Teach-In was a head carnival

The Tuesday Teach-In was a head carnival -- you took your head with you to booth and let it meet other heads. And regardless of whether you think student concern is futile or not, this Teach-In afforded those who attended an educating experience that was more understandable and meaningful than most classroom situations.

It is never futile to find out what other people are thinking, and anyone who passed-up the Teach-In because it would not "change his mind" is denying me my constitutional right to free speech. If he had attended, he would have never seen the light of neon in a classroom. One of these occurred during a discussion on violence.

During an attempt to investigate the causes of violence, the Teach-In audience witnessed an incident of verbal violence between two teachers, which served as a graphic illustration of the topic at hand.

In an exchange of opinion, Professor Price reacted to a statement by Professor Barkan. Barkan in turn reacted to Price until each "urged" the other to be quiet, and they started yelling at each other in their attempts to prove the other wrong.

The transition from a calm to a violent discussion was startling and rapid. The student did not provoke the incident nor attempt to show what violence was about than any classroom discussion of the topic -- if you were there, that is, to witness it.

And that, in essence, was what the Teach-In was about -- participation in a live exchange with others. It was good for your head, not your grade point average.

Censored

Anyone who read the poem on the back page of Monday's "Pawprint" would justifiably consider the writer a rhetorical idiot. The reason the poem was censored by our local, reactionary publishing company; and it is not the first time that this has occurred, I happen to believe that all words are created equal, and it is (CENSORED) that they are denying me my constitutional right to freedom of speech and press. Like Jerry Rubin said, "(CENSORED) is a dirty word because you have to be censored to do it."

Everyone knows that the human body is a biological organism and must be cared for as completely as possible to smoother freedom.

Not only do I resent being censored; I find it even more appalling that the printer took it upon himself to rewrite my poem. It is a serious reproach upon the integrity of an individual, but lately it looks like we've been doing those things for three hundred years.

I am frustrated and infuriated by the National Guard's failure to learn (continued on page 4)

NEW YORK (UPI) There is a telephone number in Washington that receives calls from persons wanting to voice approval or disapproval of President Nixon's decision to send troops into Cambodia.

UPI New York made four telephone calls in rapid succession this morning. Two were votes favorable to the President, and two votes against. The caller immediately was switched to someone who answered "White House.

The other two callers were against the President. They never got past the first man to answer the telephone in Washington. Here's how the calls went:

(FIRST CALL) UPI: "I would like to register a vote for the President." WHITE HOUSE: "Yes, you certainly can." UPI: "This is the White House, I hope." WHITE HOUSE: "Yes, where do you live?" UPI: "New Jersey." WHITE HOUSE: "All right, thank you very much for your call." (SECOND CALL) UPI: "Listen, are you taking votes?" WHITE HOUSE: "No, I'm not taking any votes. Are you taking votes?" UPI: "I'd like to register a vote against the President." WHITE HOUSE: "Your're way too eager to buy the President a vote, isn't it?" UPI: "You're not taking any votes." WHITE HOUSE: "We're not any votes and haven't been taking any votes;" (THIRD CALL) UPI: "I'd like to register a vote against President Nixon's policy." WHITE HOUSE: "You can have my name, please?" UPI: "James Toburn, Washington, D.C." WHITE HOUSE: "I'll take a message for you if you want me to. Give it to me." UPI: "I don't want to say too much. I want to be thoroughly in agreement with everything the President has said." WHITE HOUSE: "Okay, Jwson, and we really appreciate that now, and I can tell you that he does, too." (FOURTH CALL) UPI: "I understand you are taking votes and I'd like to say I'm against the President and Vice President Agnew, too. End policy." Can I register that, please?" WHITE HOUSE: "You want to vote against the President and what he has been doing?" WHITE HOUSE: "This poll is being taken on the extension of troops into Cambodia, and against any more American troops going into Southeast Asia. WHITE HOUSE: "Where are you calling from?" UPI: "New York City." WHITE HOUSE: "From New York City, I believe the President is in Washington. It's almost 6:00;"

Caucasian Chalk Circle Presented

"The Caucasian Chalk Circle," Bernard Shaw's classic drama, will be presented by the parole of the child with two mothers, opened Friday evening, May 15, at California State College, San Bernardino.

Performances will continue on Thursday through Saturday, May 21-23. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre on campus.

Reservation may be available through the Drama-Music Office at the College. Tickets may be available at the box office.

Dr. Ronald E. Barnes, director of the College Theatre, comments: "Bernard Shaw is one of the most influential playwrights in the modern theater. The influence of his political and primary contributions was to restore the theater's respect for an audience's capacity to use its consciousness to analyze and criticise its own society."

The parcel of the child with two mothers, a story of love, war, and the name of democracy follows the dictates of military commanders and government directors. We no longer expect the government to respond to the people's demands. We therefore call upon the people themselves to force the government by massive resistance and economic boycott to implement our just demands."

As we have since 1968 and before, we continue to demand the immediate withdrawal of all U.S. military forces from Southeast Asia.

