Students qualifying for Cal State, San Bernardino (CSCSB) student financial aid can expect a little more money next year, and there will be more awards available—financi

FINANCIAL AID CAL GRANT DEADLINE IS TOMORROW

Students qualifying for Cal State, San Bernardino (CSCSB) student financial aid can expect a little more money next year, and there will be more awards available—financial aid increases proposed in Gov. Deukmejian’s ’84-’85 budget are approved by the State Legislature.

This should be an incentive for students to meet the financial aid application deadline which is just days away—February 9. Financial aid offered by the Cal State, San Bernardino student aid office includes Cal Grants, Bilingual Teacher Grants, and State Graduate Fellowships.

Cal Grants provide tuition/fee assistance to low-income undergraduates, and a living allowance for disadvantaged undergraduates. Bilingual Teacher Grants aid students enrolled in approved bilingual teacher training programs. Graduate Fellowships provide assistance for full-time graduate or professional study at either a public or an independent university in California. For any of these grants, students must qualify on the basis of financial need.

The 1984-85 Cal Grant tuition/fee awards, under the Governor’s budget, would pay a maximum of $308 at the Cal State Univ., $972 at the University of Cal., and $3,740 at independent colleges, a 10% increase over the ’83-’84 awards. The number of new Commission grant awards would increase from 6,000 to 8,000.

Winds Damage Buildings And Private Vehicles

by Dennis Hatcher

Severe Santa Ana winds took their toll on all of Southern California last week, and CSCSB got its share of damage.

According to Campus Police, winds ripped several camper shells from trucks in the school parking lots. Other damage occurred to cars parked at the Physical Plant, where huge sections of roof were torn off by the wind’s fury. Windshields were broken and car bodies were damaged as gravel and tarps were driven with shotgun blast force, rained upon the cars from above.

At Pfau Library, a large window panel was blown in on the Northwest corner, and several more windows were cracked. No one was injured by the flying glass, and maintenance crews quickly covered the gaping, ground floor hole with plywood sheets. Bob Lohnes, Assistant Administrative Affairs officer, said the heavy walnut doors at that end of the library were damaged by the flying debris and would have to be replaced. Lohnes estimates the cost of wind damage on campus at $25,000. He said the school was not liable for damage to privately-owned cars, which he estimated to number around 20.

Dr. Ted McDowell, head of the Geography department, regularly keeps record of weather conditions, including wind velocities. He stated that the highest wind velocity recorded at CSCSB was 70-74 mph, with winds typically gusting 30-60 mph. Major Balsterholt, from the Norton AFB weather station, explained what caused the high Santa Ana winds. “There was a large mass of cold air in the Great Basin, up around Idaho and Nevada. This cold air was very high pressure mass. We had here, in the South, an area of unusually low pressure. The air pressure has to equalize, so the high air pressure, as it funneled through the mountain pass, creating the Santa Ana condition.”

While the highest recorded wind speed at Norton was 45 mph, Balsterholt said it is common for areas near the pass to experience much higher velocities. Unofficial wind speeds of 90 mph had been reported in the San Bernardino area, but could not be confirmed.

Cindy Rahal and a friend fight against last week’s high winds while walking to their classes.

Student Union Offers An Array of Activities

Are you bored on Friday evenings? The Student Union has been open Friday nights since school began in September. The pub is open on a trial basis. The Union is open to student, faculty, staff, club and village use. Events which have been planned are dances, pool tournaments, weekly A.S. videos and more.

This Friday night, Feb. 10, come join us in the Student Union at 4:30 to view an Intramural Basketball game. Also, the video “Coming Home” will be shown at 6:30 in the Pub. For a special event this week Morongo is presenting a semi-formal Valentine’s dance sponsored by Serrano Village. The dance will be held in the SUMP from 9–1 a.m.

WEEKLY COFFEE HOUSES

Every Wednesday night at 8 p.m. the Student Union sponsors a Coffee House and Jam Session in the Union lounge or pub. Most Wednesday evenings have proven to be successful with participation from many CSCSB students.

At every Coffee House the Union has provided free refreshments. Come join us on Wednesday nights as a participant or audience. If you are interested in playing contact a night manager or Sherri Deutchman at the continued on page 7

Black Student Union president Bridget Copeland and other members of the Black History Week committee discuss the agenda for the late February event.

Stress page 2 Winterfest page 3 Record Rack page 6 Counseling Center page 8
Conquer Stress Before It Conquers You

by Carol Leish

You realize that you have a test tomorrow in English Language Arts and you're wide awake in order to study. You get caffeine from coffee or you may smoke in order to remain wide awake. How can you manage in order to handle school, home, and just what the devil will you do if going crazy?

Stress management is for your conquering stress instead of letting stress conquer you. On February 1 at noon and 8 p.m. in the Student Union, Steve Coffee and Veda Hunn, Psychology interns in the Cal State Counseling Center, give a presentation titled "Stress Management." The talk discussed the symptoms of stress, a holistic approach to stress management, ways to cope with stress, how thoughts affect stress and different stress personality type levels.

Steve Coffee said that stress is "a response, necessary for life threatening situations, such as being in the street as a stranger and having your purse snatched from you." He said that your body reacts in order to get out of that predicament to safety. According to Steve Coffee, "Chronic stress means stress is caused from things, such as school and midterm." In stressful situations, Steve Coffee said that the pupils dilate and that the muscles tense up. Adrenaline gives the body more energy. He said, "Sugar and coffee keeps the energy level artificially high," and continued, "If you don't like what you are doing, you get stress."

A holistic approach to stress is encouraged by Steve Coffee and Veda Hunn. This includes: a balanced diet, relaxation, psychological awareness, exercise and time management. By taking this approach, you will have the skills needed to take personal responsibility and control over how events in life affect you physically and psychologically.

Other ways to cope with stress were also mentioned. Establishing a good support system of friends and family members, accepting what you cannot change: changing your attitude if necessary, planning some free time every day and repeating statements, such as "I like me," or "I'm glad to be me." Following these guidelines will help you to put you on your way to conquering and dealing with stress.

How thoughts affect stress goes into: how we perceive an event that has occurred and how we interpret the event. This leads to a reaction of behavior and emotion to what occurred. According to Steve Coffee, "Our self talk (interpretation) of an event include some oughts, shoulds, and never... Inaccurate information can lead to an emotional disturbance. She also said that, "according to Albert Ellis, developer of Rational Emotion Therapy, Emotion is the result of self-talk. We make perceptions and interpretations that are real."

"Instead of assuming the worst," according to Ellis, "we should check out the rational thought with an action. An example would be: If your boss is angry at you, you may realize there is nothing wrong at 8 in the morning. With this interpretation of the matter, you would not get emotionally bothered about the matter... Veda Hunn said Saturday's 4 stress personality level types. Where would you classify yourself? 1 is the critical judge, who is a perfectionist with a low self esteem. 2 is the pleaser, who is passive and can't say no and is afraid of being alone. 3 is the sabotour, who is irritable and nasty. 4 is the striver, what you are depends on what you do.

