BATS Tops Funding List

President Al Karnig has approved 15 items presented to him for one-time funding by the CSUSB budget committee.

With $1,234,464 available in funds, the Baseline Access, Training and Support initiative (BATS) was the top point-getter in a re-ranking sparked by campus community members, who urged the committee at an open budget meeting in mid-March to take a second look at the list of almost 40 proposed items, rate them and then choose the top 15.

"There wasn't very much change" from the original rankings, says Bill Takehara, the associate vice president for financial operations. Only two or three items swapped positions, he says. Karnig did not approve the professional programs institute for community-based learning, research and services, ranked 14th, saying that he needed more information about the project.

CVC Opens 1998 Commencement Ceremonies

by Rachel Antrobus student intern

Six ceremonies for the graduates of Cal State will be held June 13-14. About 3,400 students are eligible to graduate this year.

The graduates from Coachella Valley will be the first to receive their diplomas during the Commencement held on June 13 at 9 a.m. at the McCallum Theatre in Palm Desert. William Kroonen, president/superintendent of the Desert Community College District, will be the guest speaker at the event.

All of the ceremonies on the main campus will be held in Coussoulis Arena beginning at 2 p.m. on June 13 with natural sciences. President Karnig will be the keynote speaker. Following at 6 p.m. will be the social and behavioral sciences ceremonies with alumna Ruby L. Beale, a 1980 graduate, giving the main speech of the event.

On June 14 business and public administration will proceed at 9 a.m. and will feature Jon Slater, president of Optivus Technology, as the keynote speaker. At 2 p.m. humanities will hold its ceremony in which Karnig will again give the main speech. The education school's Commencement will follow at 6 p.m. with Congressman George Brown, Jr., D-42, as the featured speaker.

Golfers Finish Third in Nation

The Cal State golf team recorded a fourth-round total of 298 to finish third overall in the nation at the Division II level.

This is the second year in a row that the Coyotes have placed third in the nation. After three rounds CSUSB was three shots off the lead and in second place before Florida Southern pulled away. Lee Kinney posted a fourth round of 76 to finish second overall for the tournament. Orjan Larsen from West Florida University recorded a fourth-round total of 66 to take the overall medalist honors.

How They Finished

Singers, Orchestra Join Musical Forces

Haydn's "Little Organ Mass" and Mozart's "Eine kleine Nachtmusik" are among the selections in a concert featuring the Cal State, San Bernardino Concert Choir, Chamber Singers and Chamber Orchestra on Sunday, June 7, one of several performances that will close the music department's 1997-98 season.

In a program that will present music for choir and orchestra, the performance will include J.S. Bach's "Cantata 106: Gottes Zeit" with guest artists Mark Chatfield and Denise Brisé playing the viola da gamba duet. Bach's sixth motet, "Lobet den Herrn" will be performed by the Chamber Singers and pieces performed alone by the Chamber Orchestra will include "Eine kleine Nachtmusik" and Peter Warlock's "Capriol Suite for String Orchestra."

Rob Dunham and Tamara Harsh are the conductors for the ensembles.

The concert begins at 8:15 p.m. in the Creative Arts Building Recital Hall. Tickets are $5 for general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens. Call Ext. 5859 for reservations.

Schuman's "Chester" is on the program for the June 5 concert featuring the CSUSB Symphonic Band. The concert begins at 8:15 p.m.

On June 6 favorite choral pieces both old and new are the subject when the Inland Empire-Cal State, San Bernardino Symphonic Choir performs. The 8:15 program includes the Mozart "Ave verum corpus," Brahms' "How Lovely are thy Dwellings" and Randall Thompson's "Alleluia."

The CSUSB Jazz Ensemble performs on June 8 when it will play some jazz standards at 8:15 p.m. All the concerts are held in the Recital Hall.
