ELECTION RESULTS

As if it were news to anyone on campus today, there's a runoff election in progress for the office of ASB Secretary. The original election eliminated Rebecca Hamilton, leaving Sandra Bergstrand and Linda Luetcke in the running.

The new ASB president is Richard Bennecke, who defeated Philip DeGrood. ASB vice president is John Kirwan, who ran unopposed. Treasurer is Paul Leithner, defeating Sylvia Stone.

Junior class president is Mark Mollet, edging out Daniel Abrams. Mary Kane and Cheryl Wall, running unopposed, are junior class representatives to the student senate.

Freshman class president is Terry Nicholson, who ran unopposed. Representatives are Jane Sill and Frederick Wolf, with Pia Nielson being eliminated.

The student body's collective suggestion for college mascot is Golden Condor, with tentative colors brown and gold. This is subject to later revision and election.

A total of 183 students voted, of a possible electorate of 236. This constitutes a 77% voter turnout. Freshmen, with a possible total of 97 voters, had 79 voters, an 81% vote. The 139 juniors provided the remaining 101 voters, for 73% participation. Three voters failed to cast ballots for class office.

EDITORIAL

We're indebted to the Forum Committee for its pre-election action in presenting candidates' points of view. Since the candidates didn't see fit to announce their qualifications in COMMUNIQUE, which could have been accomplished by simply submitting their statements, Jim McManus unhesitatingly placed his Forum Committee in the breach. The student body was thus afforded the opportunity to hear the candidates' views.

Another debt owed the Forum group is that it pointed out the inconsistency of the Election Committee in its early statement that college color selections were to be irrevocably tied to specific mascot selections, and a later statement (corroborated by the form of the ballots themselves) that there was to be no such inflexible relationship. This change indicates that the Election Committee experienced some difficulty in making up its collective mind. In the interests of unrestricted choice, we applaud the change and can only deplore the earlier attitude which was happily discarded.

We wonder, though, where the proliferation of news media on campus will end. SAGE fulfilled a needed function; EQUIVOQUE had no recognizable purpose aside from mouthing a few platitudes and appending advertisement parodies. We have no personal objection to criticism or competition, but no worthwhile goal is likely to be attained by fostering confusion. If the publishers of these other papers want to express dissatisfaction with COMMUNIQUE, the machinery exists within COMMUNIQUE itself. Just write a letter -- we'll print it.

DEAN FISK VIEWS ELECTION RESULTS

I want to express my thanks for their work to Jeanette Koolhaas and other members of the Election Committee for helping to make Tuesday's election such a resounding success. The sponsor of the committee, Dr. Robert R. Harrison, and other faculty members supervising the election also merit thanks.

Thanks go to all of the candidates for the dignified manner in which they conducted their campaigns. Especially gratifying was the student body's participation in the election, with an impressive 77% of the students taking part.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER NAMED TO LEGISLATURES CONFERENCE

Jesse M. Unruh, Speaker of the California Assembly, was elected January 17 to the board of trustees of the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures.

The board changed its by-laws at the meeting in order to permit Unruh's election. Before that time public officials were excluded.

The Citizens Conference on State Legislatures was formed by leaders in various fields to generate understanding and support among citizens for the legislative branch of state government.

NEWMAN CLUB PROGRAM BEGINS

Yesterday the Newman Club officially started its program for the second quarter. Rabbi H. Cohen spoke on "The Jewish Religion and Ceremony." In the coming weeks speakers from other religious denominations will appear. These talks are expected to answer the questions most Newman Club members never have the opportunity to ask.

The club also sponsors a monthly social activity. In December it visited St. Bernardine's Hospital and provided the patients with Christmas cards. Last Saturday the members went to the ice-skating rink at Bluejay. The club is planning a trip to the Carousel Theatre next month and another outing to San Juan Capistrano in March.