News Briefs

Baha'i Scholarship
Applications are now being accepted for the 2nd Annual Roy Brooks Memorial Scholarship Award by the Cal State Baha'i College Club. The scholarship, in the amount of one-hundred dollars, is available to any student currently registered as a full-time, undergraduate student.

Dr. Martha Kazlo is a full time counselor at the counseling center located in PS 227.

German Club
The CSCSB German Club will be sponsoring two events this coming week.

The first will be a slide presentation on the topic, "Survey of German Art from Medieval Times to the Present," held in PL 211 on Wed., Feb. 8 from 4-6 p.m.

The second is a meeting at the home of Ms. Miranda Monson, Saturday, February 11, at 7:30 p.m. A special program on "New Wave-Modern German Music," will be followed with games, fun, singing and refreshments.

Everyone is welcome at both meetings. For more information, contact Jeff Espinosa at 882-6225 or Ms. Monson at 887-7445.

Winter Enrollment Up for the Same Term in 1983
As of the winter quarter census date, 5,144 students were enrolled in the winter quarter, which is a 5.37% increase over the same term a year earlier. The winter quarter census on 306 from last fall is the second highest enrollment in the college's history. It is only exceeded by fall 1983 when a new high of 5,450 students was chalked up. The total winter quarter enrollment drops off during the year from the fall quarter high of 5,497.

The full-time equivalent (FTE) for winter quarter stands at 3,919.9 students. The FTE is important for budgetary reasons, as the institution's allocation each year is based upon its FTE figures. The winter FTE count is 5.88% higher than winter 1983, although it is 4.94% below the all-time high of 4,123.7 set in the fall 1983 term.

Income Tax Aid Begins Feb. 7
Free volunteer assistance with income tax forms will be provided by the Accounting, Assn. from 4-6 p.m.; Tuesdays and Wednesdays, Feb. 7-March 7. All sessions will be in the Lower Commons except for Wednesday, Feb. 22. The assistance will be in upper Commons Room 219 that afternoon.

The student volunteers from the association who will be providing assistance have completed three training sessions: John Scrivener (Acct. and Finance) is the faculty advisor. The service is provided on a walk-in basis.

The student will help fill out federal forms 1040, 1040 A, 1040 EZ, as well as Calif. state forms 540 and 540 A.

Pre-Marital Sex-Avoiding the Pitfalls
Dave Wilson will be speaking on pre-marital sex this Thursday, Feb. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the Lower Commons. Wilson is a graduate of Ball State University in Indiana where he was a quarterback for 4 years; he turned down a pro contract with the Cincinnati Bengals to work with Athletes in Action.

Everyone is invited! Sponsored by Campus Crusade For Christ.

Are You Thinking About Becoming A Teacher?
Are you interested in finding out more about teaching as a career? Do you have lots of questions about teaching and credentials? Are you confused by the requirements you must meet to enter the credential program? Well, there's good news for those of you that answered yes to any of those questions. The staff of the Career Planning and Placement Center is sponsoring a workshop designed to answer all those questions and more.

"So You Think You Want To Be A Teacher" is a workshop that will be held on Wed., Feb. 15 from 2-4 p.m. in the Student Union Senate Chambers. There will be faculty and staff from the School of Education as well as a Career Counselor and educational placement advisor from the Career Planning and Placement Center available. Be sure to take advantage of this excellent opportunity to get all your questions answered at once.
CSOWC Concentrates on Women's Issues
by Linda Riddell

"...Instead of females attempting to be like males, I feel that females would achieve so much more if we strive for high positions and contentment with ourselves by keeping our femininity!" stated Lee Ann Overstreet, President of the Cal State Overstreet Women's Club (CSOWC). Overstreet and her members believe that the community should concentrate on awareness of women's issues.

Overstreet states that the objective of the CSOWC "is to bring the campus community, as well as the outlying communities, closer to Cal State and to awaken the communities to the possibilities open to women." The focus of the CSOWC as an organization is to become a source of substantial information for the professional woman.

The organization appears to be extremely serious in their commitment to reach their goals. Discussion topics include "Awareness of Opportunity" and seminars and discussion on "Women, Marriage, and Birth Control," "Sexual Harassment," "Women and Politics," "Health and Beauty," and "Spring Color" presentations. CSOWC strongly urges anyone interested in women's issues, including women, men, to gather with them to share your ideas and input.

Also included on the CSOWC's agenda are fund raising events such as donut sales (Feb. 8) and a dance scheduled for March 8 which will be co-sponsored with Associated Students. The organization is also preparing a five-page brochure with the National Women's Week during the Spring quarter. And, the CSOWC will also sponsor the annual blood drive on campus Feb. 15.

For those of you who feel this might be the channel you need to become an integral part of Cal State and achieve in the San Bernardino community itself, meetings are held at 12 noon in the Student Union Senate Chambers on approximately every third Tuesday. Or you may write with theme, address and phone number with the Activities Office on campus at SS 122 or call 887-7407.

Membership is open to students, alumni, faculty, staff, administrators, and individuals from surrounding communities. Fees are charged according to categories: Active $3; Associate $15; Benefactor $25; and Golden $50.

CDSA

The California State Student Association (CSSA) has been in existence since 1959 and has represented students on hundreds of hundreds of issues. Foreign language requirements, student service fees, and on-campus storage of hazardous wastes are a few of the most recent issues CSSA has dealt with.

Who decides what issues CSSA should consider? Your Associated Student representatives have that responsibility. Ultimately this task is to communicate the desires and needs of the student. Disappointing, student input in the past has been minimal. It is hoped that this column will stimulate student interest and allow yet another avenue for students to participate in state and local affairs! If you have any suggestions or concerns, please direct them to Ken Whitson, Legislative Director for the Associated Students. We need your input!!

CSAA

Money was the key subject for this week's BOD meeting. Top priority is the additional allocation of $600 to the BSU earmarked for Black History Week. The earlier allocation of $750 by the Student Affairs Committee for Clubs the total comes to $1350. This money is to be used to support clubs and speakers. Among the scheduled speakers is Yvonne Brathwaite Burke. Next on the list was a $500 allocation as a remembrance for Women's History Week. An additional $500 was made available for speakers if other funding could be found. Lowman on the topics was the Veterans Office. They received $25 for an open house.

BOD Agenda

The A.S. Board of Directors meets on Wednesdays from 2-4 p.m. in the Student Union Senate Chambers. A few of the items up for discussion in the Feb. 8 meeting include:

- A request for $1,000 logo to the Health Fair Expo.
- A $200 request for refreshments at the Family Living Seminar.
- A withdrawal of $100 from the Television booth in light of revenues exceeding the anticipated income.

Students are welcomed to the BOD meetings. If you have any issues which you'd like included on future agendas, contact Steve Winter, A.S. Vice President, at 887-7494.

