SITE LICENSE OBTAINED FOR $500

COMPUTER SOFTWARE WILL EASE MULTIMEDIA, DATABASE WORK

A $2.7 million gift of computer software, known as Oracle, is being given to the CSUSB Information and Decision Sciences Department.

The gift, which comes from the Oracle Corp. in Redwoodshores, CA, is the result of a proposal written by Professor Frank Lin.

"He did an outstanding job of preparing the proposal," said Eldon Lewis, acting dean (School of Business and Public Administration). This May Lin will represent the university at an MBA meeting in Hong Kong.

Among the capabilities of the software are applications that simplify database administrative tasks; systems that implement, run and manage interactive multimedia programs; a program that models complex reengineering processes, such as reengineering, analysis and design diagrams; and a "web server" that permits World Wide Web development and application for the Internet.

Lin says that the School of Business and Public Administration will need to incorporate the donated software into its curriculum in order to be eligible to renew the benefit in ensuing years.

'SMART GIRLS' PUT GEN X MIND TO MOTION

Using dance, movement and the spoken word, the L.A. Smart Girls share their take on life for the women of Generation X on Wednesday, April 10.

"In a world filled with prefabricated, ready-to-wear TV identities," says the four Los Angeles-based artists' publicity, Smart Girls' "work focuses on exploring the realities and misperceptions about the postmodern woman."

Nancy Agabian, Mary Bleier, Danielle Brazell and Jamie Burris each perform solo pieces of about 15-20 minutes, all linked in theme as the women explore Generation X sexuality, gender and class.

A discussion will follow the 7 p.m. performance, which is in the Recital Hall. Tickets are $5 for general admission and $3 for students. Showgoers can pick up tickets at the Women's Resource and Adult Re-entry Center or at the ASI Box Office.

HOW MANY SCHOOL DISTRICTS CAN YOU FIT IN A 5,000-SEAT ARENA?

Special education and bilingual teachers will be in high demand at the Careers in Education Job Fair coming March 30 to the Coussoulis Arena.

At least 75 school districts, including the Los Angeles Community College School District, will send representatives to inform to answer questions and conduct informal interviews with job seekers if necessary. Most of the districts are Kindergarten-12 and come from California, although a few will be from out of state.

Special education and bilingual teachers are needed in almost all of the districts, say officials at the Cal State Career Development Center, who are organizing the event. Districts also are looking for speech therapists, school counselors and, in a few cases, administrators.

The education job fair runs from 1-5 p.m. Organizers recommend that job hunters bring their resumes and dress as if they were going to an interview.

RIDESHARE PROGRAM WINS SANBAG AWARD

Cal State has been honored by the Commuter Assistance Program of the San Bernardino Associated Governments' council (SANBAG) for the "most improved vehicle ridership" for 1995.

Deidre Seitz, coordinator (Rideshare), accepted the award on behalf of the university, which edged out other large employers like Kaiser Permanente and the City of San Bernardino, for the distinction. "This feat," said Seitz, "would not have been attainable if it were not for the dedication of the employees involved in this program."

The university had more people sharing vehicle ridership than any other large employer in the SANBAG area, reports Dennis Kraus (Public Safety).

THE HOMECOMING

The March 2 Homecoming celebration brought 900 diners to a pre-game barbecue—250 of them alums, 2,473 fans to Coussoulis Arena and more cheers than could be counted. It was historic, because the arena broke the attendance record by a thousand. It was fun, despite the game's final score that read, U.C. Riverside 76, 'Yotes 72. It was An Event.

So now a "thank you" from Pam Langford and Jamie Keler, Homecoming committee co-chairs, "to the many alums, faculty, staff, students and departments that contributed their time, talents and support for a very successful Homecoming '96." And to the Homecoming '96 Planning Committee: Curt Apsey, Patrick Areffi, Tami Bakewell, Kelly Bray, Carol Dixon, Al Garrett, Randy Harrell, Nick Nazarian, Linda Norman, Shannon Stratton and Rollie Trapp.

A NOTE FROM HUMAN RESOURCES

ENTERTAINMENT DISCOUNTS

Sesame Street

Sesame Street Live's "Let's Play School" inspires families to sing along Saturday, May 18. The $10.50 tickets can be ordered through the Human Resources Department. Anyone one-year-old and up must have a ticket, and tickets should be ordered by April 2. The fun begins at 2 p.m. at the Anaheim Arrowhead Pond.

Sea World

You can enjoy Sea World's summer extravaganza on July 27 and get a second day at the park free if you go again before Sept. 30 all for $26.50. The adult price includes a grilled hamburger buffet. The hamburger buffet for children ages 3-11 is $20.15. The buffet is served from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Call Jenny Casillas at Ext. 5138 for more information. Cash deposits must be in by April 5.

U.S. ARMY BAND, CHORUS COMING FROM D.C. TO PERFORM CLASSICS

The U.S. Army Field Band and Soldier's Chorus will take a bow March 28 at Cal State as the 100-member troupe travels from Washington, D.C. on its 50th anniversary tour.

Jazz, pop, patriotic songs and Broadway show tunes are on the program for the 7 p.m. show. Suitable for all ages, the performance is free with the presentation of a show ticket.

Tickets can be obtained from the Associated Students box office located in the Cal State Student Union. Cal Ext. 7360 for more information.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Dr. Frances Berdan (Anthropology) spoke to the San Bernardino Host Lion's Club on Feb. 1 about "Aztec Daily Life."

Dr. Ellen Gruenbaum (Social and Behavioral Sciences) has given several talks about the Fourth World Conference on Women held in Beijing. The talks focused on the conference themes of equality, development and peace. She spoke to the San Bernardino Chapter of the Business and Professional Women on Dec. 19, the Redlands Jewish Community Club on Jan. 21, the High Twelve Club in Riverside on Feb. 2, and the American Business Women's Association in San Bernardino on Feb. 14.

ALUMNI AFFAIRS OFFICE HUNTS NOMINEES

And the distinguished alumni award goes to ...

Know a Cal State graduate who has "made it" in their chosen career? Does he or she stand out in their service to the community? To the university?

Then now's the time to nominate that alum for the Alumni Association's 1996 Distinguished Alumni Award. Nomination forms can be picked up in the Alumni Affairs Office.

Also taking nominations for openings on the alumni board is the Alumni Association Leadership Development Committee.

It's a good way, says the alumni office, to do something meaningful for the university for a CSUSB graduate who's been seeking an opportunity. The committee is looking for those with leadership abilities who can serve a two-year term, and who see themselves as an agent of change.

Call Pam Langford at Ext. 5008, stop by her office in AD-104, or e-mail her at "alumni."

THE BULLETIN BOARD

LATINO AWARDS BANQUET

Traditionally held as two separate events, this year's Association of Latino Faculty, Staff and Students' annual scholarship banquet and graduation reception have been combined and will feature dancing to the music of The Latin Society. Tickets go on sale in early April for the April 27 celebration. All are welcome. Call Diana Rodriguez for more information at Ext. 5009.

HEAVENLY PICTURES

Listen to the wonders of "Astrophotography" when Dr. Klaus Brasch, acting dean (School of Natural Sciences), talks at the George F. Beattie Planetarium at San Bernardino Valley College. The March 30, 7:30 p.m. talk is free.
