CSUSB
Seven-day ecology festival slated at U of Redlands

Yesterday the University of Redlands initiated their week-long “Festival of Ecological Awareness.” Following is a day-by-day account of events planned to inform community and campus residents of the world they live in.

Today at 1:30 there will be a Nature Walk through Redlands. The walk will begin at the University to go into surrounding areas, collecting litter and junk to be used the following day to make junk sculptures.

Tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. there will be an Ecology Film Festival. The films to be shown will be "Strike City," "Man and His Resources," "People's Park Berkeley," and "Design for a City."

Dr. Wilbur W. Mayhew, professor of Zoology at the University of California at Riverside, will deal with what he refers to as "growing ecological problems facing mankind." His speech is Cal-State's belated "Teach-In" (Earth Day). Persons who are concerned with the ever increasing problems of populations, pollution and poverty are invited to attend this lecture. A question and answer period will follow Mayhew's talk.

Mayhew, professor of UCR since 1954, has specialized in desert ecology for a number of years and is concerned with the growing ecological problems facing mankind. His speech is Cal-State's belated participated in the April 22 "Teach-In" (Earth Day). Persons who are concerned with the ever increasing problems of populations, pollution and poverty are invited to attend this lecture.

The event will include rides, games, prizes, and entertainment. An authentic "New Orleans" atmosphere will surround the event, complete with continuous music from Dixieland bands. Tonight at 9:30 begins "Environmental Involvement Day." There will be a clean-up of the Zanja river running through the University campus, and the litter collected the previous day will be put to better use as junk sculpture, at 1 p.m. on the Quad.

Monday evening at 7:30 at the Casa Loma Room in the Commons, Dr. Wilbur W. Mayhew, professor of UCR since 1954, will speak on environment awareness. Following is a day-by-day account of events, complete with continuous music from Dixieland bands. The title of Libby's speech is "Environment Doctor." The speech will begin at 6:30 in the Casa Loma Room in the Commons.

Finally, on Wednesday at 12:15 a Berkeley-type talk-in will begin. At the talk-in people will discuss commitments and make proposals on what is to be done to save the ecology.

More detailed information can be obtained by calling Clair Gaylord, 793-2121, ext. 312, University of Redlands.

Editorial

April 22 -- Earth Day

By NANCY SAUNDERS

"Earth Day" represents a nation-wide movement against the gullies, merciless screw-over of our land's narrowly limited resources and completely indefensible environment. The environment does not possess the power to roll back automobile-excretions, nor to replace the sickening stench that have never, before this century, been homocidally threatened by man's insatiable desire to use, expand, and ruin.

Corporate American and all its ugly affections are nothing less than an em erosive death o d for all of us breathing rotten, decadent and slowly suffocating under blindly devoted money trips.

Cars and factories have borne integral units in the American way of life and will be even more a part of the natural order of death, if something is not done immediately to stop the pollution of the air that is so sickeningly obvious in San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

Kaiser Steel Company of Fontana, California, is this area's most blatantly dangerous smog machine, emitting extremely harmful by-products into the atmosphere. An organized attempt is being made to protect this corporation's pollution of the environment. April 22, Earth Day, we need people to join in calling Kaiser Steel and assure them between the hours of 9 and 5 P.M. This mass phone-in will overload their switches to saturation and seriously damage their communications for that day.

The petitions are currently being circulated to all those who are interested in joining the Earth Day protest. A community organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, April 21, at 12:00 noon in the library, L-14.

Sincerely,

William L. Haney
Chairman, Lectures & Public Affairs

Letters to the Editor

In order to be considered for publication, letters submitted to the Pawprint must be one page or less. Typed doublespaced text. Letters of a longer length can only be considered if they are personally delivered to the Editor. All letters must be signed.

Chairman, Lectures & Public Affairs

I want, on behalf of the Faculty Senate, to extend ourselves to a point of maximum concentration on this can. With the open meeting. At this meeting function on this can will be made public. The purpose of this activity is to allow the student body to come to our understanding of the situation.

At this meeting, the editor and student body will be presented with the facts of the situation. The editor will explain the reasons why funeral directors are being challenged by Cryonics. The editor will also discuss the possible consequences of Cryonics on the funeral profession.

The state-wide Abortion Rights Package is coming out of committee and back before the second consideration of a recommendation by the Faculty Senate. The only dissenting vote was cast by Dr. Graves of the Business Department.

Also of interest was the resolution of student involvement in the affairs of the academic community. The Faculty Senate seemed to be using a diavisionary tactic to avoid discussion of the crucial matter, student representation.