February 8, 1984 The Cal State Chronicle Page 3

Money was the key subject for this week's BOD meeting. Top priority is the additional allocation of $600 to the BSU earmarked for Black History Week. The earlier allocation of $750 by the Student Affairs Committee for Clubs the total comes to $1350. This money is to be used to support clubs and speakers. Among the scheduled speakers is Yvonne Brathwaite Burke. Next on the list was a $500 allocation as a remembrance for Women's History Week. An additional $500 was made available for speakers if other funding could be found. Lowman on the topics was the Veterans Office. They received $25 for an open house.

BOD Agenda

The A.S. Board of Directors meets on Wednesdays from 2-4 p.m. in the Student Union Senate Chambers. A few of the items up for discussion in the Feb. 8 meeting include:

- A request for $1,000 logo to the Health Fair Expo.
- A $200 request for refreshments at the Family Living Seminar.
- A withdrawal of $100 from the Television booth in light of revenues exceeding the anticipated income.

Students are welcomed to the BOD meetings. If you have any issues which you'd like included on future agendas, contact Steve Winter, A.S. Vice President, at 887-7494.

President Anthony Evans has requested the formation of an Athletic Advisory Board to be representative of the college community. The board will assist in the new intercollegiate athletics program. Students with a strong interest in athletics and a desire to participate in this way are encouraged to come in to the A.S. Office in the Student Union as soon as you can.

There will be an all day party in the Student Union on Thursday, February 8, to celebrate the Annual Winterfest. The theme for this year's winterfest is "Country Jamboree," and it's bound to be a rootin', tootin', ho down. Behind this year's winterfest are: Sherri Deutchman, Student Union Co-ordinator; Clare Sharafsinski, Activities Advisor; and Dexter Wash, A.S. Activities Director. They have worked with the clubs and A.S. to make this year's winterfest one of the best ever. The entire Student Union has been booked for the occasion and there will be many exciting things going on. "We wanted a theme that everyone could really get into," said Dexter Wash. "Quite a few clubs have already shown their participation by signing up for booths to sell all kinds of foods and goodies."

There will be plenty of activities at winterfest as well. There will be a jail where you can pay to have a friend (or enemy) put behind bars by the winterfest sheriff. There will also be a marriage booth, country store and as an extra added attraction, A.S. is planning on having hay rides. This year's winterfest is also a celebration of our Student Union's 6th birthday. Sherri Deutchman is planning on having lots of goodies including an 8-foot sandwich to help celebrate.

A.S. invites all campus clubs to participate in the winterfest and birthday celebration. Prizes will be awarded to those club booths which most closely follow the continued on page 9
CSMA Takes to the Road

by Greg Timpany

The ultimate goal of most college students is to get a respectable, well paying job after graduation. Members of the Cal State Marketing Association are no different. Over the weekend of Jan. 26-28 a contingent of seven CSMA members attended the Western Region Student Careers Conference, sponsored by the American Marketing Association (AMA). The conference was held at the Anaheim Marriott, and was hosted by the Collegiate AMA Chapter of the University of Southern California.

Registration began on Thursday night, Jan. 26 and was followed by a career reception. The reception gave students a chance to talk with the companies who would be holding interviews over the course of the weekend. After the reception students ventured out to Orange county nightclubs.

The real action began on Friday morning. The day was started with the usual pep rally by conference officials. The real nitty-gritty began with a move into the concurrent sessions. Topics covered included Sales Management, Advertising and Promotions, Product and Brand Management, Physical Distribution, and Service Marketing. These sessions were led by members of the business and academic communities. There were executives from several Southern California Companies including Carnation, The Broadway, and Security Pacific Bank.

After lunch, concurrent sessions dealing with resumes and interviewing were started. This was followed by a panel discussion featuring recent graduates who had entered the business world. This was followed by a rash of parties and many more excursions into the night. There is one nightclub in Anaheim that everyone should visit. The place is known as Crackers. It is very hard not to have a good time at Crackers, even the CSMAS fearless leader Mitch Slagerman, had a good time, despite his two left feet. Everyone in attendance at the conference looked a little tired on Saturday morning. After consuming mass quantities of coffee, orange juice, and sweet rolls the conventioners carried on. Topics on Saturday included "Winning the Salary Game," "How to Find Jobs When Jobs Are Hard To Find," and "The Marketing Approach to Job Finding." After a less than rewarding afternoon session the conference ended with an unappealing banquet. A word to the wise, beware of convention food!

On a whole the conference was viewed as a success by those who attended. The CSMA members who participated were rewarded with an overabundance of pertinent information. A special CSMA thank-you goes out to April Duke who kept the group laughing endlessly with her many off-color jokes. As an ending note, if you are interested in personal and career growth, check out the CSMA.

BMC Hot Dog Sale Successful

by Joe Celentano VP/BMC

The Business Management Club (BMC) had another successful hot dog sale on Jan. 23 in front of the Pfau Library, bringing in almost $75. The cold chill in the air, the aroma of cooking hot dogs and chile, or the "hunger" were the primary ingredients for the sale going so well.

"...the club would like to thank those who helped participate in the eating, munching out, and devouring..."

"...of course there were the 'customers,' the major factor for our success, and the club would like to thank those who helped participate in the eating, munching out, and devouring," stated BMC Vice President Joe Celentano. Then too there were the club members who donated their time and efforts to make sure it would go well by standing in the cold "hawkering" the wares of the BMC. Accolades go to Al Knecht, president; Cathy Bright, Mitch Imoto, Dave Tremillo, Chris Martin, Anthony Lacey, and Shelly Cervantez.

"One more note of thanks should go to those members who worked hard 'behind-the-scenes.' They made the arrangements for permission, location, equipment, purchases, and much of the leg work it takes to set up this type of function." A special thanks also to Anthony Lacey and Shelly Cervantez, Celentano concluded.

BIological/Physical SCIenCeS...

Representatives from the Peace Corps will be at the South Entrance of Cal State San Bernardino's Pfau Library on February 21 and 22. Think about it, YOU CAN make a difference...by joining the Peace Corps!

You're Needed All Over the World.

Ask Peace Corps volunteers why they are using their Science major, minor, or aptitude in health clinics and classrooms in Malaysia. Why did they use them in fish pond culture projects and experimental farms in Western Samoa? They'll tell you their ingenuity and flexibility are as important as their degrees. Ask them why Peace Corps is the toughest job you'll ever love.

PEACE CORPS

MESSAGES WILL BE ACCEPTED:
WEDNESDAY 10-4 at the A.S. OFFICE
THURSDAY 1-5 at the CHRONICLE ROOM
FRIDAY 10-2 at the CHRONICLE ROOM

The Chronicle reserves the right to refuse any ad, so please keep your receipt for a refund if your ad does not appear in the paper.

Flowers by Margaret

We Can Send Flowers Anywhere!

886-7071
8:00 a.m. - 7:00 a.m.
HEALTH CORNER

Home Remedies

by Dorinda Thurman

The Health Center and Cal State’s Organization for College Women will sponsor a Blood Drive on Wednesday, February 15. Local Blood Bank staff will be assisting donors in the waiting room of the Health Center from 10-3 p.m.

