The Associated Students is in the process of planning a "convocation" to be held at CSCSB. The purpose of the program is strictly educational. In view of the severity of the issues being raised by the current strike at San Francisco State College, it is especially important that the CSCSB community be better informed about that crisis. Also, it is important that we become aware of the problems that the entire state college system is facing. Finally, students at CSCSB should be given an opportunity to discuss the problems they have encountered and to bring those problems to the attention of those in positions of responsibility. Therefore, a three-day convocation is being planned.

The sessions will last approximately two hours, the first hour devoted to discussion by the panel members themselves, and followed by an hour of discussion and questions from those in the audience.

The following schedule has been established for the College Convocation next week. Please note that the only hours on which classes are scheduled to be canceled are 11:30 and 12:30 on Monday, January 20, and 1:30 on Thursday, January 23.

Convocations: Up to You

The College Union Committee is interested in knowing, at this time, the feelings of the campus regarding the Union project. The Committee has developed the following questionnaire to be distributed in an organized manner on the campus. The results of this survey will aid the Committee in making its decision as to the plans for the Union project. Any person wishing to complete the questionnaire may do so by using the Pawprint copy and returning it to Room A-162.

The College Union Committee realizes there were many misunderstandings and concerns on the campus at the time of the fee election. Particular questions seem to constantly come out as discussion about the project continues. These questions are briefly covered here.

Is there a need on the campus for a College Union? The College Union Committee feels there is a real need. With increased enrollment, the campus will lose the student lounge, related and uncrowded atmosphere of the present cafeteria, student publication space. A union can duplicate and improve these facilities while providing additional services to students.

Is there a need for so much student government space included in the proposed plan? The Committee did feel it was important that modifications to the ASB office space could be implemented and still meet those needs. The original proposal needs to be completely re-evaluated with the survey results, and the Committee is prepared to do this.

Is the Union Committee student membership taken directly from ASB officers? No, the Committee has reorganized and the student membership is entirely new.

Why build a "temporary" union? The Committee felt the need for a union would come far ahead of the campus' ability to build a permanent structure. A temporary building would provide good facilities for students and could be sold to the State at the time a permanent union was approved.

Why weren't more discussions held before the election to communicate both the advantages and disadvantages of the college?

symptoms. If we fail to gather information about our issue at stake is that we as students, as human beings, must at least make the effort to understand our environment. This is the absolute minimum responsibility that we bear. Whether we wind up on the left, on the right or on the middle of the fence is of secondary relevance; of primary significance is that we cannot afford to take our "security" for granted. Riots, demonstrations and unrest are not causes, but symptoms. If we fail to gather information about our academic and social systems, then we run the risk of perpetuating the same causes of dissent which have paralyzed other college campuses. Next week's convocations offer an opportunity to learn about issues which are affecting and will affect you as a student and citizen. Don't BLOW THIS opportunity!

With all name-calling temporarily suspended, the important issue at stake is that we as students, as human beings, must at least make the effort to understand our environment. This is the absolute minimum responsibility that we bear. Whether we wind up on the left, on the right or on the middle of the fence is of secondary relevance; of primary significance is that we cannot afford to take our "security" for granted. The Committee planned one student representative. The note is that it was the only foundation that did not have a student representative. The foundation incidentally, is the group that is responsible for the maintenance of the college library financially, and like all other foundations, it handles scholarships and grants. A foundation that did not have a student representative would be adequate. This may have alarmed when the original passed. I was surprised and disappointed when the amendment was defeated, and then when the original passed. The five Cabinet members who voted for the original apparently did not listen to those students who had brought out its bad points.

During the course of the meeting, the committee was increased in the number of the student presidents were concerned with the issues that were brought about by the discussions concerning other campus organizations. Issues such as Title V Revisions, student organization, and the Board of Trustees.

One main issue tends to dominate the agenda. This is the problems that are issues at hand. That is the problem of extra-legal activities pursued by the Board of Trustees. This matter gives rise to several more specific problems: the DUE PROCESS in the case of Professor George Murray both a professor and a student. For a moment, let us disregard the United States Constitution. After all, it is not clear how to proceed if the constitutional limitations of the States, do we also accept the basic freedoms of speech and assembly? What happens if the student body organizations, or the Board of Trustees interests? (such as the limitation on appropriation of funds out of student body funds.)

Although many of the delegates disagreed, there were problems. For instance, the question of student body organizations, or the Board of Trustees interests? (such as the limitation on appropriation of funds out of student body funds.)

The examples continue throughout the discussion. This amount should point out sufficiently the extent to which the colleges and universities are not clearly defined as to the relationship of student government to the college.

MIT Prof Heads 'Occult Sciences'

By DON LANNON

Dr. Mikhail C. Gouschev, presently the Chairman of the Division of Occult Sciences at the Muncie Institute of Technology (MIT), will officially resign from that position in January; it has been termed a "humanitarian gesture": to wit, during the Spring Term, Dr. Gouschev will announce that at first we present the Program as a General Studies course requiring no prior knowledge. Therefore we developed our initial course as such.

This initial course, titled G.S. 777 — I personally believe that the number "seven" has immensely significant, will be offered this Spring. As a General Studies course, its completion will be considered as a requirement for graduation.

"Students who elect to take G.S. 777 this Spring must remember to select a lecture, lab, and discussion section.

"A major in Occult Science may be chosen by freshmen only, in 1969-70. In Fall of 1969, we will offer three distinct courses to these people: General Occult Sciences Principles of Occult Sciences, I, and Principles of Occult Sciences II. Of course, this will depend upon your governor's state budget and Dr. Gouschev emphasized that the Occult Sciences Program is being offered "in an attempt to afford the student with the opportunity to achieve intellectual growth." He noted that a personally autographed copy, simply send a personal check or U. S. Postal Money Order (postmarked stamp) — made out to me — for the sum of $5.95 to Dr. Mikhail C. Gouschev, 3265 College Dr., Newbury Park, Calif. (22023).

Graduate and doctoral degrees will be conferred upon Dr. Gouschev by the Speyer-Heidelberg Institute of Teleology, Heidelberg, Germany, in 1955 and 1959, respectively.

"Yes folks, anything the San Bernardino community can do, we can TRY. "Barca Barks" will be CSCSB's answer to "Dear Abby," one hundred and sixty column will be every bit as witty, informative and socially profound as its namesake.
