'Average' Student IS Important to A. S. Gov't.

In an informal joint cabinet-senate meeting last week in the student union, A S president Jim Penman reviewed the role of student government on campus.

He noted that the foremost problem is a typical one on college campuses today: student governments should pay more attention to the average student on campus.

"The people who are interested in activities and dances are active in student government, but those who do not participate in such activities are still entitled to something for their fees," he said.

Stoutly implying that bread and circuses are not enough, Penman introduced two functions the student government should and can perform for all students: "We need a check-cashing service," Penman said and added that plans are now underway for this "important service to the student." The A S government would deposit money with the bursar's office for any student who wanted to cash a check. "At this time, however, we may see a need to place a $10 ceiling on checks cashed through the A S service," Penman said.

Treasurer Jerry Rohde and the college accounting officer, John Fredericks, will submit a proposal for instituting the service. "Previously, if a student wanted to cash a check on the campus, he was just out of luck," Penman said.

CSCLB Students reject Viet-Nam withdrawal

Students at Cal-State Long Beach rejected U. S. withdrawal from Vietnam in a referendum appearing on the ballot for the election of A S senators.

The "opinion poll" in last month's election asked students to vote either "yes" or "no" on the following statement:

"A student of California State College at Long Beach call for the immediate withdrawal of United States troops from Vietnam."

The referendum was rejected by 64% of the students voting. The Long Beach "Forty-Niner" reported that the statement lost by 1,910 to 974 with only 32 ballots not marked.

The "Forty-Niner" reported further that the election received a "heavier than usual" turnout, largely because of the appearance of the Vietnam opinion poll on the ballot.

At first declared illegal by the A S Judiciary when placed on the ballot, the Viet referendum was later approved.

A student senator, Linn Fairchild, was elected on a "no withdrawal," and free speech for Dow" ticket.

The A S government also can operate a functional and successful "book store," although it would not be such in the conventional sense. Students would sell books to each other with the student government acting as a middle-man. Thus, Penman said, students could buy books cheaper through the service and obtain a better price than offered at the college bookstore when they sell them at the end of the quarter. But because of sales tax regulations, the student government will not handle the money; instead, it would publish lists of books that are available in the "book area" and how much the seller is asking. When the book is sold, the money is placed in an envelope and given to the seller. Such an operation involves time, personnel and space, Penman said, but would be of ultimate use to all students.

Penman slightly admonished the senators present, saying "Not once did I have a student transmit to me from a problem transmitted to him from a student. The senators must

13 jobs open

The A S government is seeking an executive committee chairman for the elections committee and the intramural sports committee.

In addition, there are two vacancies on the student Publications Board and one of the vital student affairs committee.

Students interested may apply at the AS government offices located at BS 21 and 22. Applicants must have a 2.0 GPA and be carrying at least 10 units.

Medical Parking Only

The special parking spaces, designated by a yellow curb and "Medical Parking," are areas set aside for students, staff, and faculty who have a temporary or permanent physical disability which makes it difficult or hazardous to their health to walk between the parking lot.

Permission to use the spaces is available in A117, the SHC.

The joint student cabinet senate meeting was held in the newly-furnished student union.

Since the State will not furnish student areas, the furniture had to be donated to the student body or bought through student body fees, Pennman said.

As a college girl, you'll learn psychology, sociology, philosophy, economics and more.

As a United Stewardess, you’ll put them all to use.

(And fly to the places you’ve read about.)

Learning "by the book" is the first step. Learning by doing is the next. As a United Air Lines stewardess, you'll meet people from all walks of life. You'll become a master of tact and diplomacy. It's the kind of experience that will be useful to you the rest of your life.

After a 5 1/2-week course at our Stewardess Training Center in Chicago, you'll be assigned to one of 10 United stewardess domiciles—Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Chicago, Detroit, New York, Newark, Washington, D.C., or Miami.

During your first year, you'll earn as much as $451 a month. And you'll be given a generous travel allowance. Other benefits include a two-week paid vacation and four free trip passes after one year. As a United stewardess, you'll be eligible for reduced fares—up to 75%—on international airlines.

If you're single, between 20 and 26, between 5'-2" and 5'-9", weight 140 pounds or less (in proportion to height), and your vision is correctible to 20/30 in each eye, you may qualify.

Upon careful reading of the college calendar, we have discovered what must surely be a printer’s error!

Our editors have been reading the college calendar and have discovered some interesting facts. The college calendar, which is usually published weekly, does not list certain holidays in the college’s academic year. These holidays include Washington’s Birthday, Lincoln’s Birthday, and the 4th of July. However, the college calendar does list some other holidays, such as Christmas, Thanksgiving, and New Year’s Day.

The college calendar also includes information about the college’s academic schedule and the dates of important events, such as the beginning and end of the academic year. It appears that the college calendar is a valuable resource for students, faculty, and staff.