"Since the purpose of the Blood Drive is to replenish supplies in the campus Blood Reserve Fund, we need your help. This fund was established so that there would always be a supply of blood available for any student, faculty or staff member, and their dependents," said Dr. James Savage.

Donating blood is a very simple process. Anyone who is in good health, who weighs over 110 pounds, and is between the age of 18 and 65, can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating and light refreshments.

Cal State’s Organization for College Women will be donating $10 cash prizes to some of their members with the most blood.

"The health center personnel are aware as you students don’t feel you have time to be ill. We hope our self-help suggestions will be useful when we are not available. But it is our goal to help you maintain good health and we are available to administer to your health needs with friendly, kind and supportive medical help.," said Dr. James Savage.

Have a Heart and Give Blood

by Dorinda Thurman

The Health Center and Cal State’s Organization for College Women will sponsor a Blood Drive on Wednesday, February 15. Local Blood Bank staff will be assisting donors in the waiting room of the Health Center from 10-3 p.m.

"Since the purpose of the Blood Drive is to replenish supplies in the campus Blood Reserve Fund, we need your help. This fund was established so that there would always be a supply of blood available for any student, faculty or staff member, and their dependents," said Dr. James Savage.

Donating blood is a very simple process. Anyone who is in good health, who weighs over 110 pounds, and is between the age of 18 and 65, can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating and light refreshments.

Cal State’s Organization for College Women will be donating $10 cash prizes to some of their members with the most blood.

"The health center personnel are aware as you students don’t feel you have time to be ill. We hope our self-help suggestions will be useful when we are not available. But it is our goal to help you maintain good health and we are available to administer to your health needs with friendly, kind and supportive medical help.," said Dr. James Savage.

Have a Heart and Give Blood

by Dorinda Thurman

The Health Center and Cal State’s Organization for College Women will sponsor a Blood Drive on Wednesday, February 15. Local Blood Bank staff will be assisting donors in the waiting room of the Health Center from 10-3 p.m.

"Since the purpose of the Blood Drive is to replenish supplies in the campus Blood Reserve Fund, we need your help. This fund was established so that there would always be a supply of blood available for any student, faculty or staff member, and their dependents," said Dr. James Savage.

Donating blood is a very simple process. Anyone who is in good health, who weighs over 110 pounds, and is between the age of 18 and 65, can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating and light refreshments.

Cal State’s Organization for College Women will be donating $10 cash prizes to some of their members with the most blood.

"The health center personnel are aware as you students don’t feel you have time to be ill. We hope our self-help suggestions will be useful when we are not available. But it is our goal to help you maintain good health and we are available to administer to your health needs with friendly, kind and supportive medical help.," said Dr. James Savage.

Have a Heart and Give Blood

by Dorinda Thurman

The Health Center and Cal State’s Organization for College Women will sponsor a Blood Drive on Wednesday, February 15. Local Blood Bank staff will be assisting donors in the waiting room of the Health Center from 10-3 p.m.

"Since the purpose of the Blood Drive is to replenish supplies in the campus Blood Reserve Fund, we need your help. This fund was established so that there would always be a supply of blood available for any student, faculty or staff member, and their dependents," said Dr. James Savage.

Donating blood is a very simple process. Anyone who is in good health, who weighs over 110 pounds, and is between the age of 18 and 65, can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating and light refreshments.

Cal State’s Organization for College Women will be donating $10 cash prizes to some of their members with the most blood.

"The health center personnel are aware as you students don’t feel you have time to be ill. We hope our self-help suggestions will be useful when we are not available. But it is our goal to help you maintain good health and we are available to administer to your health needs with friendly, kind and supportive medical help.," said Dr. James Savage.
RECORD RACK: KANSAS

by Greg Timpany
Album: Drastic Measures by Kansas

This album features a streamlined version of Kansas. Gone are vocalist/violinist Robbie Steinhardt along with vocalist Steve Walsh. Despite the loss, violinist Robbie Steinhard has carried on like a wayward son.

John Elefante has taken over the vocal chores. At these tasks he has performed nothing less than excellently. Along with his brother Dino, they have also taken on a good portion of the writing responsibilities. These changes have worked well for the band, except they no longer have those distinctive vocal harmonies present on songs like "Portrait, He Knew," and "Hold On."

Kerry Livgren, who has been with Kansas since its inception, provides the remainder of the new material. Livgren's writing style is very tense and direct. He has a great ability to translate his feelings into powerful music. Songs like "Mainstream," and "End of the Age" are finely crafted both lyrically and instrumentally.

The one thing I really appreciate about Kansas is their ability to mix spirited vocals with technically superior instrumentals. Neither aspect receives too much emphasis. Backing the instrumental mix is the powerful duo of Phil Ehart on drums and percussion, and Dave Hope on bass guitar. On top of the rhythm tracks are the guitar lines of Rich Williams and Kerry Livgren. Neither guitarist owns the spotlight, and they have a habit of trading off guitar lines in a very efficient manner. Keyboard lines are provided by Elefante as well as Livgren.

Take Charge At 22.

In most jobs, at 22 you're near the bottom of the ladder. In the Navy, at 22 you can be a leader. After just 16 weeks of leadership training, you're an officer. You'll have the kind of job your education and training prepared you for, and the decision-making authority you need to make the most of it.

As a college graduate and officer candidate, your Navy training is geared to making you a leader. There is no boot camp. Instead, you receive professional training to help you build the technical and management skills you'll need as a Navy officer.

This training is designed to instill confidence by first-hand experience. You learn by doing. On your first sea tour, you're responsible for managing the work of up to 30 men and the care of sophisticated equipment worth millions of dollars.

It's a bigger challenge and a lot more responsibility than most corporations give you at 22. The rewards are bigger, too. There's a comprehensive package of benefits including special duty pay. The starting salary is $17,000 — more than most companies would pay you right out of college. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, your salary will have increased so much as $31,000.

As a Navy officer, you grow, through new challenges, new tests of your skills, a comprehensive package of benefits, including special duty pay. The starting salary is $17,000 — more than most companies would pay you right out of college. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, your salary will have increased so much as $31,000.

As a Navy officer, you grow, through new challenges, new tests of your skills, and new opportunities to advance your education, including the possibility of attending graduate school while you're in the Navy.

Don't just take a job. Become a Navy officer, and take charge. Even at 22.

Navy Officers Get Responsibility Fast.

Take Charge At 22.

In most jobs, at 22 you're near the bottom of the ladder. In the Navy, at 22 you can be a leader. After just 16 weeks of leadership training, you're an officer. You'll have the kind of job your education and training prepared you for, and the decision-making authority you need to make the most of it.

As a college graduate and officer candidate, your Navy training is geared to making you a leader. There is no boot camp. Instead, you receive professional training to help you build the technical and management skills you'll need as a Navy officer.

This training is designed to instill confidence by first-hand experience. You learn by doing. On your first sea tour, you're responsible for managing the work of up to 30 men and the care of sophisticated equipment worth millions of dollars.

