To be WAG Speaker

Knight Appointed Superintendent in Northern Calif.

Charles Mage Knight, a former Associate State Superintendent of Public Schools and later a vice president of the Alameda County Community School District, was approved as superintendent of the Ravenswood City School District by a 4-1 vote last Thursday night.

Knight will be the longtime proctor for the Westside Los Angeles probation division in Menlo Park, effective October 30, 1985.

The vote was cast by Board of Trustees member Bud Gold, who was found fault with the appointment process.

Davis said that he was certain that the selection process was designed specifically for John Knight.

Although he voted against the appointment, Davis said he had no qualms to a good superintend­ent who he felt would make an excellent choice for the position.

The predominantly Black and Hispanic 3,000 student Palo Alto district has been hit by news stories about the achievement gap by the reputation for student achievement and its long history of leadership since August 1983.

Knight, 53, becomes the fifth person to hold the job in the last 10 years.

Though she accepted a three, 800-year contract and began work on Monday, Knight said she would not resign from her post until last Thursday night.

She has said she doesn't see her job as a challenge, but rather as an opportunity. She said there are no real expectations that happen in the future that aren't being held.

Knight began her work as superintendent on Tuesday evening, officially appointed because she said the position was "an impact" on the continuing teacher issues.

One of his jobs as a superintendent is to influence the board that he would have all the time that he got what he pay for. If the salaries remain low, he said.

Farah Khan in Los Angeles...

The fabulous forum was utilized for more than just a place to hold a WAG event. It was held on Saturday, September 17, 1985.

Farah Khan delivered a stirring address that energized the Black man's pride in America and his desire to fulfill his responsibilities. He said that happen to others aren't being held.

Farah Khan's address was laden with sound plans of economic, social and political issues between the different racial, religious and cultural communities within the United States and the state of California.

The state of Black leadership in the United States is compromised much too often according to Minister Farah Khan. Concerned about their, their financial standing, Black leaders many times have to suffer their approach or sacrifice the Black masses as in the case of Mayor Bradley and members of Los Angeles City Council.

Since he, Louis Farah Khan, is not in a position of political office he could address the Black community much better because of undeveloped leadership among them.

The question of the Black-Jewish relationship has been the largest issue brought up by Minister Farah Khan to the front of the national media. Minister Farah Khan discussed the issues between Black and Jewish. The message was that the Jews are not the chosen people and the Black Hebrews are the chosen people. Minister Farah Khan read the forming of Israel on Palestinian land was wrong. He questioned the Jewish attitude of him when it was Angies leaders such as Chas-

Once again the L.A. Rams defense saved the game by stopping the Tampa Bay Buccaneers with an exceptional performance by Lynn Fralin. The Rams offense is still stuggling quarterback Deric Blair, who looked like a "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," and was unable to generate any successful drives. Eric Dickerson carried the ball 25 times for 75 yards.

The L.A. Rams are 6 and 0, and they are 4 and 0 against NFC teams.

Next week it's on to Kansas City and the Chiefs on the tv.

at CBC Legislative Weekend

Washington, D.C., Sept. 28--At Hanson, the four-time Grammy Award winning singer, celebrated as aondheim of the Phantom of the Musical, CBS Records-sponsored concert at the Warner Theatre last night.

A highlight of the first-day, 18th Annual Congressional Black Caucus Legislative Weekend, the concert came just $27,000 for the Congressional Caucus Foundation.

"We at Philip Morris were pleased to make a contribution to the National Congressional Black Caucus Foundation by presenting, in concert, one of our nation's top performers," said Stanley S. Scott, Vice President and Director of Corporate Affairs at Philip Morris Companies Inc. "At Philip Morris, we like to be involved in programs such as the CBC's that are designed to make the American dream a reality for all its citizens." The "CBS Records is happy to have worked with Philip Morris on our second, jointly sponsored event. Our continuing sponsorship efforts have now brought another exceptional entertainer together with an appreciative audience to raise money for some most important social programs.

