested without warning for something that could have been prevented.

According to Sergeant Davis, “Special Warrant Service Operations, along with regularly scheduled ‘High Visibility’ DUI enforcement has a deterrent effect on those who disregard driving safety and abuse alcohol and drugs.” He added, “The Jurupa Valley Public Department places a high priority on lowering deaths and injuries with the goal of removing impaired drivers and heightening awareness of the dangers of driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol.”

During the raid, the officers attempted to act on a total of 29 warrants; 18 of the attempts were successful.

Funding for the warrant sweep was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Federal Officials Bring Down the “Green Nation”

San Bernardino

On Friday, a federal indictment was unsealed charging 23 members and associates of the Vagos Outlaw Motorcycle Gang (Vagos OMG), including some of its most senior leaders, with conspiracy. The charges involved alleged racketeering, murder, robbery, kidnapping, and aggravated assault, among others.

Although the indictment was returned by a grand jury in Las Vegas, federal, state, and local law enforcement officials arrested individuals across Southern California in addition to the arrests made in Hawaii and Nevada. Several of the arrest and search warrants were served in the Inland Empire communities of Moreno Valley, Beaumont, and Fontana. In total, 22 people, described by officials as members of the Vagos OMG, were arrested.

The indictment, unsealed by the U.S. District Court of Nevada and reviewed by The Voice/Black Voice News, described Vagos OMG as, “. . . a criminal organization whose members and associates engaged in, among other criminal activities, narcotics distribution, firearms trafficking and acts of violence involving murder, kidnapping, assault, extortion, robbery and witness intimidation.”

According to the indictment, Vagos OMG began in the City of San Bernardino in the mid-1960’s. The term “Vagos” is Spanish for lazy and referred to a person characterized as a vagabond. The organization was formed by a group of motorcyclists that purportedly held other motorcycle gangs in contempt. Vagos OMG members are predominately Hispanic and Caucasian and over 21 years old.

The organization, which identifies itself as the “Green Nation,” has grown into an international operation with 87 or more chapters in seven countries on four continents. There are approximately 75 chapters in the United States, including 54 chapters in California and Nevada.

Federal officials identified Vagos OMG as, “A highly organized criminal organization which adhered to a hierarchical chain of command internationally, nationally and locally.”

other family members, and spouses—as well as staff at nursing homes, assisted living, and other facilities.”

Nearly one in ten Americans over the age of 65 have experienced some form of elder abuse. According to reports, as many as five million seniors are abused each year. Sadly, it is estimated only one in fourteen cases of abuse are ever reported to authorities.

Investigations like this can help bring attention to elder abuse. If anyone has information related to this crime, please contact investigators at (909) 387-3545. Those wishing to remain anonymous can call 1-800-78-CRIME (27463) or leave information on the website at www.wetip.com.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.altisource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2016-03978-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.allsource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2017-00170-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

Case Number RIP 1701019

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of MICHAEL RUSSELL MUELLER A Petition for Probate has been filed by LANA POLCHOW in the Superior Court of California, County of: RIVERSIDE. The Petition for Probate requests that LANA POLCHOW be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. Trump is at it Again

Washington, D.C.-The Trump administration made immigration news again last week, when Homeland Security Secretary John Kelly announced the president's decision to roll-back former President Obama's Deferred Action for Parents of Americans and Lawful Permanent Residents order (DAPA).

DAPA was designed to provide deportation protection for the parents of young people covered under Obama's Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA), which called for deferred deportation action for certain undocumented immigrants who came to the U.S. as children. It protects 790,000 young people.

Obama's DAPA order, in addition to his proposed expansion of DACA, was expected to protect nearly four million parents and children from deportation. It also provided an opportunity to apply for a work permit.

Although the Trump administration cancelled DAPA and failed to expand DACA last week, at least he did not follow through on his campaign promise to eliminate the DACA program entirely.

NOTICE: In accordance with subdivision (a) of section 17920, a fictitious name statement generally expires at the end of five years from the date on which it was filed in the office of the county clerk, except, as provided in subdivision (b) of Section 17920, where it expires 40 days after any change in the facts set forth in the statement pursuant to section 17913 other than a change in the residence address of a registered owner. A new Fictitious Business Name Statement must be filed before the expiration. The filing of this statement does not of itself authorize the use in this state of a fictitious business name in violation of the rights of another under federal, state, or common law (see Section 14411 Et Seq., business and professions code). I hereby certify that this copy is a correct copy of the original statement on file in my office.