It's a bigger challenge and a lot more responsibility than most corporations give you at 22. The rewards are bigger, too. There's a comprehensive package of benefits including special duty pay. The starting salary is $17,000 — more than most companies would pay you right out of college. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, your salary will have increased so much as $31,000.

As a Navy officer, you grow, through new challenges, new tests of your skills, and new opportunities to advance your education, including the possibility of attending graduate school while you're in the Navy.

Don't just take a job. Become a Navy officer, and take charge. Even at 22.

Navy Officers Get Responsibility Fast.

Take Charge At 22.

In most jobs, at 22 you're near the bottom of the ladder. In the Navy, at 22 you can be a leader. After just 16 weeks of leadership training, you're an officer. You'll have the kind of job your education and training prepared you for, and the decision-making authority you need to make the most of it.

As a college graduate and officer candidate, your Navy training is geared to making you a leader. There is no boot camp. Instead, you receive professional training to help you build the technical and management skills you'll need as a Navy officer.

This training is designed to instill confidence by first-hand experience. You learn by doing. On your first sea tour, you're responsible for managing the work of up to 30 men and the care of sophisticated equipment worth millions of dollars.

It's a bigger challenge and a lot more responsibility than most corporations give you at 22. The rewards are bigger, too. There's a comprehensive package of benefits including special duty pay. The starting salary is $17,000 — more than most companies would pay you right out of college. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, your salary will have increased so much as $31,000.

As a Navy officer, you grow, through new challenges, new tests of your skills, and new opportunities to advance your education, including the possibility of attending graduate school while you're in the Navy.

Don't just take a job. Become a Navy officer, and take charge. Even at 22.

Navy Officers Get Responsibility Fast.

Take Charge At 22.

In most jobs, at 22 you're near the bottom of the ladder. In the Navy, at 22 you can be a leader. After just 16 weeks of leadership training, you're an officer. You'll have the kind of job your education and training prepared you for, and the decision-making authority you need to make the most of it.

As a college graduate and officer candidate, your Navy training is geared to making you a leader. There is no boot camp. Instead, you receive professional training to help you build the technical and management skills you'll need as a Navy officer.

This training is designed to instill confidence by first-hand experience. You learn by doing. On your first sea tour, you're responsible for managing the work of up to 30 men and the care of sophisticated equipment worth millions of dollars.

It's a bigger challenge and a lot more responsibility than most corporations give you at 22. The rewards are bigger, too. There's a comprehensive package of benefits including special duty pay. The starting salary is $17,000 — more than most companies would pay you right out of college. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, your salary will have increased so much as $31,000.

As a Navy officer, you grow, through new challenges, new tests of your skills, and new opportunities to advance your education, including the possibility of attending graduate school while you're in the Navy.

Don't just take a job. Become a Navy officer, and take charge. Even at 22.

Navy Officers Get Responsibility Fast.
"OZ"

A nine-year-old Vancouver schoolgirl has been chosen to play the pivotal role of Dorothy in Walt Disney Pictures’ large-scale fantasy/adventure "OZ," it is announced by Richard Berger, president of Walt Disney Pictures, and producers Gary Kurtz and Paul Maslansky.

Fairuz Balk, an American born Canadian immigrant, beat out hundreds of applicants for the starring role of Dorothy, the Kansas farm girl played by Judy Garland in the 1939 film, "The Wizard of Oz," based on L. Frank Baum’s "Ozma of Oz" and "Land of Oz." In that film, Dorothy returns to Oz for further adventures. The motion picture begins principal photography at Elstree Studios near London on Feb. 20.

"OZ" is the story of Rose, an innocent young woman whose life is centered around reunions and daydreams, and her relationship with the rough and witty truck driver, Cliff. The student-produced play opens at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 9 in the Drama Lab.

Amber Talvi, a senior theatre arts major, portrays Cliff. He is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Senior theatre arts major Mary Mantius of Highland will direct the production with Mark Duncan, of San Bernardino, a freshman majoring in theatre arts, will be stage manager.

The search for Dorothy began last August with an open call for girls aged 9 to 12. Auditions were held in six American and two Canadian cities. In November twelve finalists were tested at the Disney Studios in California from which two were flown to London this month for complete studio tests.

Fairuz, born at Point Reyes, Ca., on May 21, 1974 attends the Lord Byng French Immersion School in Vancouver, British Columbia. She is 4’6” tall, weighs 60 lbs., has long, light brown hair and hazel eyes. She was the youngest of all applicants for the starring role of Dorothy, the Kansas farm girl played by Judy Garland in the 1939 film classic, "The Wizard of Oz." "OZ," based on L. Frank Baum’s "Ozma of Oz" and "Land of Oz," is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Mark Peters, a senior theatre arts major of Alta Loma, is in charge of costumes and graphic design. Set and lighting design is by Pat Hadock, of the theatre arts department staff. Performances will continue Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, at 8:15 p.m.

Student Union--

There’s Also More Than You May Know

continued from page 1

Student Union desk or show up Wednesday evening with your favorite instrument.

LIVING AND LEARNING SERIES

Faculty, staff and students and the community have been invited to facilitate the series. The series attempts to provide mini-seminars which address current needs and issues. The next seminar will be Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 6:30 in the SUMP, where Martha Kaslo, a counselor in the Student Counseling Center will facilitate the third living-learning series, "How compatible are you?" This program will be an even evening to discuss how you will live together as a couple, as roommates, as friends.

DODGERS ESCAPE

Come join the fans and get a sneak preview of the L.A. Dodgers. The work out is free to the public. Watch a drill and batting practice along with a game. Gates open at 11:30. The game begins at 1 p.m.

with a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Feb. 12. All performances are in the Drama Lab.

All three performances, will go on sale Feb. 3 in the theatre arts department office.

February 8, 1984 The Cal State Chronicle Page 7

"The Woolgatherer" To Be Presented

The story of a young, naive recluse and the impact of a fast-talking truck driver entering into her life will be presented Feb. 9 through 12 at Cal State, San Bernardino.

"The Woolgatherer" is the story of Rose, an innocent young woman whose life is centered around reunions and daydreams, and her relationship with the rough and witty truck driver, Cliff. The student-produced play opens at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 9 in the Drama Lab.

Amber Talvi, a senior theatre arts major, portrays Cliff. He is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Senior theatre arts major Mary Mantius of Highland will direct the production with Mark Duncan, of San Bernardino, a freshman majoring in theatre arts, will be stage manager.

The search for Dorothy began last August with an open call for girls aged 9 to 12. Auditions were held in six American and two Canadian cities. In November twelve finalists were tested at the Disney Studios in California from which two were flown to London this month for complete studio tests.