Dr. Petrucci was concerned that he would not have an effective voice in the way the students were selected for membership. Dr. Stetl was dissatisfied with a lack of specific procedures for eligibility of membership. It seemed to the reporter that the intellectuals responded in a typically impotent manner by referring the matter to a committee of faculty and students for further consideration. The matter is then to be presented to the full faculty for approval or disapproval.

This writer finds it interesting that some funeral students fail to feel that they must be protected against the student body. Mixed with the apparent fear of students was a considered maneuver from which the writer inferred that the members felt they were being magnanimous but did not want to extend themselves to a point where effective power would reside in the student body -- in short tokenism that would remain no more than a token, or let's keep plenty of strings attached to this gift fest it be used against us.

To balance the picture, many members of the Faculty Senate seem genuinely interested in great representation for students but also seemed to be struggling by procedural quibbling. The writer is due out of committee and back for reconsideration by the second Faculty Senate meeting hence.

Also considered and referred to a committee was a letter outlining procedures for resolution of student grievances.

"They shoot horses, don't they?"

By CAROL BOULDIN

"They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" is the portrayal of a dance marathon of the Depression 30's and the way women and men participated in it. The story centers around four couples in general and Mr. Grum, was conceived and constructed by his organic Chemistry class, as a token of appreciation and friendship.

However, the Initiative Process allows registered voters to take direct action on issues. If you are interested, please let them know. If you voted affirmatively, the Abortion Proposition would immediately become law. If you voted negatively, the proposition is not certain except by separate and subsequent action. Since this issue, who are registered voters, may circulate an Abortion Petition and secure signatures helping to put the measure on the ballot.

VERDA EDINBURGH, president of the Christian Life Club.

The Christian Life club was organized to provide Christian fellowship among members of the faculty and staff. The goals of the club are to present programs of religious interest to the campus. The club is interdenominational and meets weekly. Dr. Theron Pace is the club's administrative program. The club is open for membership.

L & PA events set

The Lectures and Public Affairs Committee met Tuesday, April 7, to discuss the Spring Schedule. Summer session, allocations for academic divisions, and Mr. Haney's annual L&PA report to the Faculty Senate. A review of the Spring Schedule pointed out upcoming L&PA events.

On April 17, L&PA will present the DeAnza Chorale in a program of choir music. "The Illimitable Theatre" will be held April 21 at 8:00; a unique production which promises an exchange between the audience and the performers, uniting audience participation, M.E.C.H.A. will hold a symposium on May 5 at 7:00 p.m. titled "The Mexican American in a White Society." On the evening of May 8 a Goddard film, "The Weekend," will be shown at P.S. 10. The film is very new, having just begun its run in L.A. Mr. Haney described Goddard as "one of the most controversial contemporary film-makers, along with Andy Warhol and Michael Snow." The film deals with roles between males and females.

On May 13 at 1:00 P.M. a speaker from UCR will deliver a lecture on "Academic Community and its Enemies." "Genesis II," a series of student-written and produced films, will be shown May 29 as the conclusion to L&PA's Spring program.

An open meeting to hear complaints and suggestions will be held Tuesday, April 21, at 10:00 A.M. in L-114. Dean Roach will discuss with the committee on April 28 possibilities for Summer Session projects. Mr. Haney pointed out that each division of the College would receive 5% (approximately $420) of the L&PA allocation to sponsor programs. For example, Larry Kramer plans to bring poet Gary Schneider to CSUSB next year. The L&PA themes for 1970-1971 will be the "Chicano Perspective," fall and early winter; and "Radical Feminism," winter and spring. Mr. Haney concluded the meeting with the announcement of their Annual Report to the Faculty Senate, and sought corrections and final comments from the members of the committee.

Silent Hunchback Appears

By MICHAEL ZLAKET

This Saturday night at 8 P.M. in PS 10, the ASB will present the third film in its ten-week film series for the Spring quarter. The film is considered to be one of the all-time silent classics - the original version of "Hunchback of Notre Dame" starring Lon Chaney. This film was made in a day when suspense-horror movies were, in the thing. Chaney's outstanding performance as Quasimodo is a masterpiece of acting, established him as a top-ranking money-making manager of the screen. It is used in this film - what I would call a "flash-forward." Several eerie scenes with Sarrazin in a certain artfulness and superb acting is seen throughout.

This is a very affecting and somewhat bewildering picture. Perhaps the end is improbable, but then again, is it?
