STUDENT HEALTH CENTER — Newest building on the Cal State, San Bernardino Campus is the Student Health Center, occupied in the summer of 1979. The $855,000 facility and the services it provides are funded by student health fees. All services normally administered in a physician’s office plus physiotherapy and a pharmacy are available in the building, which also houses the Department of Nursing.

Alums Invited to Enjoy Foreign Film Series

Under the sponsorship of the Department of Foreign Languages, Cal State will present a series of 11 foreign films during the winter and spring quarters.

Shown on Saturday evenings, the films are free and open to the public. They are shown at 7 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences building.

The series includes:

- The Sins of Rose Bernd — Germany — Jan. 12
- Goalie’s Anxieties — Germany — Jan. 26
- The Castle — Germany — Feb. 9
- The Shameless Old Lady — France — Feb. 23
- Yesterday Girl — Germany — March 1
- La Bete Humaine — France — April 12
- The Sheep Has Five Legs — France — April 19
- Therese Desqueyroux — France — April 26
- Les Enfants Terribles — France — May 3
- Les Diaboliques — France — May 10
- Yanco — Mexico — May 31

All films have English subtitles with the exception of The Castle, which is a German dialog film dubbed into English, and Yanco which has no dialog, just music and sound effects.

"Robber Bridegroom" to be Winter Drama Production

Set in Hillbilly America and seasoned with the sounds of bluegrass, a light-hearted and lusty folk opera will be presented at Cal State, San Bernardino Feb. 26-March 1 and March 4-8.

"The Robber Bridegroom" from the novel by Eudora Welty, is the first major production to be a joint venture of the theatre arts and music departments. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Theatre in the Creative Arts Building.

The "robber bridegroom" in this tale of legendary characters in the Mississippi Territory is Jamie Lockhart, a young aristocrat who moonlights as a bandit. His future bride, a young heiress, prefers the bandit to the aristocrat, not knowing they are the same man.

Tickets for the winter quarter production will be $3 for general admission and $1.50 for senior citizens and students. Reservations may be made by calling 887-7452 or 887-7680.

Cal State Expands to Full-Service Campus in 15 Years

Cal State, San Bernardino began its 15th year in September.

From less than 300 students studying in three buildings located in an expanse of vineyards, Cal State has expanded to a “full-service” college with nearly 4,400 students and 23 buildings in a landscaped, impressive campus.

The academic program, too, has made tremendous strides. The six original majors, all B.A. degrees, have been expanded to 36 B.S. and B.A. programs, seven master’s degrees, 12 teaching credentials and 14 certificate programs.

With the development of a continuing education/extension program, the college has extended its influences to the far-flung corners of both San Bernardino and Riverside Counties. During 1978-79, for example, 7,300 people earned college credits or took courses for personal enrichment through that program.

Two academic highlights of the college’s 15th year are the addition of a new master’s degree, in English, and accreditation of the Department of Nursing by the National League of Nursing. Word of these achievements, both long sought, was received within the past month.

In observance of the 15th anniversary, the college is planning an open house on Sunday, April 27, 1980. Among the events anticipated are an Alumni Association luncheon, lectures by outstanding faculty, tours of the facilities, musical programs, drama productions, a major art exhibit, activities in the physical education complex, a children’s art fair and other events of interest to the entire family.

Additional details will be forthcoming in the spring edition of the Panorama. "We hope Cal State alums will place this date on their calendars and plan to be present," said Lawrence Daniels, alumni president.

Spotlight Corner

CSCSB Alumni Marilyn Hergert and Sheila Rutherford both received their B.A.'s in child development in 1978 and are now child life specialists at the Loma Linda Medical Center. Activities like the one pictured are not at all uncommon in the pediatrics playroom. Marilyn and Sheila help patients ranging in age from 2 months to 16 years by relieving their frustrations and fears of hospitalization.

The playroom provides the children with a "safe" environment where they participate in many crafts and educational activities. Here they are able to talk to others who will listen, they learn more about their own scheduled surgeries, and they are able to rid themselves of frustrations.

The picture involves major surgery on October 23, at 10 a.m. on Mr. Jack O'Lantern who the "doctors" all agreed was suffering from major burns and bruises. Jack also had a very stuffy head which they felt was due to the old EOO (End of October) syndrome and symptoms most likely due to a fear of ending up in pie tins and smothered with whipped cream.

The attending physicians for Jack's surgery were children ranging in ages 10 to 15. They all participated in the cosmetic surgery and did skin grafts for the burns. They insisted on doing the grafting, probably as a result of experiencing grafting themselves. The "doctors" also removed 980 seeds from Jack's head and upon completion of the operation were all smiles—the surgery was a success!

Marilyn and Sheila are really doing their part in helping to calm frightened children during hospitalization. They also offer a pre-op program called "Children, Let's Visit the Hospital" for community children aged 2 through 12.

Cal State Grad Coordinates Special Olympics Meet

Wayne McAfee, BA 1979, is a director of the Tri-City Stars, a branch of the West San Bernardino area Special Olympics. The Special Olympics is an international program of athletic competition for the mentally retarded. This program helps participants gain confidence and gives them a positive self-image.

For a Special Olympic meet in June at UCLA, McAfee chose five mentally retarded teenagers and young adults who he felt would benefit the most in the competition. Competition consisted of track and field, swimming, diving, gymnastics, basketball, volleyball and other sports.

McAfee is the senior recreation leader for the city recreation department and has accompanied the participants in their memorable Olympic meets.
COMMENCEMENT 1979 — The lawn south of the physical education complex is now the site of June commencement activities. Taken from the roof of the gymnasium, this photo shows class of 1979 and the approximately 3000 families and friends attending the Saturday morning ceremonies. President John M. Pfau is at the podium. The panorama view of the campus shows some of the newest buildings. From left to right, the scene includes Serrano Village, the on-campus housing; the college Commons (white building in rear center); Student Health Center; and on the horizon behind the Health Center the Creative Arts Building.

CREATIVE ARTS BUILDING — Housing the theatre and recital hall, the Creative Arts Building is the focal point for many of the cultural activities occurring on campus. The two-story portion of the building, at left, is the recital hall. In the windowed one-story wing at right are located faculty offices and the office for the department of theatre arts and the department of music.

NOON ENTERTAINMENT — The patio of the Student Union Building is becoming a popular site for entertainment events, including the guitarist performing here. Now in its third year of operation, the Student Union contains a multipurpose room, AS offices, a game room, the Pub, a snack area and a lounge.