Fairuz, born at Point Reyes, Ca., on May 21, 1974 attends the Lord Byng French Immersion School in Vancouver, British Columbia. She is 4’6” tall, weighs 60 lbs., has long, light brown hair and hazel eyes. She was the youngest of all applicants for the starring role of Dorothy, the Kansas farm girl played by Judy Garland in the 1939 film classic, "The Wizard of Oz." "OZ," based on L. Frank Baum’s "Ozma of Oz" and "Land of Oz," is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Mark Peters, a senior theatre arts major of Alta Loma, is in charge of costumes and graphic design. Set and lighting design is by Pat Hadock, of the theatre arts department staff. Performances will continue Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, at 8:15 p.m.

Student Union--

There’s Also More Than You May Know

continued from page 1

Student Union desk or show up Wednesday evening with your favorite instrument.

LIVING AND LEARNING SERIES

Faculty, staff and students and the community have been invited to facilitate the series. The series attempts to provide mini-seminars which address current needs and issues. The next seminar will be Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 6:30 in the SUMP, where Martha Kaslo, a counselor in the Student Counseling Center will facilitate the third living-learning series, "How compatible are you?" This program will be an even evening to discuss how you will live together as a couple, as roommates, as friends.

DODGERS ESCAPE

Come join the fans and get a sneak preview of the L.A. Dodgers. The work out is free to the public. Watch a drill and batting practice along with a game. Gates open at 11:30. The game begins at 1 p.m.

with a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Feb. 12. All performances are in the Drama Lab.

All three performances, will go on sale Feb. 3 in the theatre arts department office.

February 8, 1984 The Cal State Chronicle Page 7

"The Woolgatherer" To Be Presented

The story of a young, naive recluse and the impact of a fast-talking truck driver entering into her life will be presented Feb. 9 through 12 at Cal State, San Bernardino.

"The Woolgatherer" is the story of Rose, an innocent young woman whose life is centered around reunions and daydreams, and her relationship with the rough and witty truck driver, Cliff. The student-produced play opens at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 9 in the Drama Lab.

Amber Talvi, a senior theatre arts major, portrays Cliff. He is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Senior theatre arts major Mary Mantius of Highland will direct the production with Mark Duncan, of San Bernardino, a freshman majoring in theatre arts, will be stage manager.

The search for Dorothy began last August with an open call for girls aged 9 to 12. Auditions were held in six American and two Canadian cities. In November twelve finalists were tested at the Disney Studios in California from which two were flown to London this month for complete studio tests.

Fairuz, born at Point Reyes, Ca., on May 21, 1974 attends the Lord Byng French Immersion School in Vancouver, British Columbia. She is 4’6” tall, weighs 60 lbs., has long, light brown hair and hazel eyes. She was the youngest of all applicants for the starring role of Dorothy, the Kansas farm girl played by Judy Garland in the 1939 film classic, "The Wizard of Oz." "OZ," based on L. Frank Baum’s "Ozma of Oz" and "Land of Oz," is a Ramona High School graduate and has attended Riverside City College. Both are Riverside residents.

Mark Peters, a senior theatre arts major of Alta Loma, is in charge of costumes and graphic design. Set and lighting design is by Pat Hadock, of the theatre arts department staff. Performances will continue Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, at 8:15 p.m.

Student Union--

There’s Also More Than You May Know

continued from page 1

Student Union desk or show up Wednesday evening with your favorite instrument.

LIVING AND LEARNING SERIES

Faculty, staff and students and the community have been invited to facilitate the series. The series attempts to provide mini-seminars which address current needs and issues. The next seminar will be Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 6:30 in the SUMP, where Martha Kaslo, a counselor in the Student Counseling Center will facilitate the third living-learning series, "How compatible are you?" This program will be an even evening to discuss how you will live together as a couple, as roommates, as friends.

DODGERS ESCAPE

Come join the fans and get a sneak preview of the L.A. Dodgers. The work out is free to the public. Watch a drill and batting practice along with a game. Gates open at 11:30. The game begins at 1 p.m.

with a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Feb. 12. All performances are in the Drama Lab.

All three performances, will go on sale Feb. 3 in the theatre arts department office.
In Trouble? Counseling Center Ready To Help

“When do I know it’s time to come get help?”

(CBEST) and the Graduation Record Exam (GRE) among

Help Available for the Procrastinator

by Carol Leish

You realize that your twenty page term paper for English needs to be grammatically correct before you turn it in next week. You desperately need to find someone to help you before you panic.

Dr. Dianne Irwin, director, says, “The Learning Center does offer assistance in most academic areas.

Tapes of lectures, for most large classes, are available. Jim Iwasa, an undeclared graduate student, said, “I appreciate being on my own schedule in my self-paced History of World Religions class. I am able to do things at my own leisure.” For self-paced classes, the center provides video and audio cassettes and administers testing.

Nelda Smith, a graduate student in business, says she has found it helpful to work with an accounting tutor. She said, “I am really surprised more people do not use the Learning Center throughout the quarter. A lot if offered here.”

Students can receive tutoring; at the present time, in English, biology, chemistry, physics, geometry, trigonometry, algebra, and calculus.

Jim Gratz, a graduate student in computer science, comes to the center to study. He said, “If I have a problem, I can usually find a tutor to help me. I like the conducive study environment offered here.”

Tutors, who are available according to a posted schedule, have a least a 3.0 overall GPA and at least a 3.0 GPA in the subject that they are tutoring. They also have received recommendations from faculty members.

Besides tutoring, seminars are offered through the Learning Center. Diane Paletir, advisor at the center, offers seminars in: writing research papers, swarming awareness and improvement, and understanding and analyzing poetry.

The Learning Center is located in Pfau Library 37. It is open Monday through Thursday, 8:30 to 8:30; Friday, 8:30 to 4, and Saturday, 12 to 3. Students can call 887-7612 for more information.

Irwin said, “After visiting the Learning Center once, students usually come back.”
Winterfest
cont. from page 3

"this is an excellent opportunity for clubs to recruit new members or otherwise promote your organization on campus."

"So think country clubs to recruit new members or otherwise promote your organization."

It's still not to late to participate. Any interested club can call Clare Sharefinski at 887-7498, and any interested individuals who would like to participate should call Dexter Wash at 887-7498. Let's all have fun now...ya' here?

HOCKEY

Gretzky's Puppies Prevail
by Al Katemopoulos

In a battle of unbeaten teams Saturday, Gretzky's Puppies prevailed over Holiday on Ice by a score of 3-2.

After a scoreless first period, Holiday's John Toscano took the puck and drove it past Gretzky's goalie Mike Haller to give Holiday a 1-0 lead. Seconds later, Gretzky's Jay Alverson tipped in a deflection to tie the score at 1-1. Alverson scored again just before the end of the second period to give Gretzky's a 2-1 lead.

In the third period, it was Alverson getting the hat trick giving Gretzky's a 3-1 lead. With less than 2 minutes left, Holiday pulled goalie Jim Smolich for an extra attacker. Gretzky's defense remained tenacious and goalie Haller turned away shot after shot. With seconds remaining, Holiday's Bob Johnson scored to bring the final score to 3-2.

Gretzky's remains unbeaten at 30 while Holiday falls to 2-1.

