This week's heavy rainstorm brought loss and great inconvenience to many CSCSB personnel and students. Waterman Canyon residents were forced to evacuate their homes when a nearby dam broke. Vivian McEachern (Health Center) and her family suffered the loss of furnishings and belongings.

The McEachern home is owned by Shirley Juarez, a student. Mrs. Juarez fears that she may suffer a total loss of the property, which was filled to the ceiling of the first floor with boulders, rocks and mud. College volunteers are assisting her with debris-removal.

Other Waterman Canyon residents who had to evacuate their homes were Bruce Golden (English), Carol Grutsis (Faculty Senate) and Cyrus Smith, student.

In Loma Linda Becky Wonenberg (Bookstore) lost all furnishings and many belongings when water filled her apartment. The Loma Linda home of student Hilda Misson was completely filled with mud, causing the loss of all her furnishings and personal belongings.

Joanna Fuller (Academic Affairs) lives in the Wildwood Canyon area of Yucaipa where mud slides forced her to evacuate.

Some mountain area residents have been marooned: Janie Grimwood (Activities), Ronald Moore (Campus Stores), Power Sogo (Physics) and Robert Lohnes (Physical Plant). Robert Stein (Math) was snowbound for several days.

Others who had mishaps during the storm were Dr. Samuel Plaut (Health Center) who had to evacuate his home because of mud slides, and Meredith Luckow (Personnel) whose front room ceiling fell in.

Undaunted by the rain, Physical Plant personnel moved into their new quarters during the height of the storm.

No storm damage was reported at the College.
The faculties of 17 California State Colleges have voted 3,395 "Yes" and 1,850 "No" on a state-wide referendum sponsored by the Academic Senate of the CSC system.

The referendum question was "Do you support the action of the ASCSC on May 24, 1968, in which the Senate expressed its lack of confidence in Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke and further requested him to resign?"

The vote at CSCSB was 40 "Yes" and 26 "No." Of 87 eligible, 66 voted.

State-wide, there were 5,262 total votes out of about 9,000 eligible voters. This did not include the Long Beach State vote, which had not been officially received by the Academic Senate.

The only campus to record a "No" majority was Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, where the vote was 155 "Yes" to 304 "No."

The tally of Yes-No votes at other campuses was:

Dominquez Hills, 54-20; Fullerton, 101-70; Hayward, 211-54; Los Angeles, 318-198; Pomona, 143-117; Chico, 130-58; Fresno, 222-180; Humboldt, 175-63; Sacramento, 274-105; San Diego, 257-143; San Fernando, 329-143; San Francisco, 416-167; San Jose, 403-162; Sonoma, 107-25; and Stanislaus, 60-15.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

James Crum (Chemistry) spoke to classes in biology, chemistry and physics at Barstow and Perris high schools recently.
Tonight oboist Charles Price and Michael Andrews, on the piano and harpsichord, will stage the College's first faculty recital.

Selections chosen by the two Music Department members include the works of Bach, Copland, Hindemith, Schumann, Webern and Poulenc.

The program will be presented in PS-10 at 8:15 p.m. There is no admission charge. A reception will follow in the foyer.

Dr. Price, principal oboist with the Riverside Symphony Orchestra, has appeared as oboist with many Northern California orchestras and chamber groups.

Mr. Andrews, a composer, has served as assistant conductor of the Brandeis University Orchestra and the University Choral Union. He was awarded a Fulbright scholarship for study in music composition at the Akademie Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria.

"He Who Gets Slapped," a Russian play set in a circus and starring Muner Hanafi as a clown, has scored a solid hit at the box office. The show, directed by William Slout, became the first drama production in CSCSB history to sell every ticket on the opening weekend.

Some tickets are available in the Humanities Division office for tonight's performance at 8:15. Tickets cost $.75 for College faculty, staff and students, and $1.50 for off-campus guests.

The final performance of "He Who Gets Slapped," at 8:15 tomorrow night, has been sold out in advance.

Next week is the final week for enrollment in basic health insurance plans during the Open Enrollment Period.

The Faculty Senate meeting formerly scheduled for February 25 was postponed to Tuesday, March 4, 2:30 p.m., BS-101.

A classic film, "Spellbound," will be screened free at 8 p.m. Friday, March 7, in PS-10.

The State Budget for 1969-70 provides for 1,100 Graduate Fellowships. Application deadline for the fellowships is March 10, 1969.

Students entering graduate school for the first time must have taken the aptitude test of the GRE. For additional information, contact the Financial Aid Office, Room L-120.
STUDENT RECITAL  Mrs. Rosma Jane Arthur, a senior music major, will present a piano recital next Wednesday, March 5, at 8 p.m. in PS-10.