We call upon the President's long-promised attack on Cambodia coupled at home with National Guard offices in protest; the students and the Department of Justice's attempt to execute Bobby Seale, we conclude that the U.S. government, its branches and agencies and institutions related to and supporting U.S. aggression abroad and represiation at home.

Specifically, we call for:

1) the closing of campuses called for by the National Student Association;
2) the demonstrations called by the Movement for a Democratic Military for the Resignation of the President and Agnew; and
3) the demonstrations called by the Student Mobilization Committee for May 30th.

In addition we call for and will help to organize intensive education of servicemen and National Guardmen as to their role in aggression abroad and political repression at home. We ask, I urge, upon reopening of these investigations, for the mass students to rise to the occasion and themselves institute the procedures called for by Governor Reagan, University President Bartlett, and State College President Dunke.

Bagley Appalled

Assemmbyman William T. Bagley of the 32nd Assembly District in the San Fernando Valley, has said: "I am appalled at the outright stupidity of certain elements who are twisting the insane behavior which leads to bloodshed in this country, ostensibly to end bloodshed elsewhere; the proponents and promoters of such tactics evidently care very little about the rights of others they infringe with."

7. At this time do you plan to vote for President Nixon in 1972?
Yes 132, No 402, No opinion 43.

The rich Afro-American cultural experience, particularly its music and poetry, will be reflected in the Watts musical "Bread, Beans and Things" at 8:15 p.m. Rohde's charges are presented in full:

Paraphrased: Paragraphs may be available for a fee.

Judicial Board To Hear Charges

The A.S.B Judicial Board met Tuesday, May 12, to hear charges brought by Jerry Rohde against the Election Committee. The Supreme Court decided to hear the case in full, on Monday, May 17, at 5:00 p.m. Rohde's charges are presented in full:

Paragraphs may be available for a fee.

"I am appalled at the outright stupidity of certain elements whose raw frustrations triumph the insane behavior which leads to bloodshed in this country, ostensibly to end bloodshed elsewhere; the proponents and promoters of such tactics evidently care very little about the rights of others they infringe with."

"It is not my intent to blame any innocent person and I do not endorse the actions of the Vietnam protesters, as I have written before, we continue to demand the immediate withdrawal of all U.S. military forces from Southeast Asia.

Community Opinion Poll Results

May 7, 1970 an opinion poll was taken in downtown San Bernardino between the hours of 1:00 and 4:00. The residents of San Bernardino were asked the following questions on President Nixon's recent policies:

1. Do you support the action taken by President Nixon in Cambodia?
Yes 154, No 480, No opinion 43.

2. Should President Nixon have consulted the Senate before taking action in Cambodia?
Yes 424, No 101, No opinion 102.

3. Do you think that those people working against the war in Vietnam are patriots?
Yes 261, No 174, No opinion 142.

4. Do you think that the war in Vietnam was justified?
Yes 70, No 401, No opinion 106.

5. Do you think that the American people have the right to protest the war?
Yes 510, No 36, No opinion 31.

6. Do you feel that you have received enough information about the war in Southeast Asia?
Yes 132, No 402, No opinion 43.

Our apologies to Shirley Jenkins for omitting her name from the list of June graduates.

We demand an end to the use of the National Guard to suppress dissent and consider any American who participates in such repression as a traitor to the American people.

We call upon every Californian who feels dejected to participate in the following actions:

1) to initiate and encourage work stoppages and work slowdowns for any reason whatsoever;

2) to reduce consumption of unessential products as drastically as possible and disrupt the profits of the corporations that produce foreign wars and domestic racism, poverty and the destruction of the environment;

3) to withdraw money from circulation by closing bank accounts and to dispose of stocks and U.S. bonds;

4) to fail to cooperate with government agencies including the census and with corporate agencies including advertisers, poll-takers and bill-collectors;

5) to encourage any action toward the end that there shall be no business as usual until there is nationalization, reorganization and freedom at home.

We can no longer support any actions of a government which has the name of democracy follows the dictates of military commanders and government directors. We no longer expect the government to respond to the people's demands. We therefore call upon the people themselves to force the government by massive resistance and economic boycott to implement our just demands.

"Abortion: Ethical Considerations" will be discussed by a panel of clergymen, professors, and a physician at a public meeting Monday, May 18 at California State College, San Bernadino.

The symposium, sponsored by Zero Population Growth, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences Building.

Participants will include: Rabbi Hillel Cohen, the Rev. Robert Perry and the Rev. Leo Petit, representing the Jewish, Protestant and Catholic fairs; Dr. Gwen Austin of Riverside, an obstetrician-gynecologist; Dr. Ronald Taylor, assistant professor of biology; and Dr. Paul Johnson, assistant professor of philosophy at the college.

A question and answer period will follow the presentations by the speakers, said Dr. Richard Goodman, a CSSSB biologist who is active in Zero Population Growth.

In an effort to clean up the environment, ZPG will charge an admission fee of two empty glass jars or containers or 25 cents, according to Dr. Goodman. All proceeds will be used for ZPG programs.