In a game between the Charleston Chiefs and Manitoba Maulers, it was the Chiefs winning 8-2. Tom Ruvalo scored six times for the Chiefs as well as Paul Savage twice.

The Chiefs are now 2-1 while the Maulers fall to 1-2. The P.E.M.M. Slashers picked up to forfeit to improve their record to 1-2.

Hockey Results:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>PCT</th>
<th>GB</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gretzky's Puppies</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>1.000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Charleston Chiefs</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>.667</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holiday on Ice</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.667</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>P.E.M.M. Slashers</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Manitoba Maulers</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.333</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

BASKETBALL

B League
Brown skins 34 Bombers 26
Enforcers 47 Inever touched 'em 41
Old Boys 28 Knights 18
Roundball

A League

Writing Tutor: One-third to one-half of your grade is based on term papers. Do not fink a subject you know well because of an inability to express yourself in writing. Call Len Ehret, Mon-Fri at 887-2922. 2/22

Wanted: Neat, dependable person to share large furnished mobile home. Owner home only on weekends, $225.00 a month and share utilities. Call 866-0285 for information.

Stereo Equipment: Discount on over 50 brands of audio, video and car stereos. Full warranty, consultation and set up service. Call James at 862-5579 after 4 p.m. (If no answer, please leave message.)

For Sale: 76b Fiat Spider convertible, 92,000 mi, 5 speed, am/fm stereo, removable hardtop. $1900 or best offer. 824-7755 after 6 p.m.

For Sale: 1971 Mustang. Runs good, some rust. $600 Call Lisa 886-6262 (other times) - 882-6502. 3/7

EXPERIENCED TYPIST available to do any of your college papers. Reasonable rates. Call 882-6502. 3/17

For Sale: 1971 Mustang. Runs good, needs body work. $600 Call Lisa 886-0285.

Hours 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. Now Open Ph: 881-4006
College Park Laundromat & Dry Cleaner
Where
At the corner of Kendal and 3rd St.
Now
(Get your jeans cleaned in our super machines )
And
You'll get 25% off on your dry cleaning with this ad
2/28
"Privilege" Being Lost to Off-Campus Visitors

With every quarter is a necessity for Cal State students to shell out an additional $15 for a parking permit. This sticker is supposed to guarantee adequate parking, and usually it does even if it means waiting a long time. However, pow and again, campus facilities are used by off-campus organizations. When this happens, it is virtually impossible to find a parking space. The student finds himself tempted to park illegally rather than drive around looking for a single empty slot.

It seems unfair that after paying for the "privilege" to park, there are no available spaces due to non-paying visitors. Although this is perceived as a temporary problem, how long will it be before this becomes a daily occurrence? Ever increasing enrollment, as well as Cal State being a community-involved campus, necessitates that some solutions to the problem be considered—before it becomes an every day happening.

The Right of Choice

January 21 marked the eleventh anniversary of the legalization of abortion by the supreme court. In 1973 just over one million abortions were estimated to have occurred annually. That number has increased half again annually today. In 1983, the estimated number has increased by over 400 billion dollars in the last decade.

We are compelled to ask ourselves to what can this consistency in Soviet policy be attributed. In searching for the answer one must always bear in mind the Soviet leadership, whatever it may comprise, operates within a particular political, ideological, and military tradition. It is this tradition that informs and guides the broader parameters of Soviet national strategy and transscends changes in leadership. The objectives and goals of Soviet revolutionary policy are not subject to renegotation. They reflect long term planning considerations based on an enduring politico-military consensus defined by the highest Communist Party leadership. This is an aspect upon which Western analysts and policymakers should focus their attention when examining possible changes in Soviet leadership.

For the time being the West can expect the Soviet Union to "stay the course" irrespective of whether Yuri Andropov or a successor reigns over the USSR. Mr. Andropov's inheritance, in all likelihood, will become his legacy.

The guest analysis column welcomes submissions from faculty and graduate students from all disciplines.

Guest Analysis

Andropov, Soviet Policy and the Succession Crisis: Staying the Course

by P.A. DeBaise

Professor, Political Science

This is the second half of this series.

The potential and strategic gains yielded by the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan outweigh the risks and costs incurred so far. The 100,000 troops in Afghanistan represent less than 2% of Soviet Armed Forces strength. The Soviet objectives in subjugating this territory are nominal when one considers the Russian geo-strategic interest in Afghanistan for over 150 years. With a fraction of their Armed Forces, the Soviets have acquired another satellite; expanded further in the direction of Central Asia and after warm water outlet to the Indian Ocean; advanced their capability to project military power along the critical Straits of Hormuz in the Persian Gulf; and defined their strategy along the border of America's staunchest ally in South Asia, Pakistan.

Again, Soviet policy toward Poland remains remarkably consistent under Andropov. This is so despite the impression conveyed that events in Poland indicate a great embarrassment to the Soviet Union and a direct challenge to its authority in East Europe. What Poland illustrates is the increasing Soviet capability to influence events in satellite regimes with a minimum of perceptible physical intervention. Success in exporting anti-Western, anti-indirect intervention in Poland, unlike the type of force employed in Hungary (1956) and Czechoslovakia (1968), demonstrates that the Kremlin is now more adept at controlling the internal affairs of these countries with a nominal expenditure of Soviet resources.

The leadership in Moscow is undoubtedly pleased with the dramatic extension of its influence in the Third World through force of arms. Under Brezhnev this engendered an increase in the number of Soviet sponsored communist regimes. Throughout the 1970's no less than 8Marxist- Leninist parties seized government power with the aid of either Soviet arms, troops or proxy forces. The Soviet Union under Mr. Andropov, perceiving its past successes in the Third World as well as in Western revolution as confirming the correctness of its policy, is pursuing with particular facility the destabilisation of non-communist regimes through Latin American and the Western Hemisphere.

During Andropov's tenure the Soviets have sought detente with the U.S. as assiduously as they have in the past. It is the U.S. that has become frustrated with an era of detente most notably characterized by a massive Soviet arms build-up, violation of arms control treaties and increasing exportation of anti-Western revolution. However, the U.S. desired itself concerned about the anticipated benefits of detente. The Soviet approach to detente was never at variance with its assessment of international relations as being characterized by competing and adversarial political-economic systems. The Soviet objectives in detente were clearly defined in accordance with that view. Moscow sought a relaxation of tension in order to obtain needed Western credits, loans, high technology and the confirmation of military tradition to permit a major reamrrnent program without the political response from the Western powers. It was during this time that the U.S. implemented unilateral nuclear force reductions and cutbacks in defense expenditures. Between 1969 and 1979, American defense spending declined in real terms each year but two. Soviet defense spending during this same period, however increased. It has grown every year since detente was initiated, with annual expenditures at 12-14 percent of GDP twice that of the U.S. spends on defense. As a result, the USSR has cumulatively outspent the United States in defense by over 400 billion dollars in the last decade.

