Dr. George L. McMichael, Professor of English, has received a Fulbright grant and will lecture in Greece during the next academic year. He will take a year's leave starting in September.

He will be Visiting Professor of American Literature at the University of Thessaloniki, one of two universities in Greece.

Dr. and Mrs. McMichael and their son Steven, 10, will fly to Rome this summer and proceed to Greece by car and ship. They will stay in Thessaloniki from September until June, 1969.

He is the first faculty member chosen to be a Fulbright lecturer since the College opened in 1965.

Dr. McMichael has received some informed advice for his first trip to Greece; Demetrios Arabatzis, Bookstore Manager, was born in Greece and lived in Thessaloniki 15 years before emigrating to the United States as a young man.

The College Chorus, Dr. Leo Kreter, director, will participate in the final event of the Arrowhead Allied Arts Council's first annual Festival of Arts.

James K. Guthrie will conduct a 125-piece orchestra and a 600-voice chorus in a performance of Beethoven's Symphony No. 9 in D Minor, 3:00 p.m. Sunday, May 12, at the Swing Auditorium.

The College Chorus will perform with choruses from other colleges and communities along with outstanding soloists Maralin Niska, Katherine Hilgenberg, Brian Sullivan and Richard Torigi.

Nearly 100 $2.00 tickets to the Beethoven performance were made available to the College at a reduced price of 25¢ each. A small number may still be obtained at the Publications Office, A-196, A-197.

The May issue of Mademoiselle magazine features the College in an article entitled "51 Alternatives to the Multiversity."

The article by Jane Steinberg is subtitled "The small liberal-arts college is alive and well--in every state of the union." CSCSB is the only example chosen to represent California.

"Most of these small colleges, although up-and-coming, are only known locally," says the preface to her article.

Mademoiselle notes that CSCSB has 471 men students and 512 women, and goes on to say:

"Founded in 1960, California State College at San Bernardino is one of 18 coed institutions comprising the California State College System. The 430-acre campus, 60 miles east of L.A., has no residence facilities, so you sleep elsewhere. However, you'll still get an aura of college life, as there are student organizations and clubs, intramural sports, a cafeteria, an ample library--and a ban on alcohol.

"A high degree of intellectuality prevails here. The three-course system encourages in-depth concentration on particular subjects; the reduction in class time is balanced off by independent study. The course offerings are rich and varied--including a senior seminar in 'Utopia: The Idle Dream.'"

On Memorial Day, May 30, will be an academic and administrative holiday with the College closed.

On Election Day, June 4, the College will be open with faculty and staff working their usual hours. Staff members will receive compensating time off at a later date for time worked that day. Employees wishing to be off June 4, however, should consult with their supervisors.

Alexander Sokoloff (Biology) has had an article, "Mutations As Possible Aids for Establishing Genetalic Homologies in the Sexes - Tribolium Castaneum," written in collaboration with Marjorie A. Hoy, published in the Annals of the Entomological Society of America, Vol. 61.

Mr. John E. Husing, Chairman of the Business and Economics Division at San Bernardino Valley College, will speak in PS-10 at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 15. He is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 33rd Congressional District. Mr. Husing will speak at the invitation of the Young Democrats.