The Congressional Black Caucus (CBC) was founded in 1971 when the black members of the U.S. House of Representatives and Senators convened in the nation's capital to talk about the problems of Congress. It was organized by Representative Shirley Chisholm and Representative Charles Diggs of Michigan. (Today the CBC has 138 black members of Congress, its current chairman is Rep. Mickey Leland (D-Texas), Tex.)

The CBC Foundation was created in 1979 as a tax-exempt organization to sponsor programs in educational and social policy research. It operates under the leadership of Columbia University's Woodrow Wilson Institute and the National Council of Negro Women. The CBC Foundation has sponsored a number of highly successful events to raise money for CBC projects, including the 1985 "Life at Work" concert in which Al Jarreau, Philip Morris and the Miller Brewing Company were involved. This year, Rep. William H. Gray (D-Philadelphia) is serving as chairman of the CBC Legislative Weekend. The concert raised $125,000 for congressional Black Caucus.

We will meet at the Chapel for salad and go from there to different clubs for meals and fellowship. Content. Attitudes are Contagious—As we go about our daily living and doing what we think is right, give yourself a check. Perhaps you are going out of the way. Thinking of it this way, if you did not check the oil in your car or use the lights inside when leaving the house, you probably will be in a machine. If you are not receiving the feeling of well being, it is not working. Help us all to change our worlds, we are a world of competent people and we should be trying to help others as well. Together we can.

Sunday-school revival

By George H. Plagenz

Life was described as "delightful" in the assembly, which was held at First Baptist Church in Glen Allen, Virginia, where the Rev. Robert Grant, chairman of the Virginia Baptist General Convention Committee for Civil Disorders, addressed the gathering.

The event was one of several held across the South in recent weeks to discuss the issue of civil disorders and to encourage unity among Southern Baptists.

During his speech, Rev. Grant urged Baptists to "work together to overcome the challenges we face and to promote a spirit of reconciliation and understanding."

He also emphasized the importance of education, stating that "knowledge is the key to resolving conflicts and building bridges of understanding between our communities."

As a result of these efforts, Sunday-school revivals have been held in several states, with the goal of bringing people together and fostering a sense of community and brotherhood. These gatherings have been widely praised for their positive impact on the local communities.

LAW: MOON VICTIM OF GOVERNMENT CONSPIRACY

Senate Committee Review Exposes Facts

The Senate Select Committee on Intelligence has released a report detailing the federal government's alleged role in the prosecution of Rev. Moon, a Korean-born man who is a prominent leader in the Jehovah's Witnesses organization.

The committee's findings are based on a review of the government's actions in pursuing charges against Rev. Moon, who was convicted in 1982 of racketeering and tax evasion.

According to the report, the committee found that the government had engaged in a pattern of illegal and unethical behavior aimed at suppressing Rev. Moon's activities.

Specifically, the committee found that the government had used its authority to engage in spying, harassment, and other illegal activities to suppress Rev. Moon's activities.

The committee's report, which was released on October 19, 1985, includes an overview of the government's actions and a list of key players involved in the case.

Mary Faust For Moreno Valley Seat

Mary Faust eight years in the Moreno Valley, which has been involved in making the community better, is a former candidate for the Moreno Valley School Board seat vacated by Judy Nishiyama. Her children attended the Moreno Valley Schools and she is concerned about the overcrowded impacted schools. As a private citizen she has seen numerous legislative problems for her local schools and additional funds for the impacted schools.

Mrs. Faust has provided child care to many young people as a licensed child care provider. This experience gives the sensitivity needed in a district which is one of the fastest growing school districts.

Mrs. Faust faces tough competition from a candidate who was also a former candidate for the Moreno Valley School Board seat vacated by Judy Nishiyama — Harry Travis — who still is a candidate for the Moreno Valley School Board.

Even though Faust has no experience of serving on various community organizations she is well known through her dedication, ambition, and a positive outlook on solving problems as she reaches for the State Assembly job with the Voice and News support for Mary Faust for Moreno Valley School Board.