The leadership in Moscow is undoubtedly pleased with the dramatic extension of its influence in the Third World through force of arms. Under Brezhnev this engendered an increase in the number of Soviet sponsored communist regimes. Throughout the 1970's no less than 8Marxist- Leninist parties seized government power with the aid of either Soviet arms, troops or proxy forces. The Soviet Union under Mr. Andropov, perceiving its past successes in the Third World as well as in Western revolution as confirming the correctness of "Break the mold and dare to get involved."

by Greg Timpany

This is dedicated to those people who have not taken the time to get involved in the campus or in some reason or reasons, I am sure there are several, people today just do not get involved. If it means making a small sacrifice in terms of time, money, or effort they tend to stay away from what is good. If it is unfortunate because in many cases these people are missing out on some things. Apathetic people are truly a strange bunch of creatures. They have a tendency of hiding behind plastic barriers which allow them to screen out everything which is different from their narrow scope of life, which is their life in a rut which deepens over time. Life in a rut is very convenient for the apathetic person for it gives them reason not to think. Everything they say and do is what other apathetic people have done. It requires very little, if any, creative thinking. Apathetic people are programmed robots, in that you can predict their actions with ease. Not getting involved also makes the apathetic person's life much simpler. They do not have to face the extended consequences of the things they have been involved in something can bring. To them school is no longer an important issue, and they head back and forth from home to class to home day in and day out. As they lirter around the campus they are not exposed to new experiences by their plastic shields. By not accepting new challenges and opportunities, their growth potential, and prolonging their repititious existence.

Getting involved and trying different things can lead to personal satisfaction and growth. Two historic examples that come to mind were Gandhi and Hitler. They both became involved and in turn increased their personal influence. Granted they worked toward completely opposite goals, but they both got involved and grew forward. They were not the ignorant masses whom they remained apathetic. Had they been apathetic they would have been swallowed by the ignorant masses instead of leading them.

I had no desire to become one of the masses so I cast off my shadow of apathy and got involved. By doing so I have easily remained one of the ignorant masses, but I wanted to expand out and learn new things. Through working with student organizations I have had the opportunity to expand on what I have learned in the classroom. Unless you wish to remain one of the ignorant, slithering masses, you must break the mold and dare to get involved.

Frankly, we were surprised and disappointed that financial aid information would not receive higher priority by the staff of the Chronicle.

Of further disappointment was the manner in which financial aid deadlines were run through the Cal State Chronicle. Our concern is not that you did not use our exact advertisement, but that the announcement was tield to an advertisement for a computerized scholarship search program. The implication that one draws is that this scholarship program is recommended by the Financial Aid Office. To the contrary, we would suggest that the student save his/her money. Better results can probably be obtained by reading the CSCSB Financial Aid Brochure and spending an afternoon in the library browsing through books on scholarships, loans and work programs.

Editor's Response

Dear Ms. Yount:

Ordinarily the Cal State Chronicle asks campus offices to release any information to disseminate information to students through our publication. Because financial aid deadlines are critical to many students, I felt an exception should be made in this case. This would be a disservice to CSCSB students. We are hopeful that this situation will be rectified in the immediate future.

Sincerely,

Ted Krug
Director of Financial Aid

More Thoughts on the Record Rack

Dear Editor,

Greg Timpany and Marcina Correll have both completely missed the point of my letter to the editor. First of all, Mr. Timpany, nowhere did I state that "the students on campus do not listen to rock and roll music as you stated. The point I was making was the fact that the majority of students listen to New Wave and other forms of music as well as rock and roll—they do not listen only to the likes of Black Sabbath and Kiss. When Correll mentioned the Rockabilly of the Stray Cats (forms of rock and roll which are currently missing from Record Rack reviews most of the time) I should have included Progressive Rock and Rockabilly in my list, but I tried to include everything it would have become overly long and redundant. As for the "good of Midwestern Rock and Roll" phrase which you claim reflected a narrow viewpoint on my part, may I remind you that I was merely quoting a phrase that you coined in reference to that line of music. If you read the letter, you should have noted the quotation mark around that phrase when it was used.

Finally, you claim your reviews are limited because you cannot afford to buy albums. Who said you had to buy albums in order to review them? Right across the hall from the Financial Aid Office is the AS Activities office which has a large collection of albums of many different forms of music for use at AS dances and other functions. They will be glad to let you borrow them as long as they are notified two days in advance that you want to use them. There is also the Listening Center on the fourth floor of the Library with a magnificent collection of albums including some of the latest pop releases. You have to do is check out a room and as many different albums as you like and listen to them. You don't have to ask me or anyone else to buy them for you (but if you want to borrow albums from me for review, you are perfectly welcome to do so). As far as what kinds of music you listen to, I could care less about your personal preferences. What concerns me is your responsibility as the sole music reviewer of the Cal State Chronicle to adequately represent the students of this university. We are not interested in your coverage of popular music. I have yet to see any reviews of Duran Duran, Men Without Hats, Depeche Mode, and Culture Club. I have reviewed Prince, The Gap Band, The Stray Cats, Asia, or many others that I could list. When he consistently reviews music that student's are not interested in, it is exactly the attitude that he is trying to lead to personal satisfaction. I suggest you expand your viewpoint on my part, may I remind you that I was merely quoting a phrase that you coined in reference to that line of music. If you read the letter, you should have noted the quotation mark around that phrase when it was used.

Michael Jackson and Cole Porter hail from there, as well as the fact that many other artists are from the Midwest, including Prince who hails from Minnesota. But, like Greg Timpany, Ms. Correll, you have missed the point of my letter. In reference to the Midwest, I was speaking about "good old Midwestern rock and roll" a generalization coined by Greg Timpany. No, more specifically, I was speaking about a prevalent attitude in the Midwest as reflected in a statement in the Jan. 14 issue of Billboard Magazine in an article concerning Album Sales charts. The article states: "In the Midwest, there is a general consensus that the W.A.S.P. label, which US and Rockabilly and Rock and roll—are things that are not important. As Greg Timpany would have it, the Midwest is a place where "progressive" music is not played. This is exactly the attitude that also provides for GSL's Record Rack column when he consistently reviews only music from Heavy Metal or similar bands and debunks New Wave as he has done.

If you want information on the origin, class, race and creed of rock and roll fans, or for fans of other kinds of music for that matter, read Billboard Magazine: It is the music industry's most widespread and respected publication. It contains information on every aspect of popular music including the best information on who listens to what. Check the Arbitron radio surveys, which have consistently shown that over 50% of the American population is listening to soft rock stations. Modern music (id New Wave, Modern Rock) is exactly the attitude that I am trying to lead to personal satisfaction. I suggest you expand your viewpoint on my part, may I remind you that I was merely quoting a phrase that you coined in reference to that line of music. If you read the letter, you should have noted the quotation mark around that phrase when it was used.

Sincerely yours,

Chris Ellis
Canada's Bear of Beers is here!

Down from the North Woods of Canada comes Grizzly Beer. Not just another Canadian beer, but a rare breed of brew. An authentic Canadian lager—naturally aged, so it's remarkably smooth. With a flavor no other Canadian beer can stand up to. The bear of beers is here!